Chrysanthemum

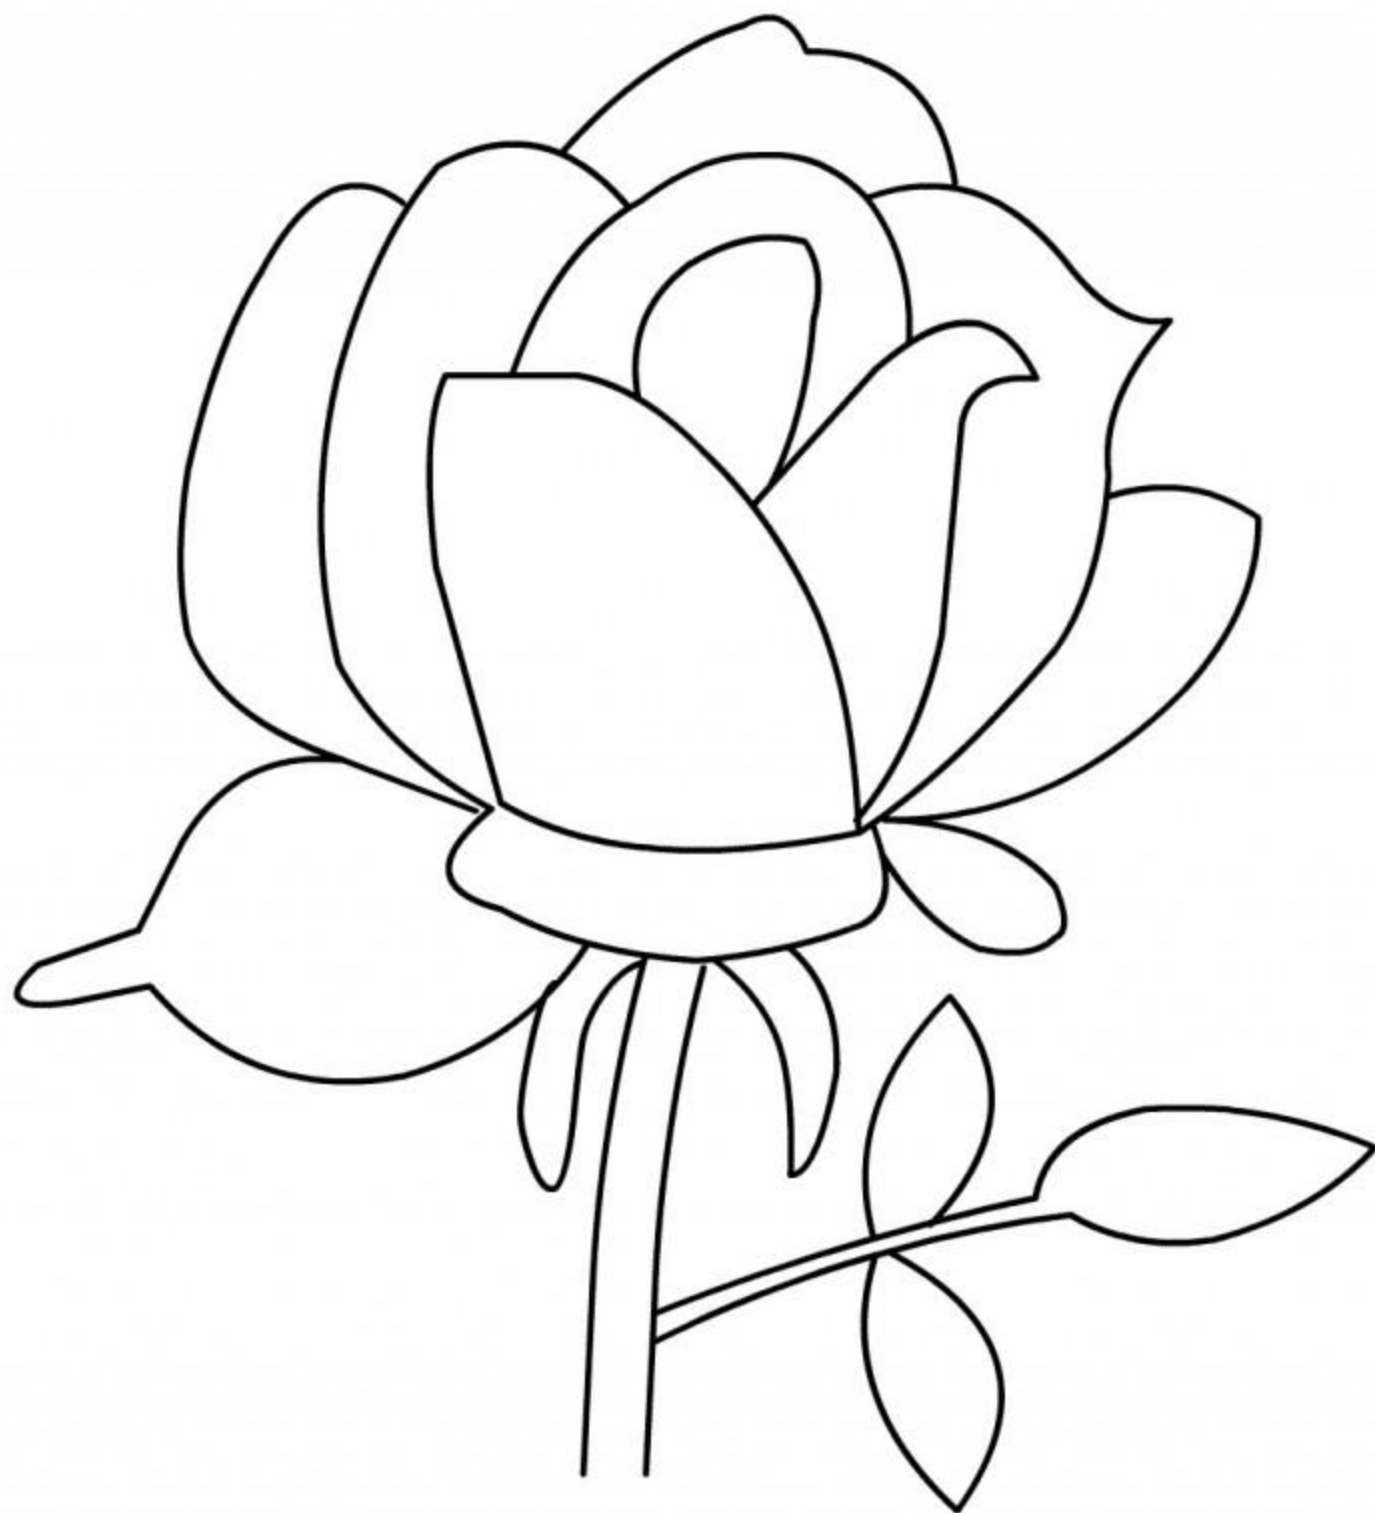

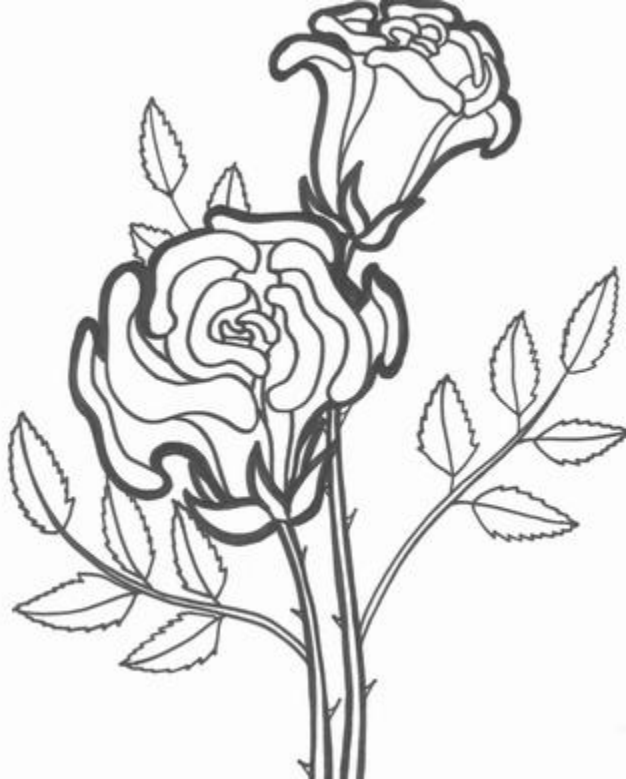

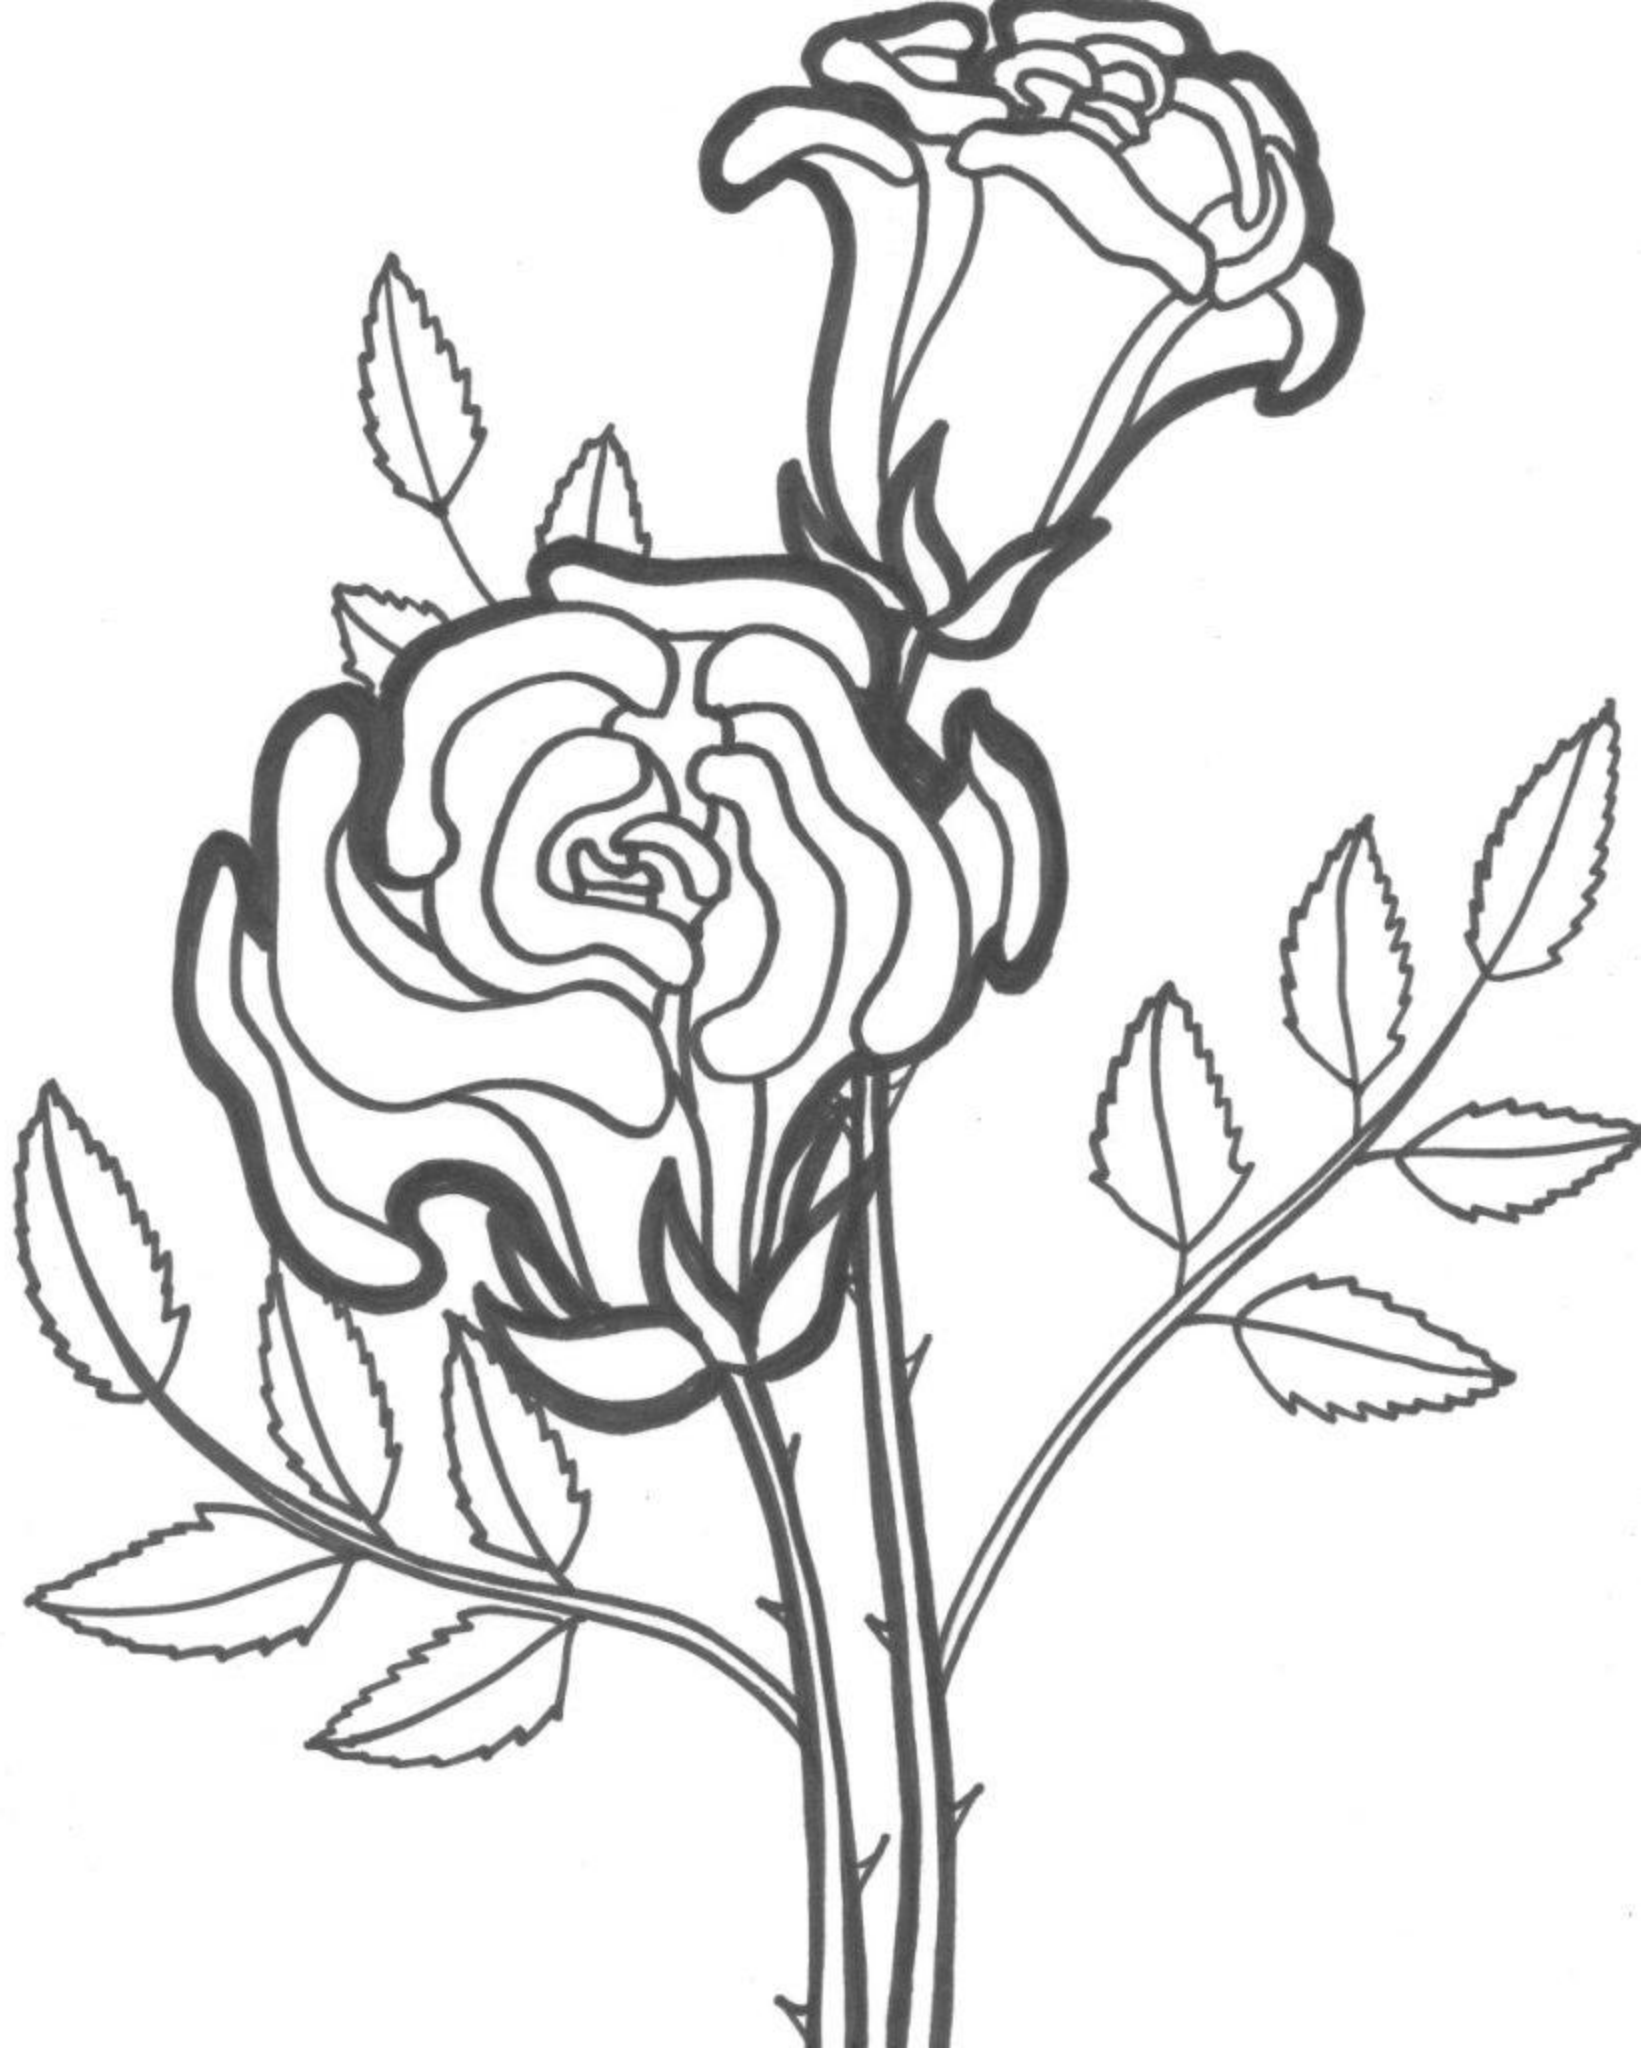

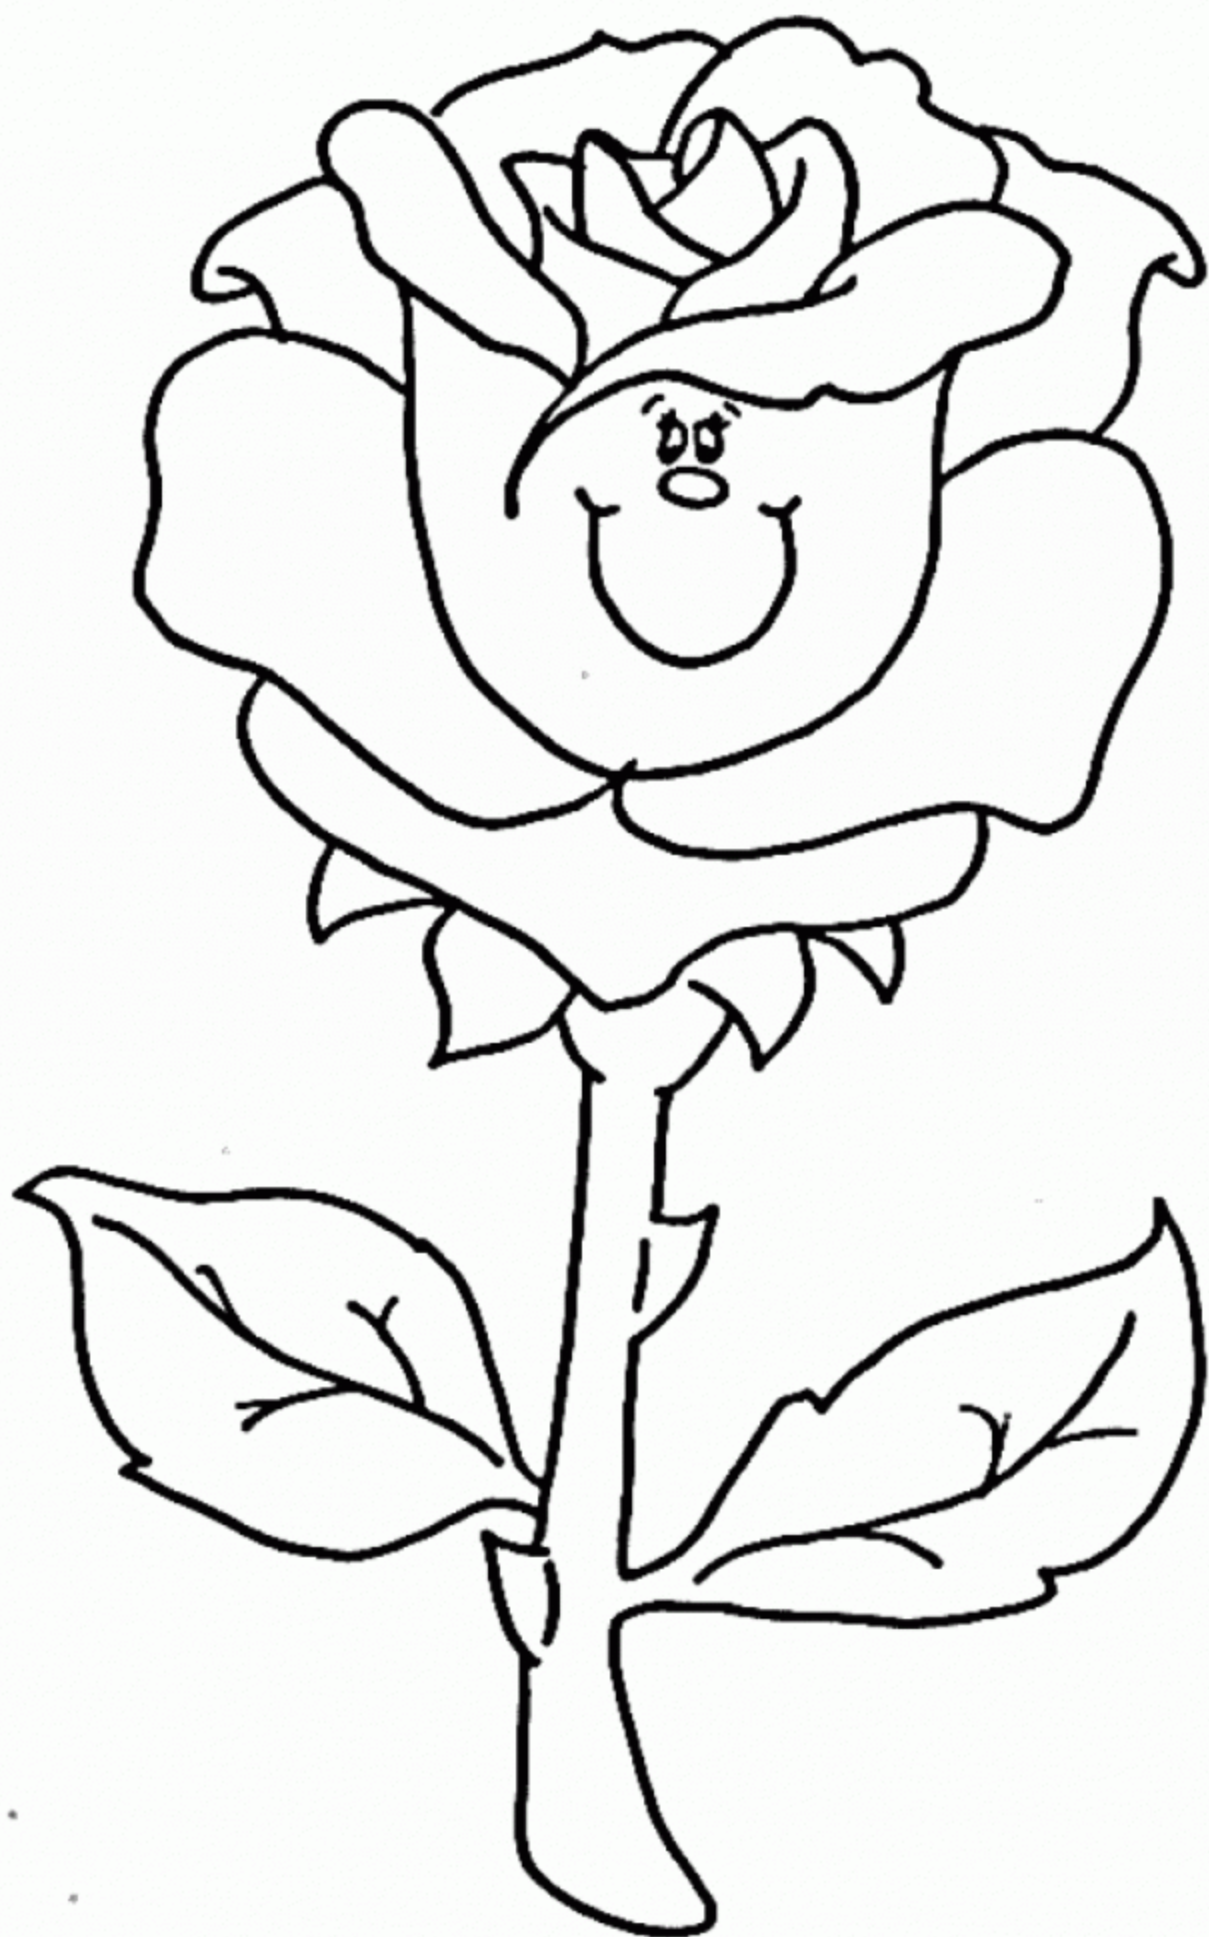

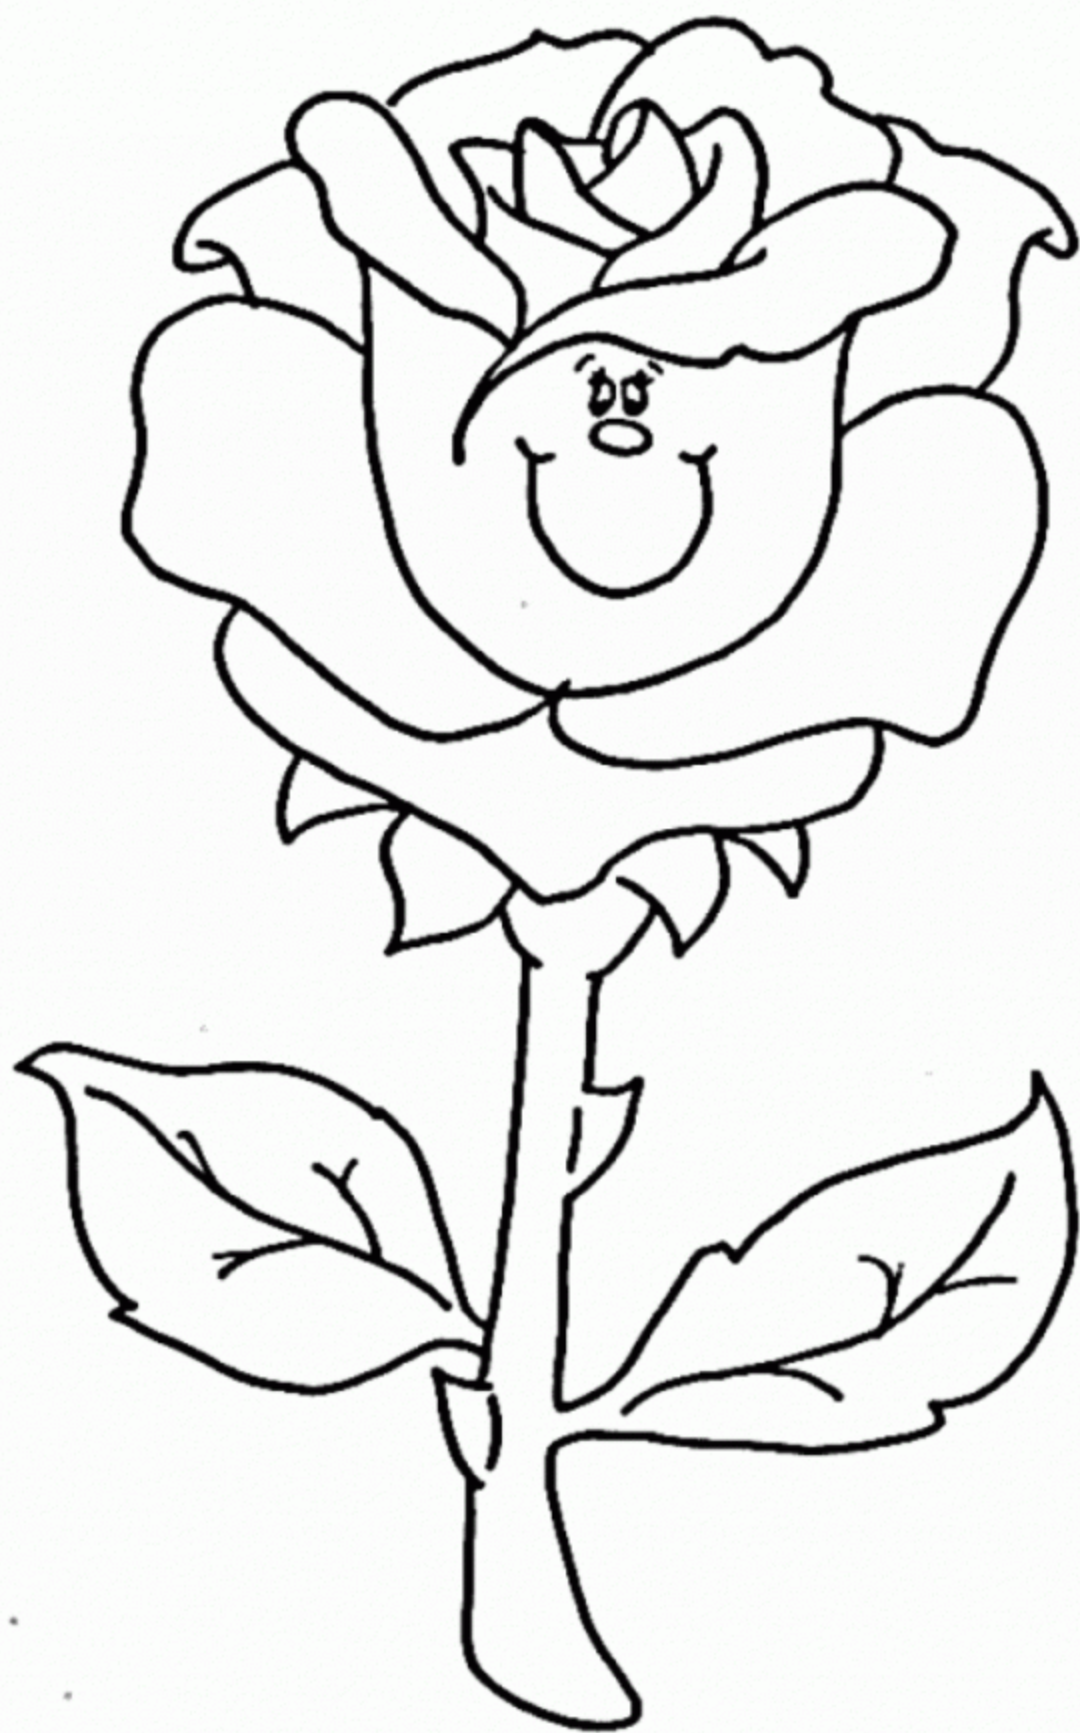

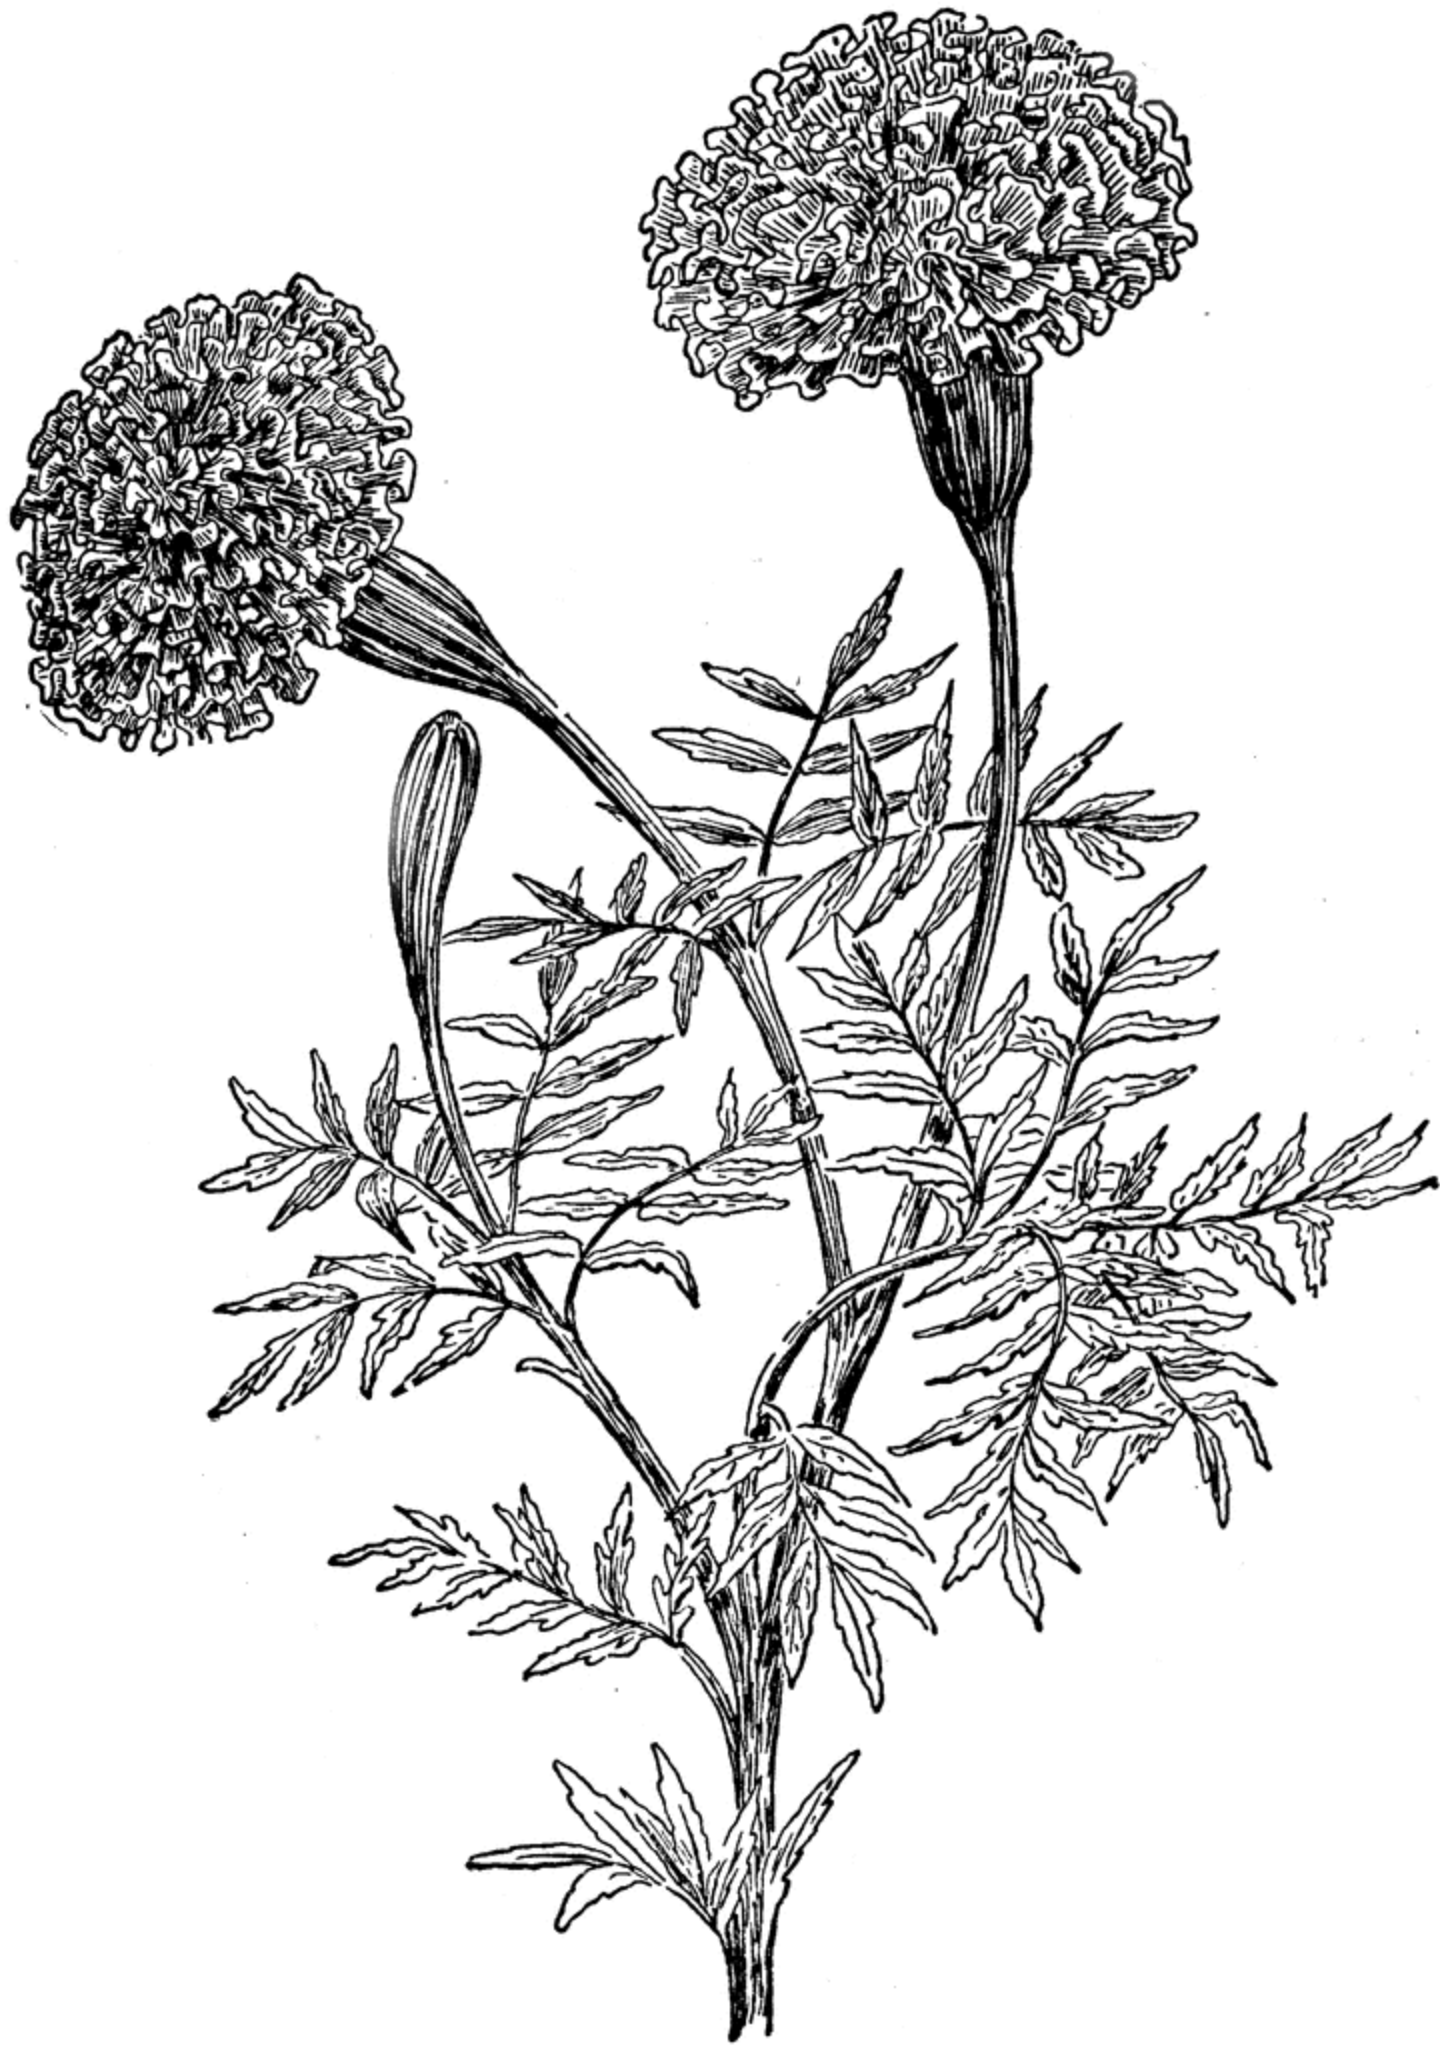

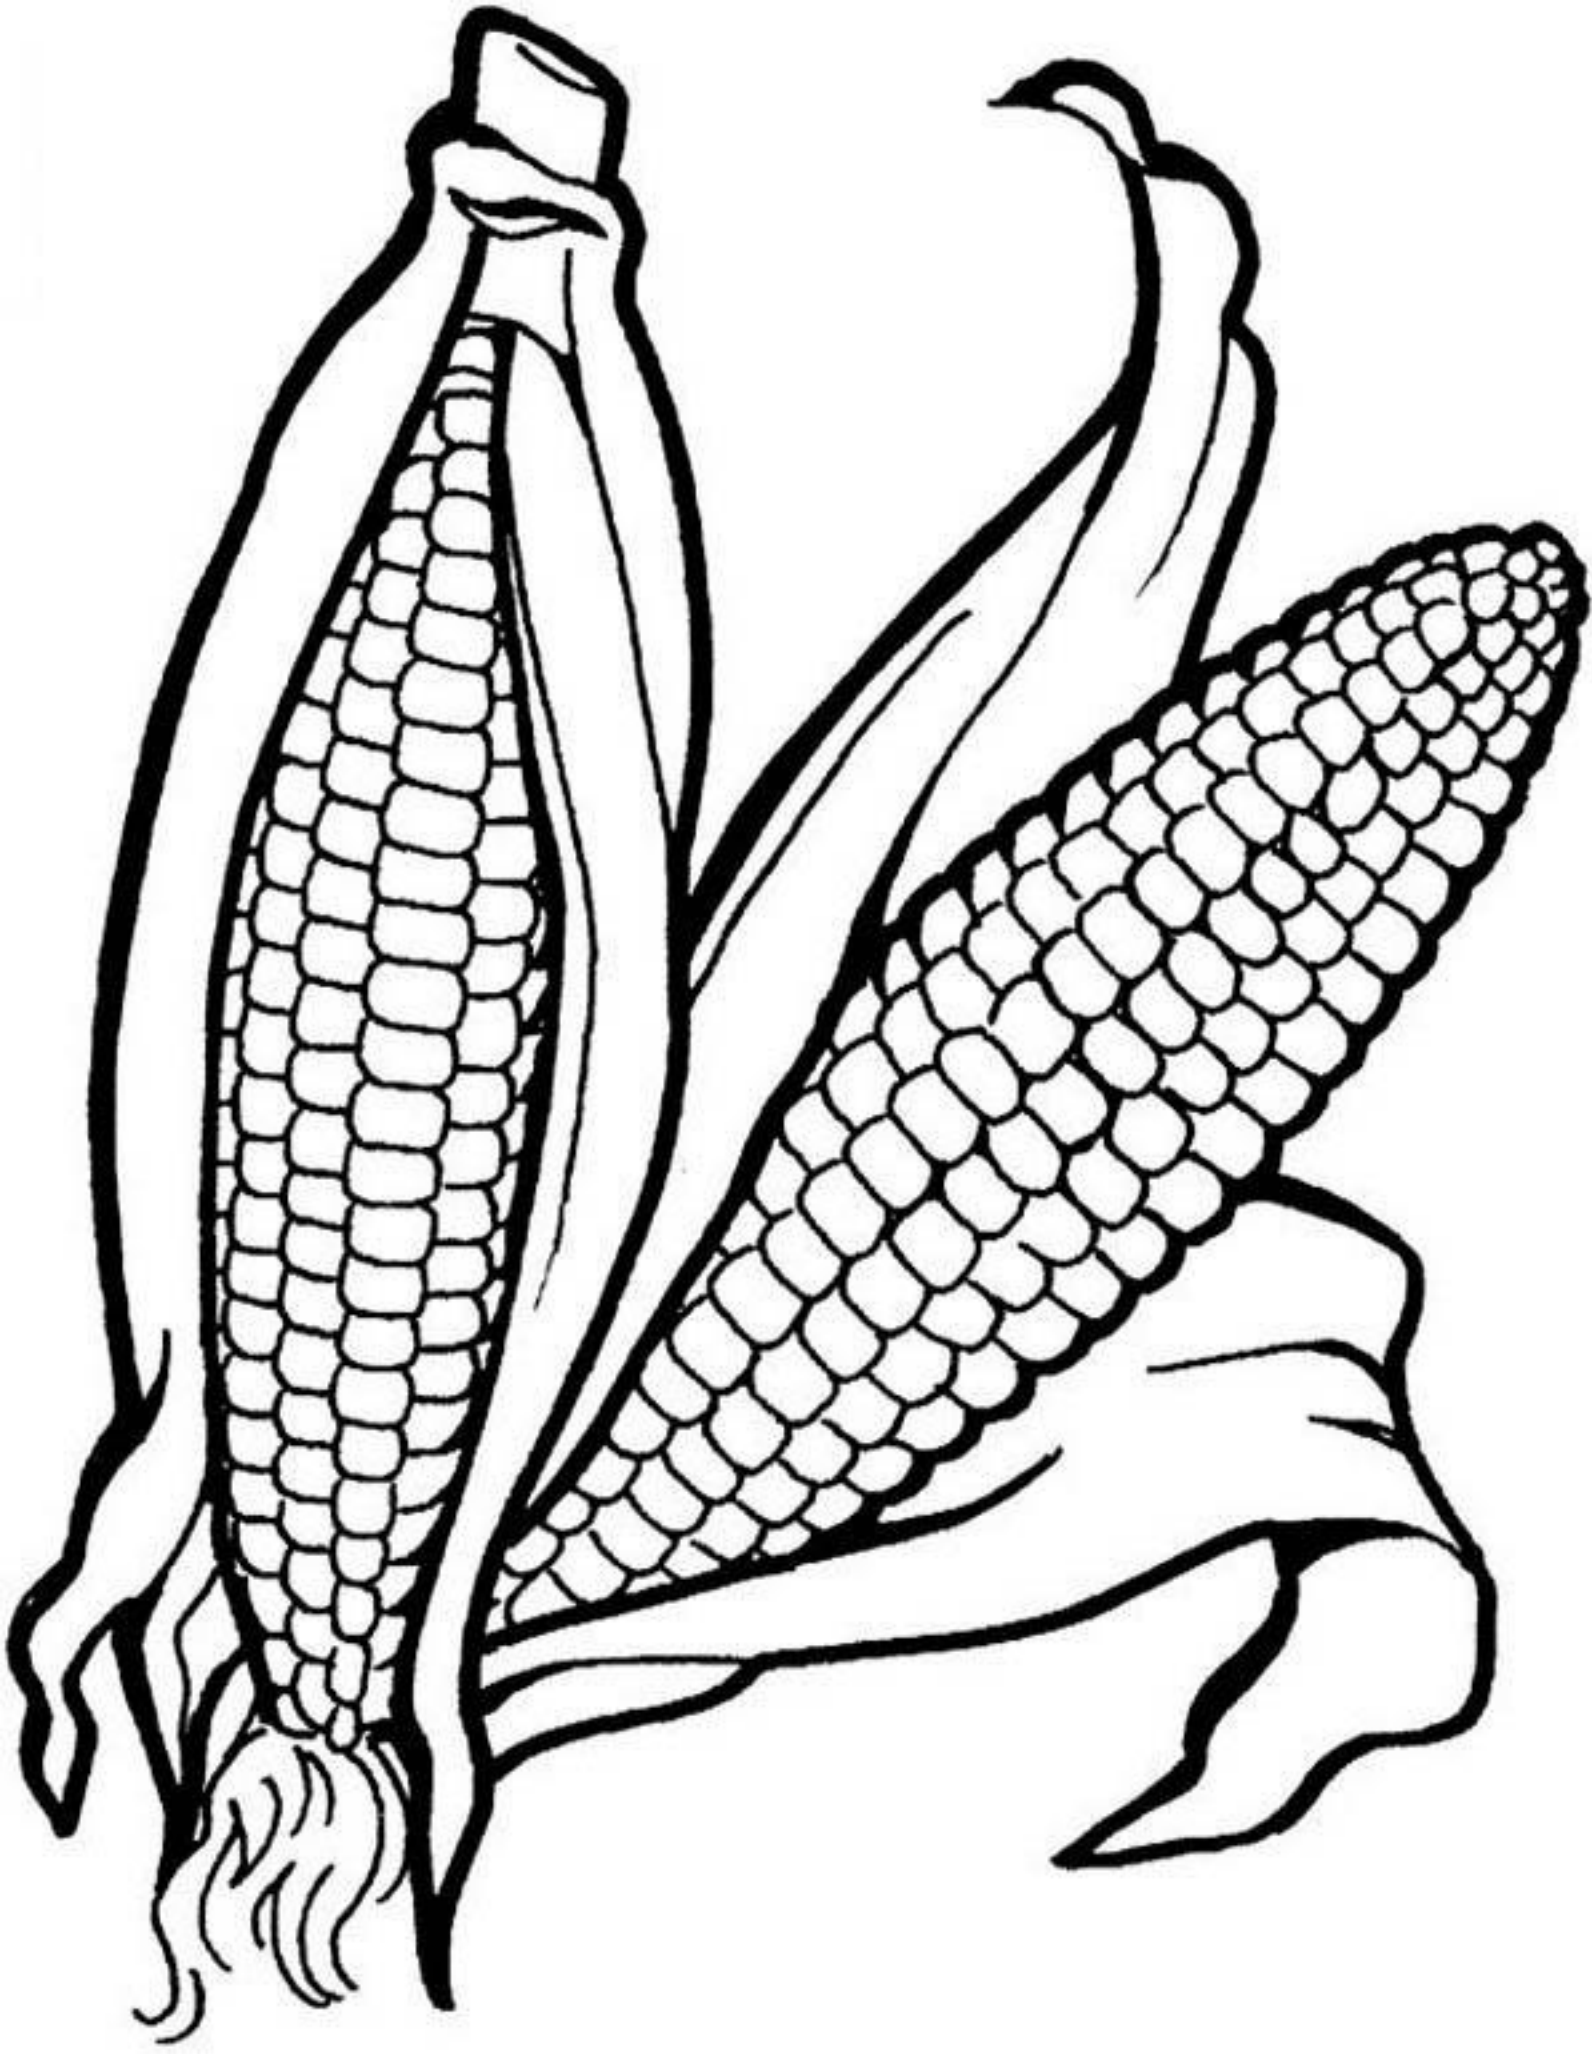

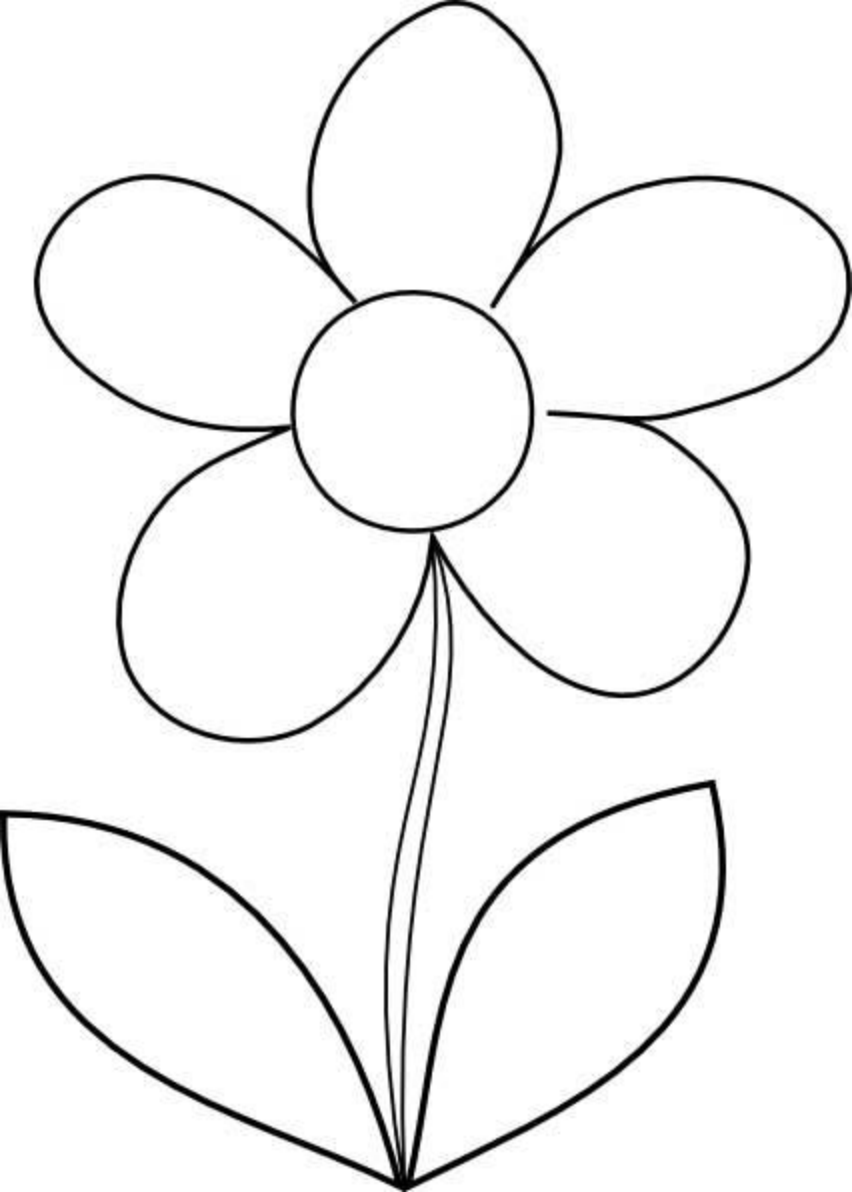

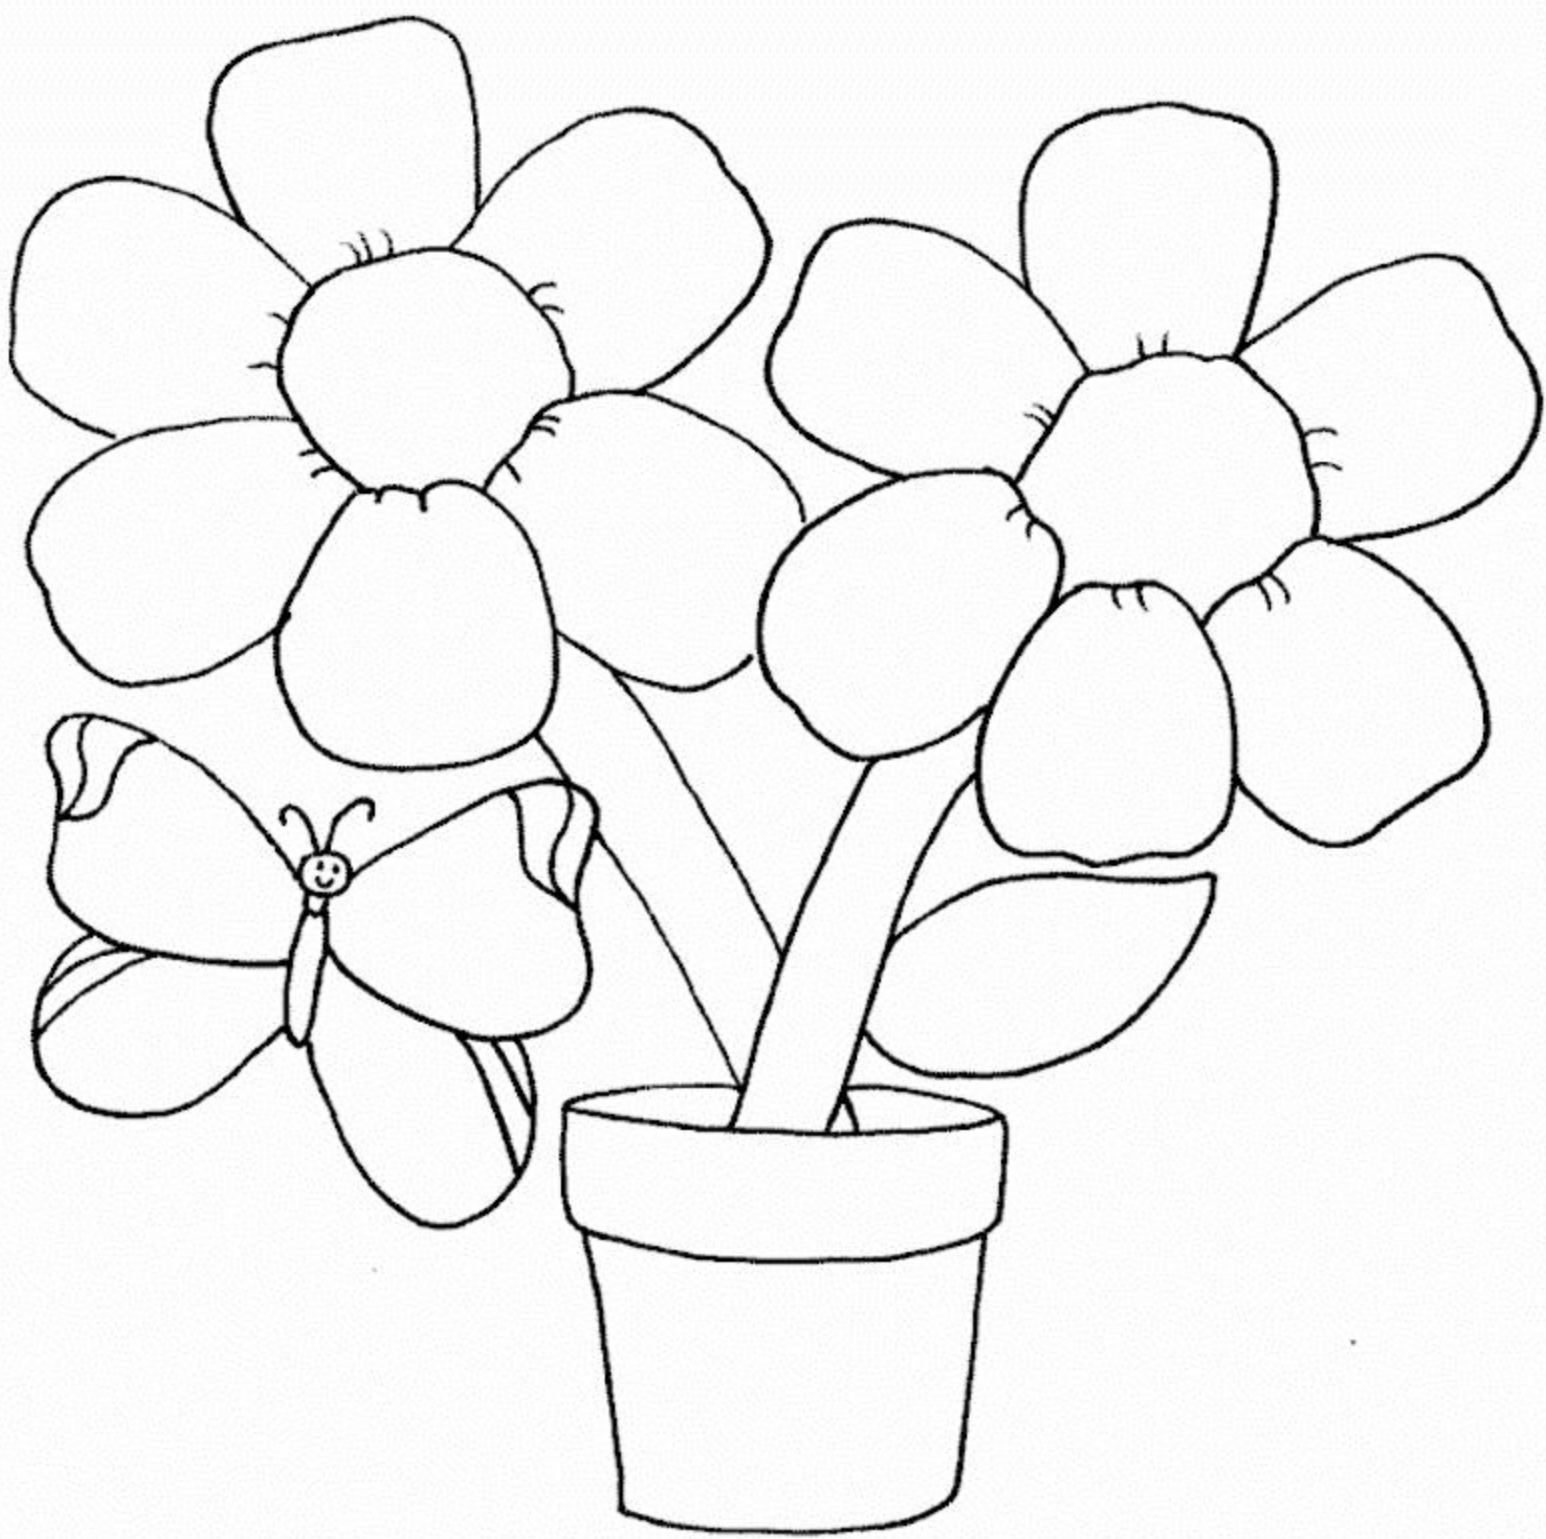

Now there are many sprouts in Lucy and Sam's garden.
It is so much fun having a garden full of little plants that are growing fast.

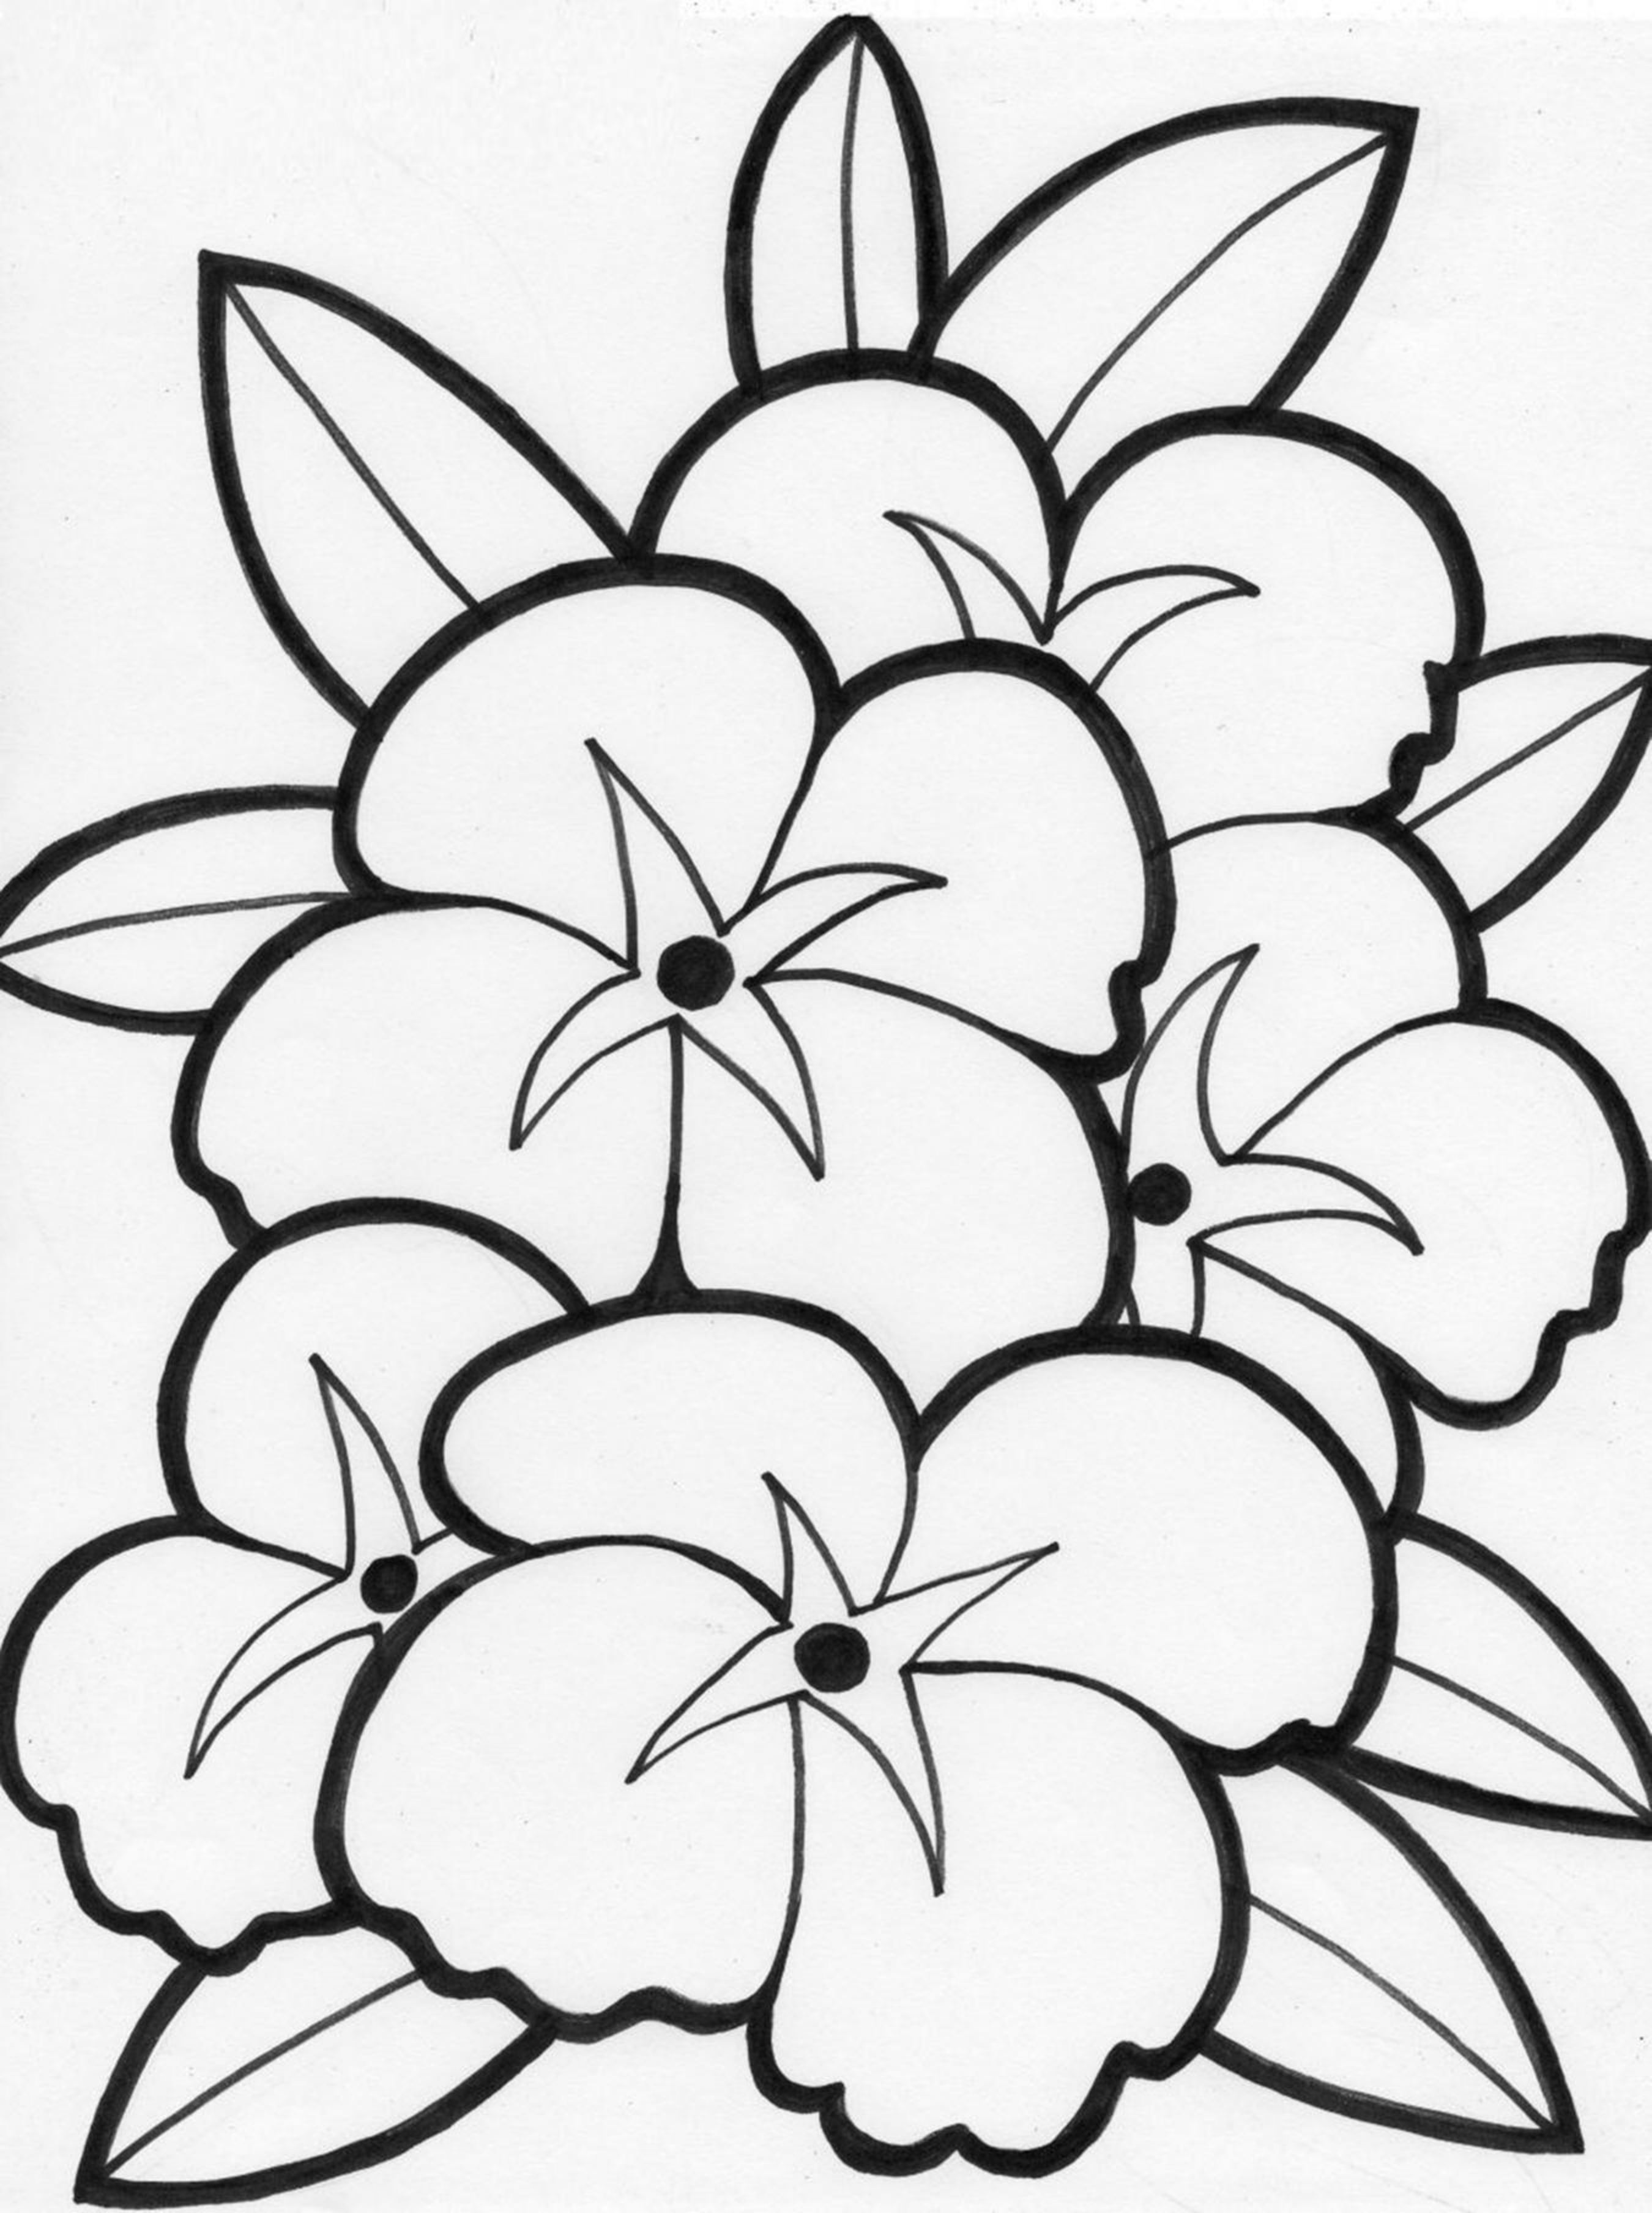

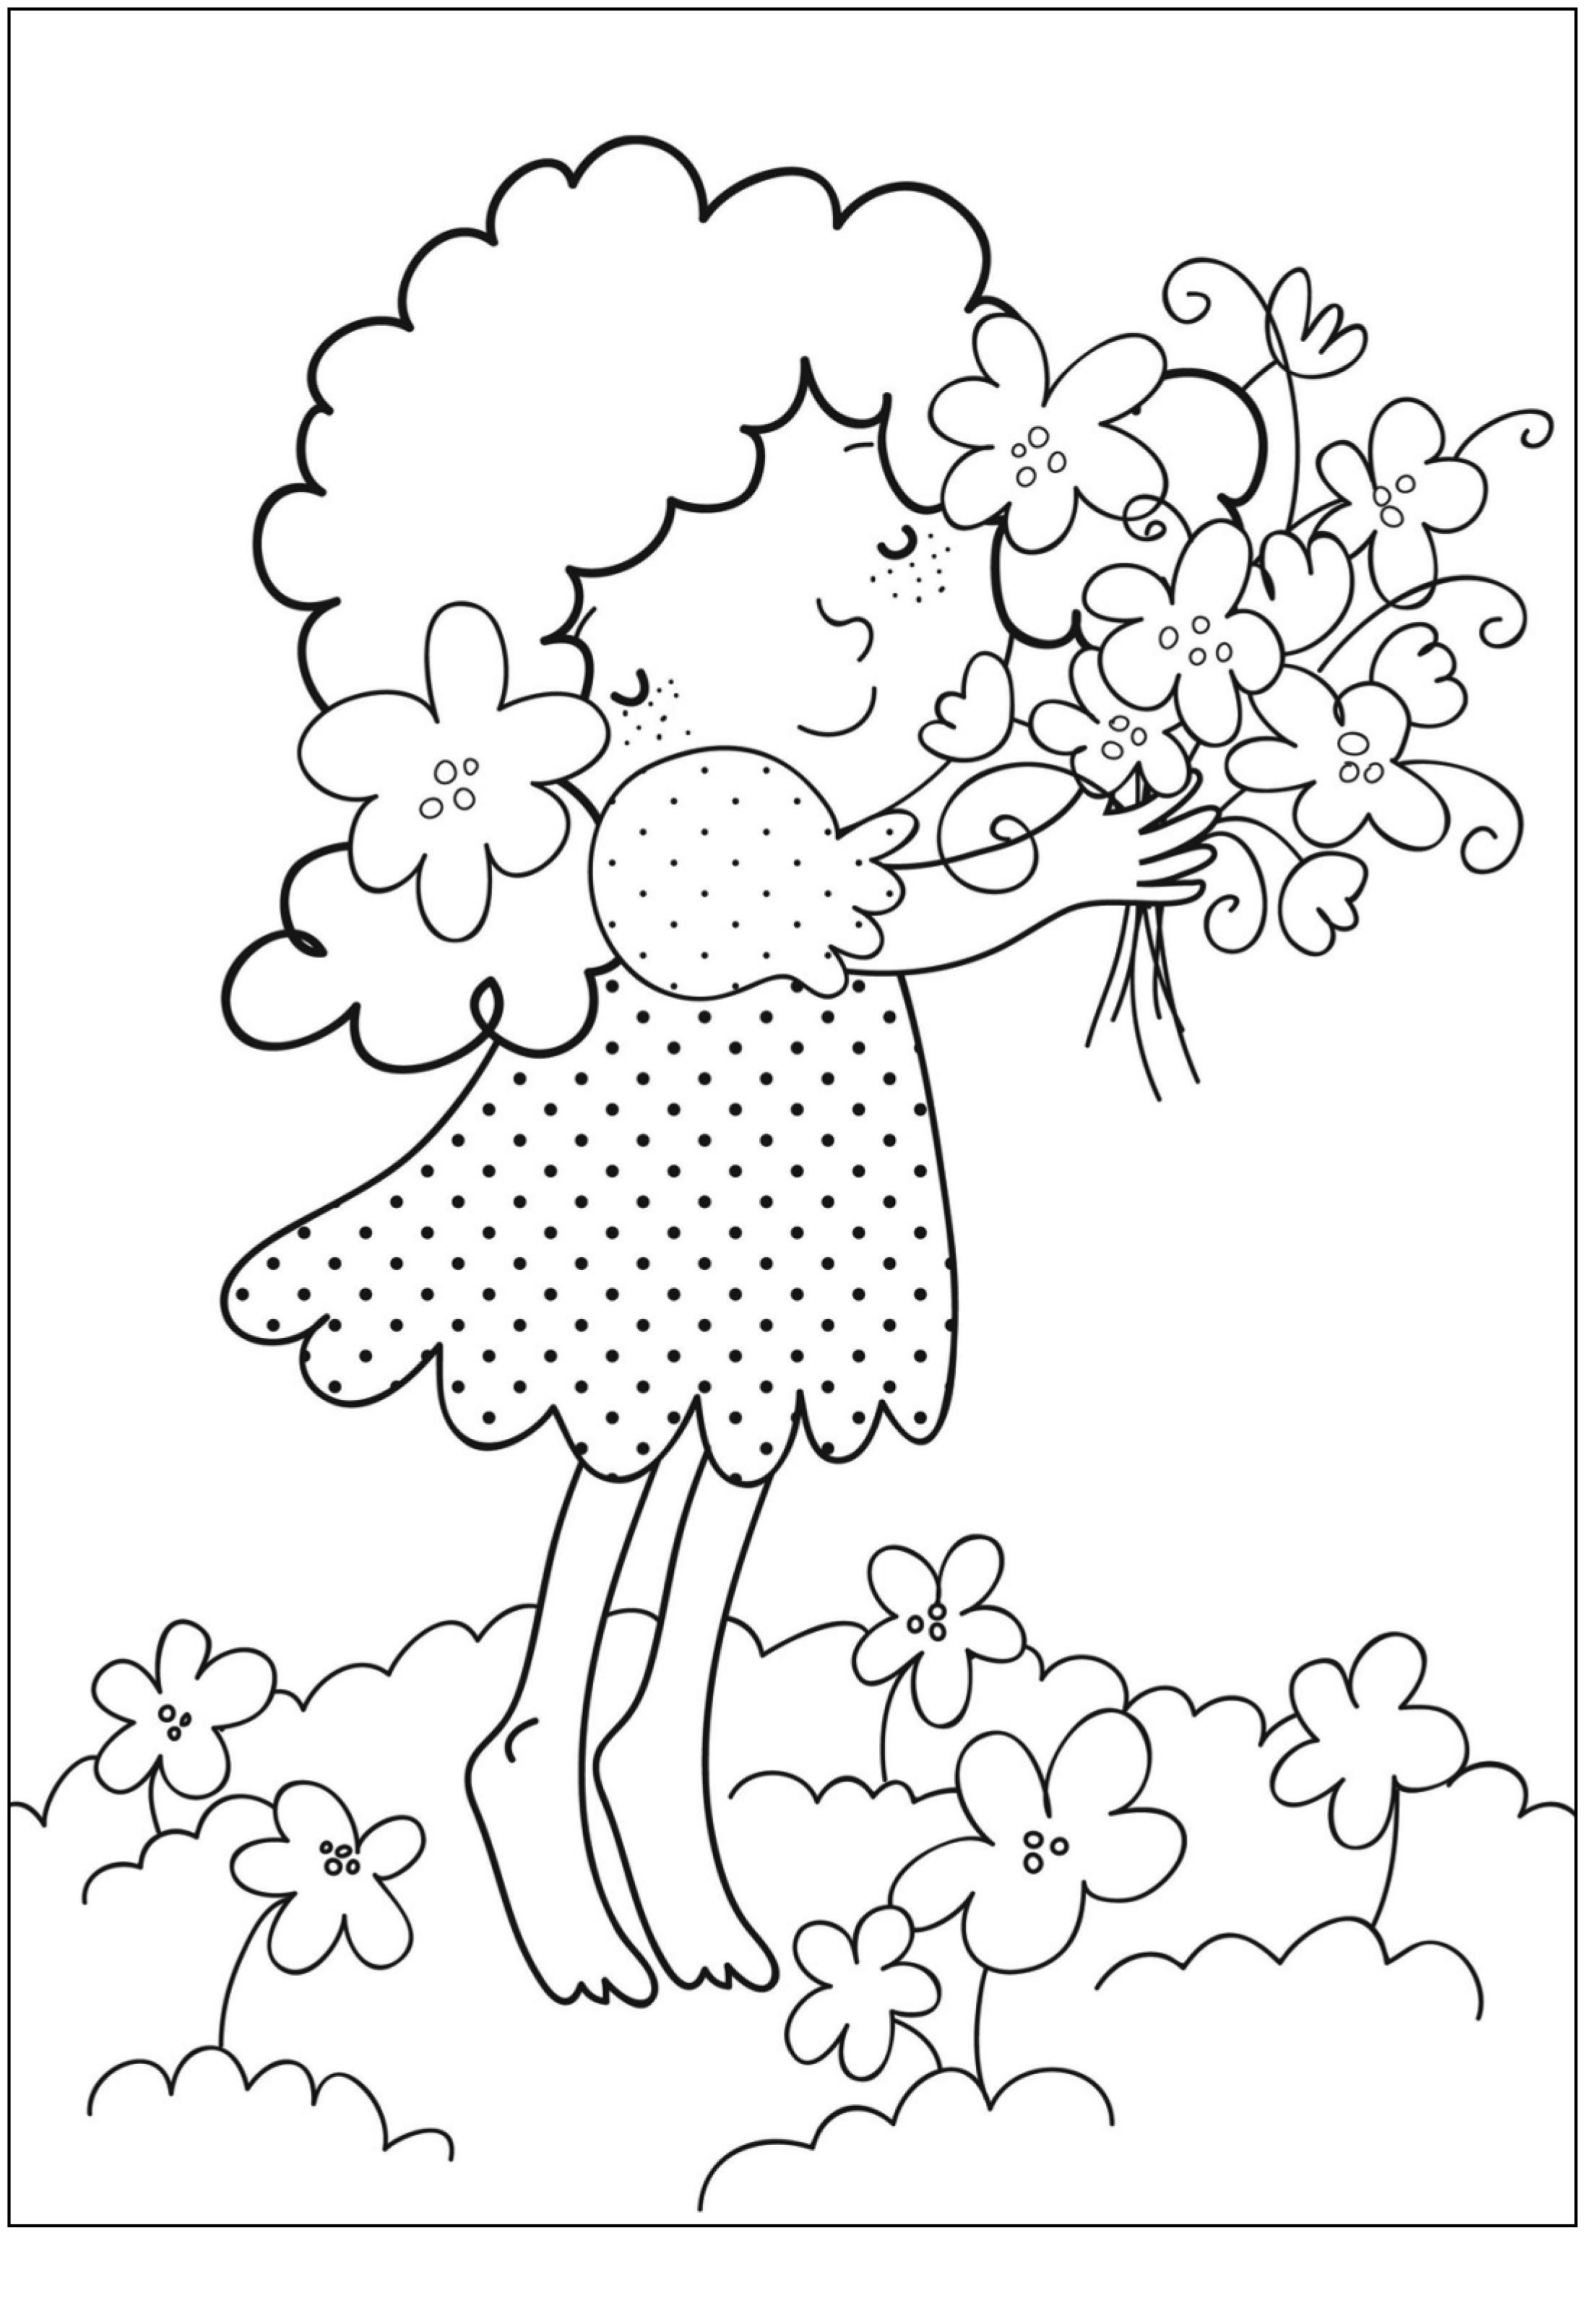

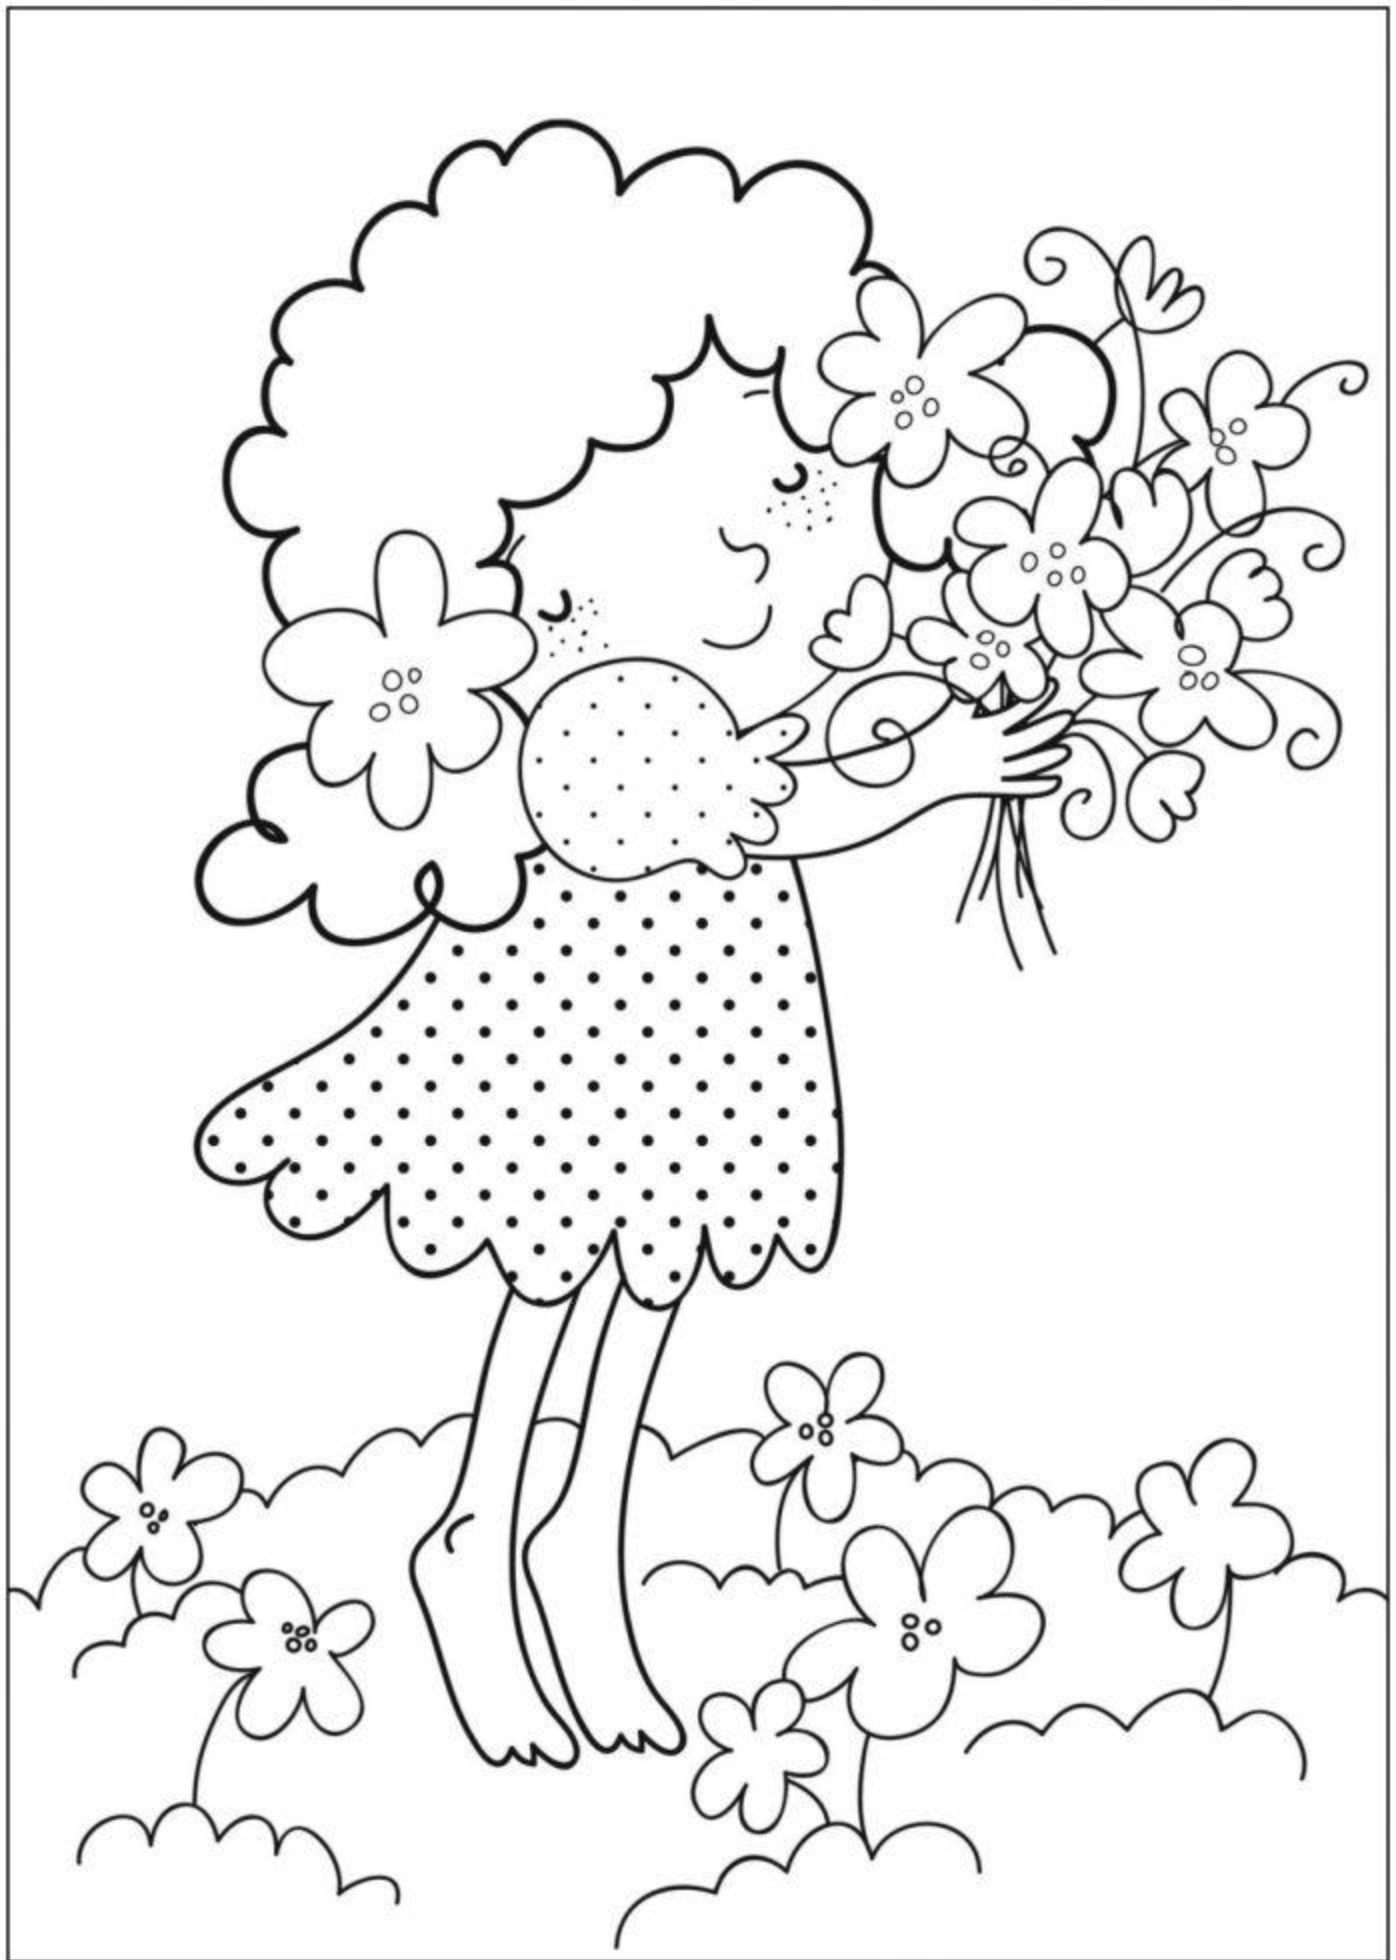

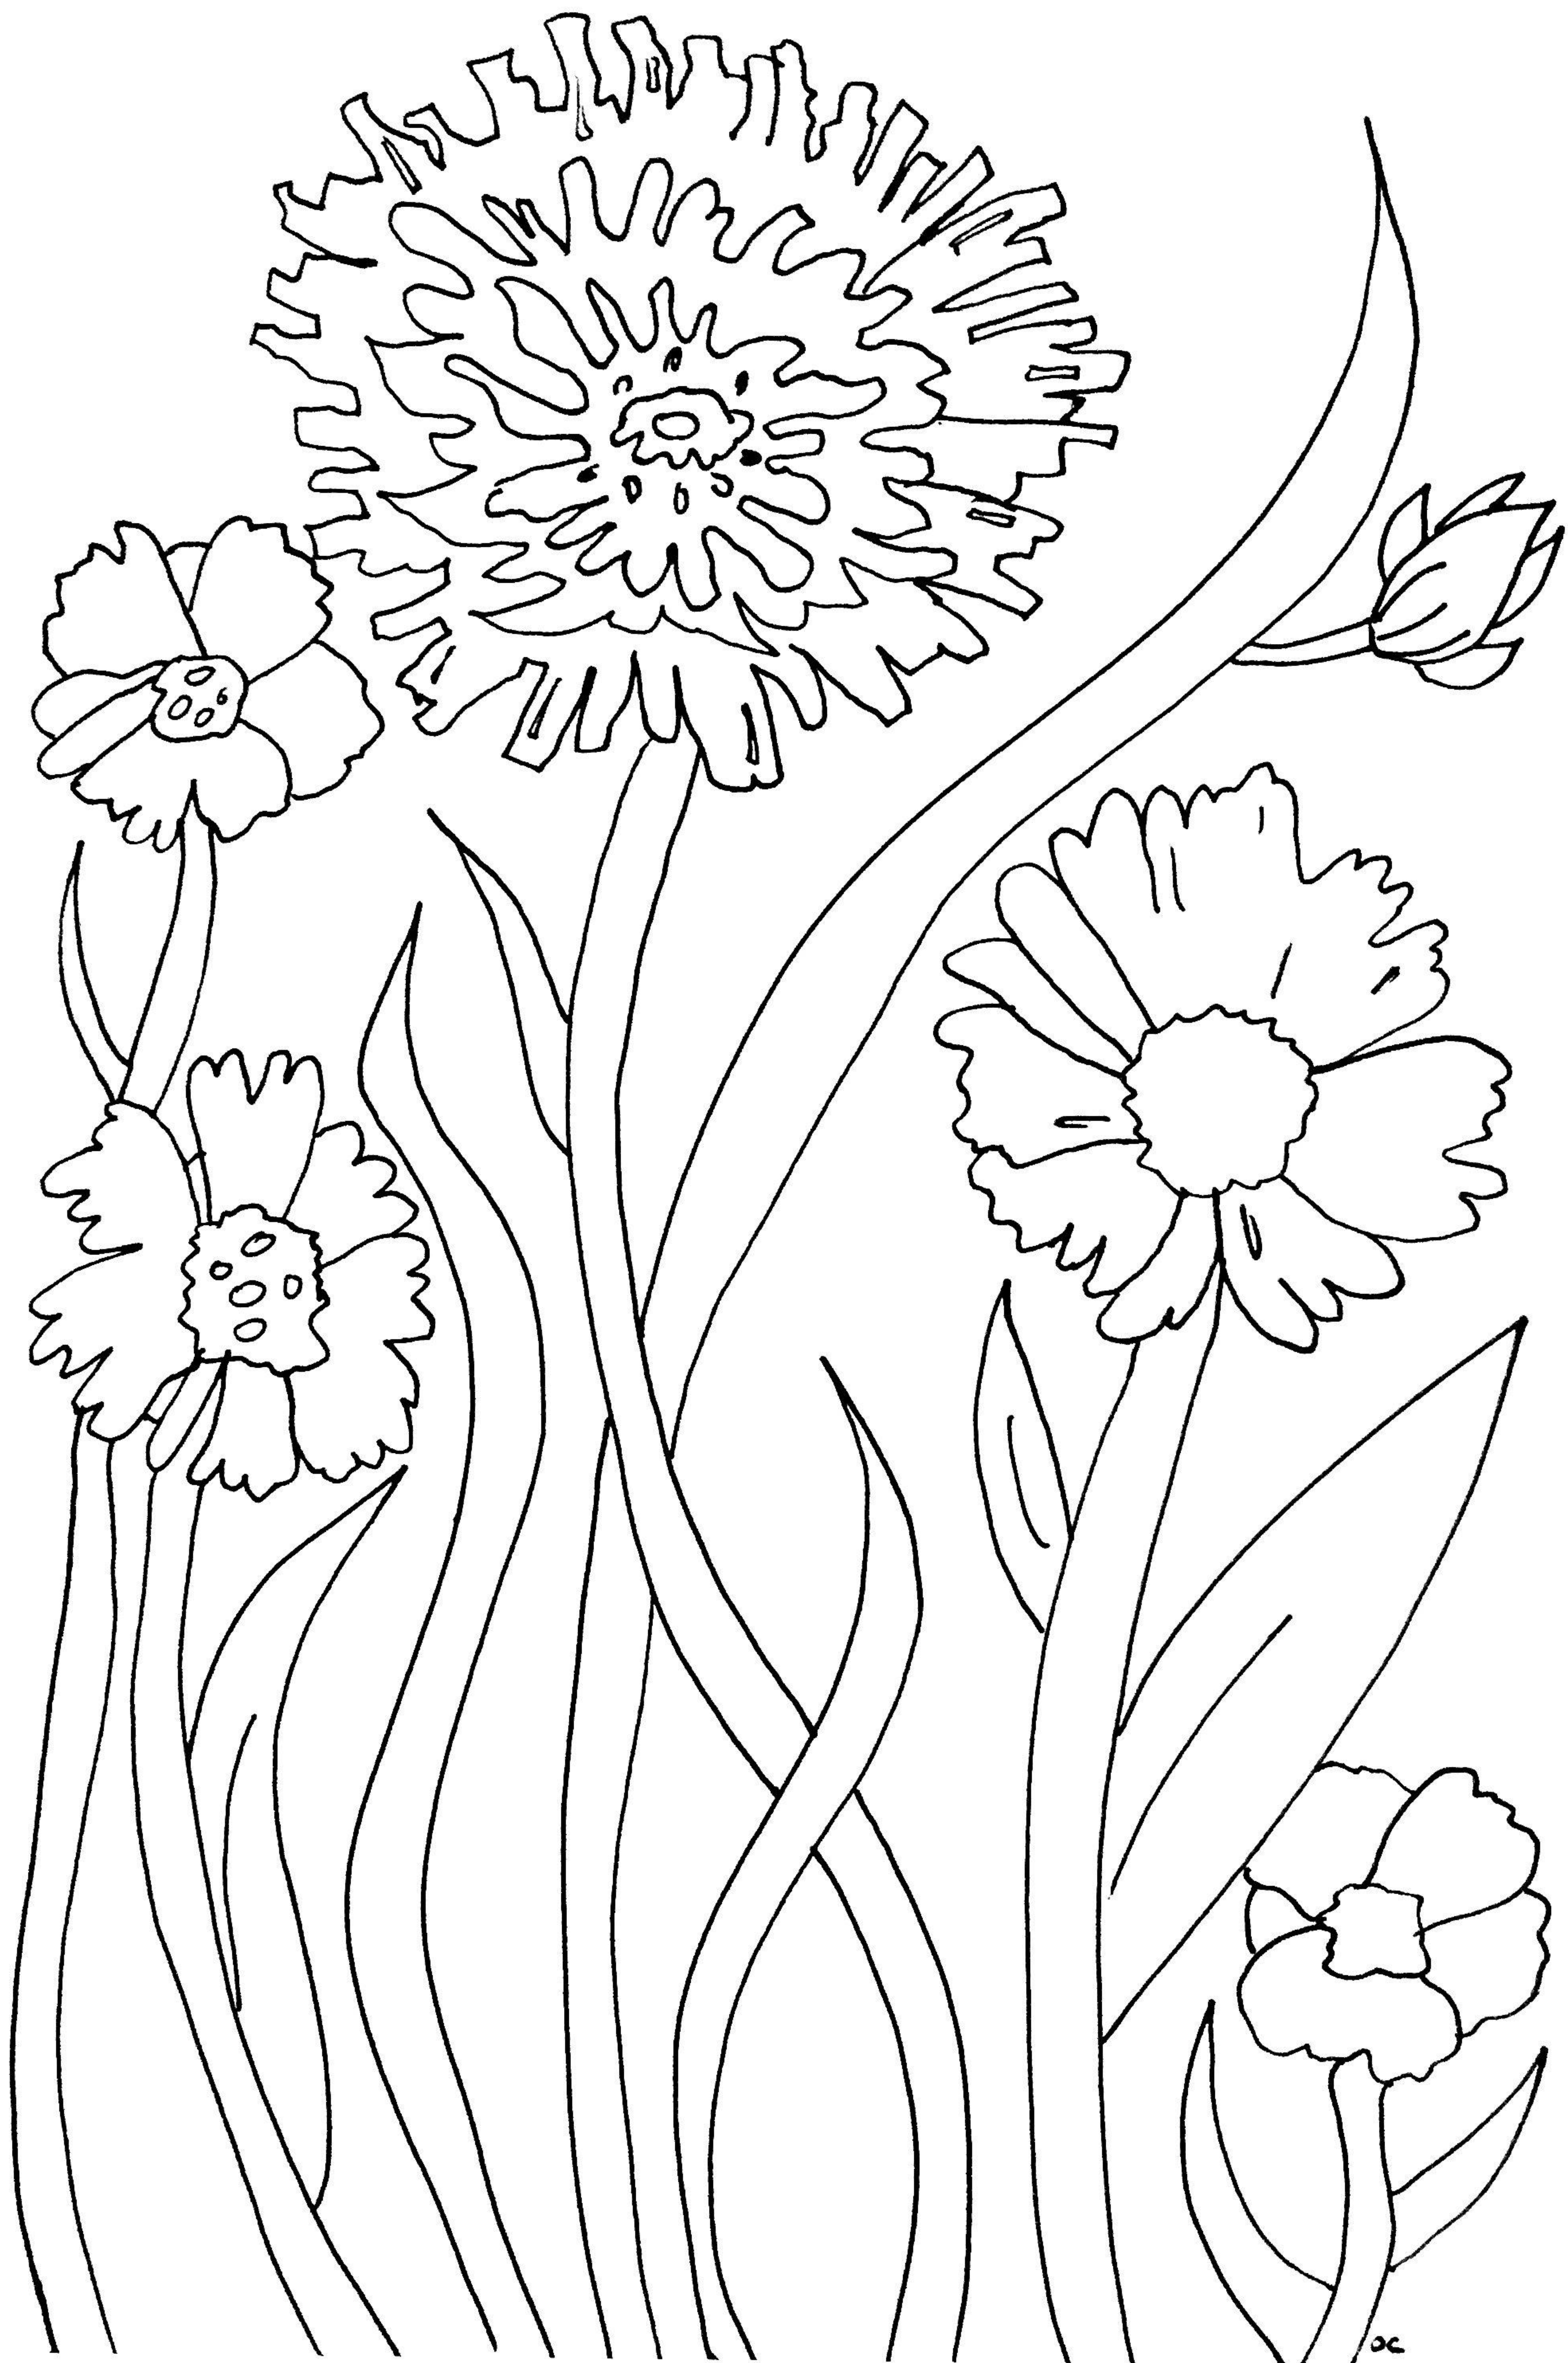

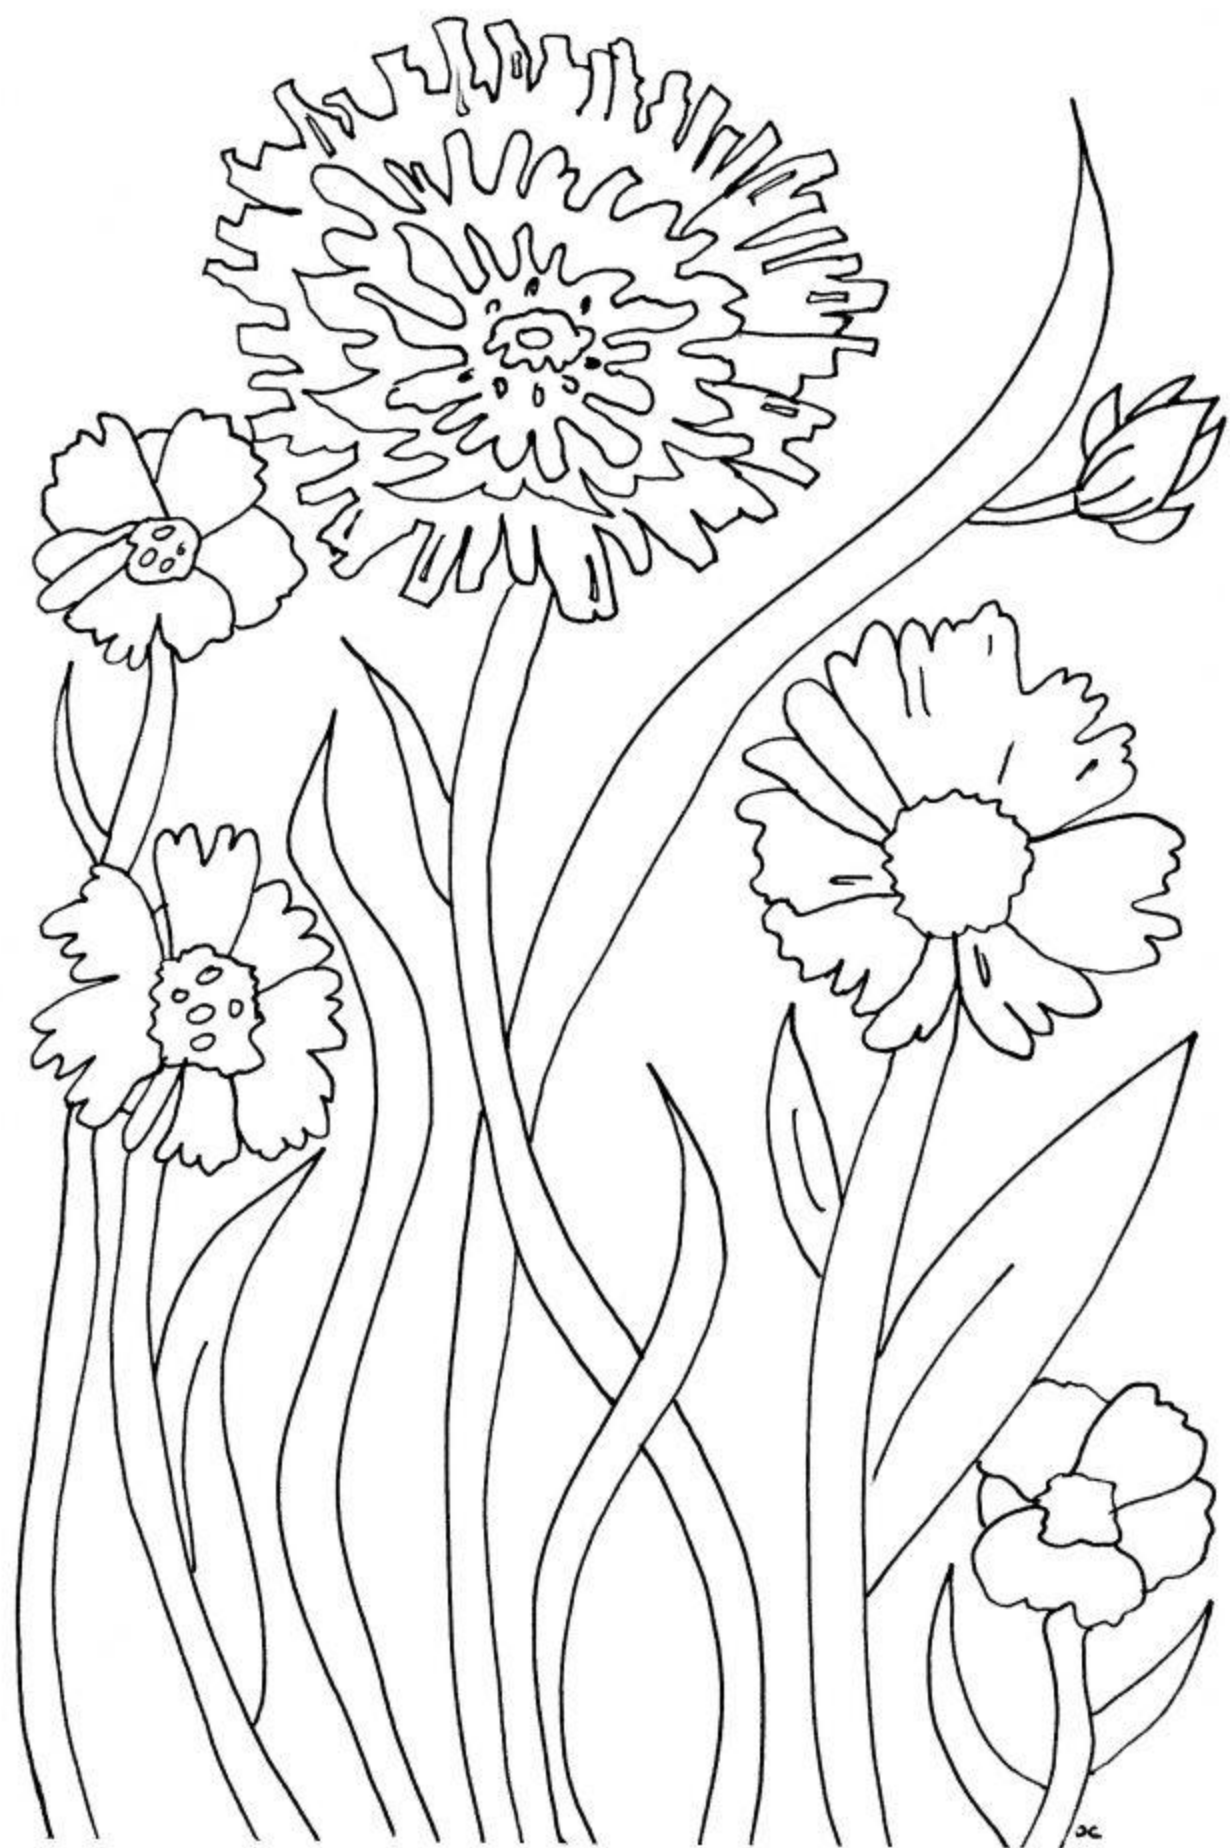

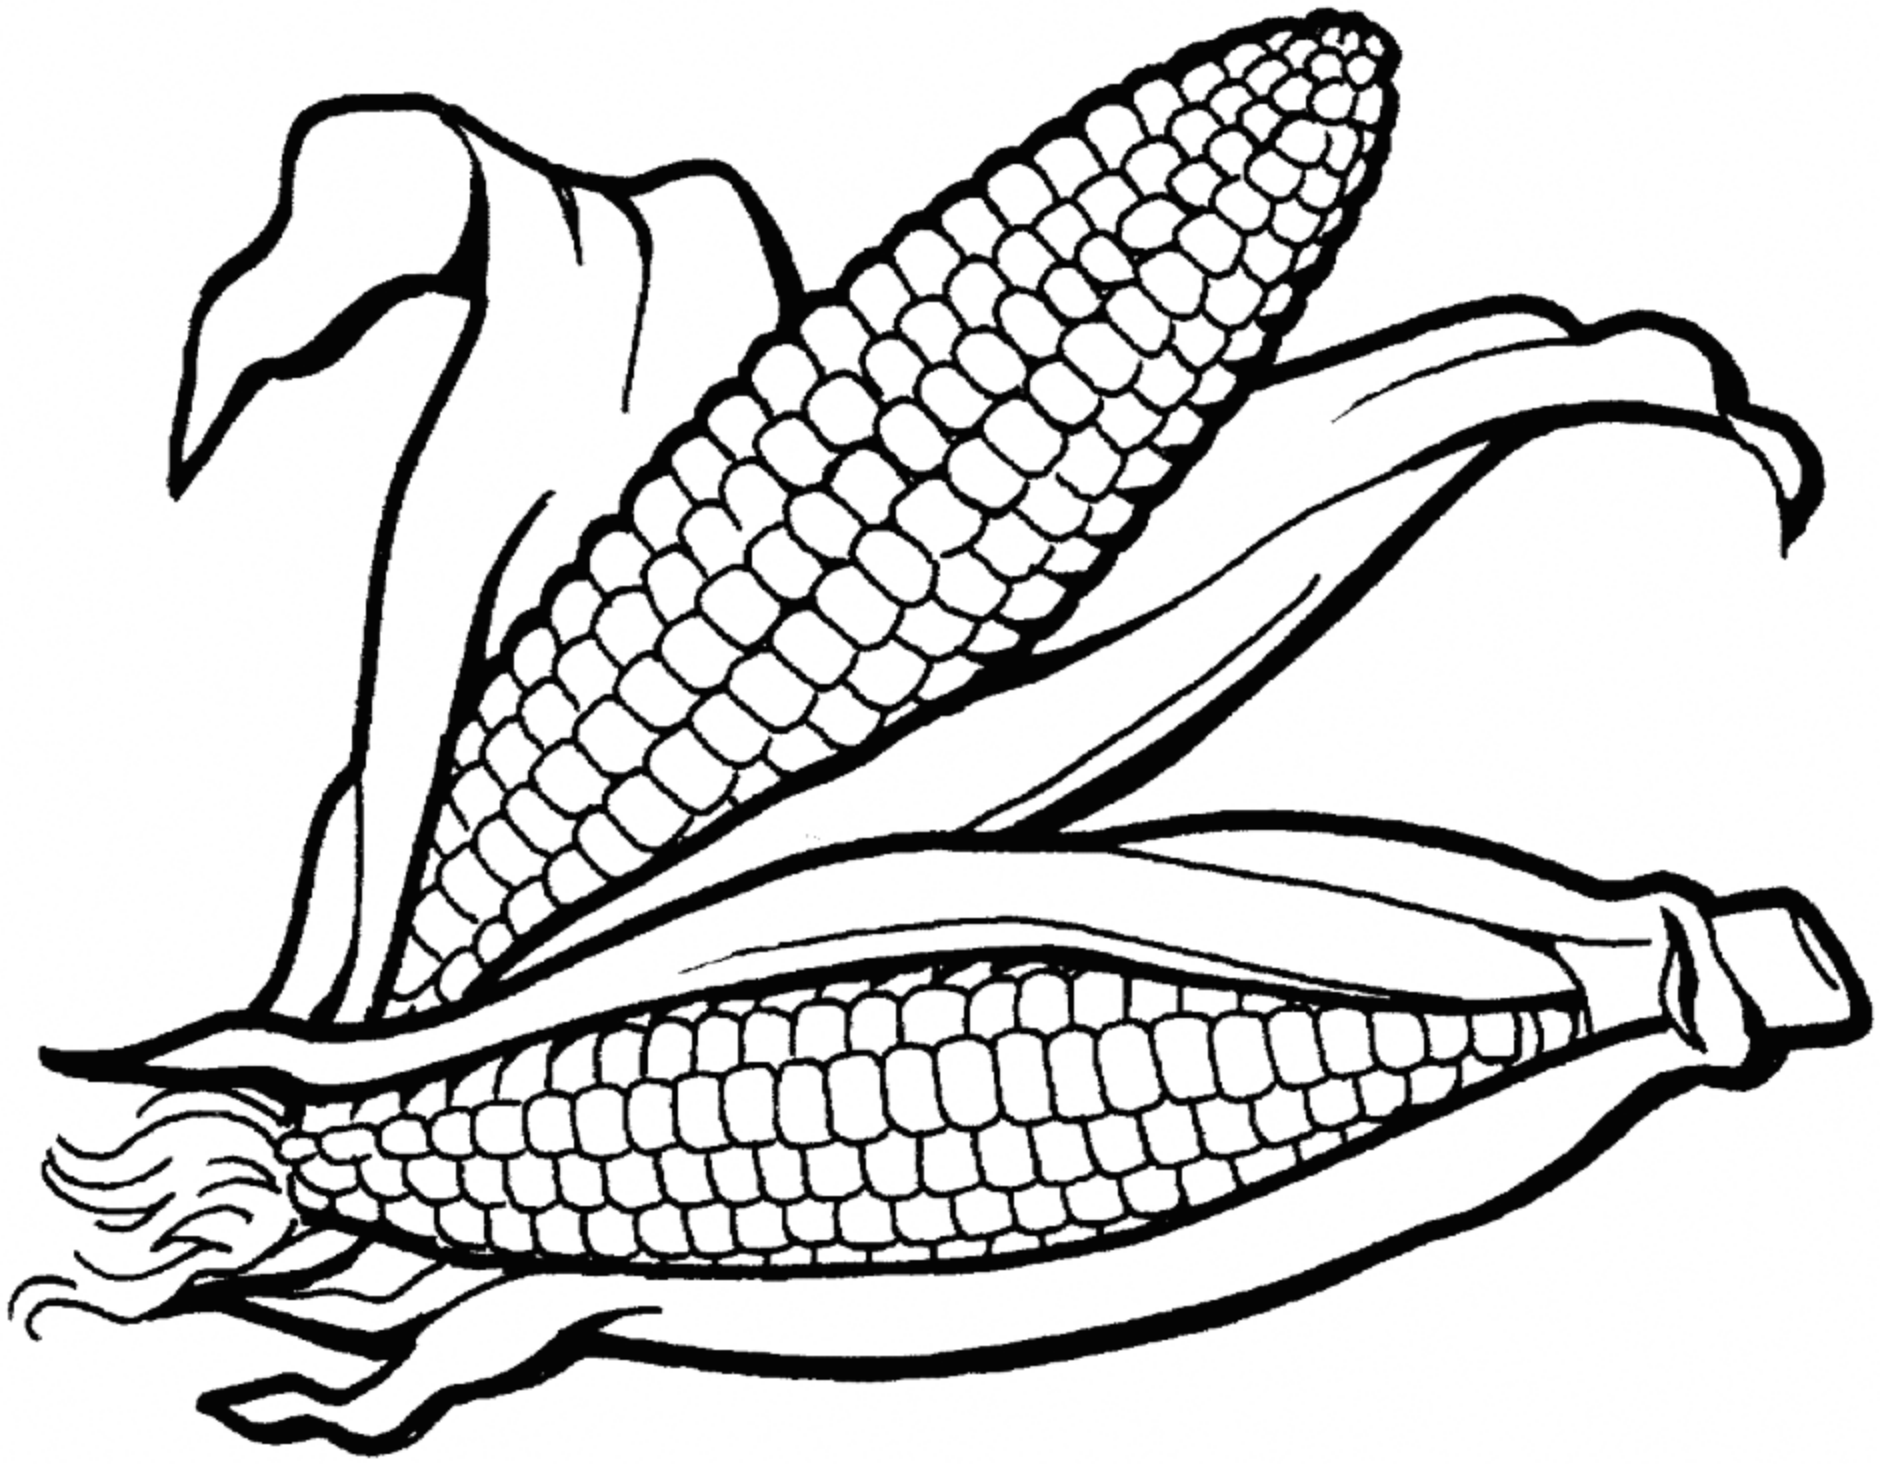

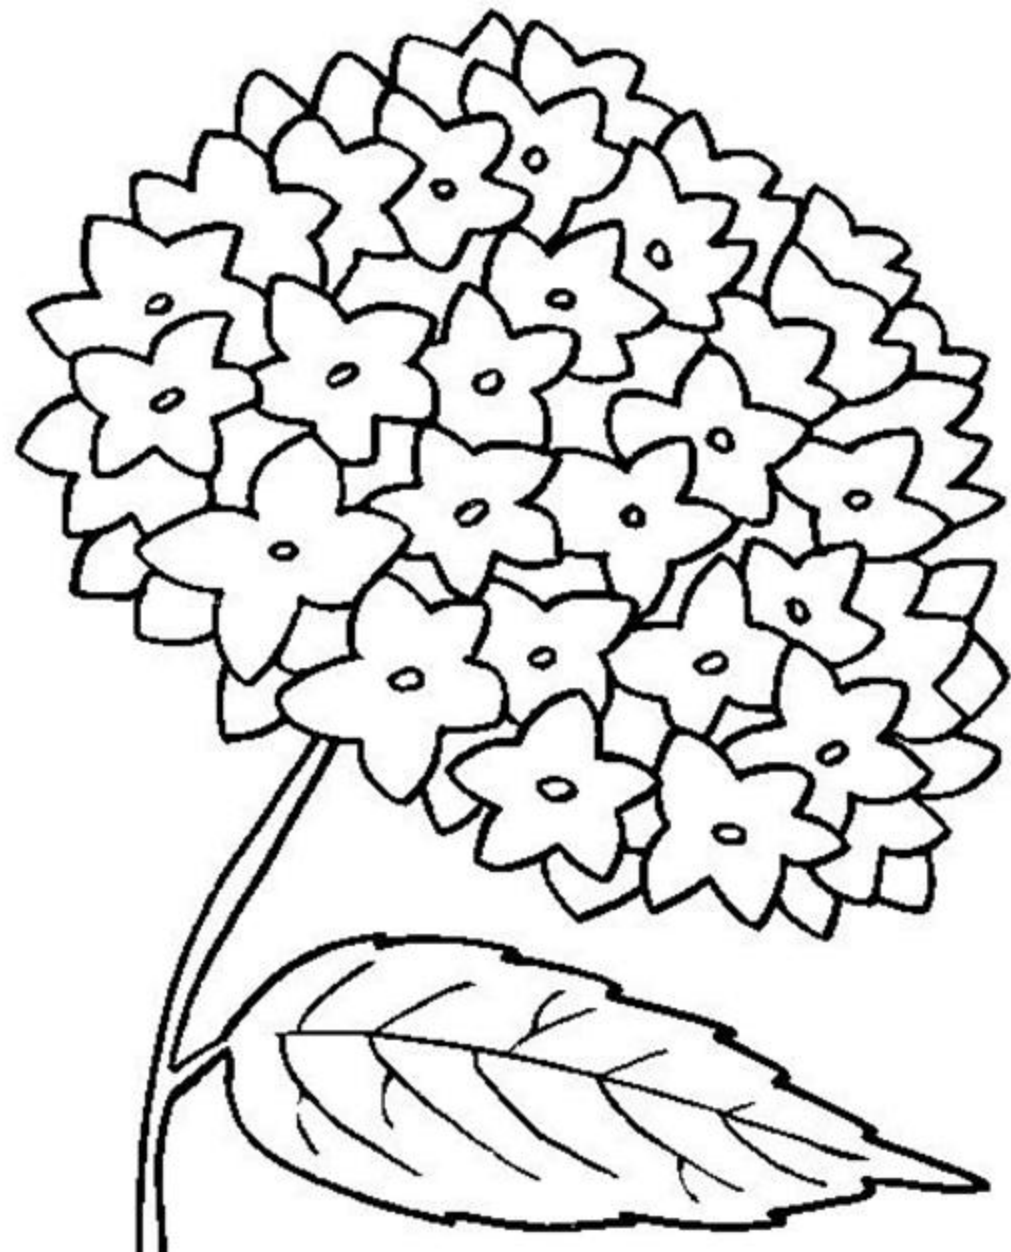

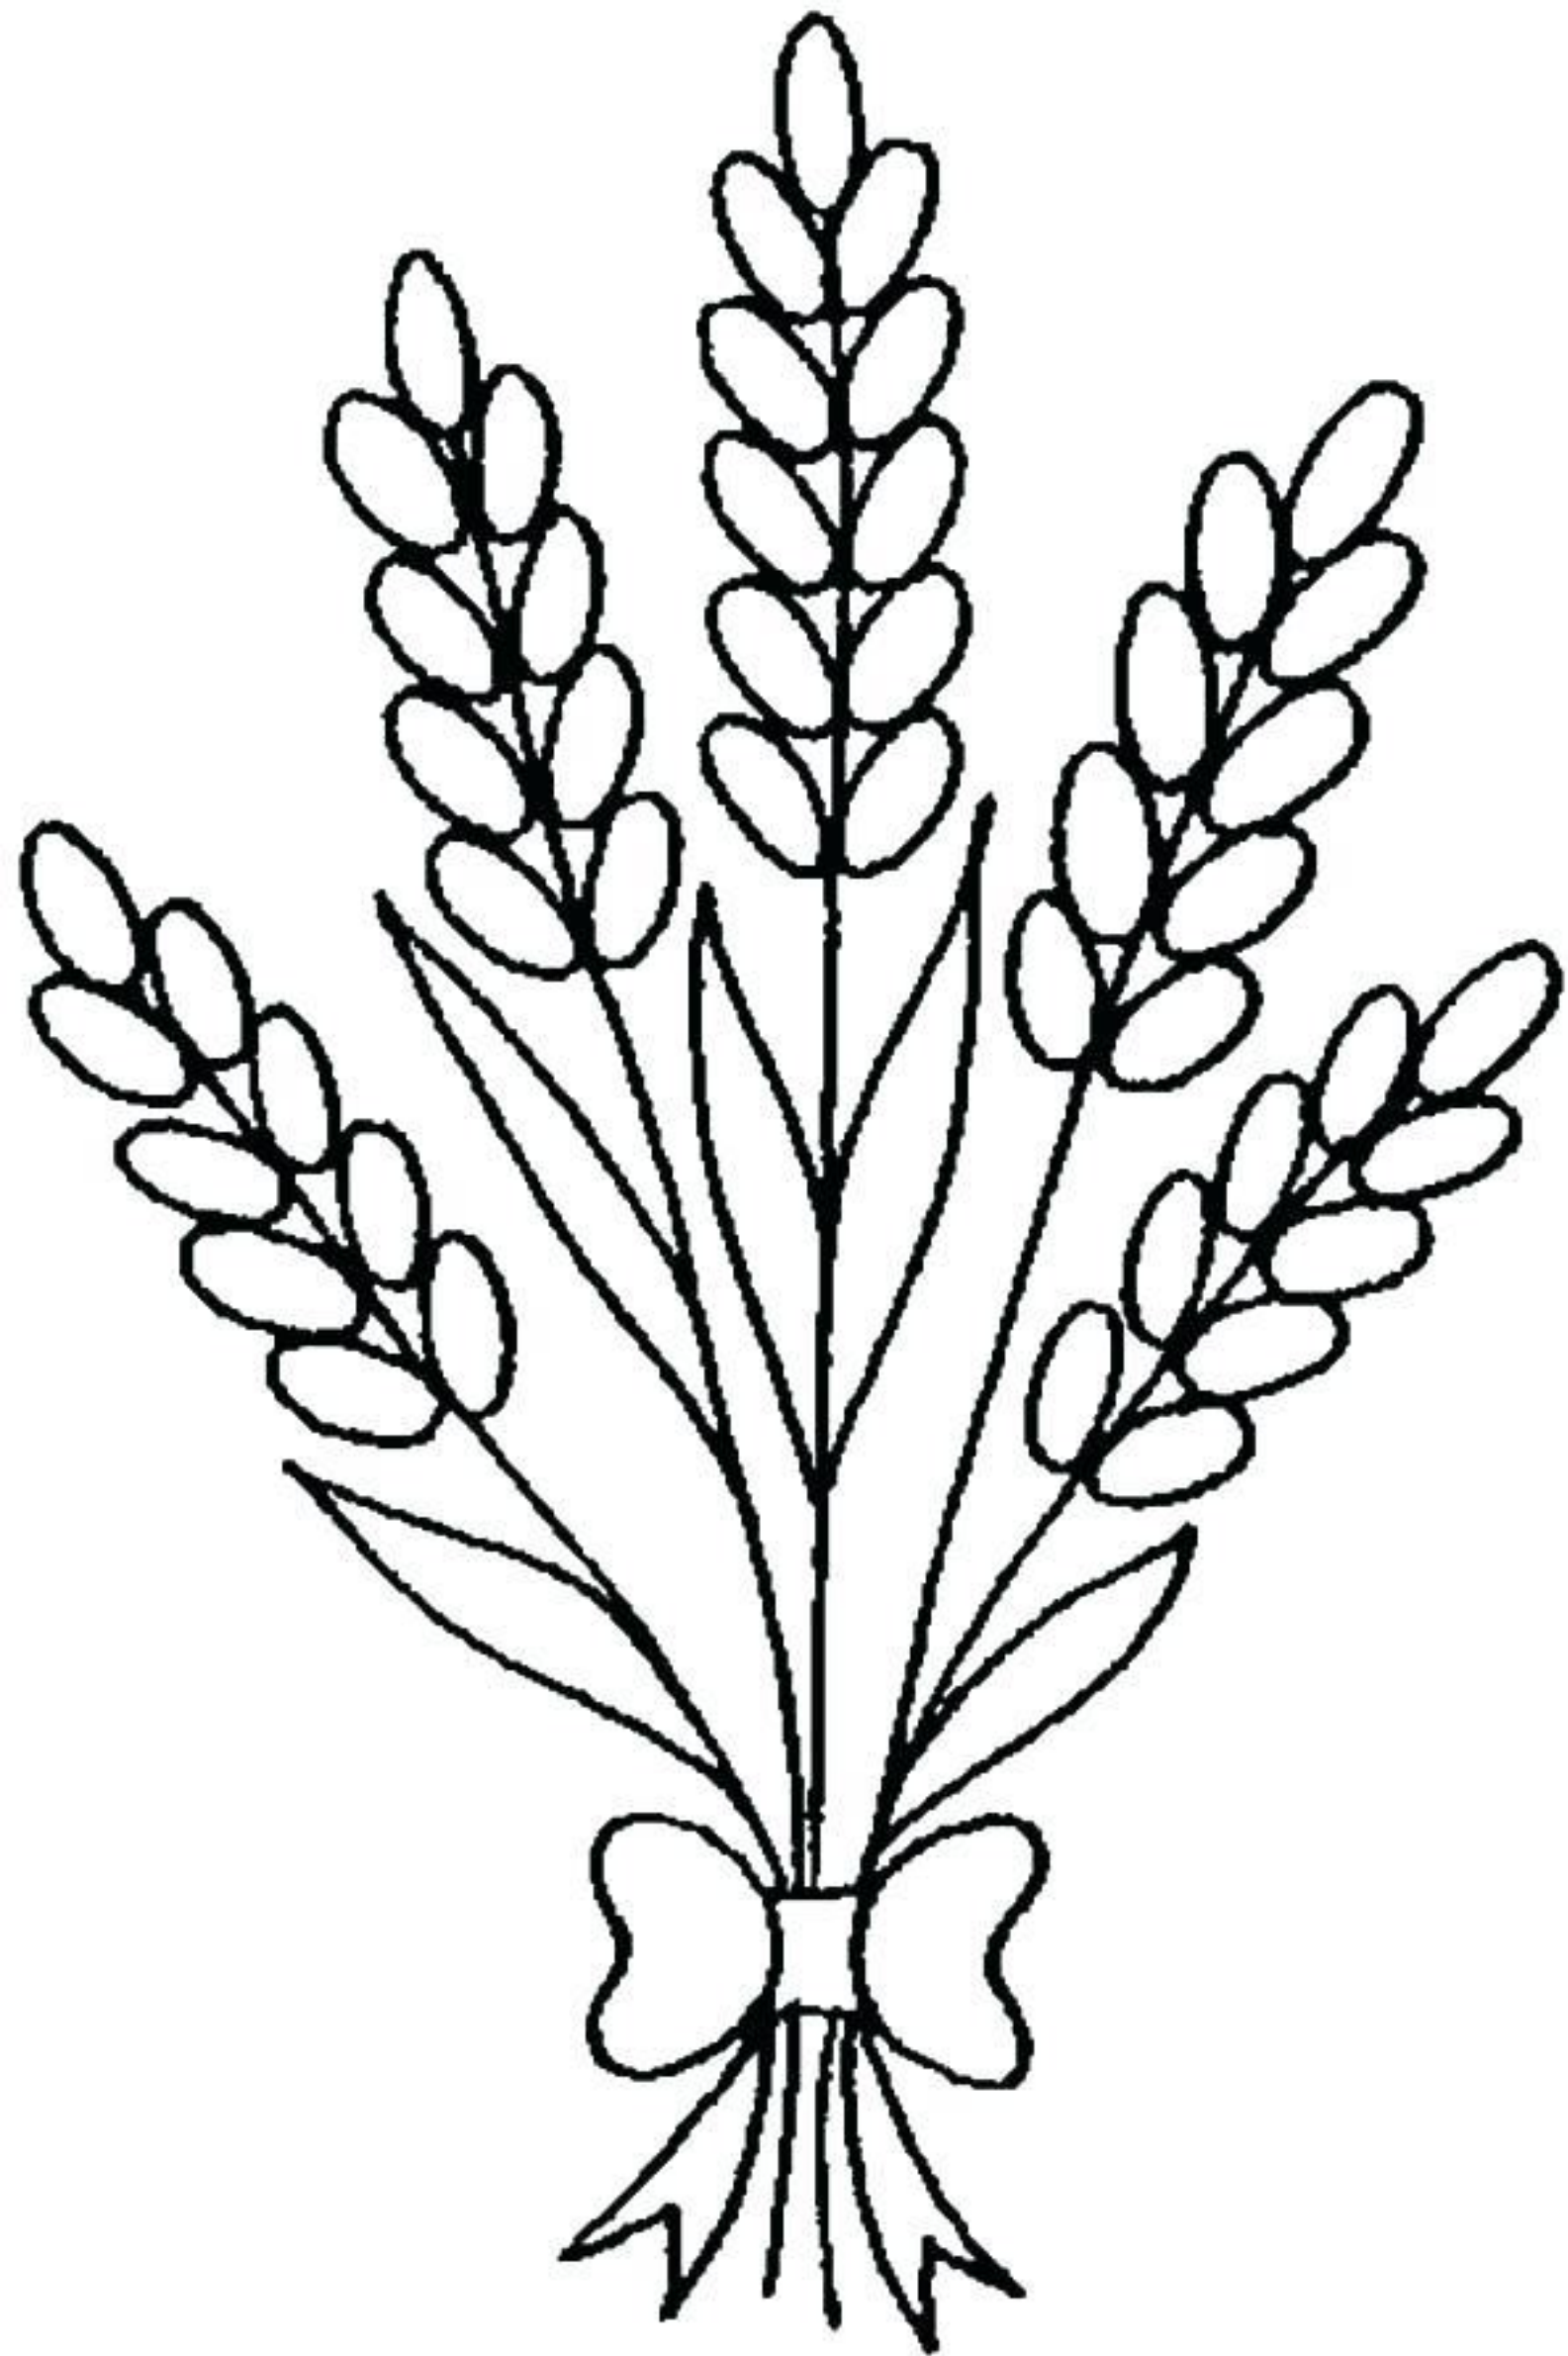

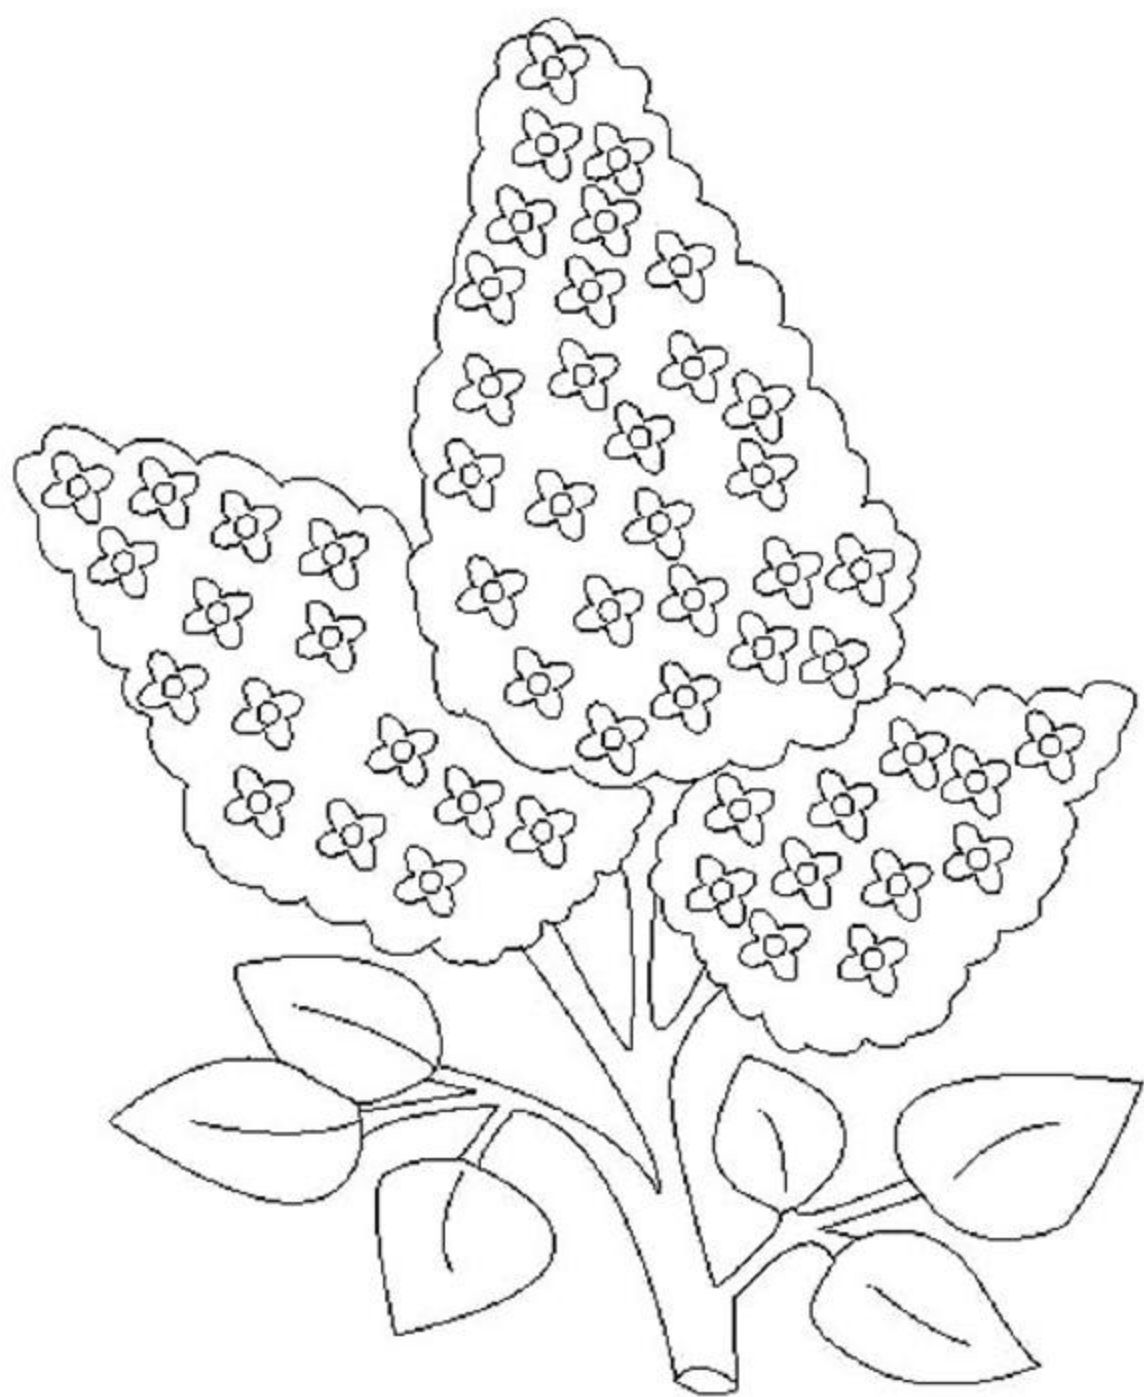

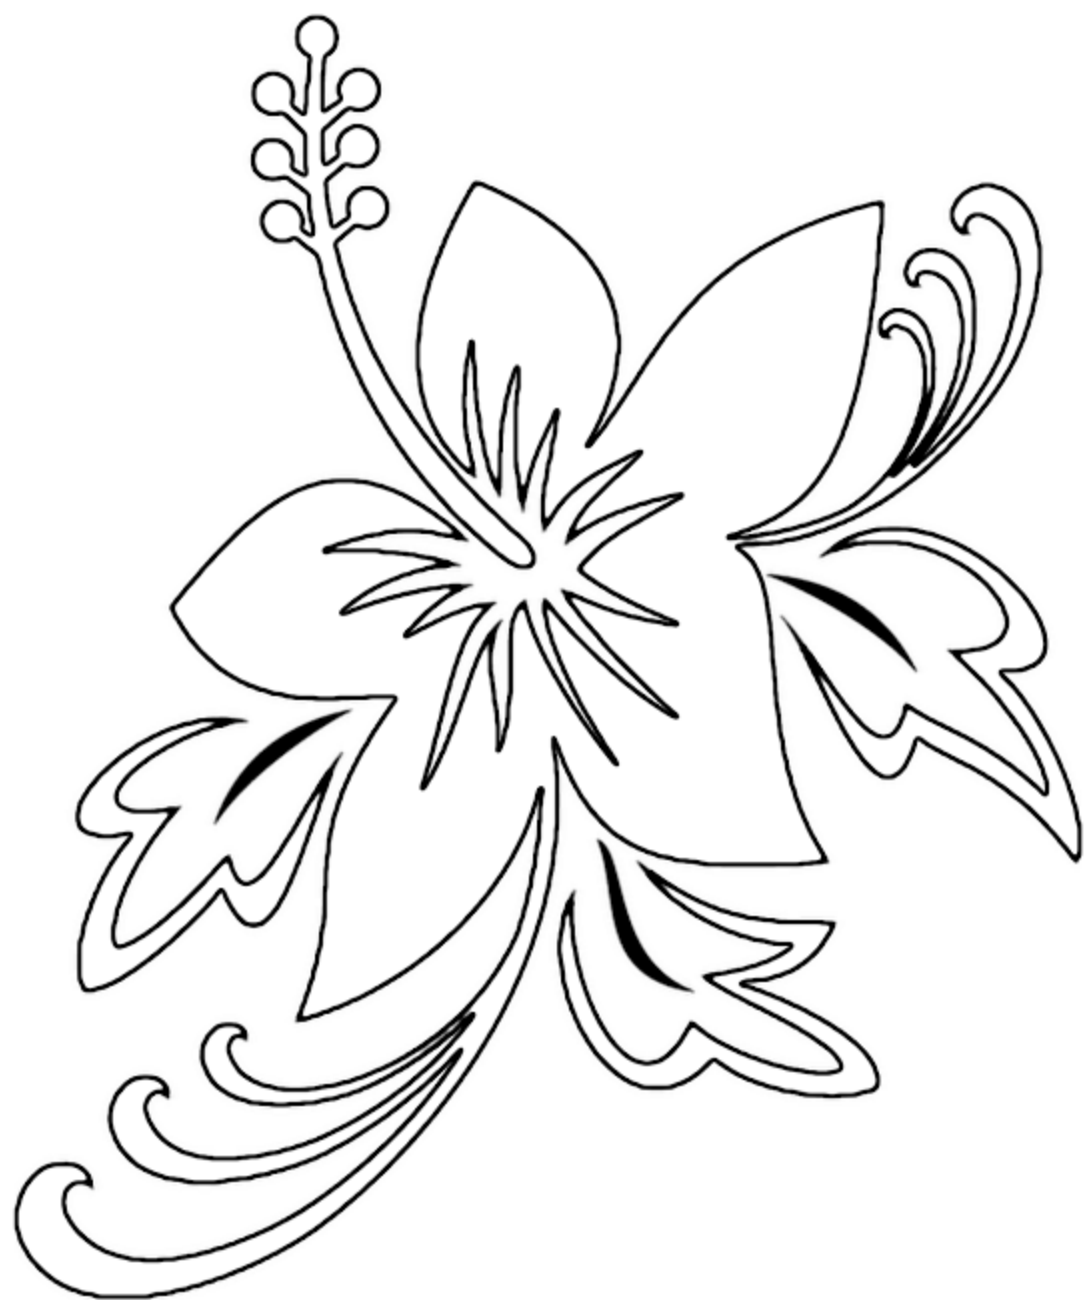

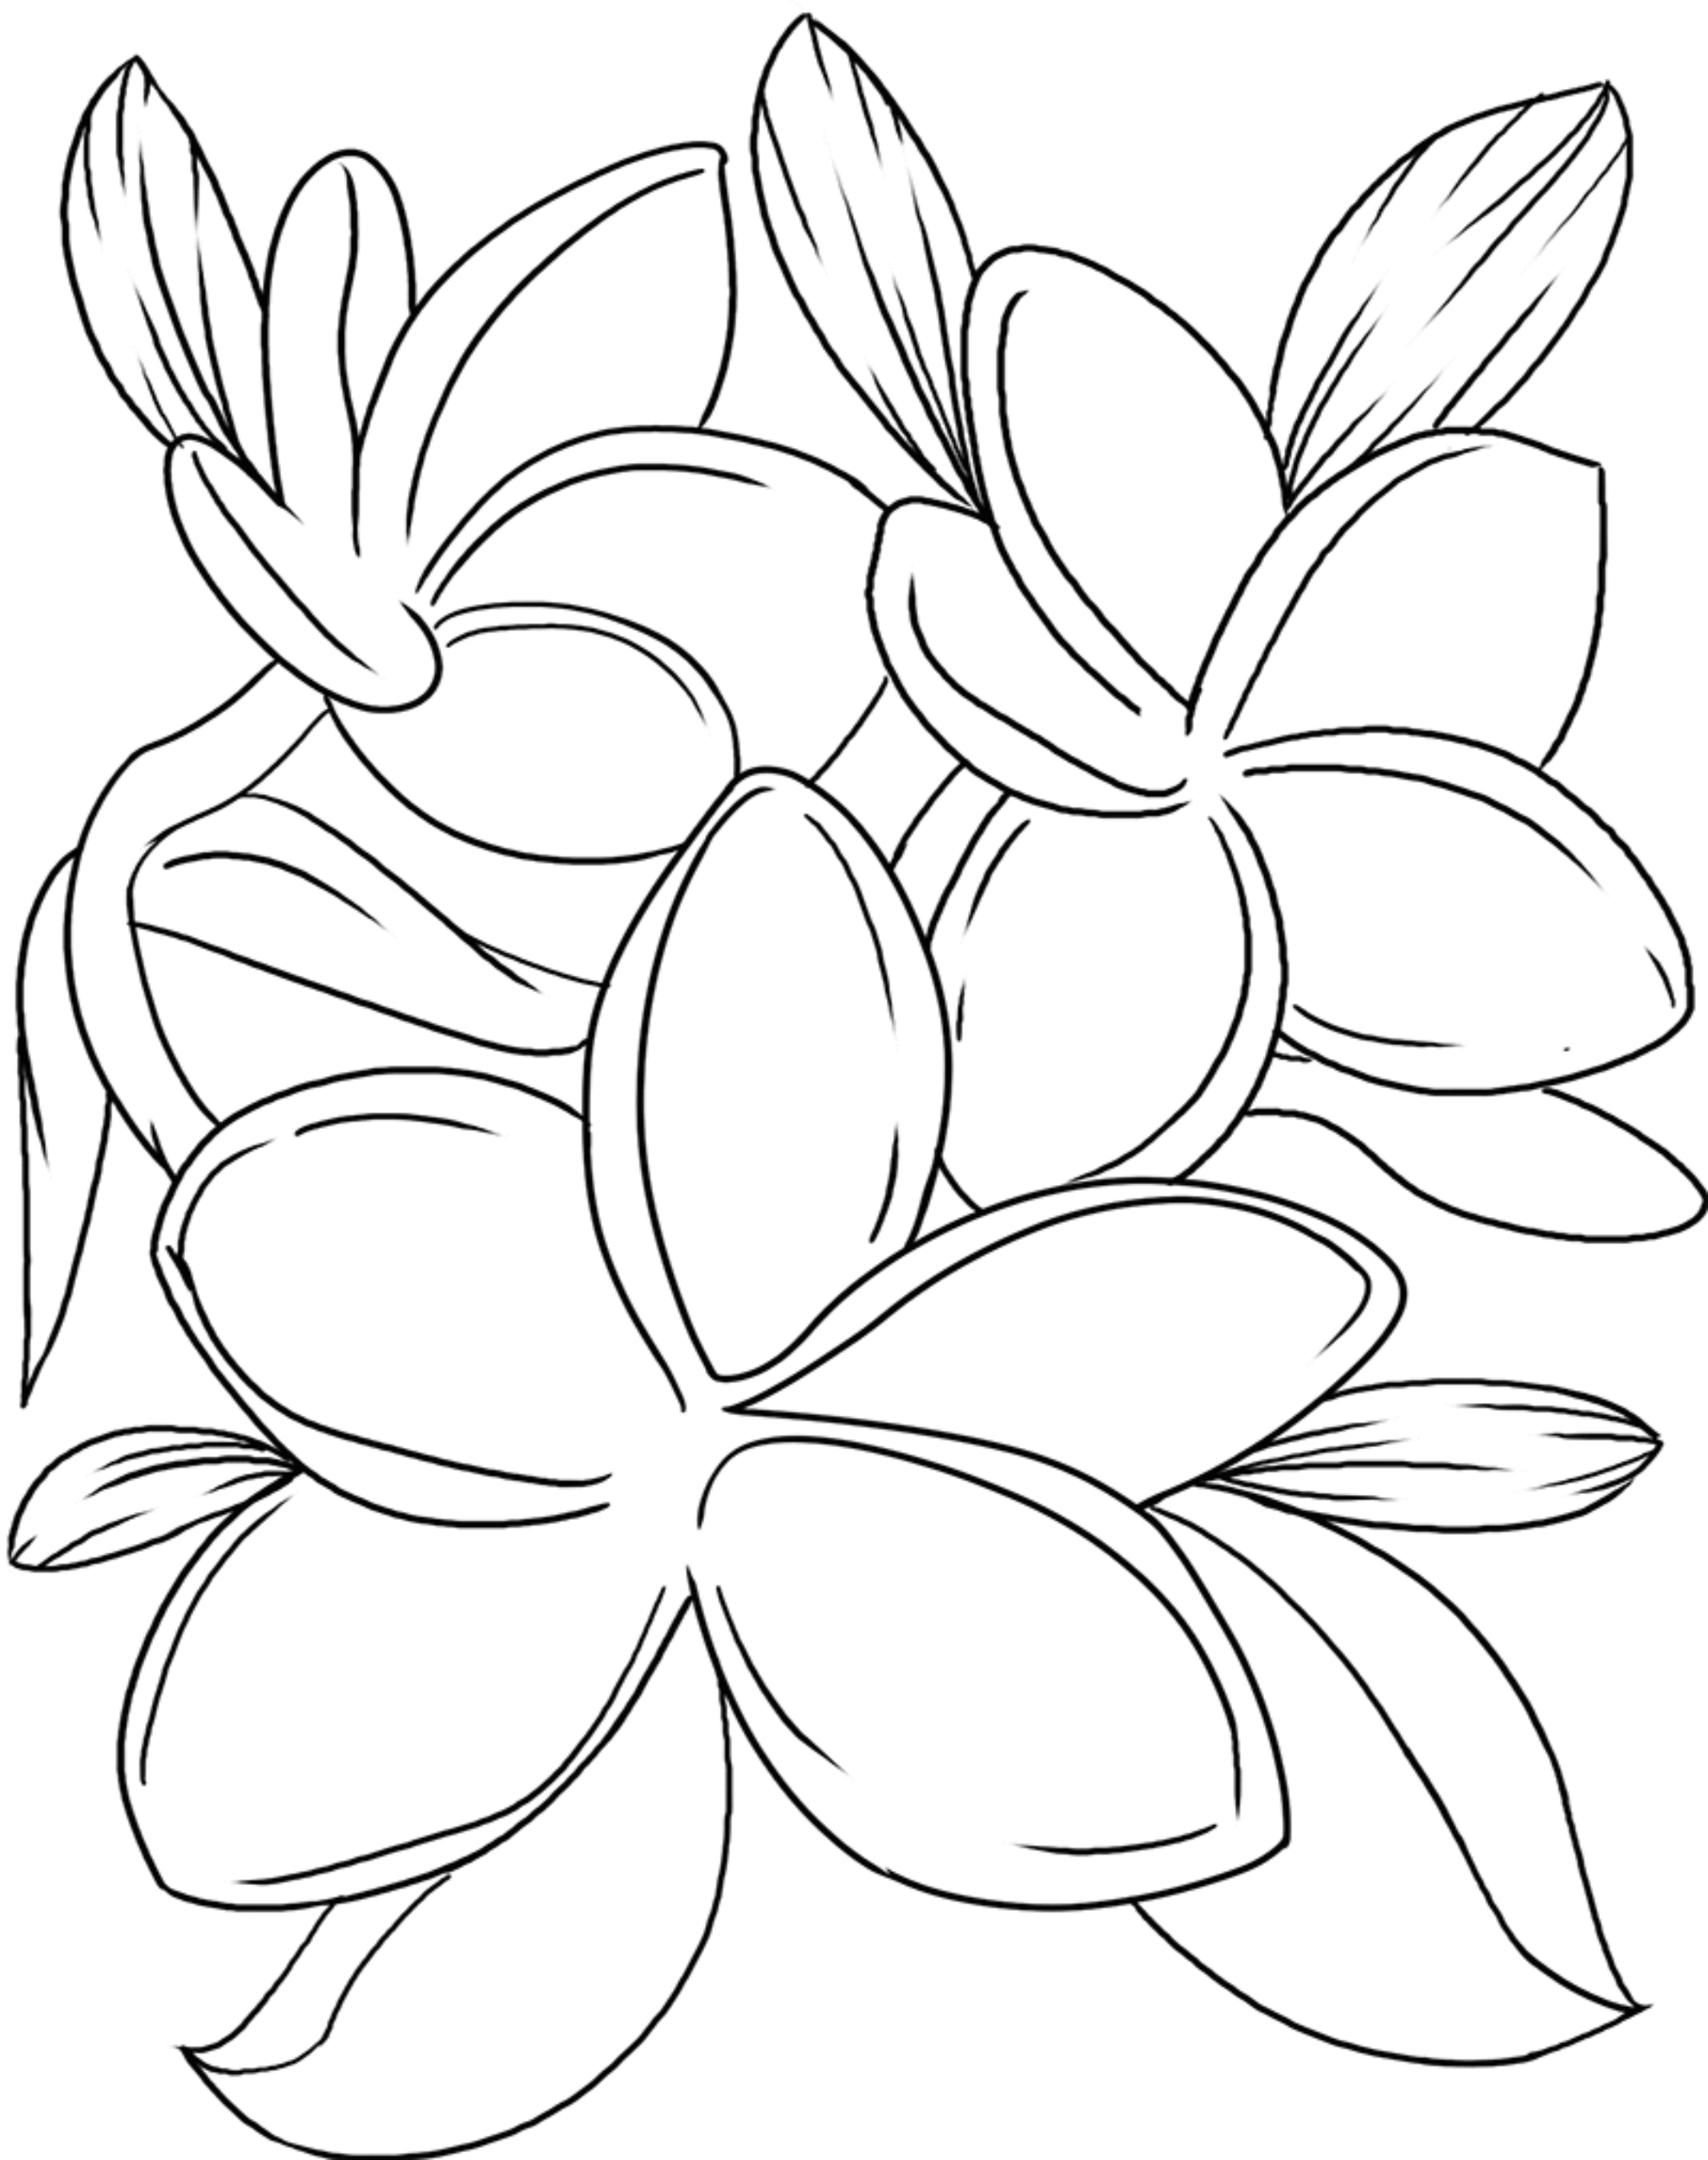

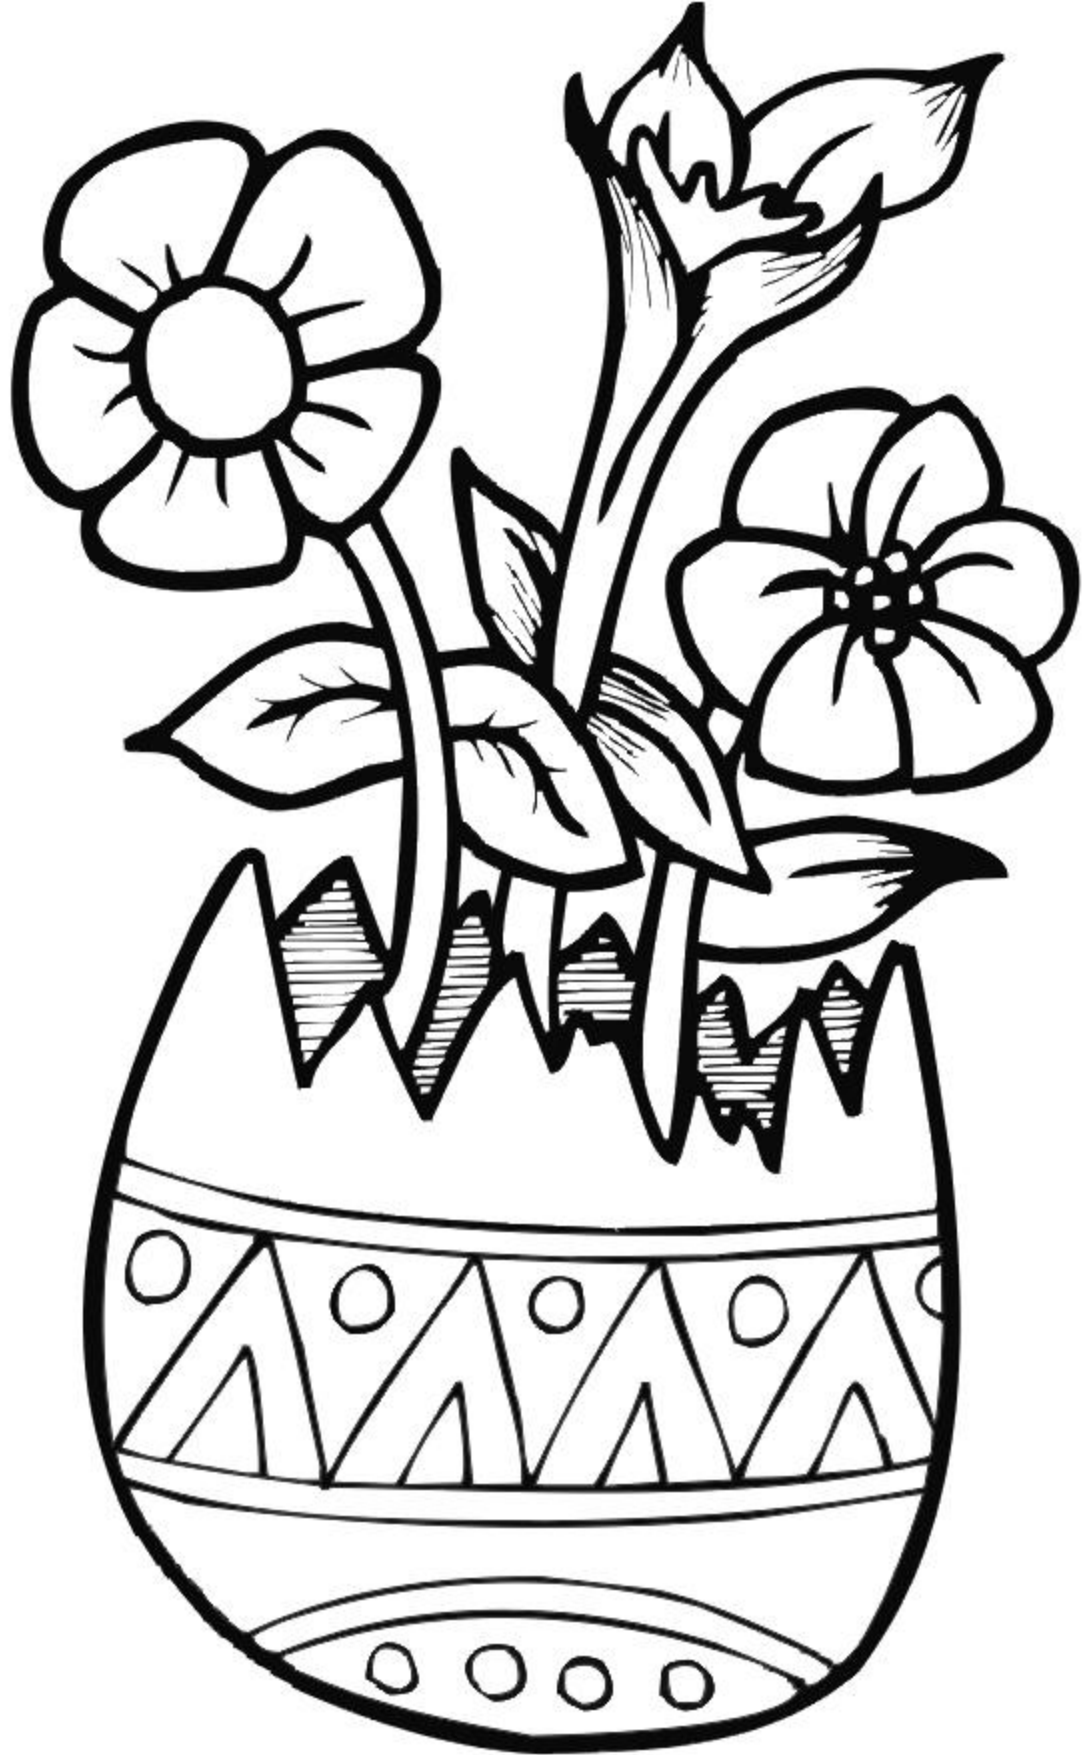

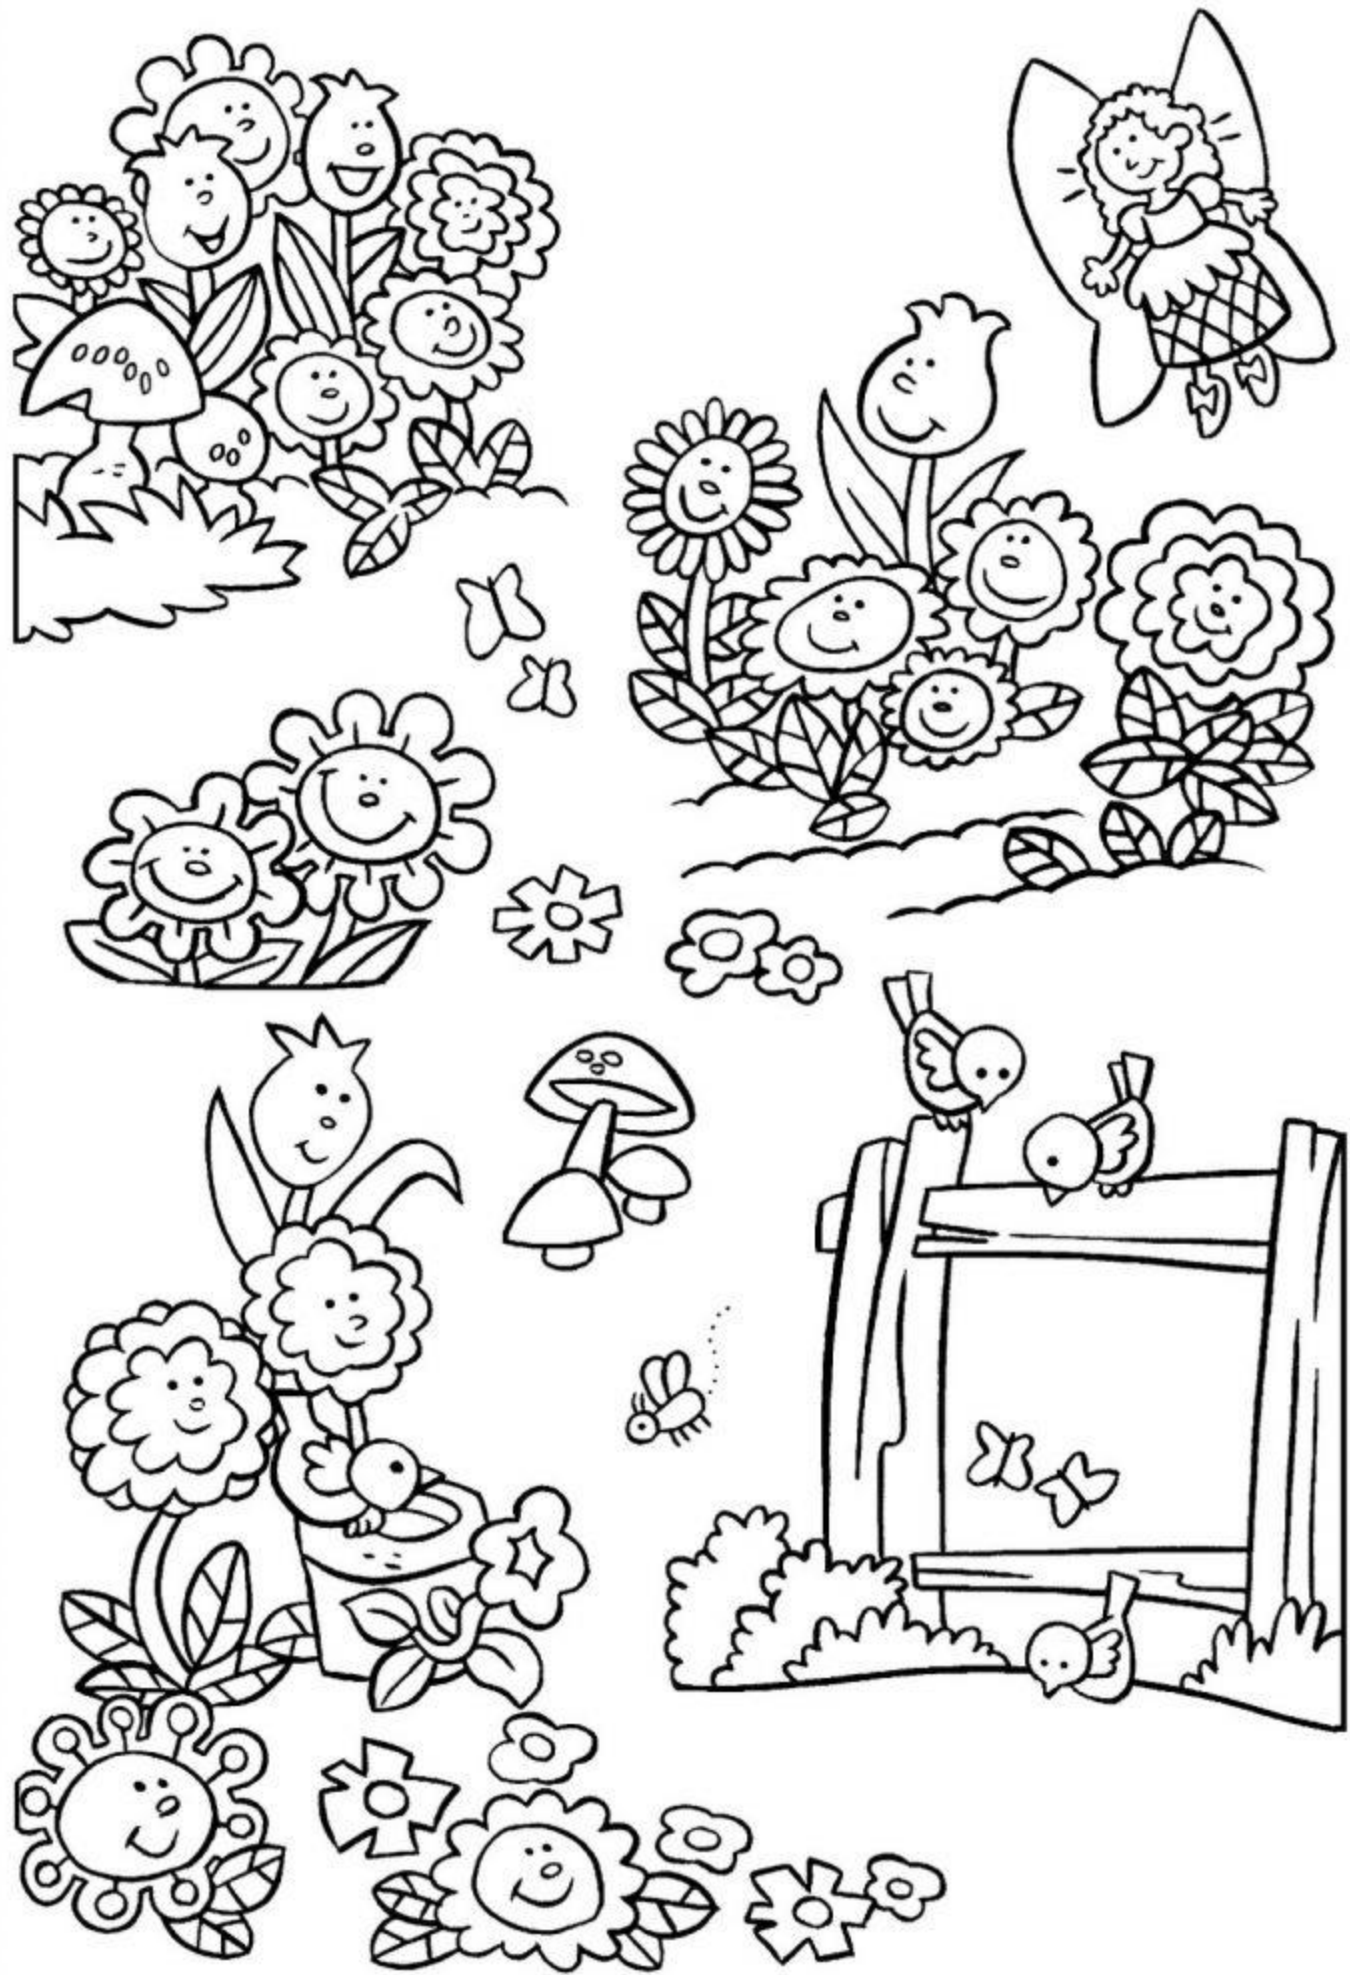

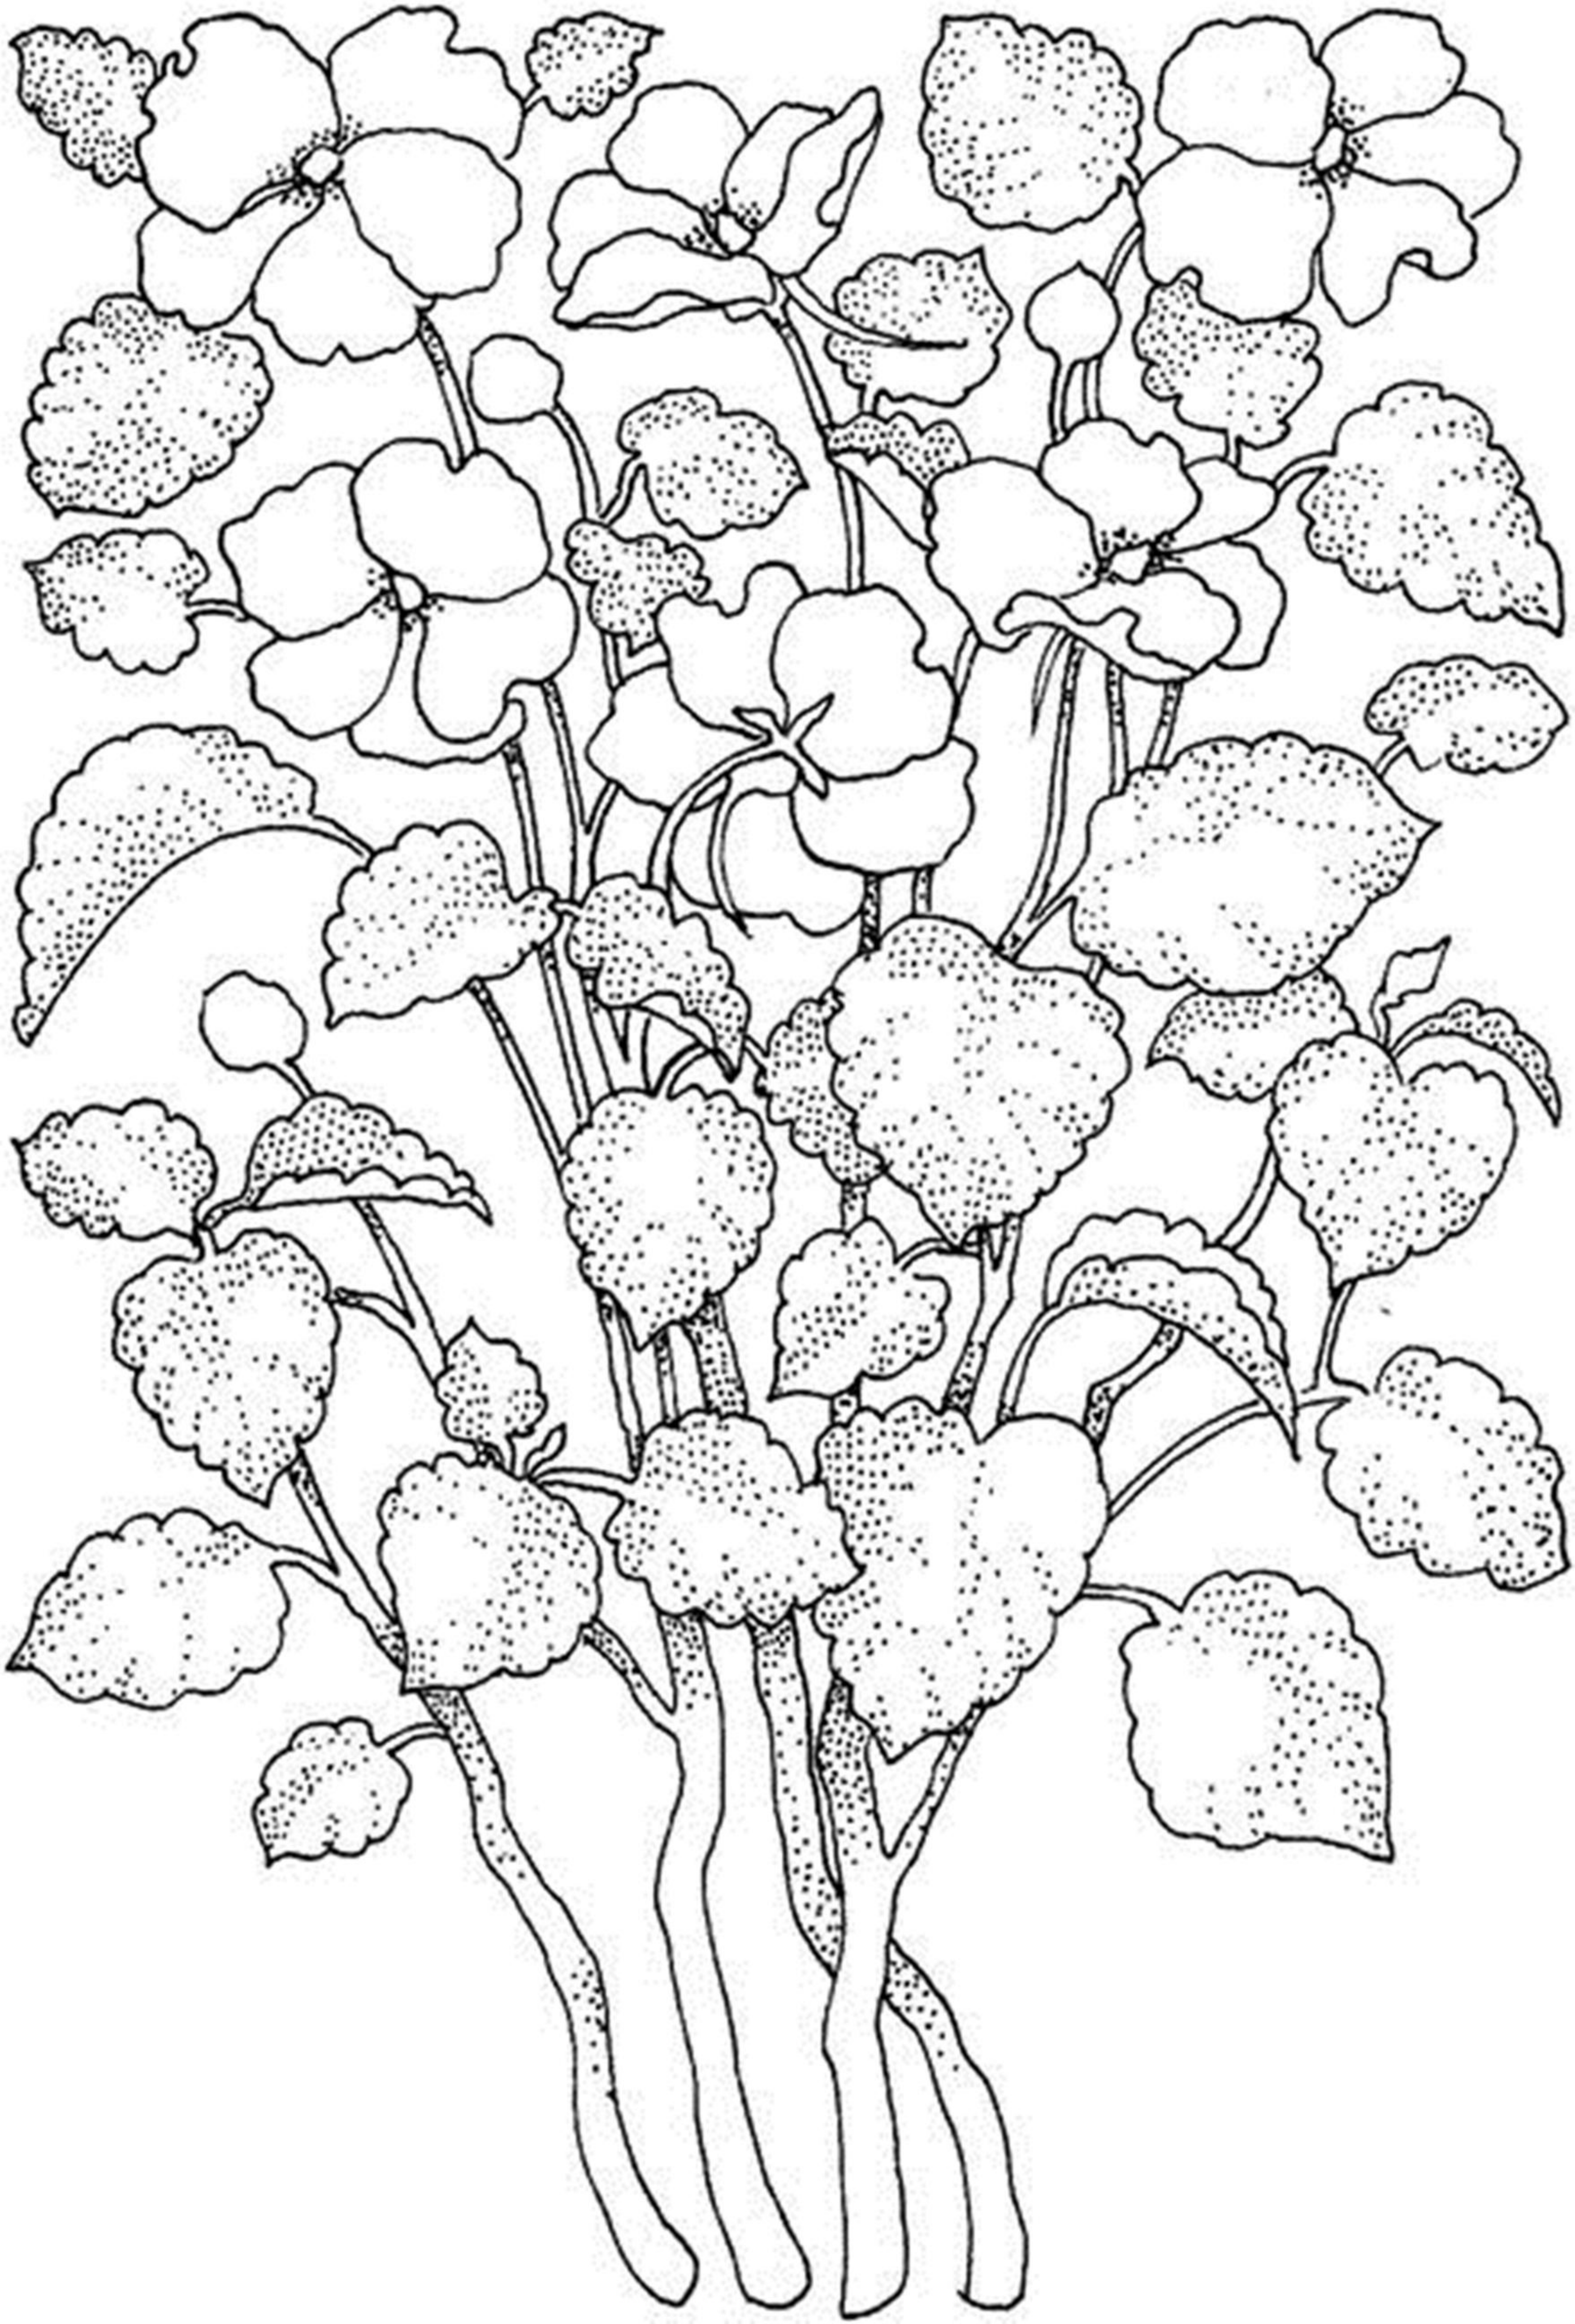

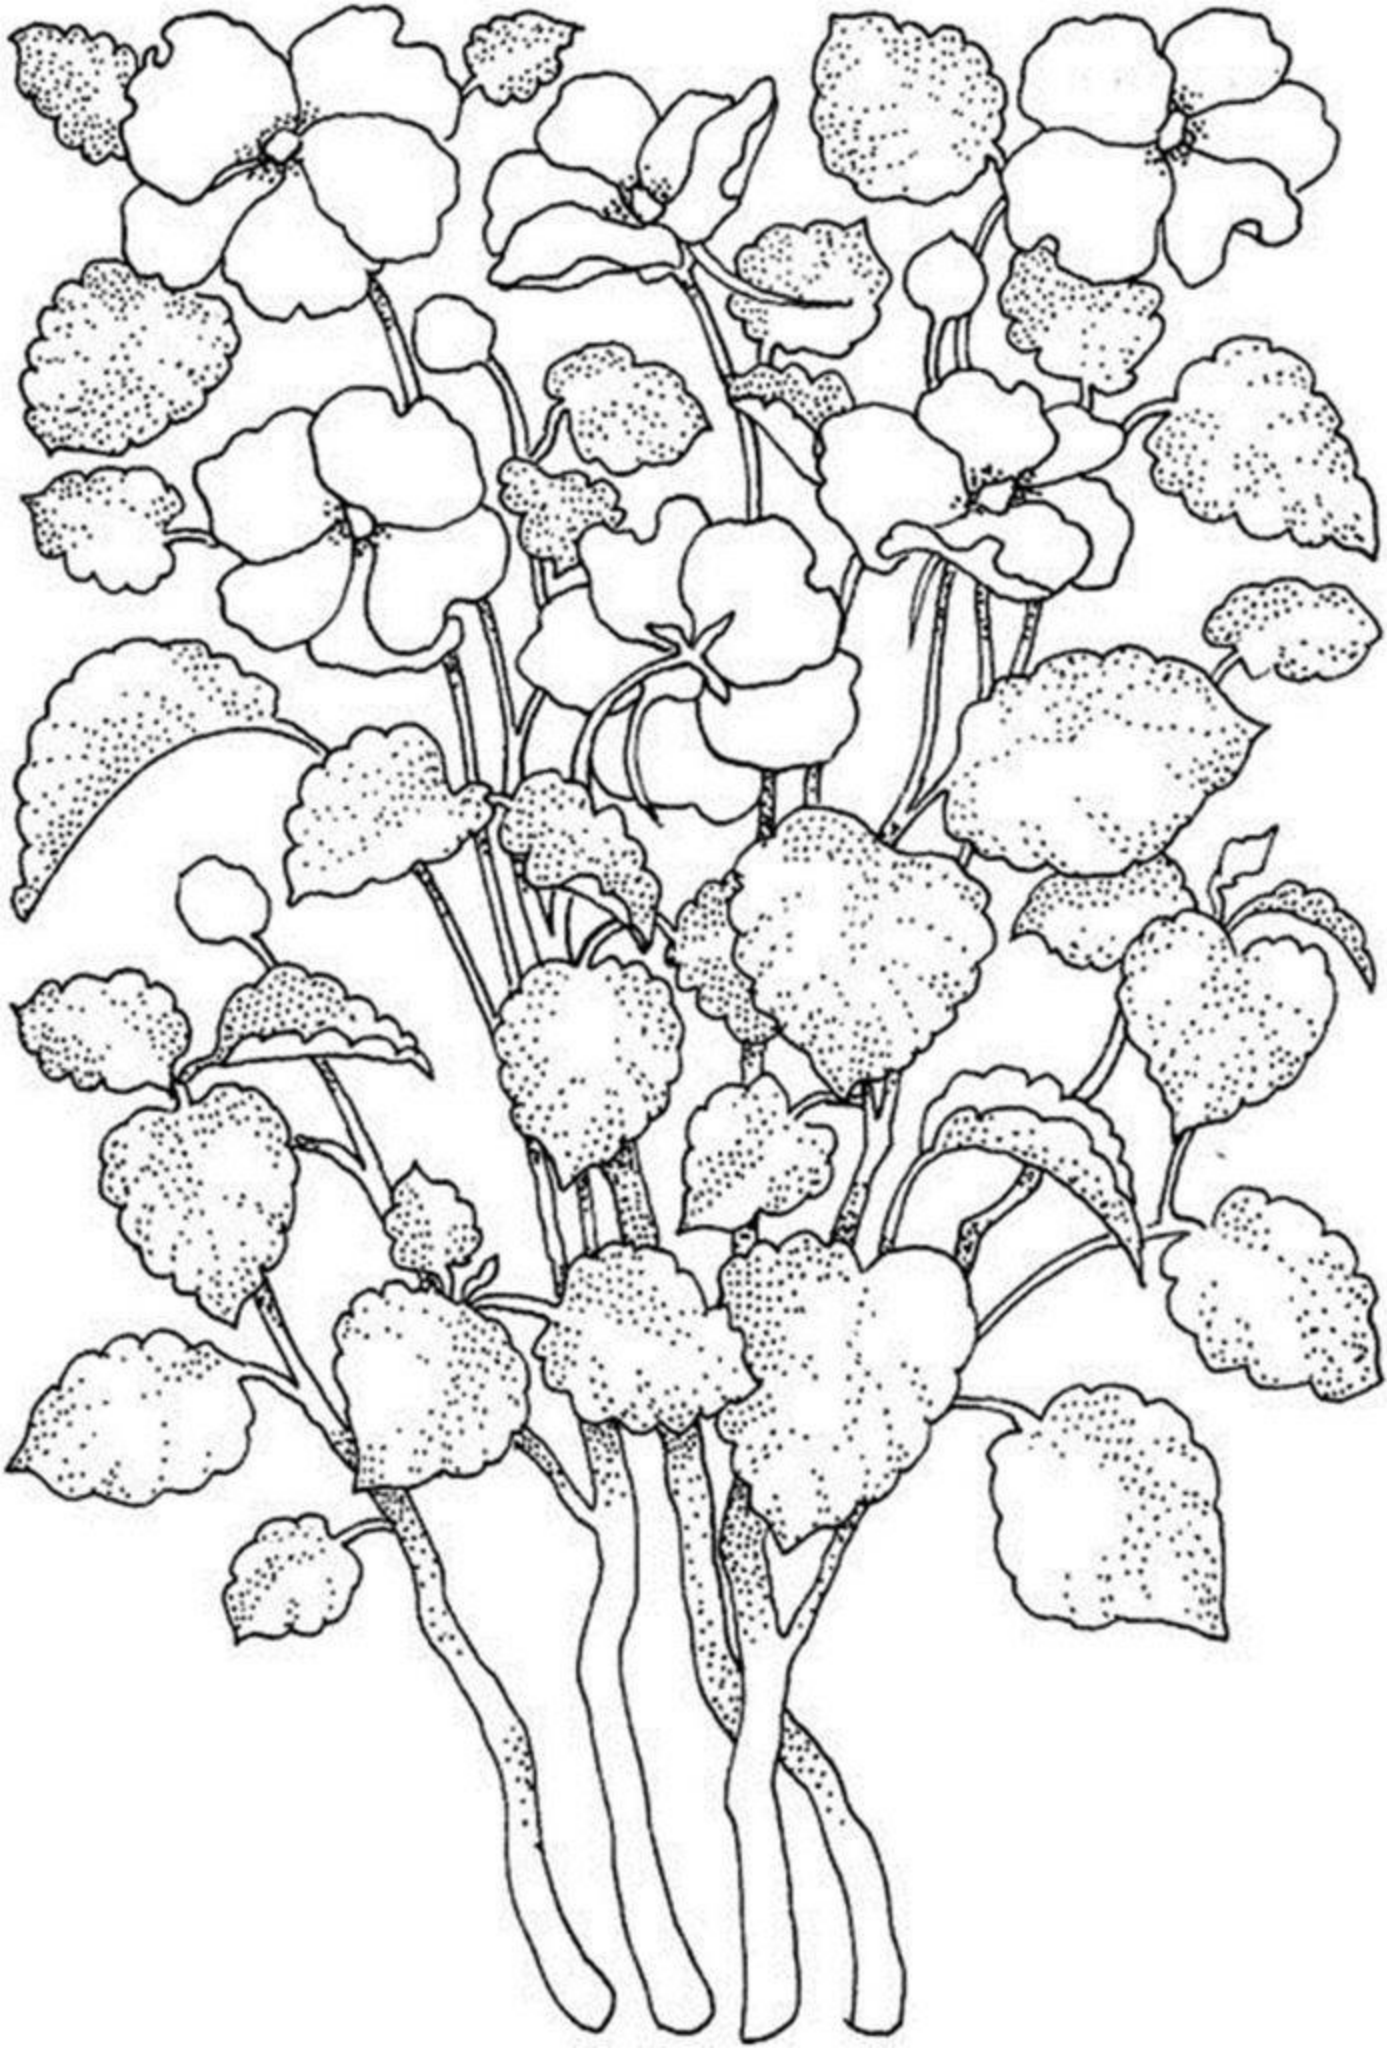

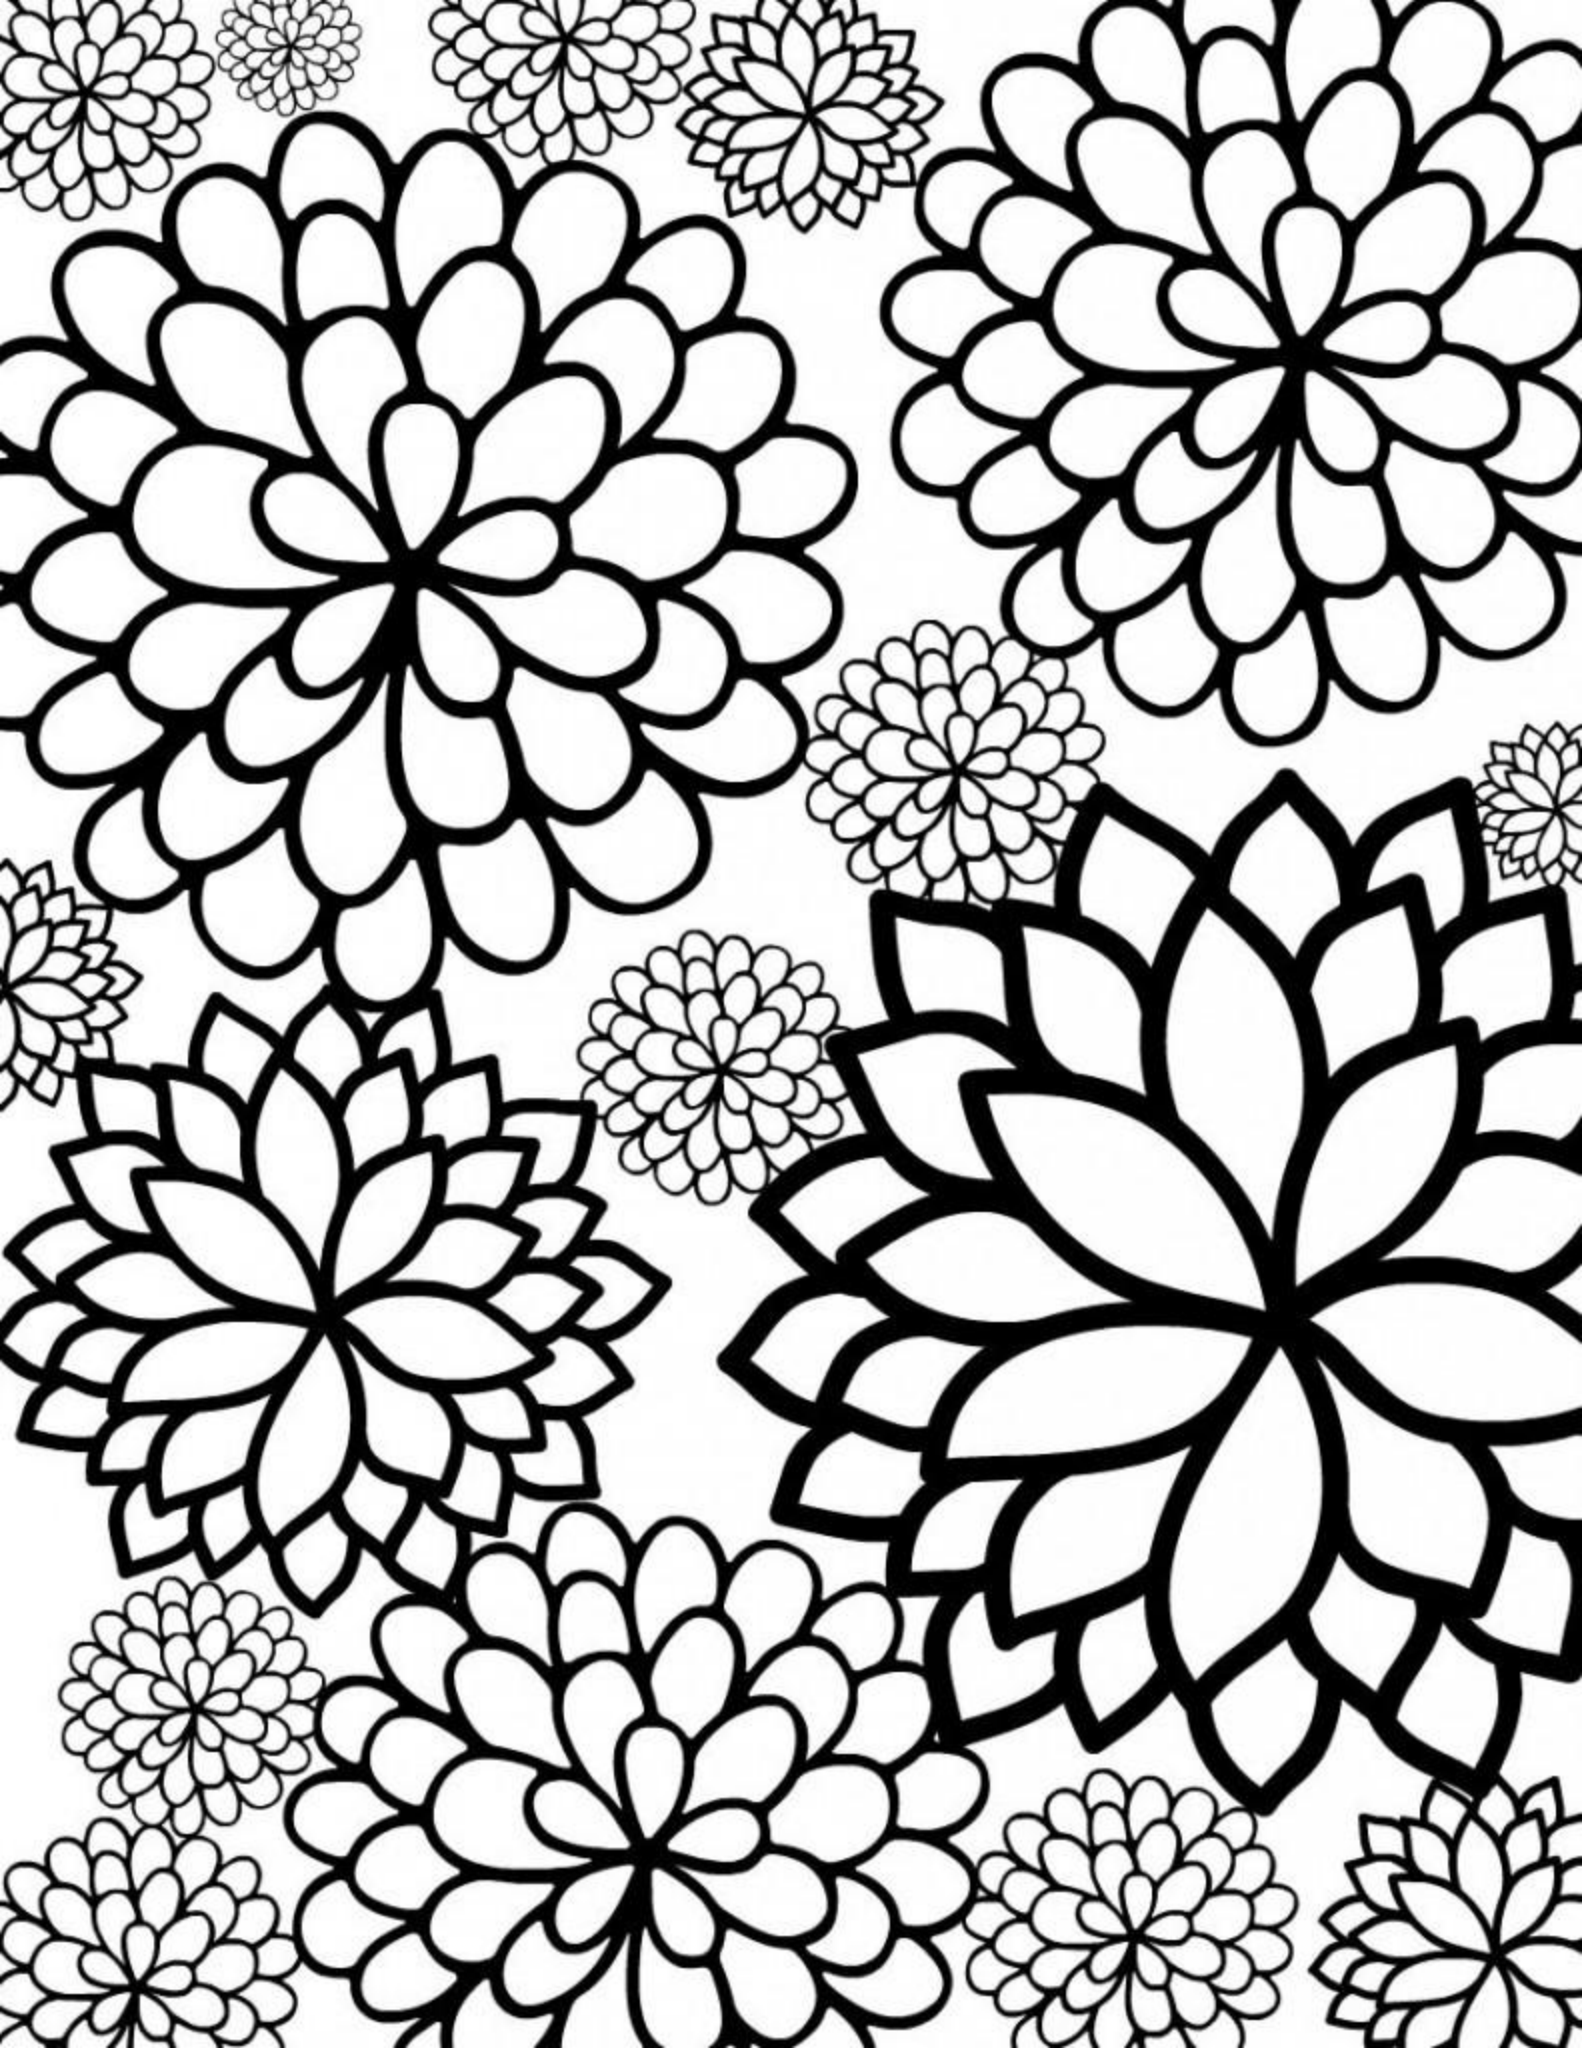

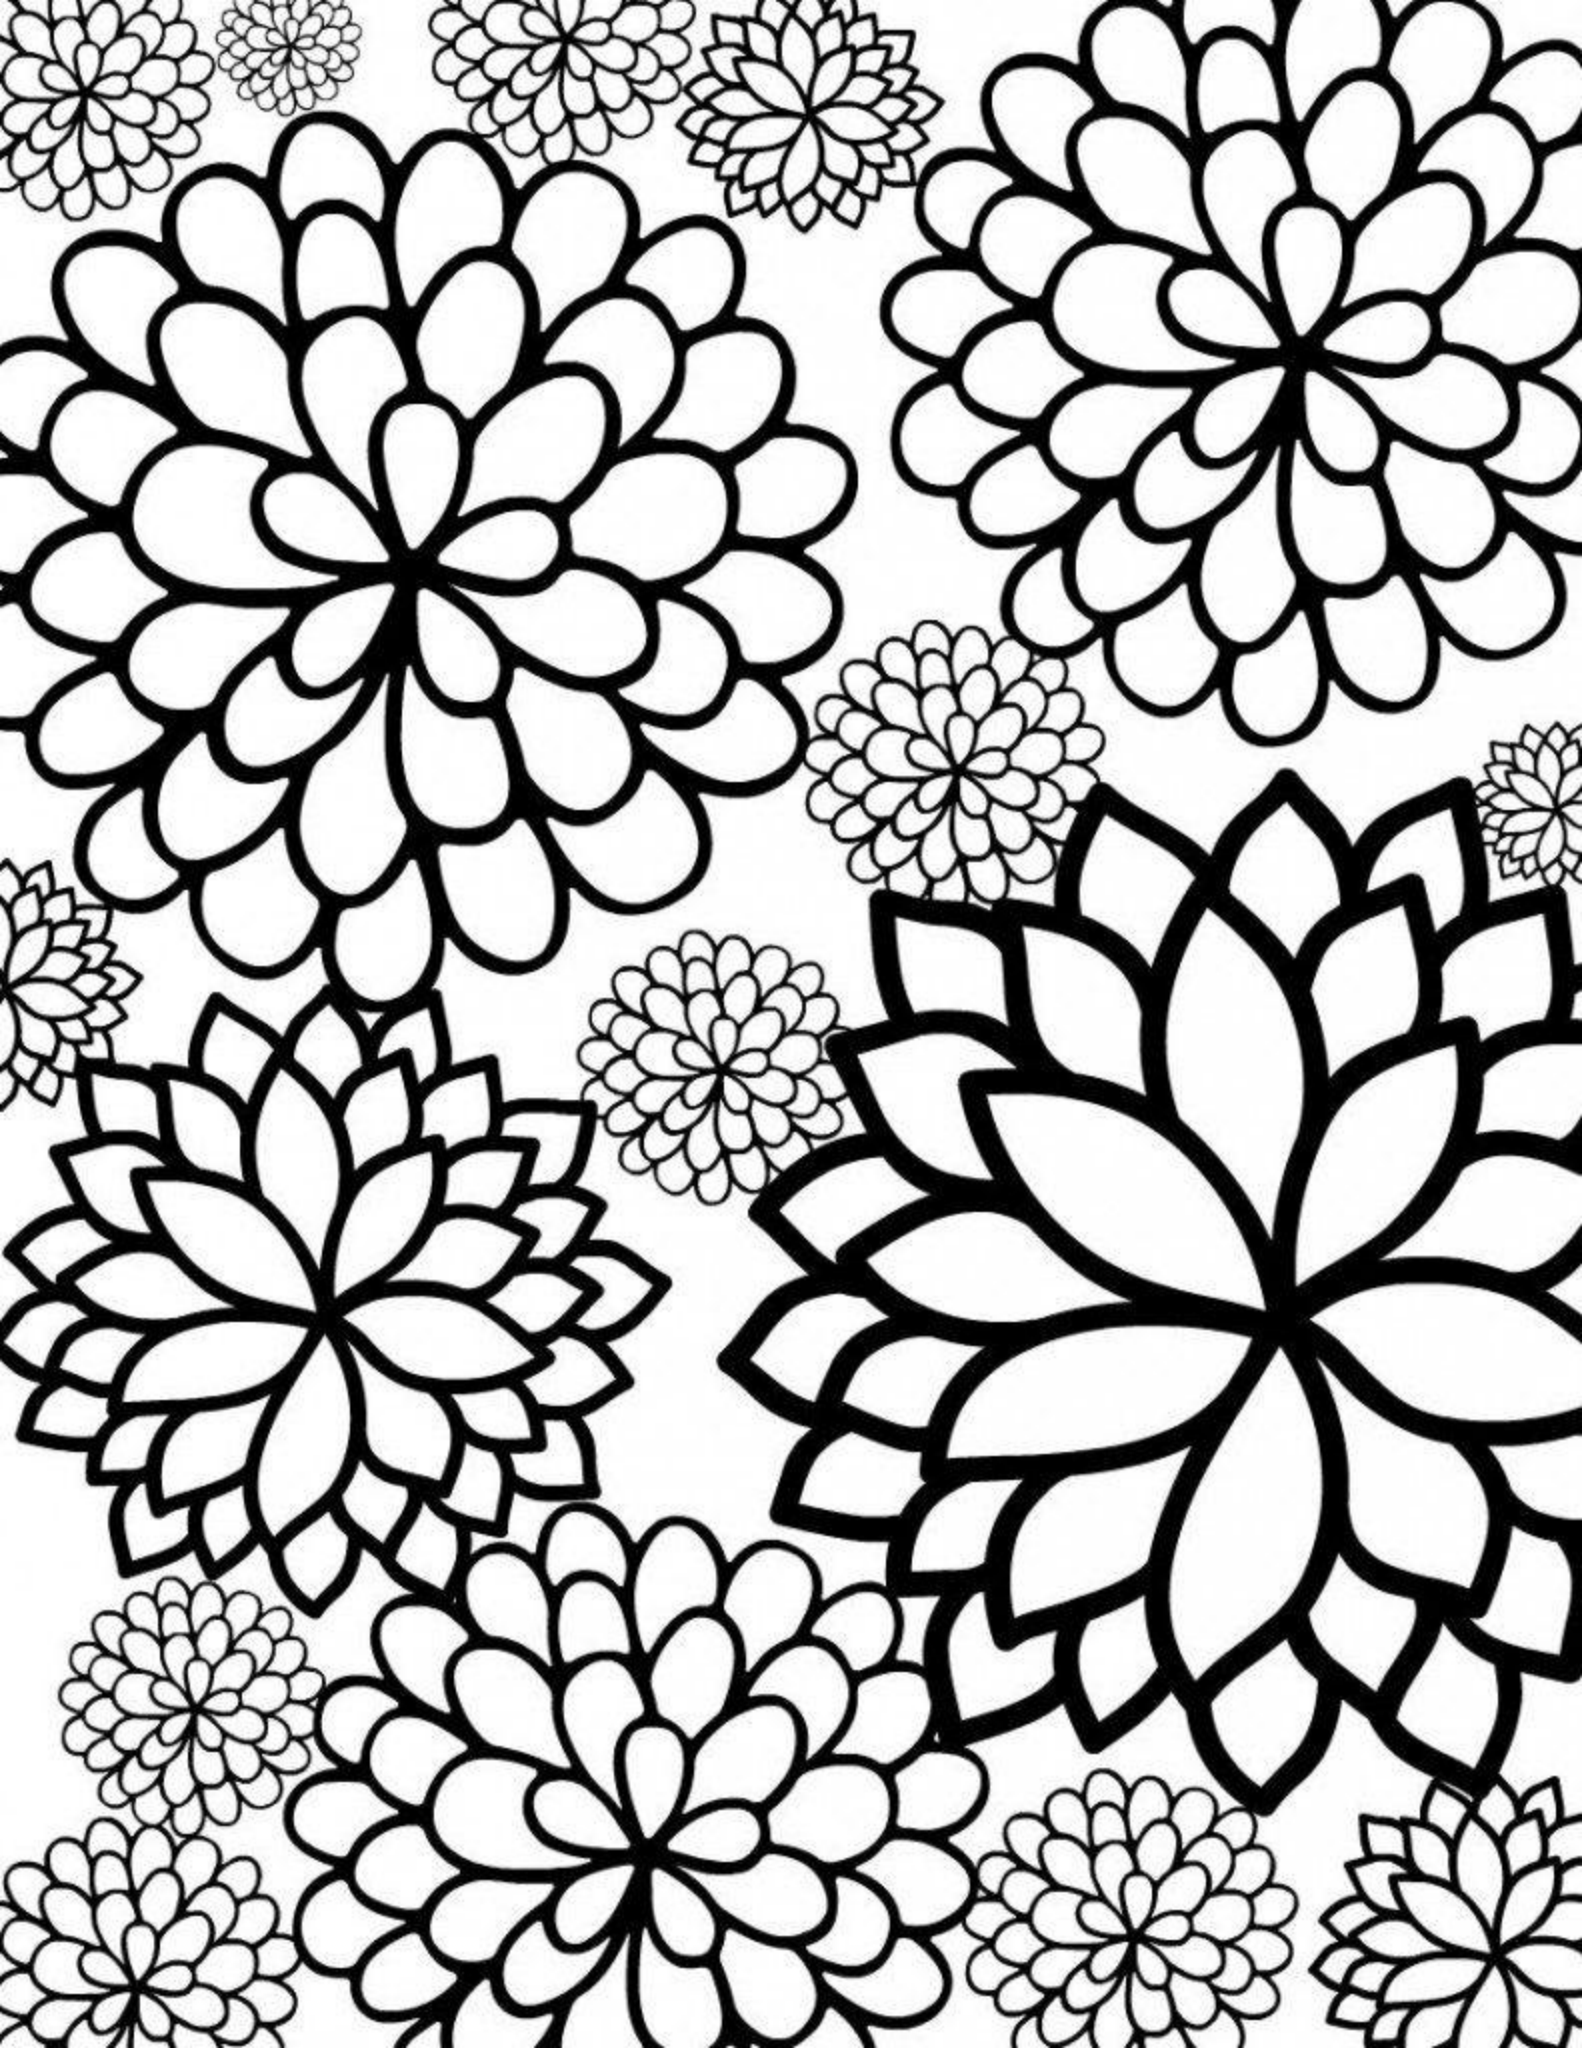

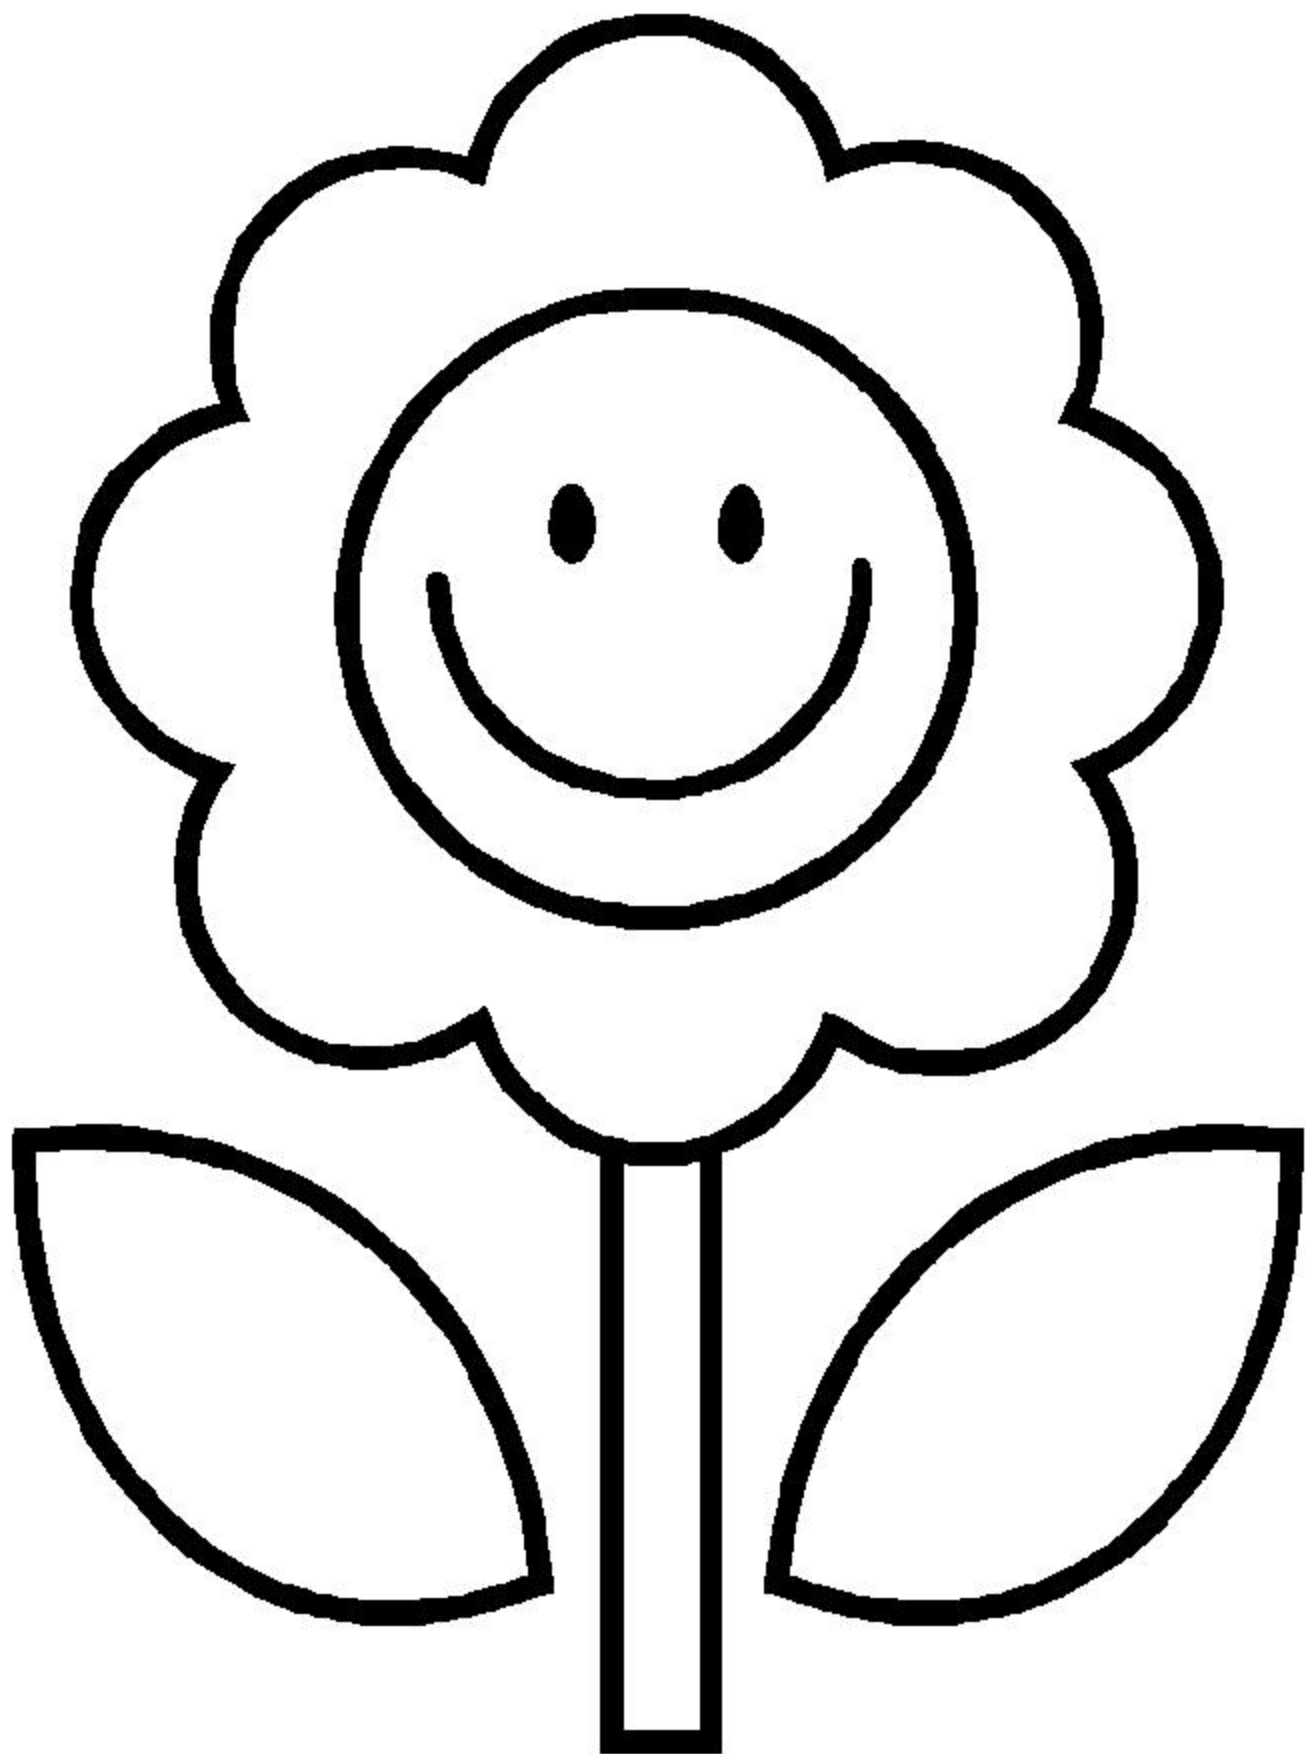

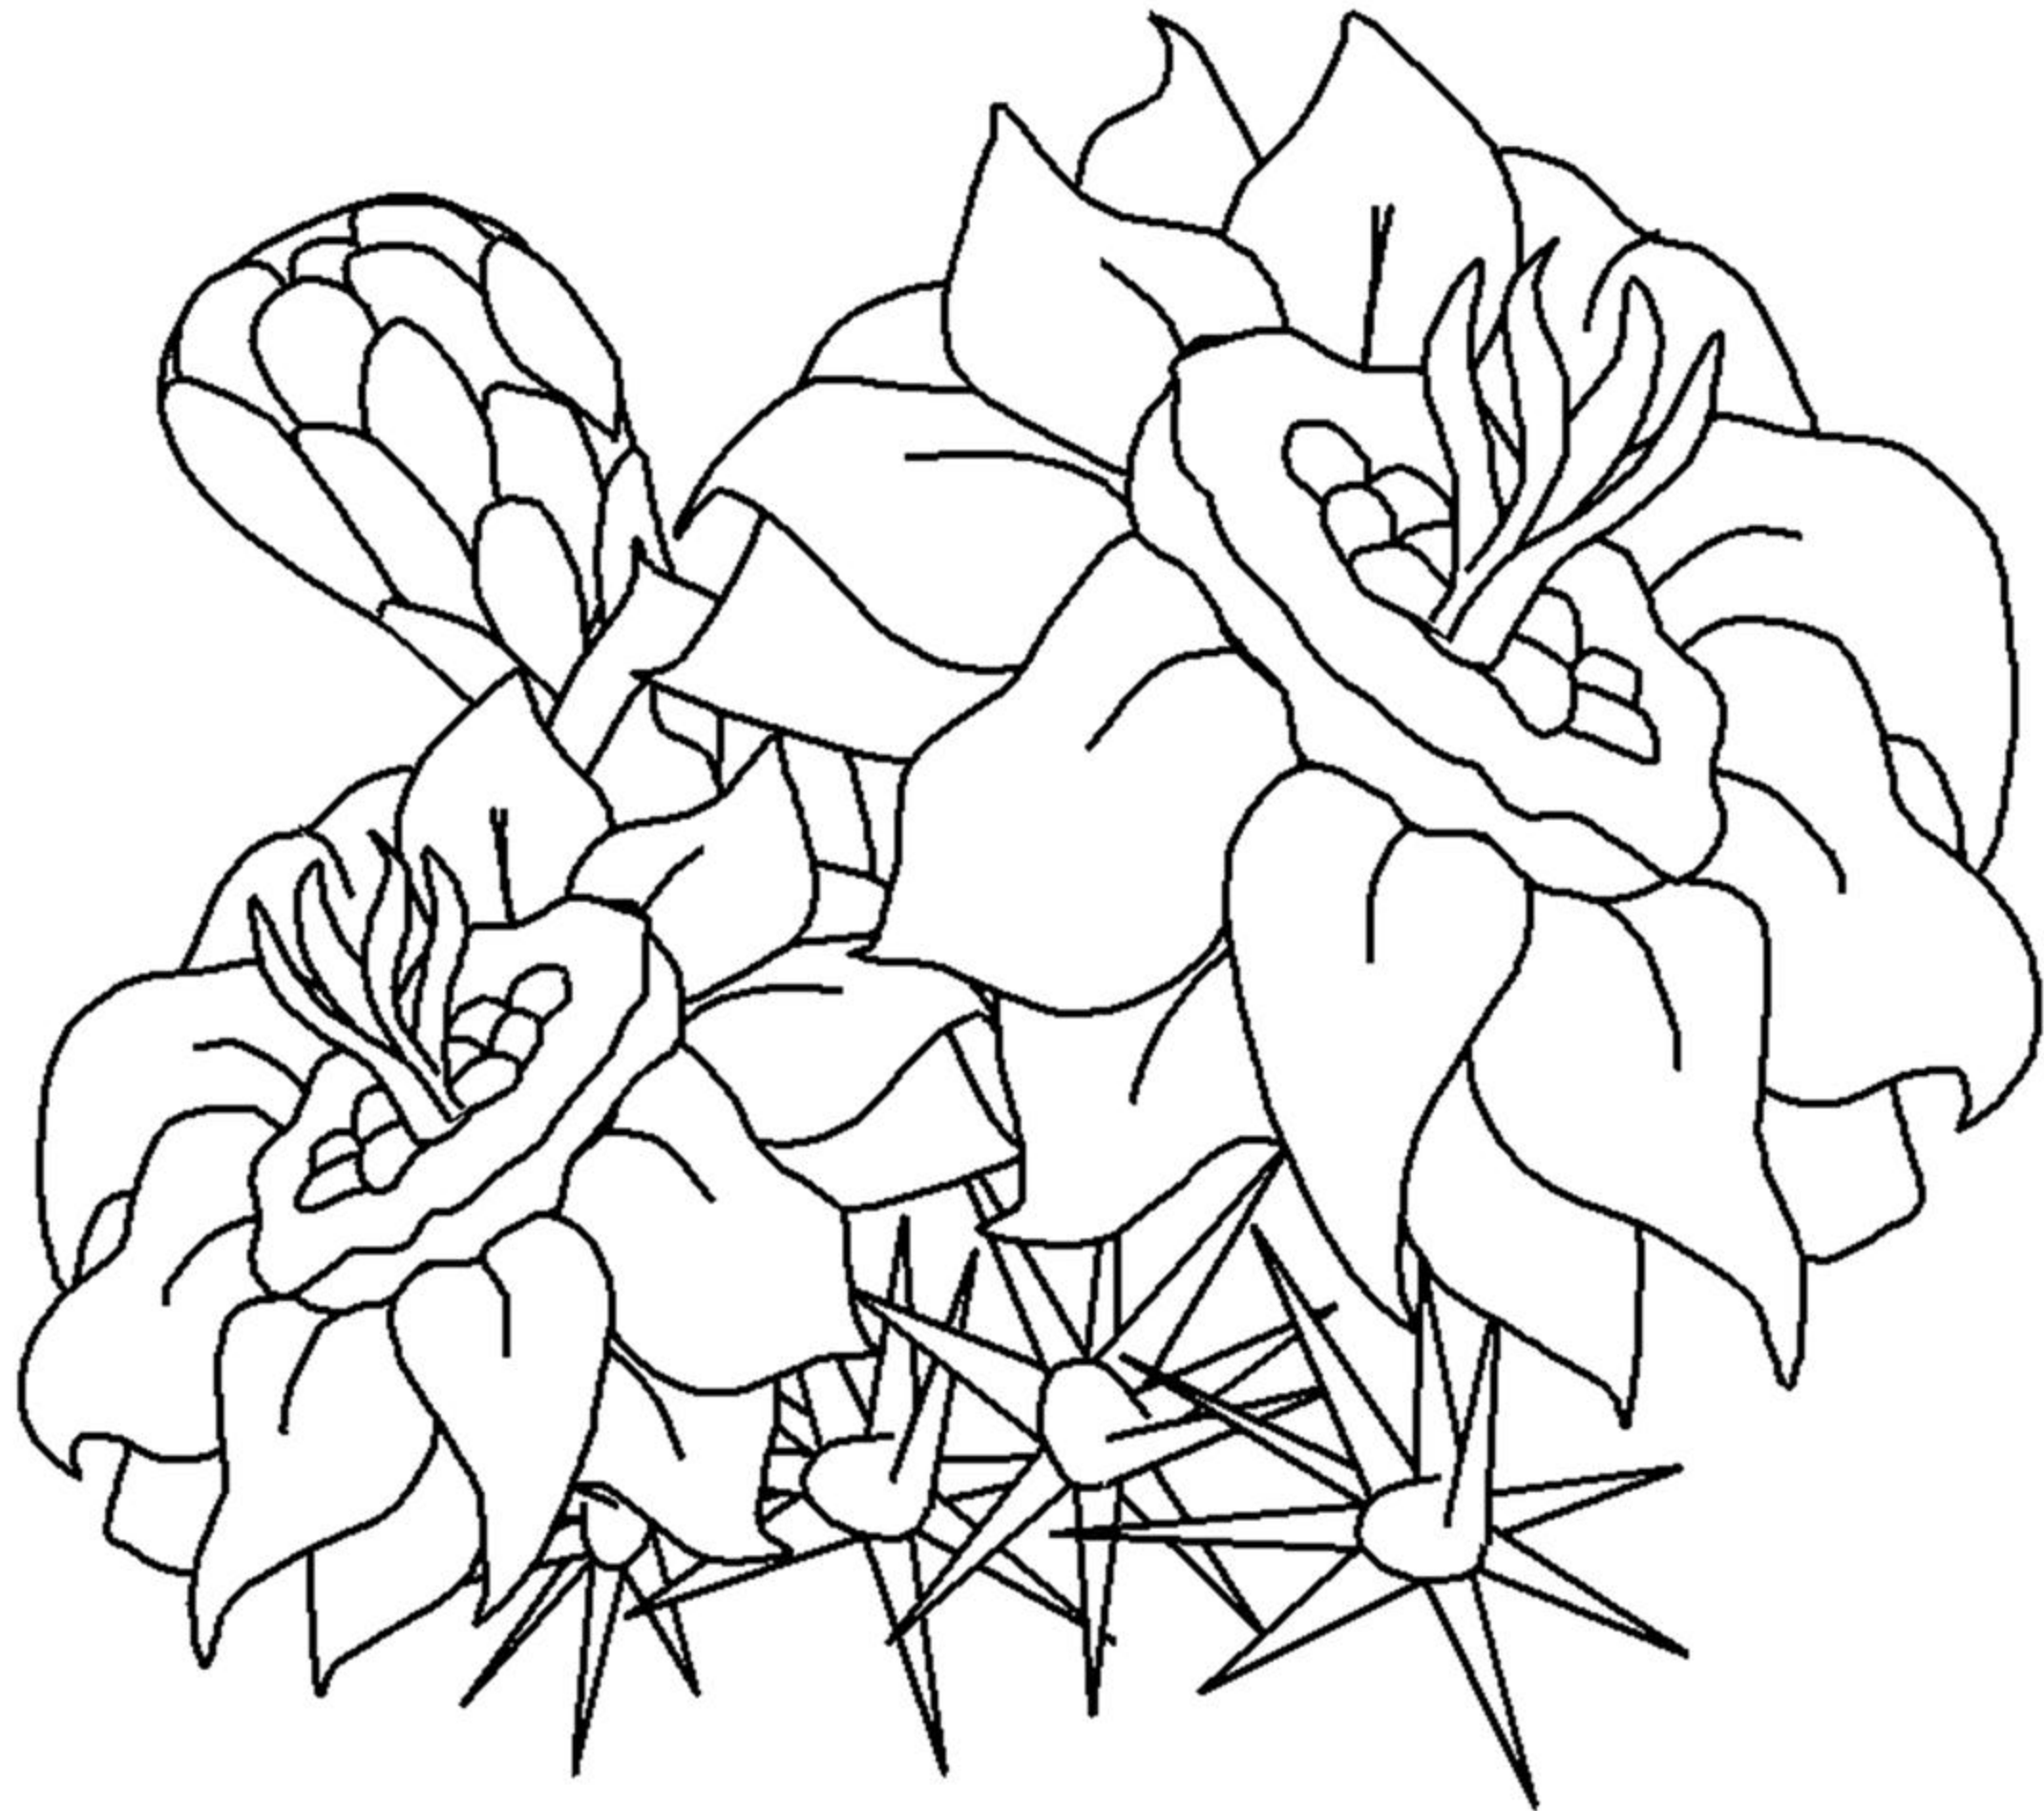

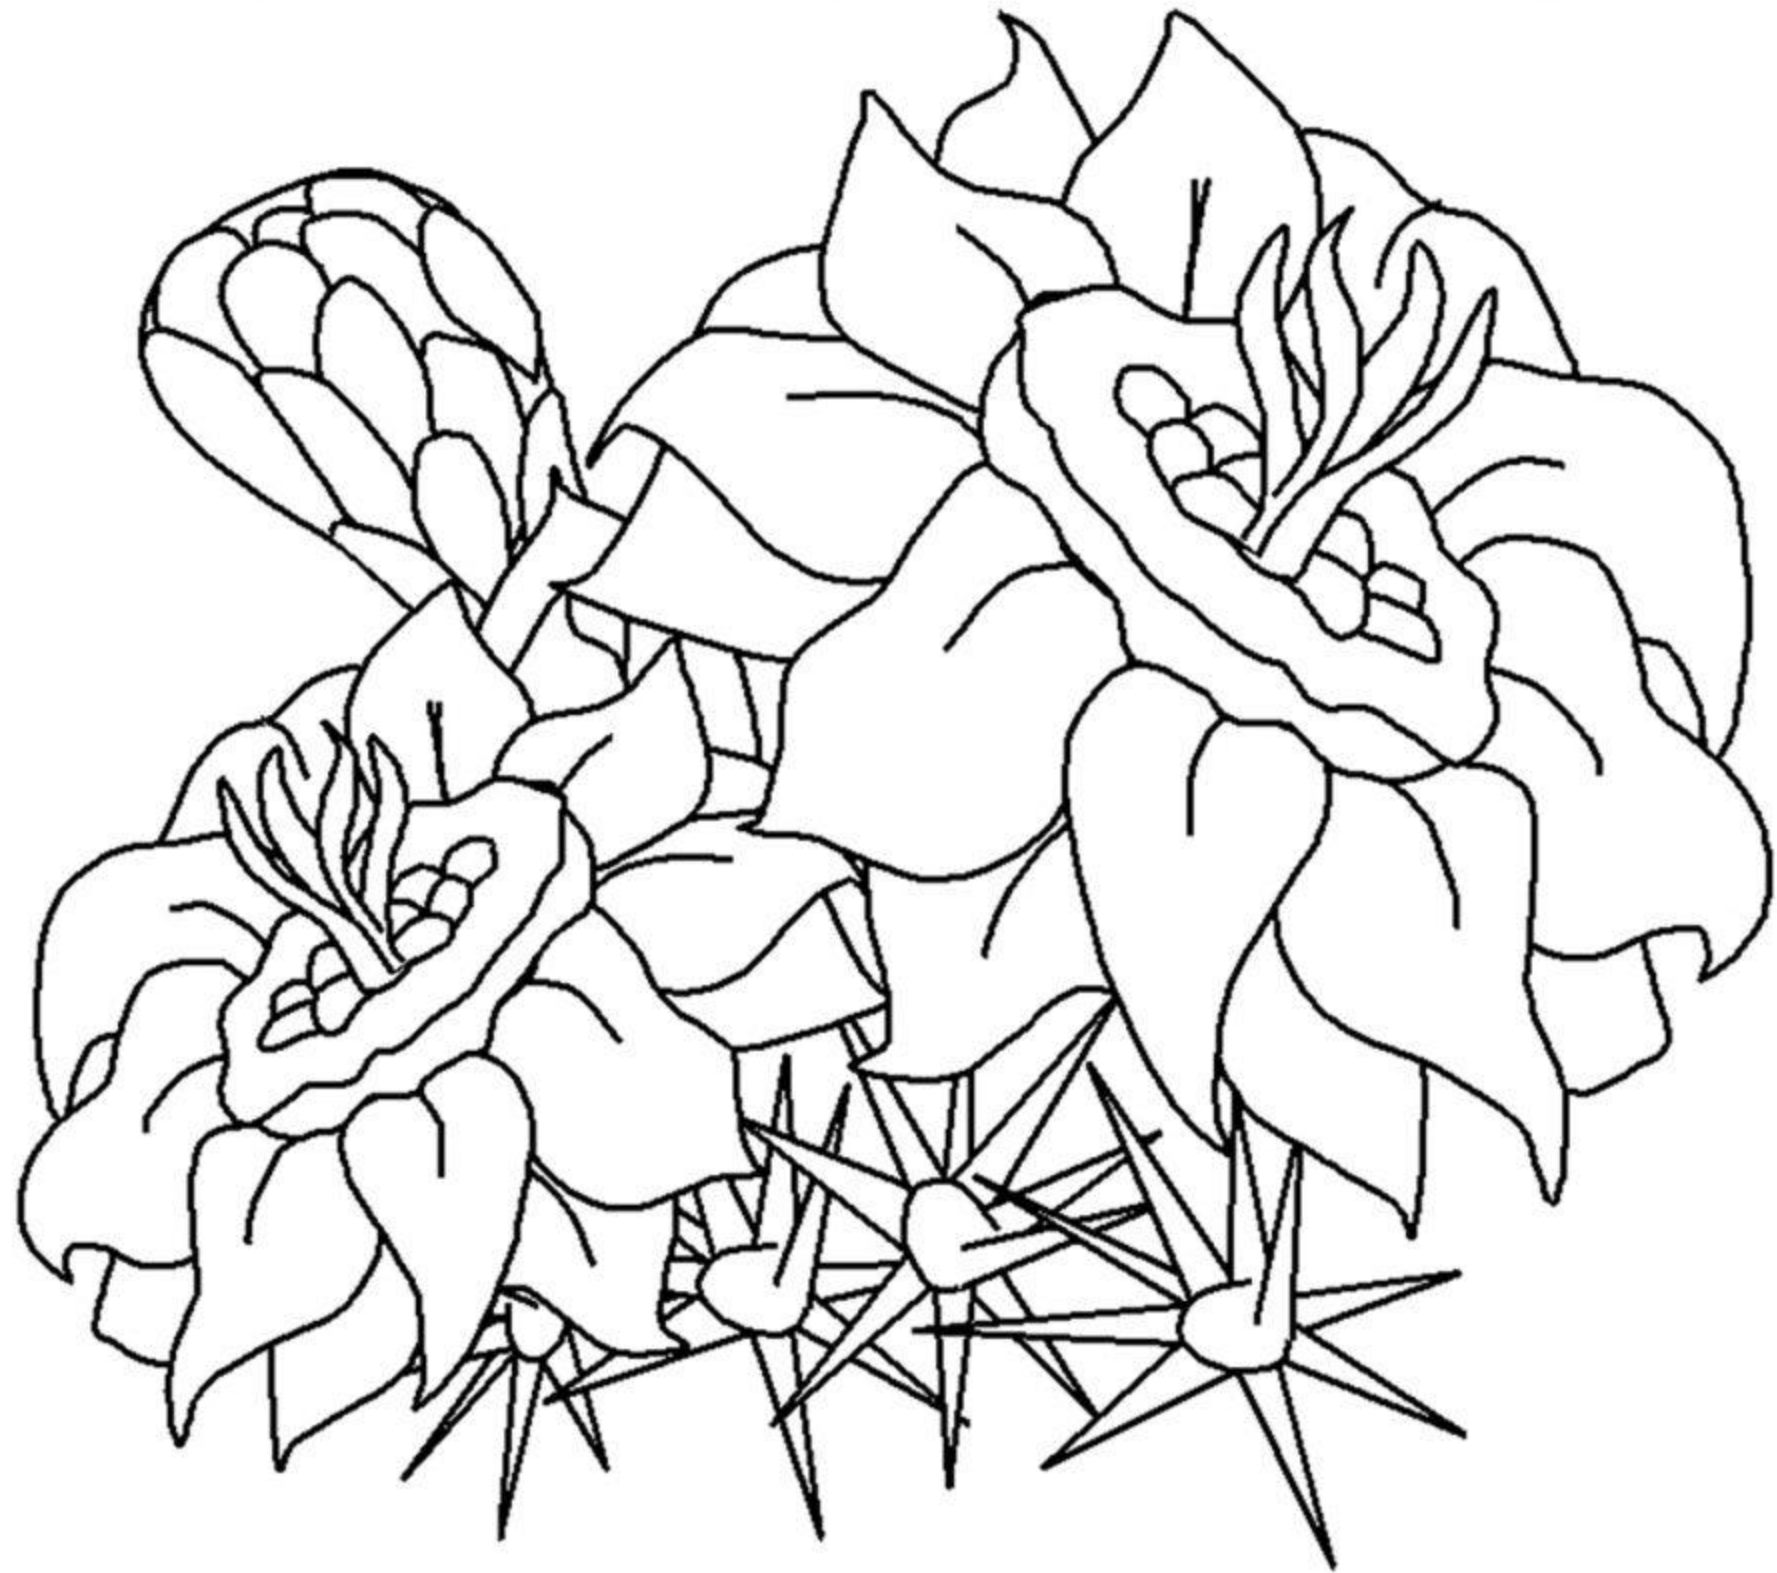

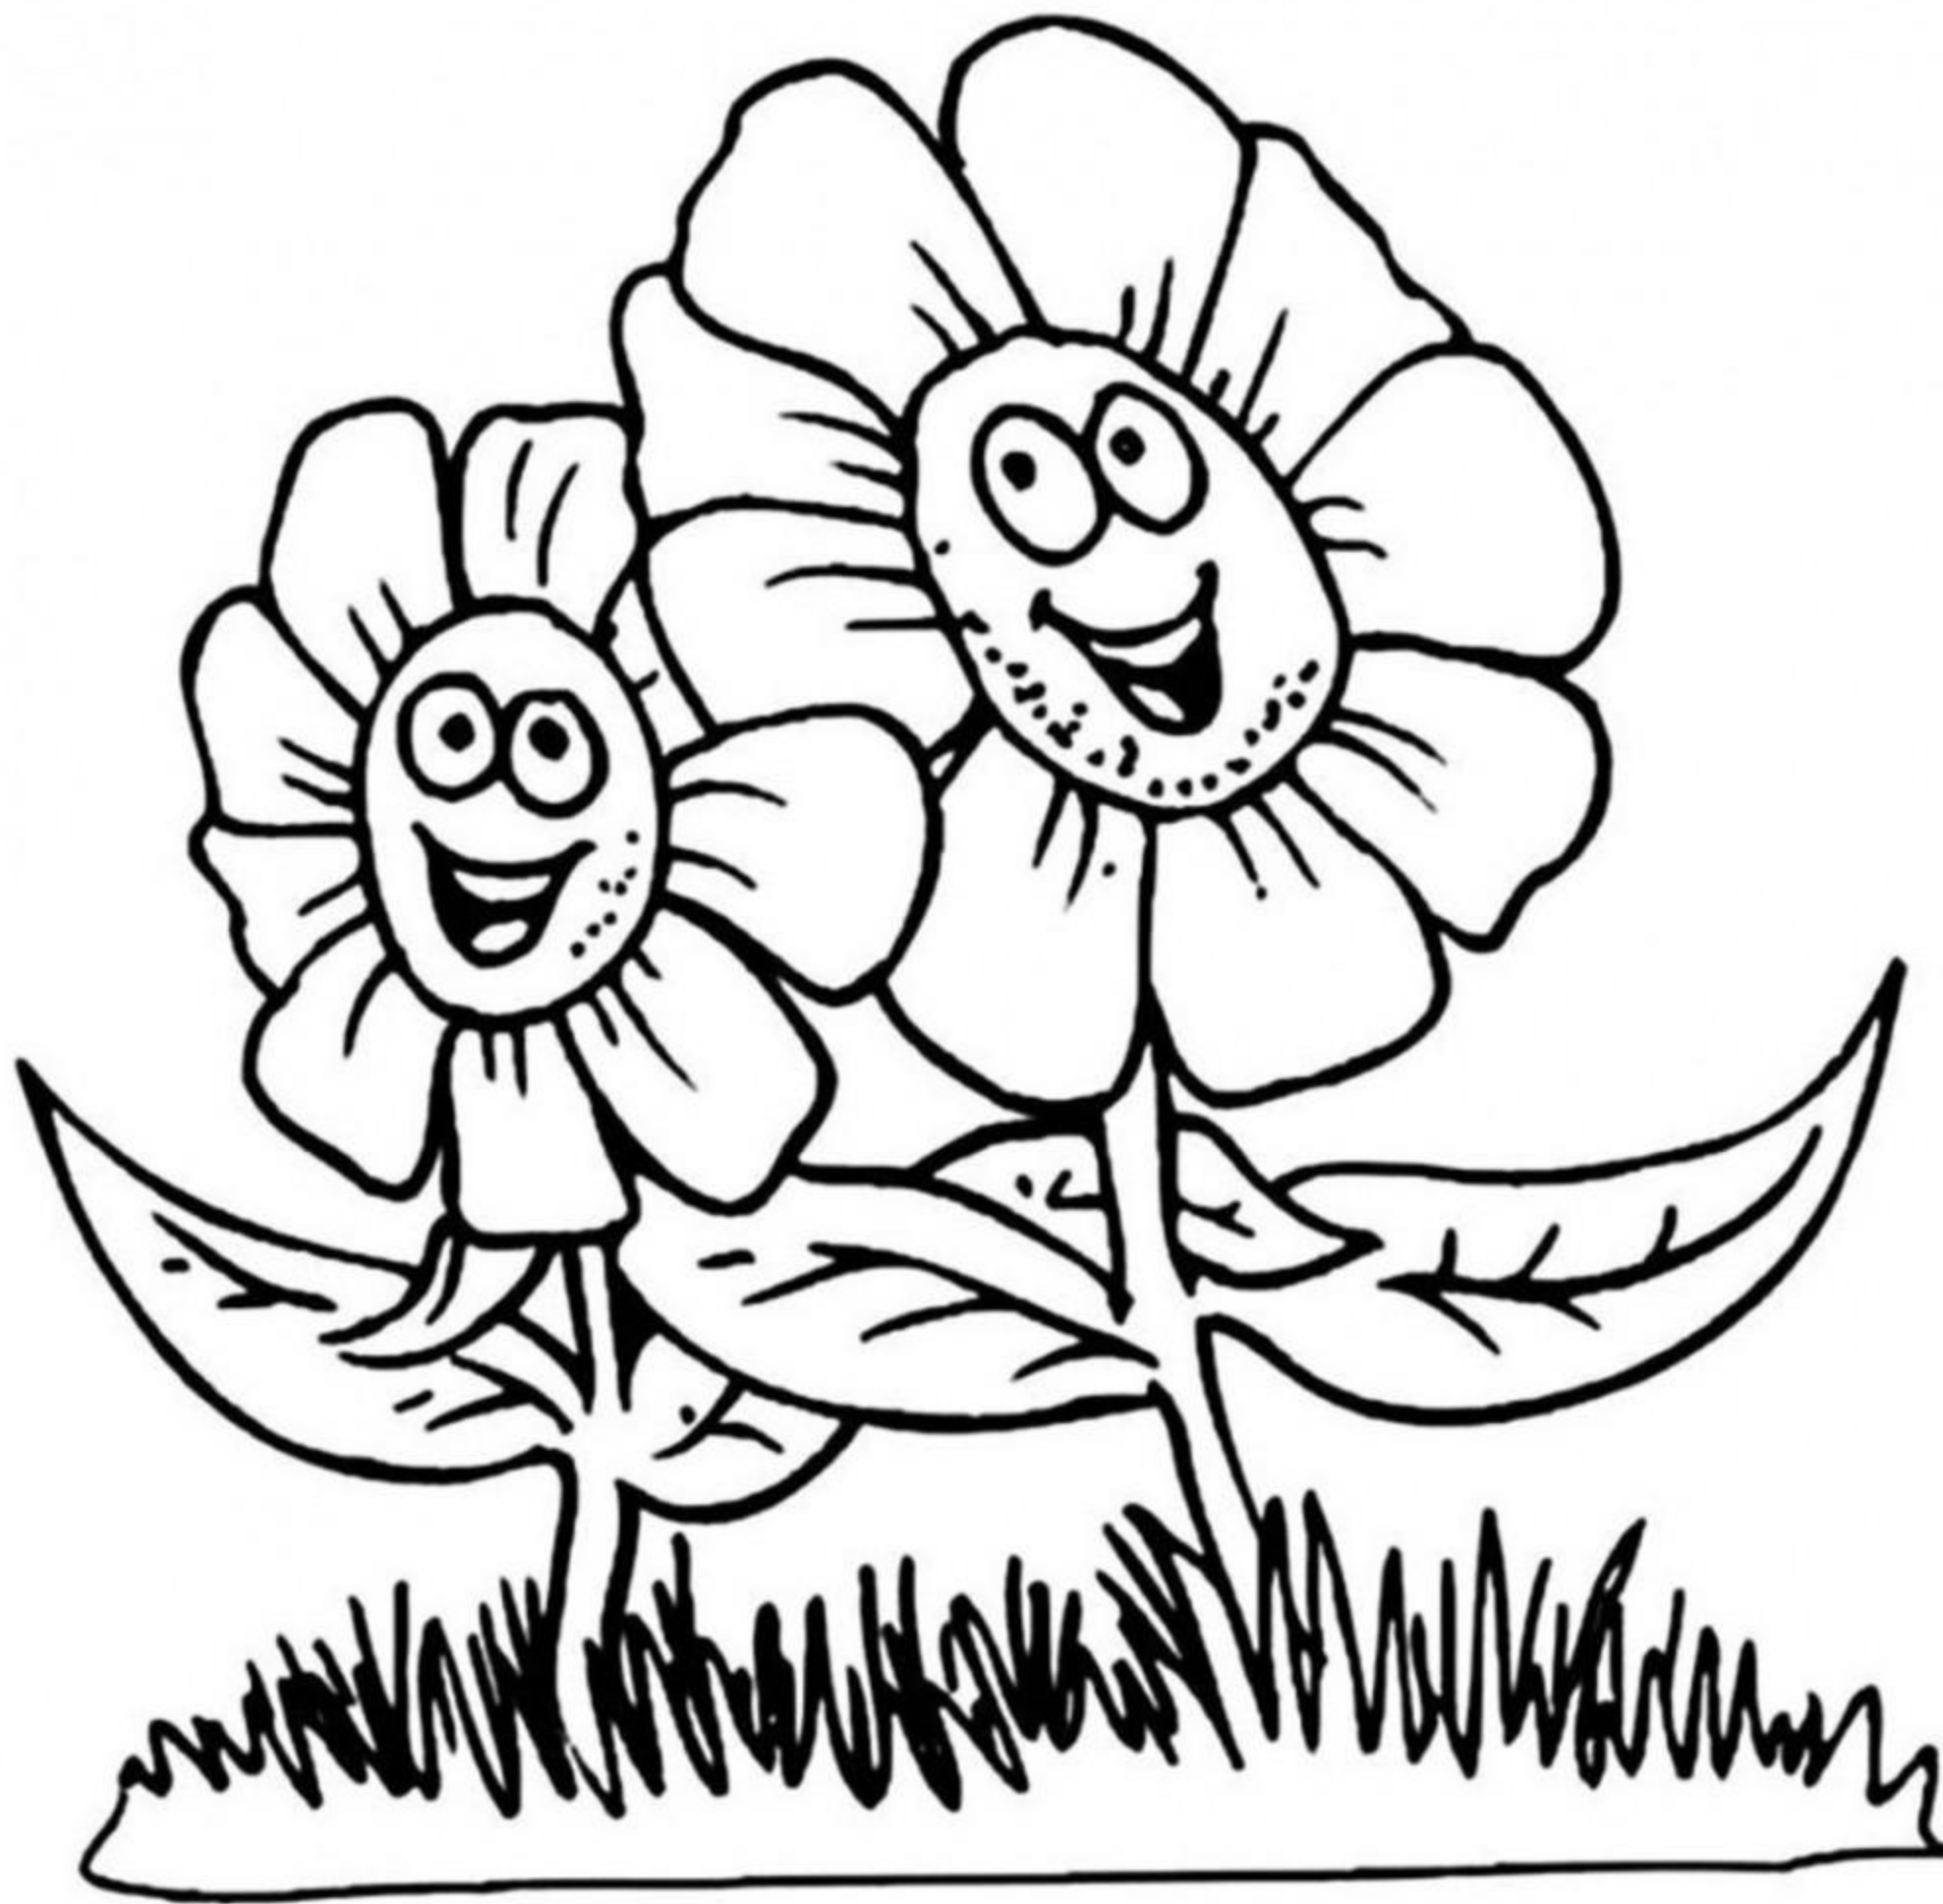

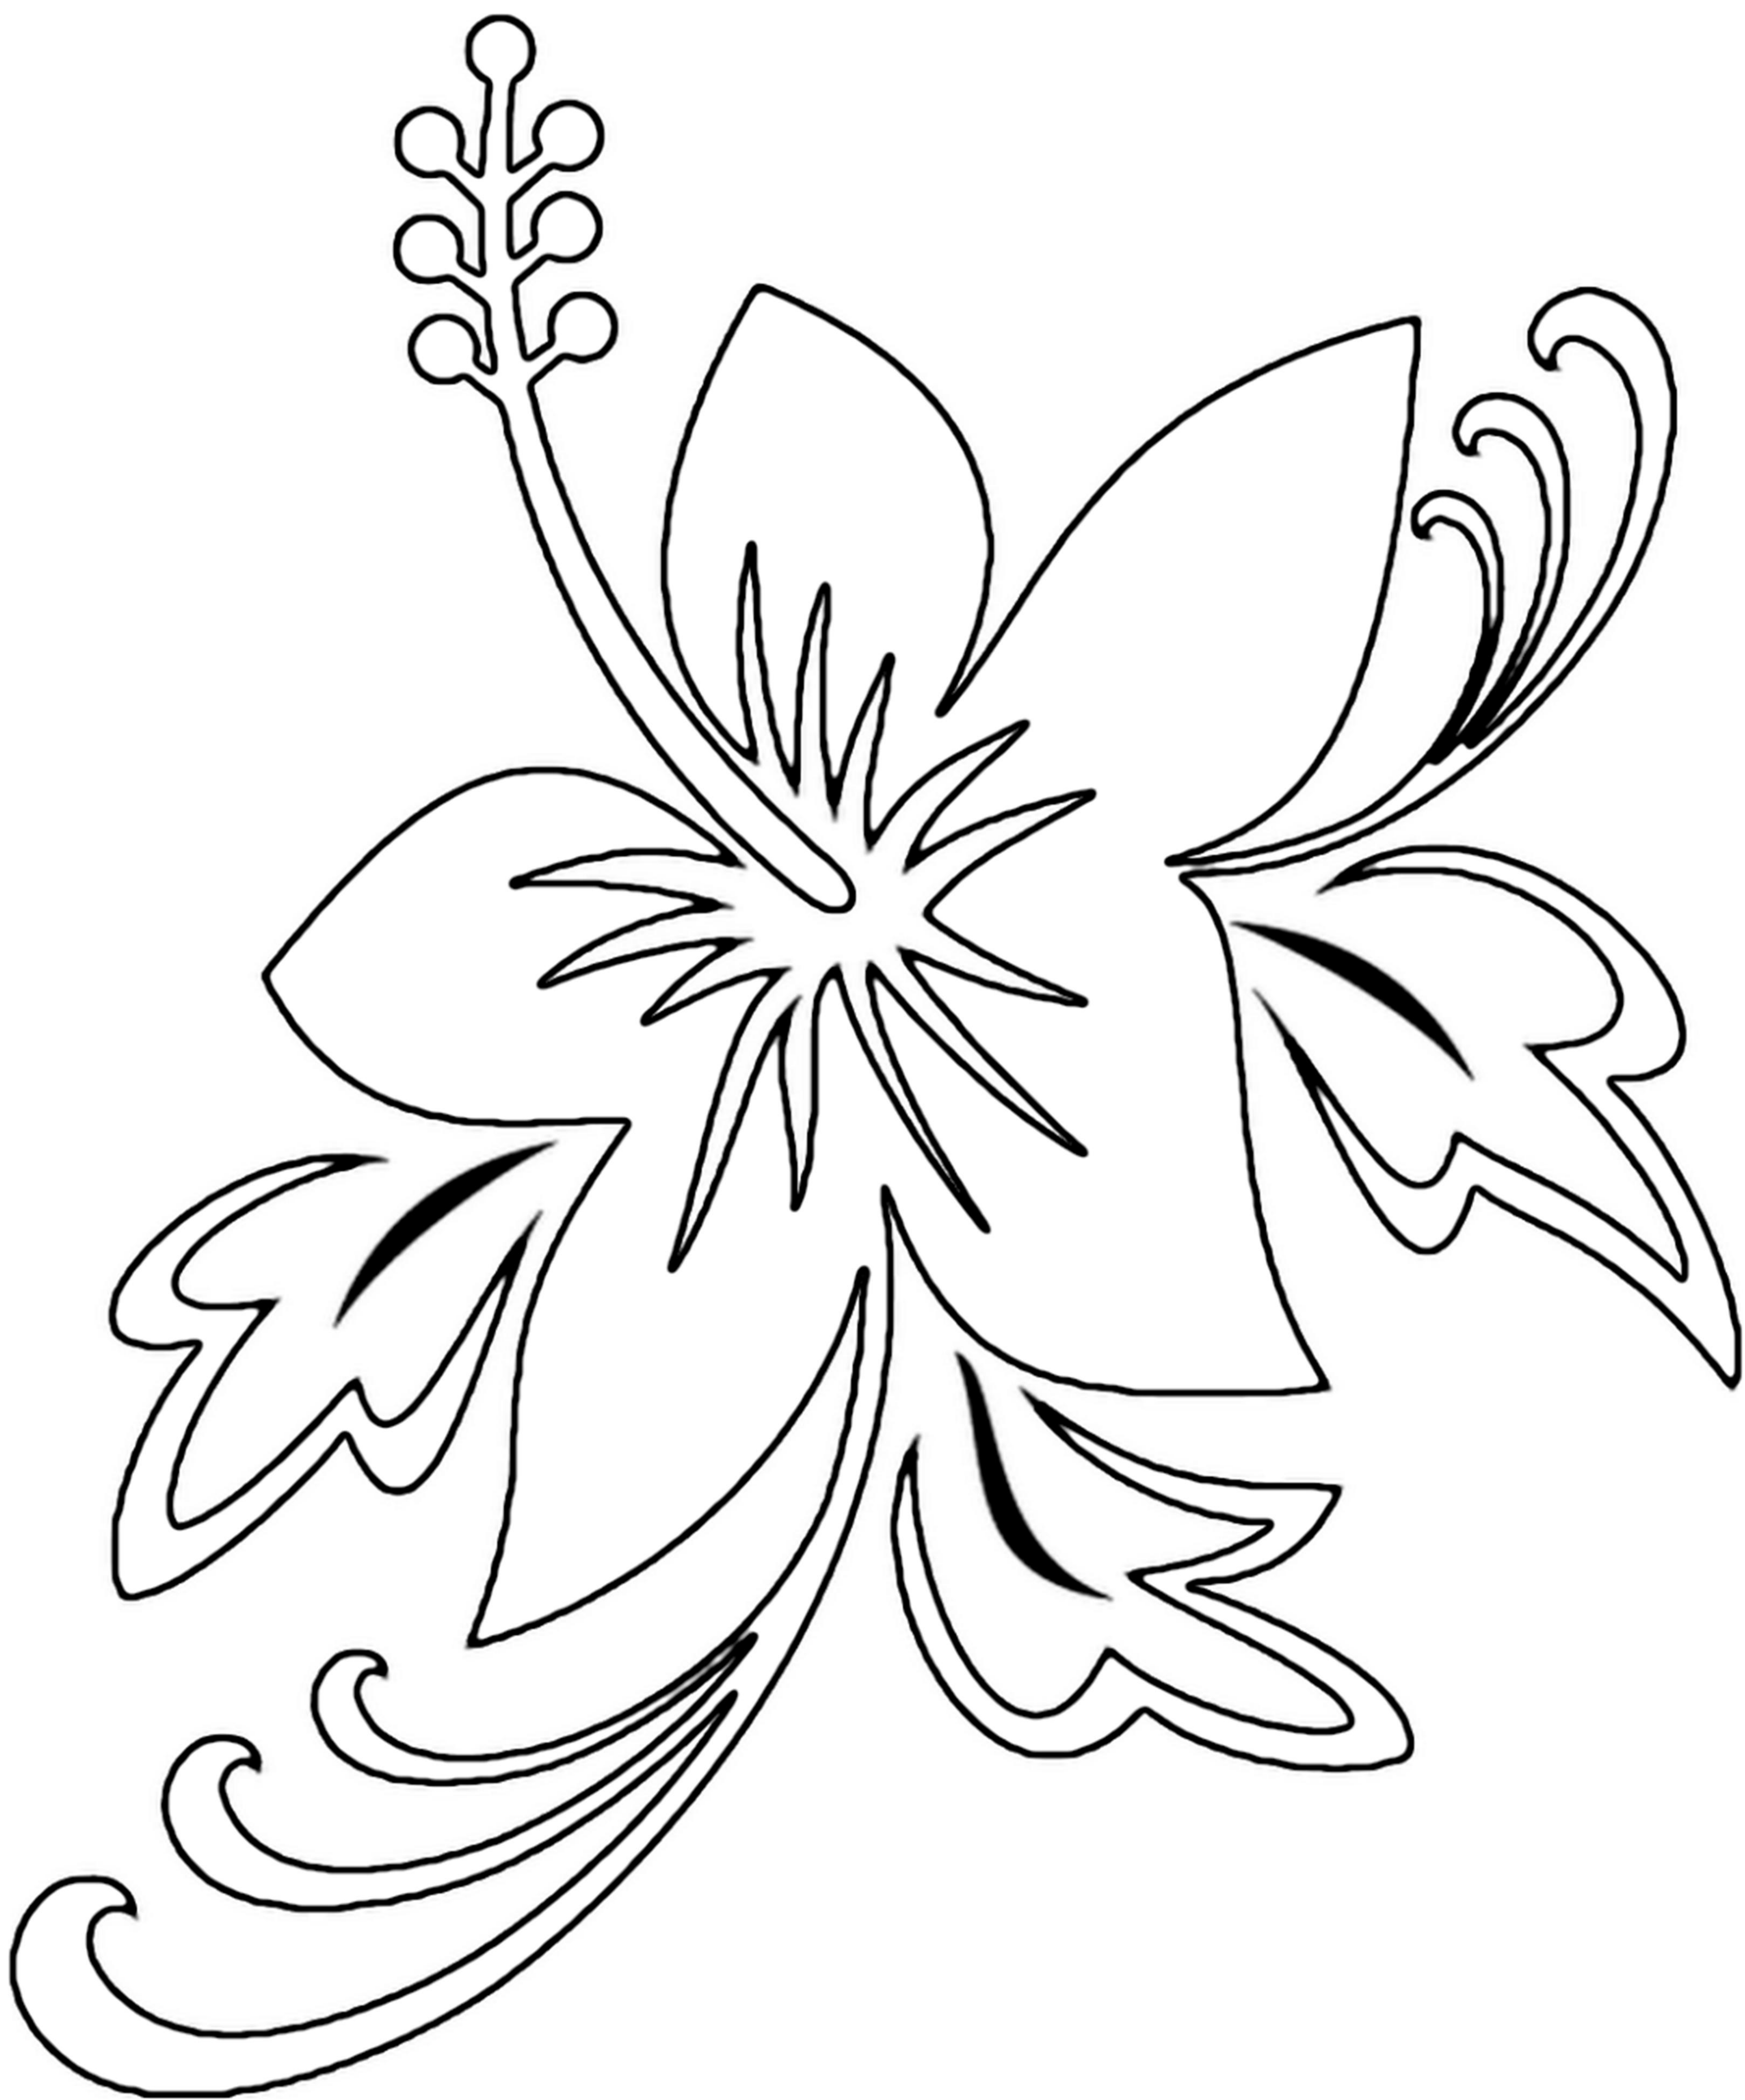

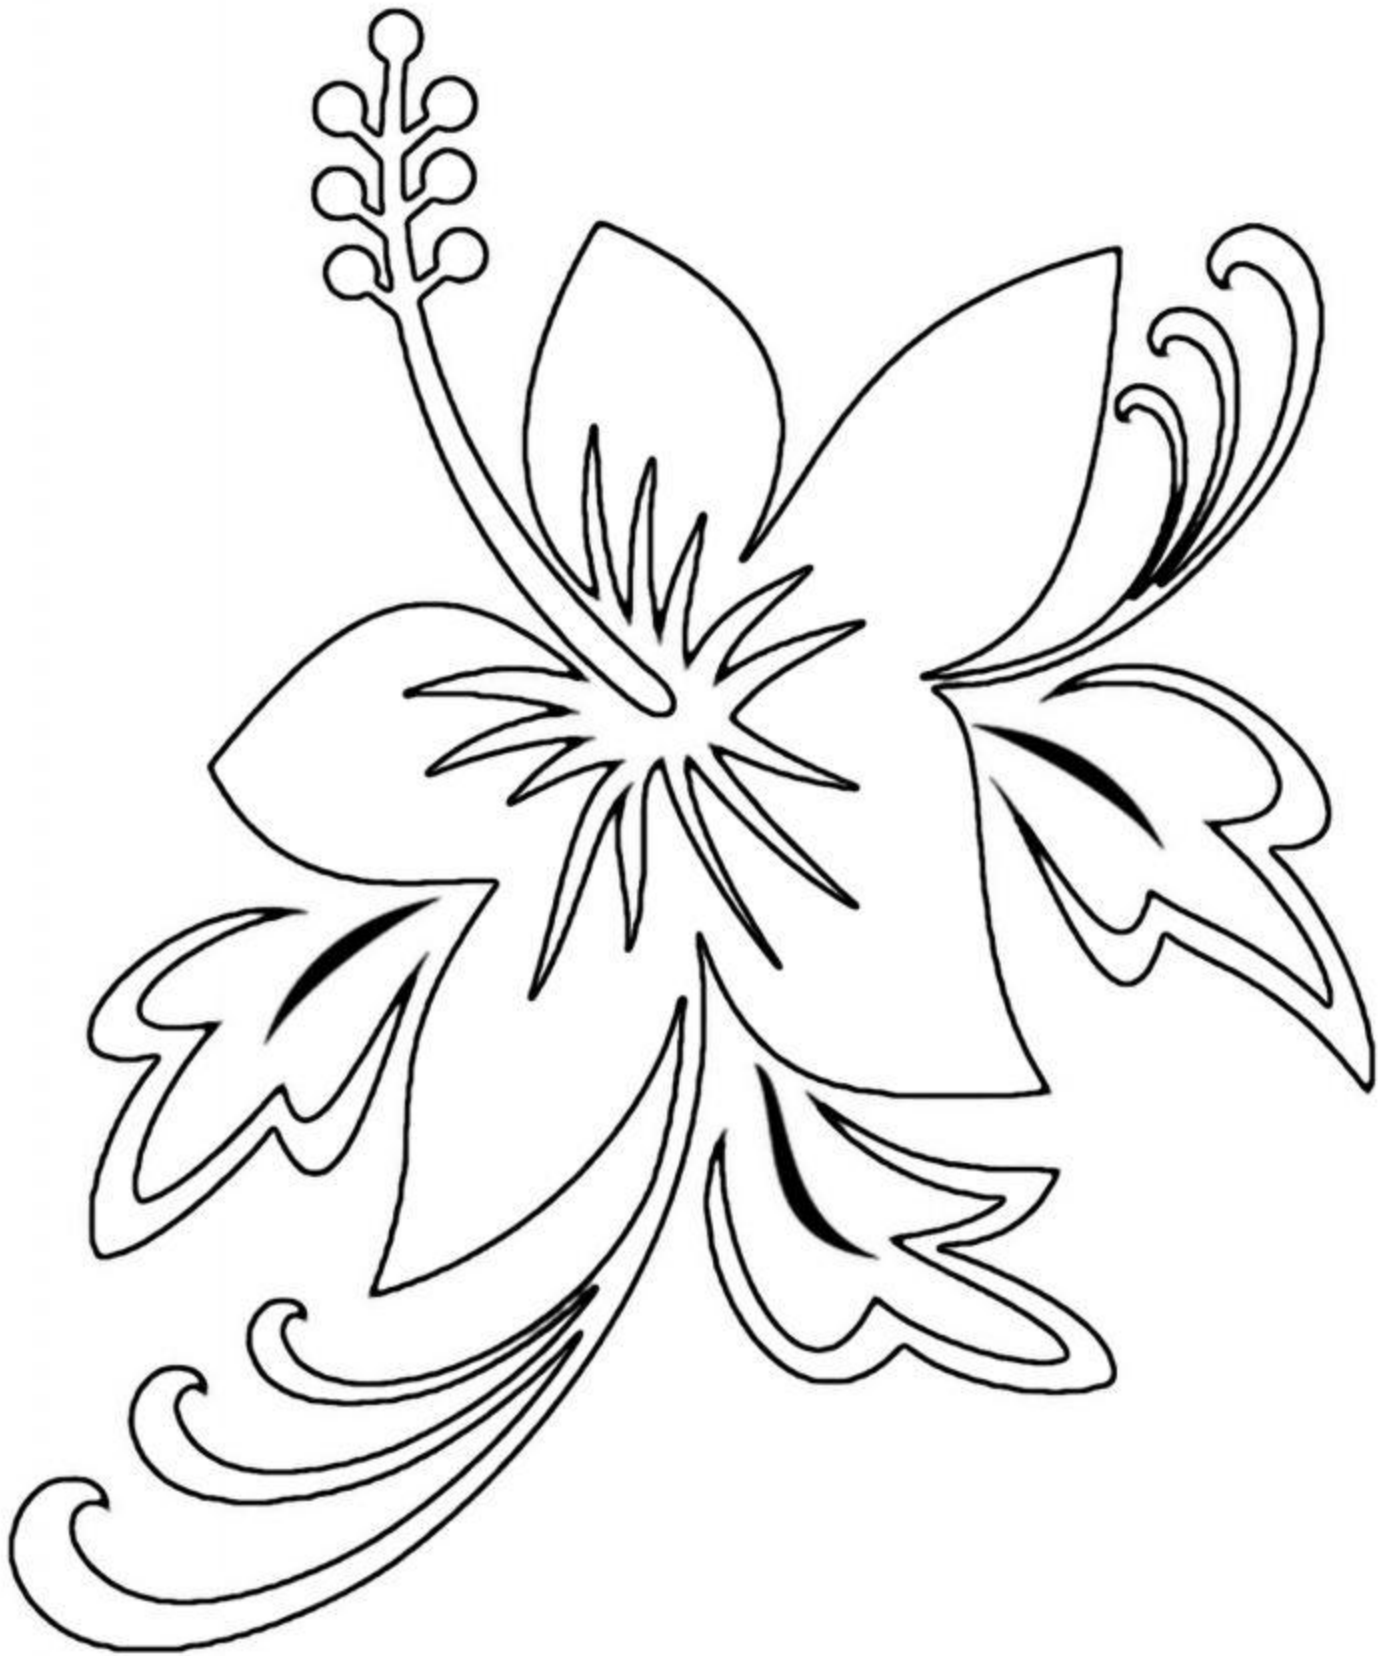

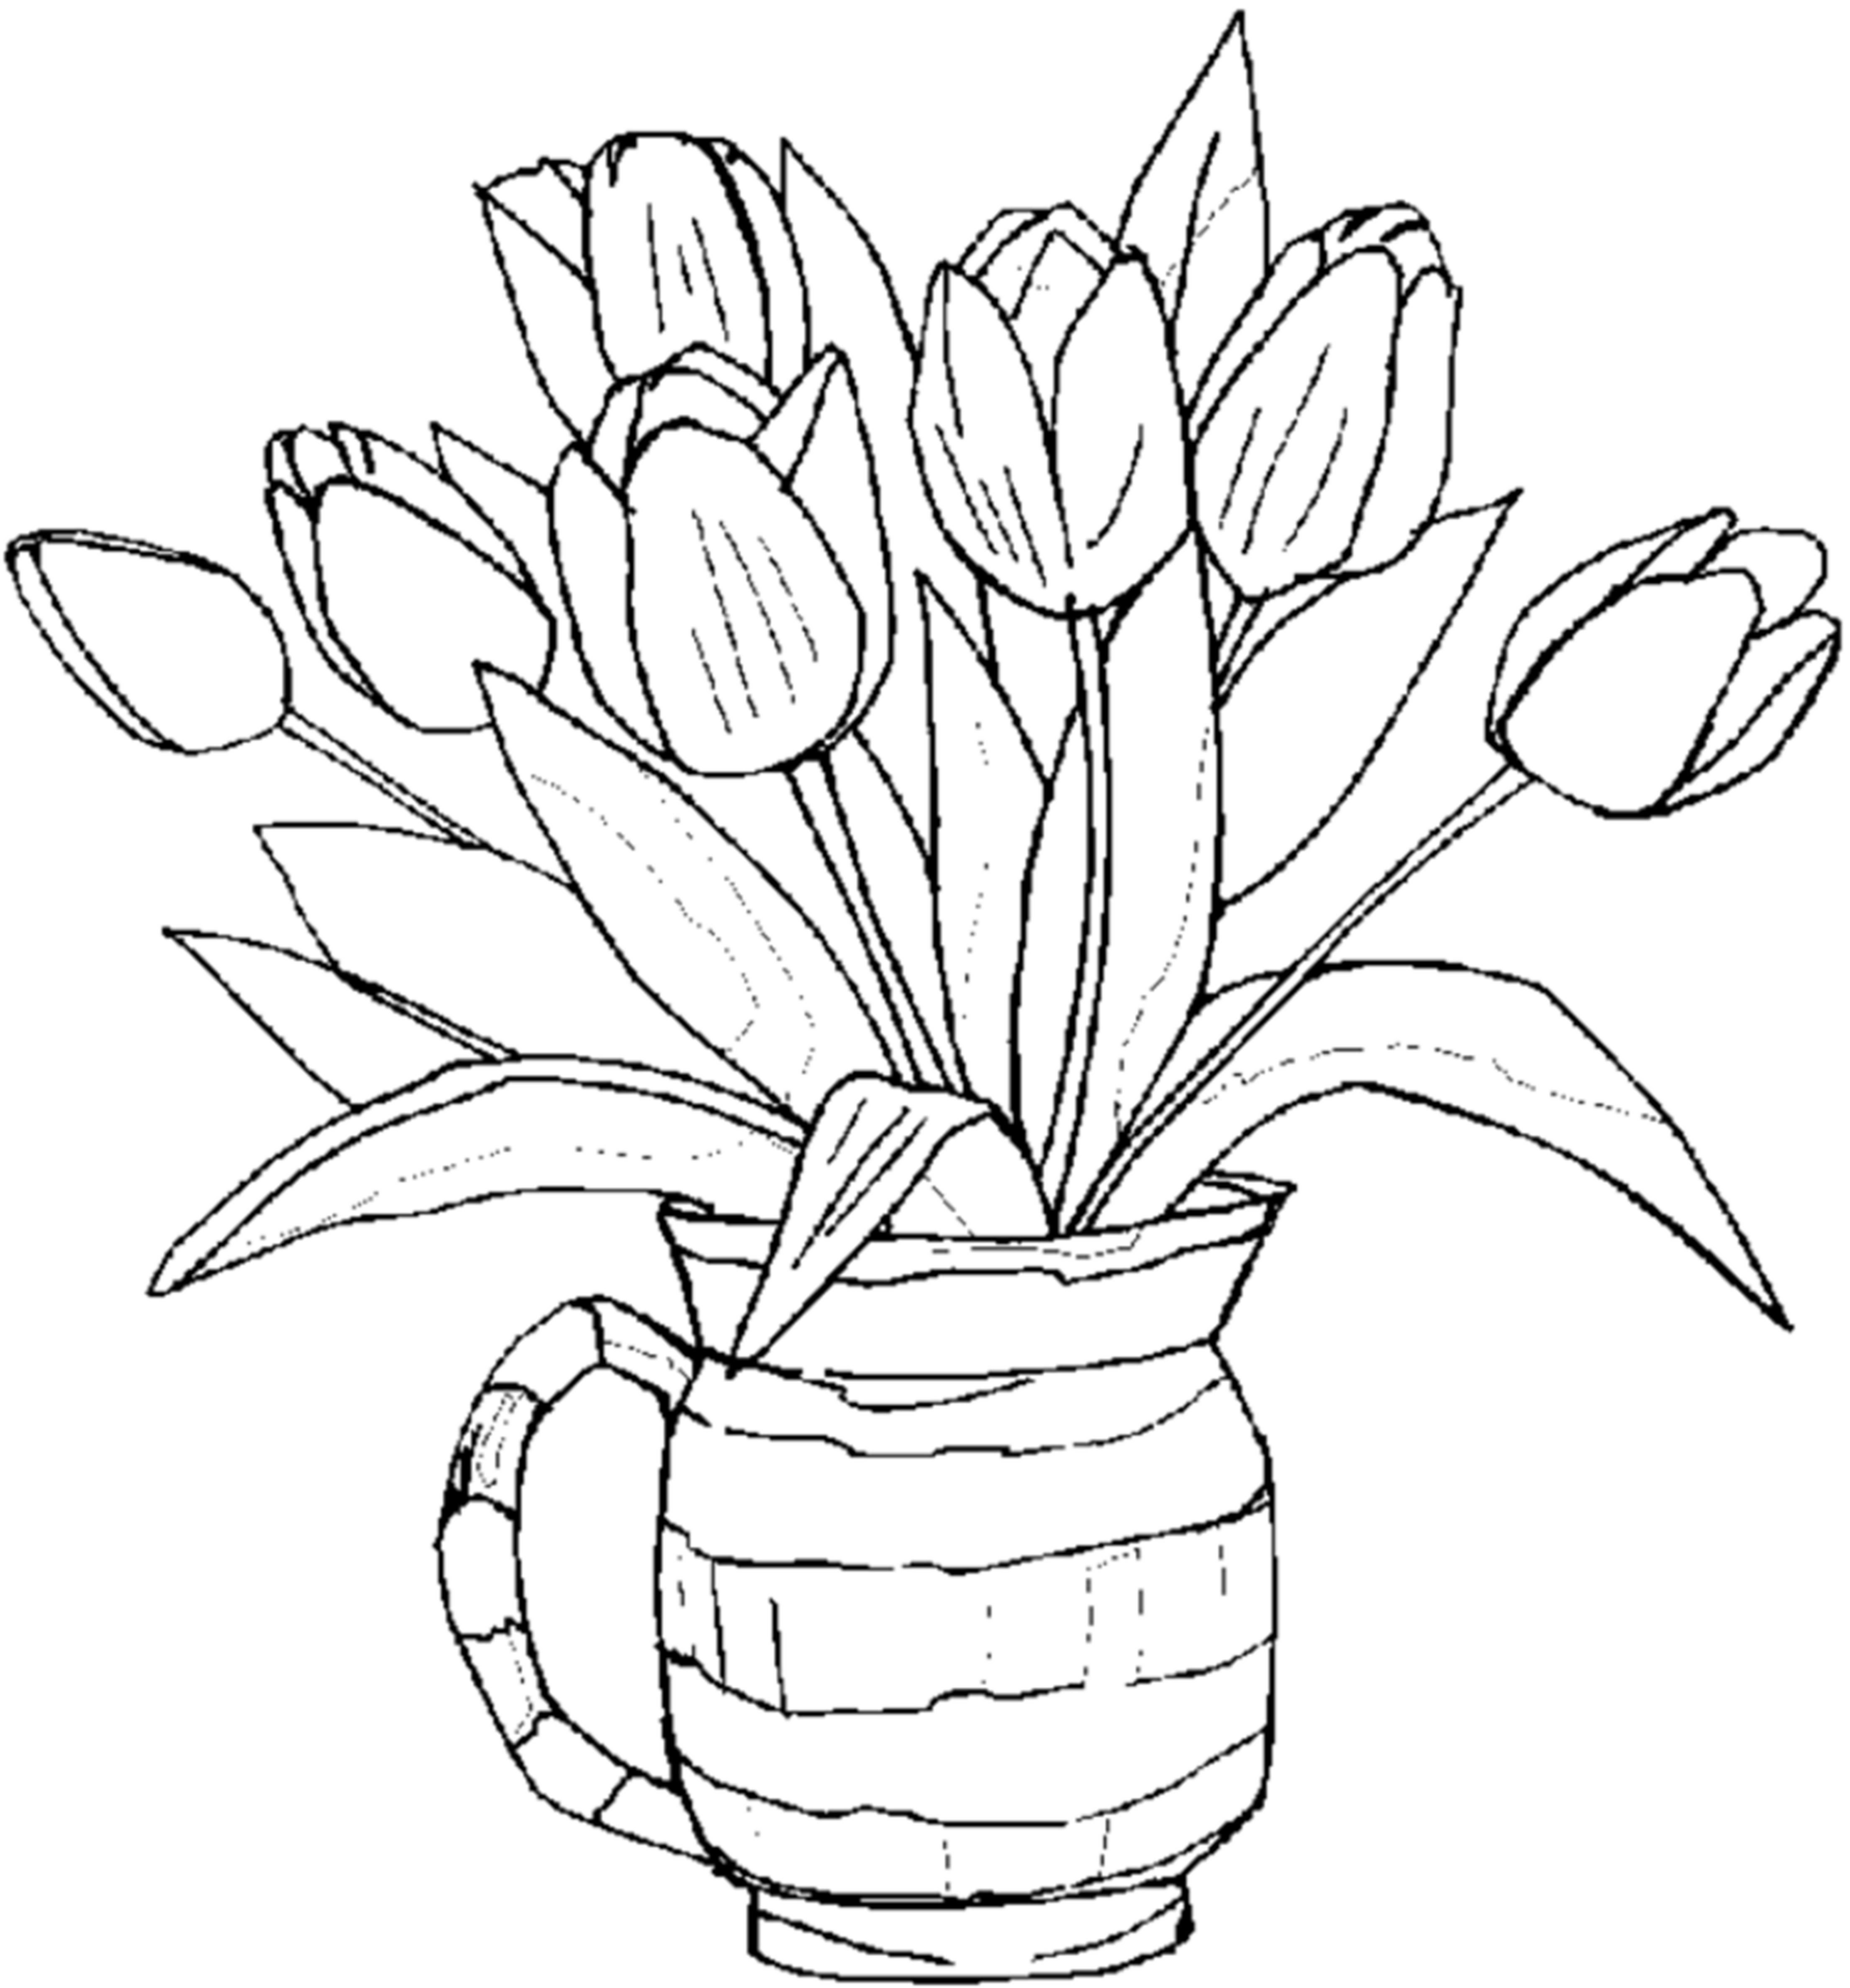

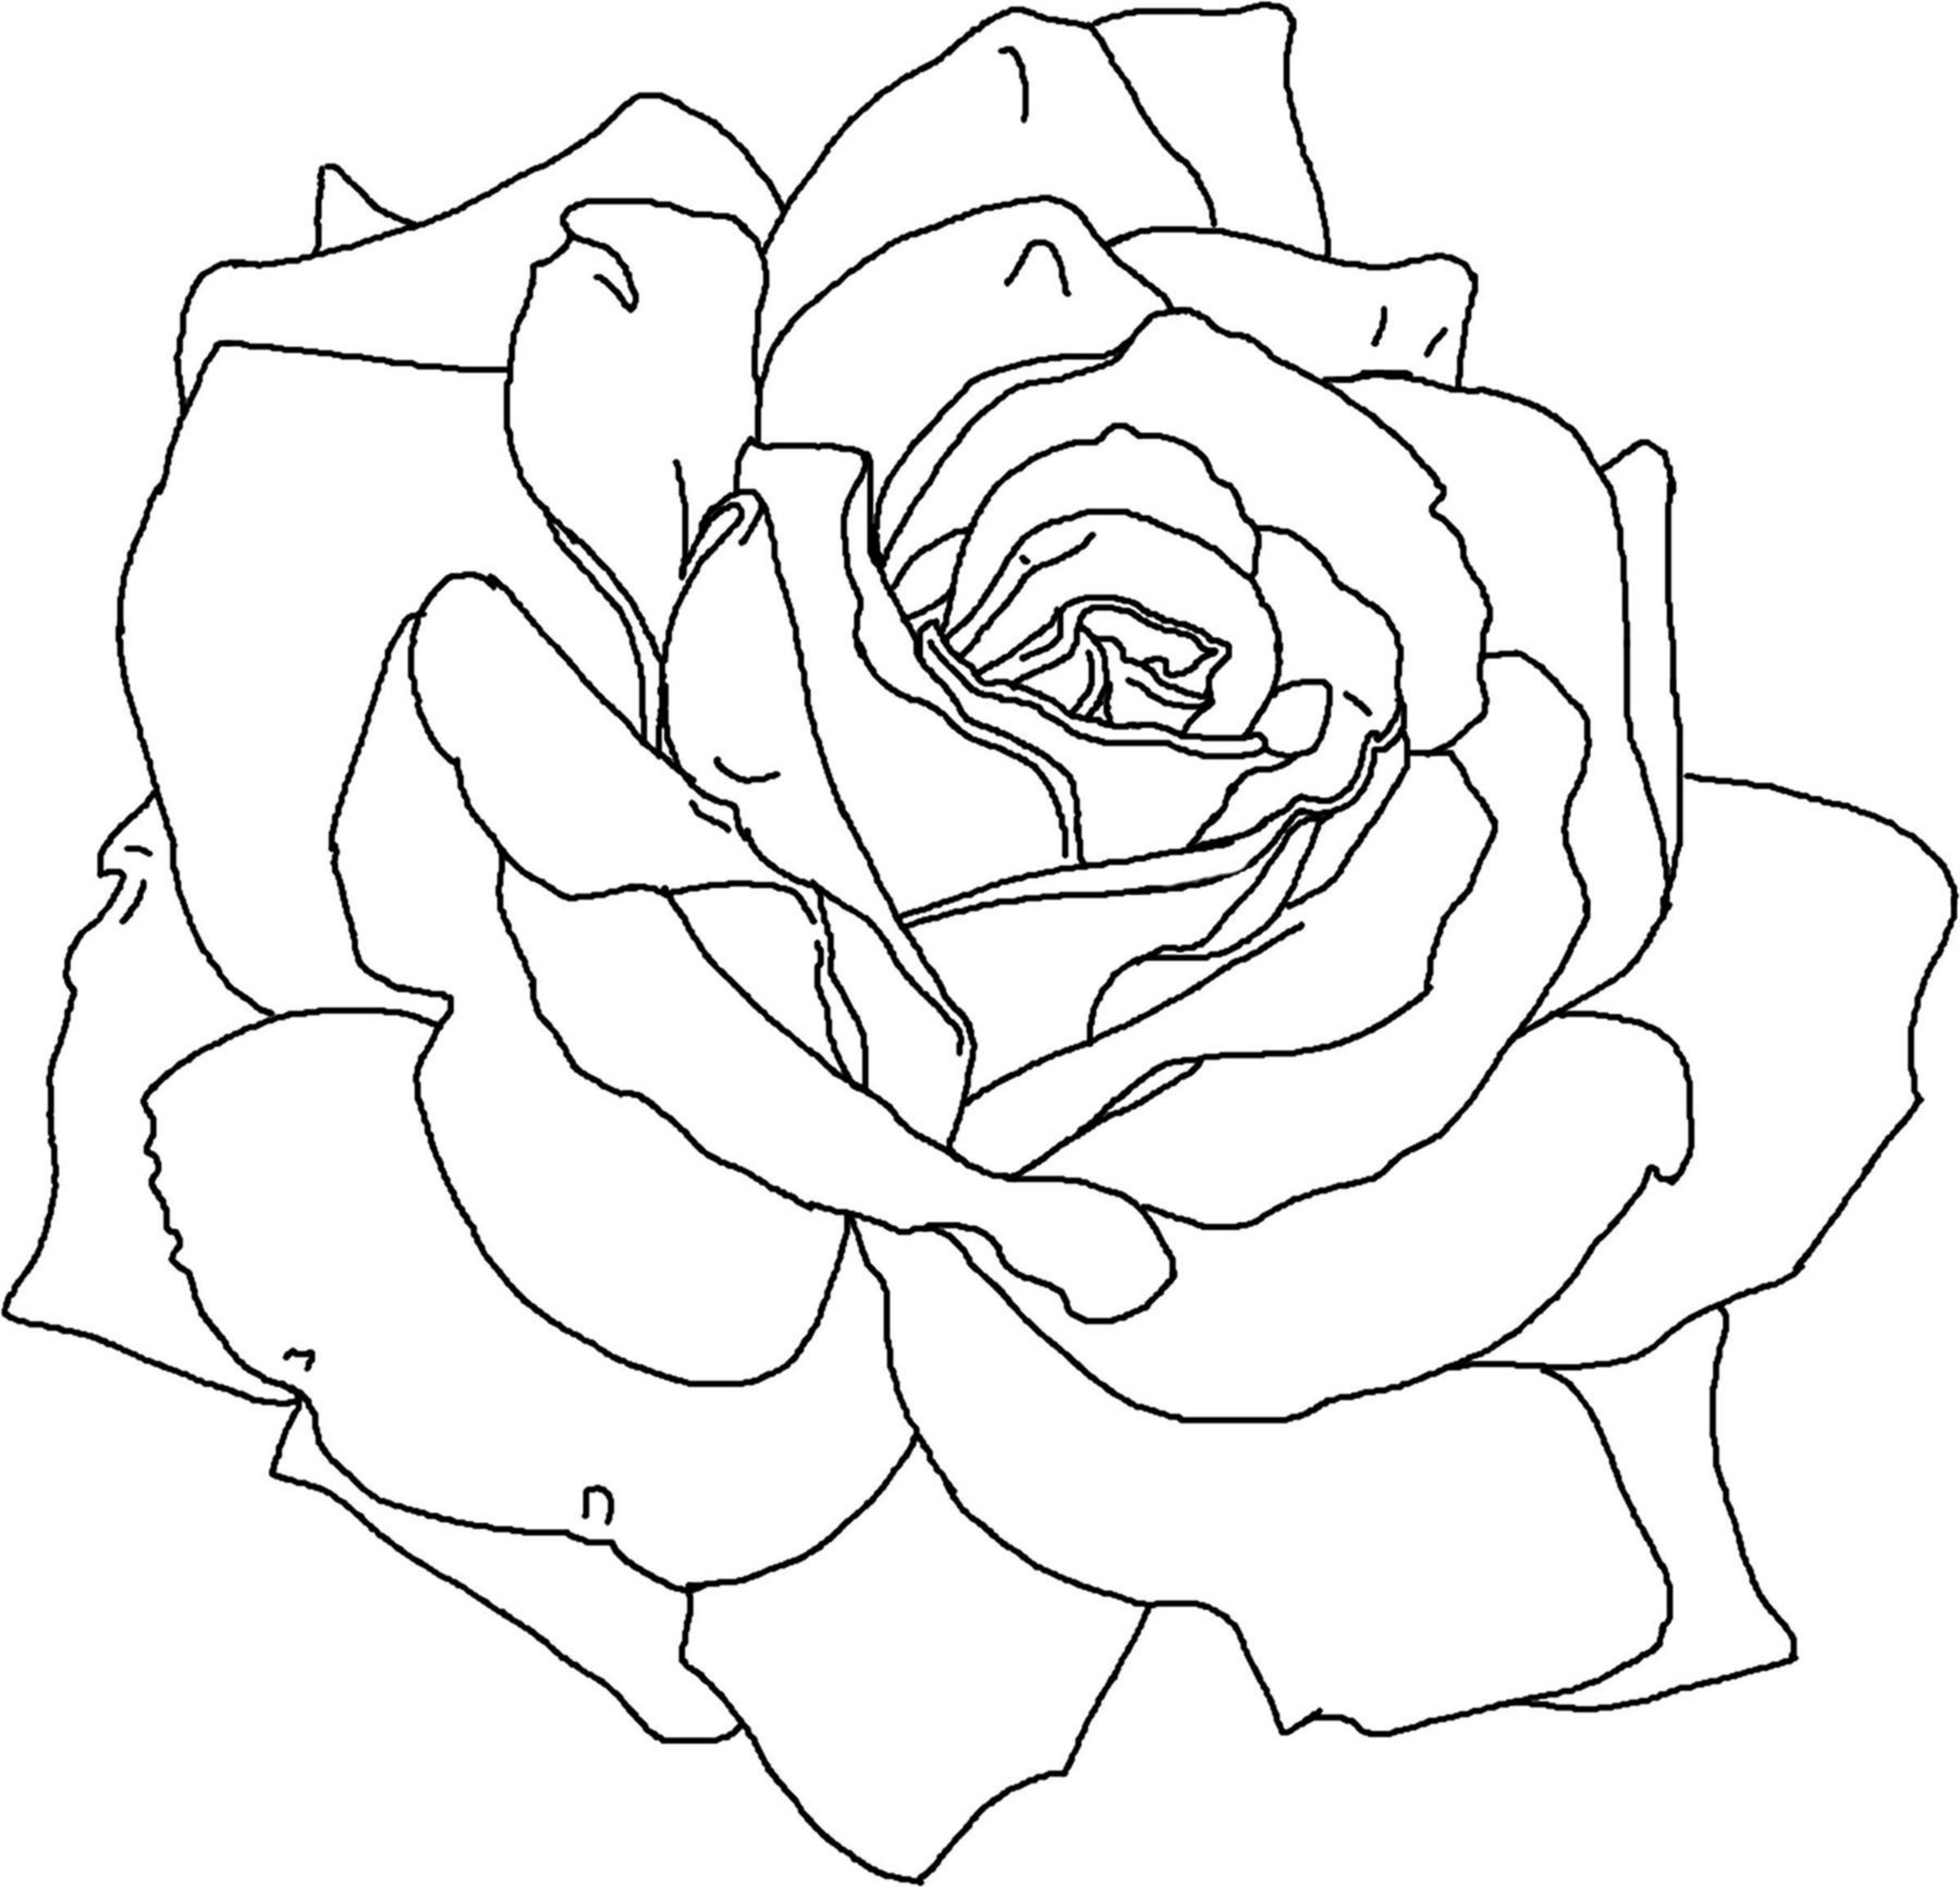

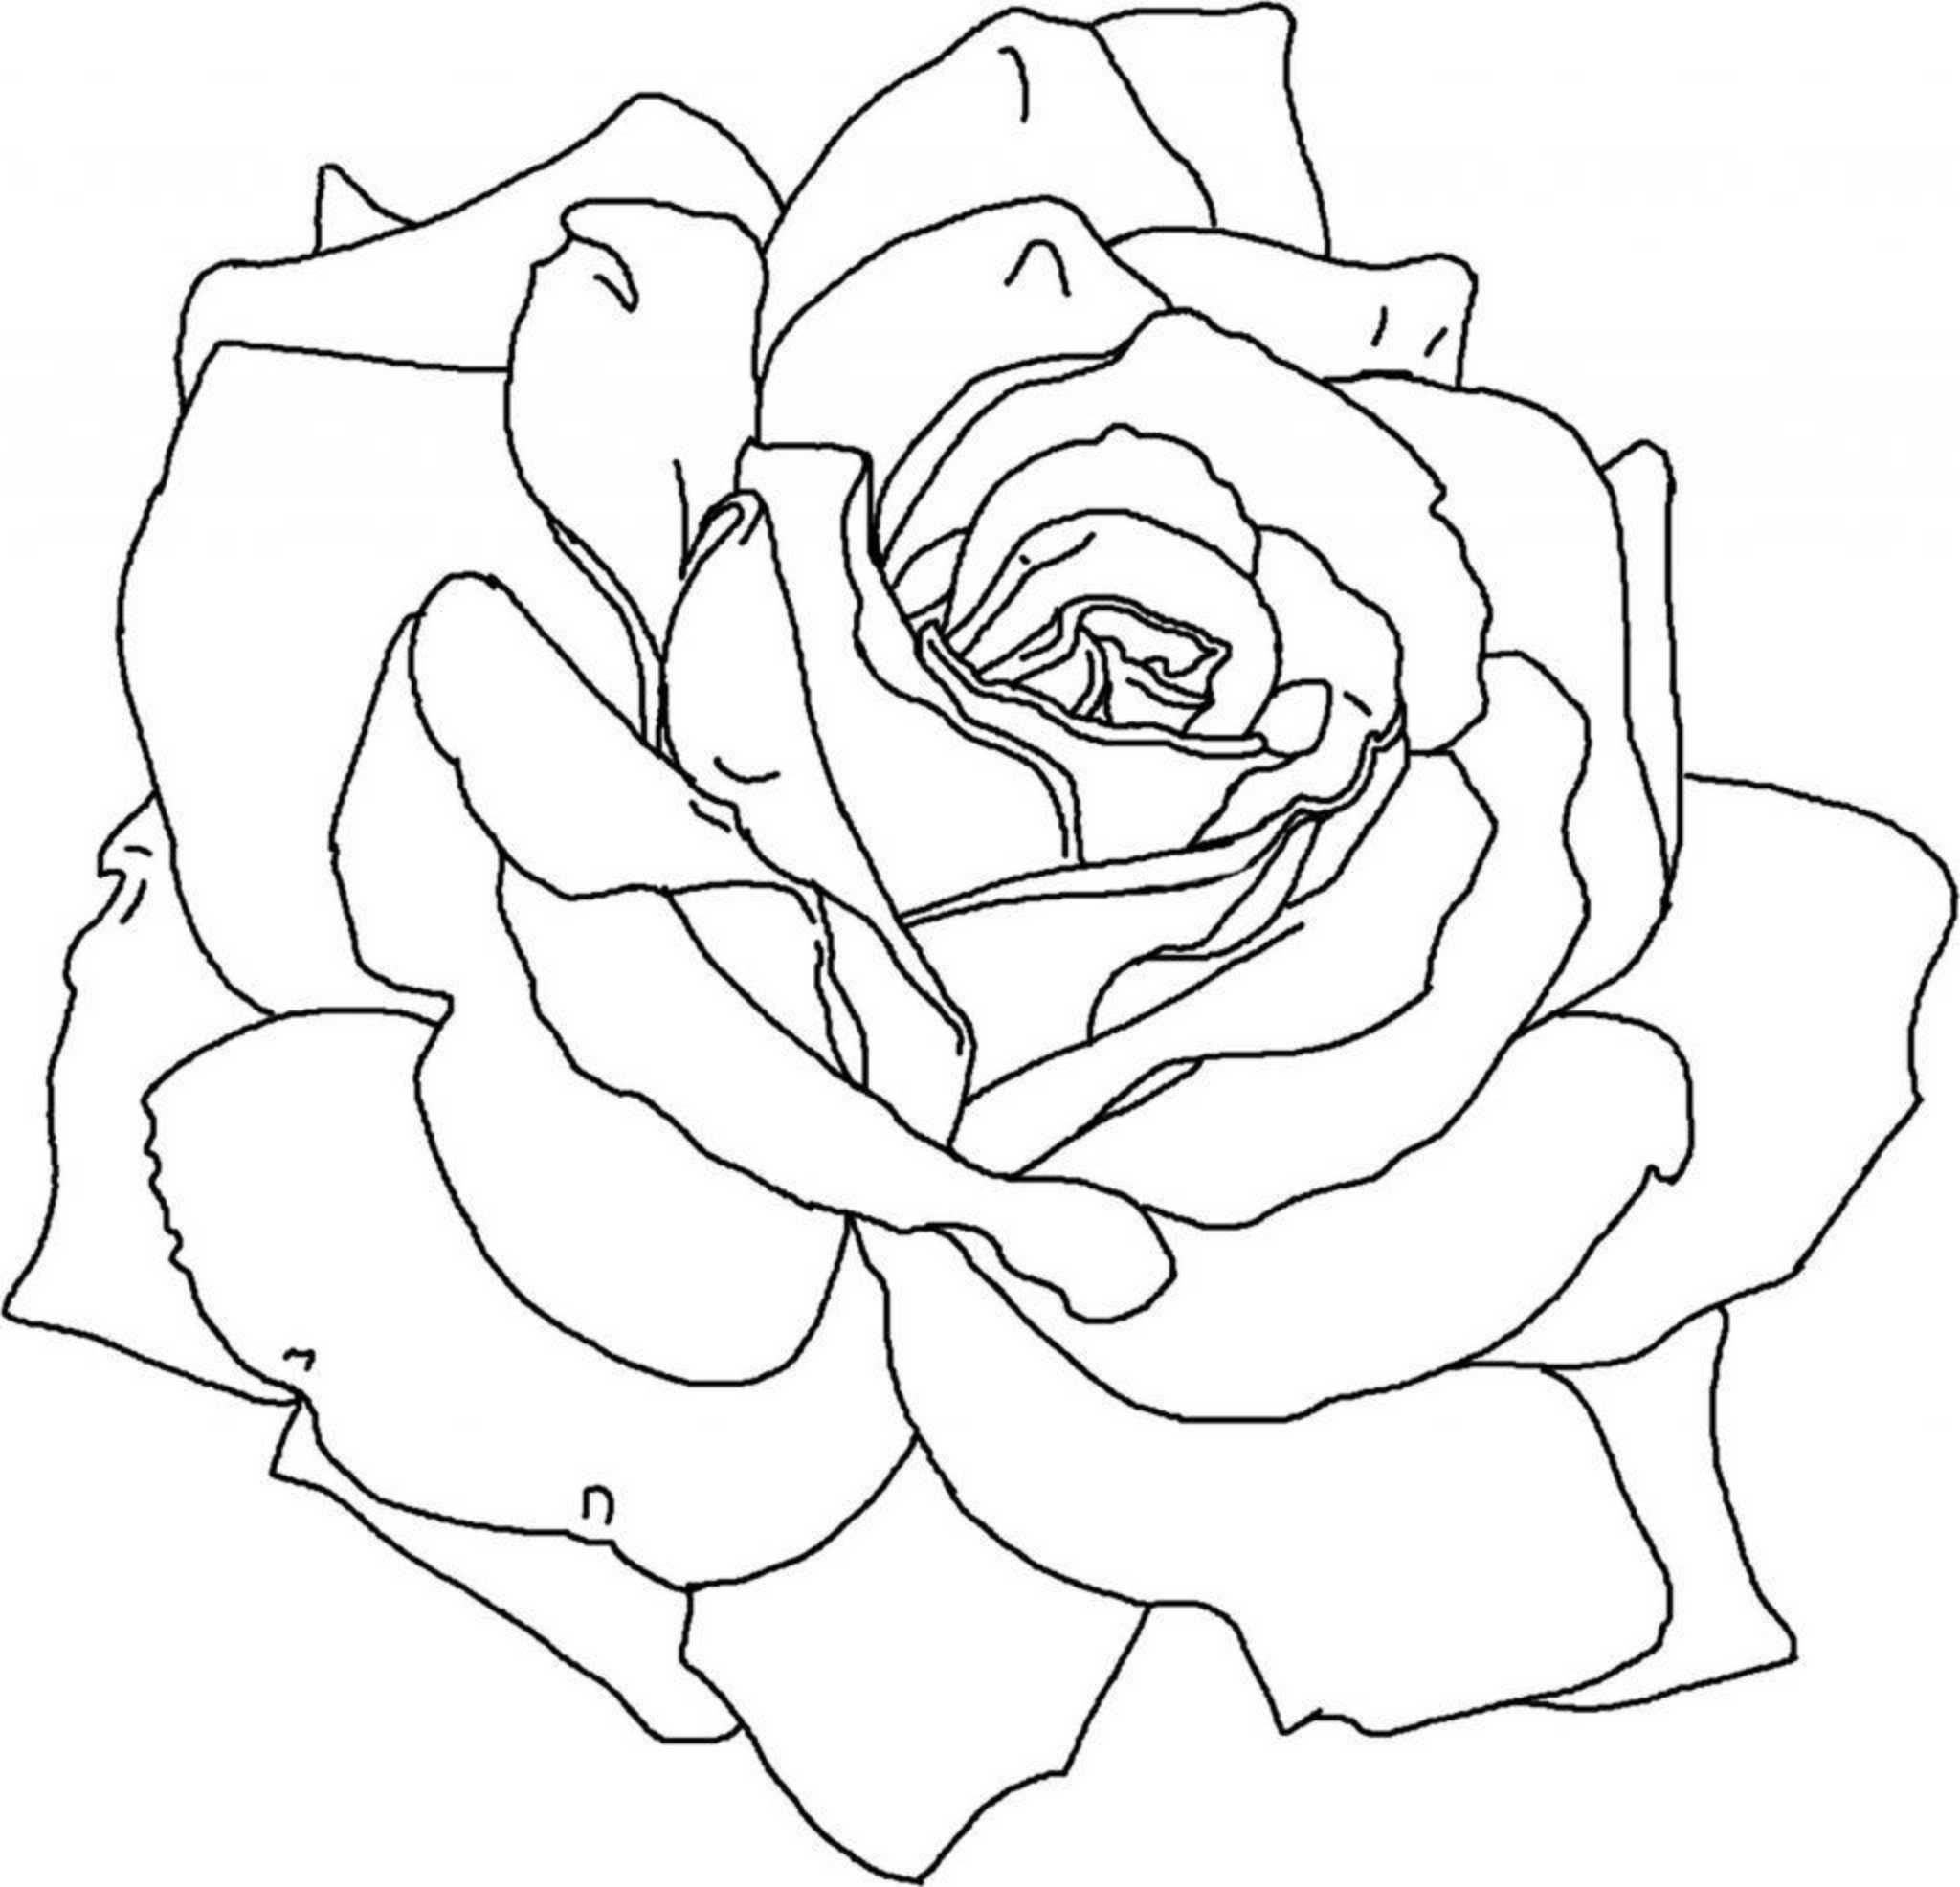

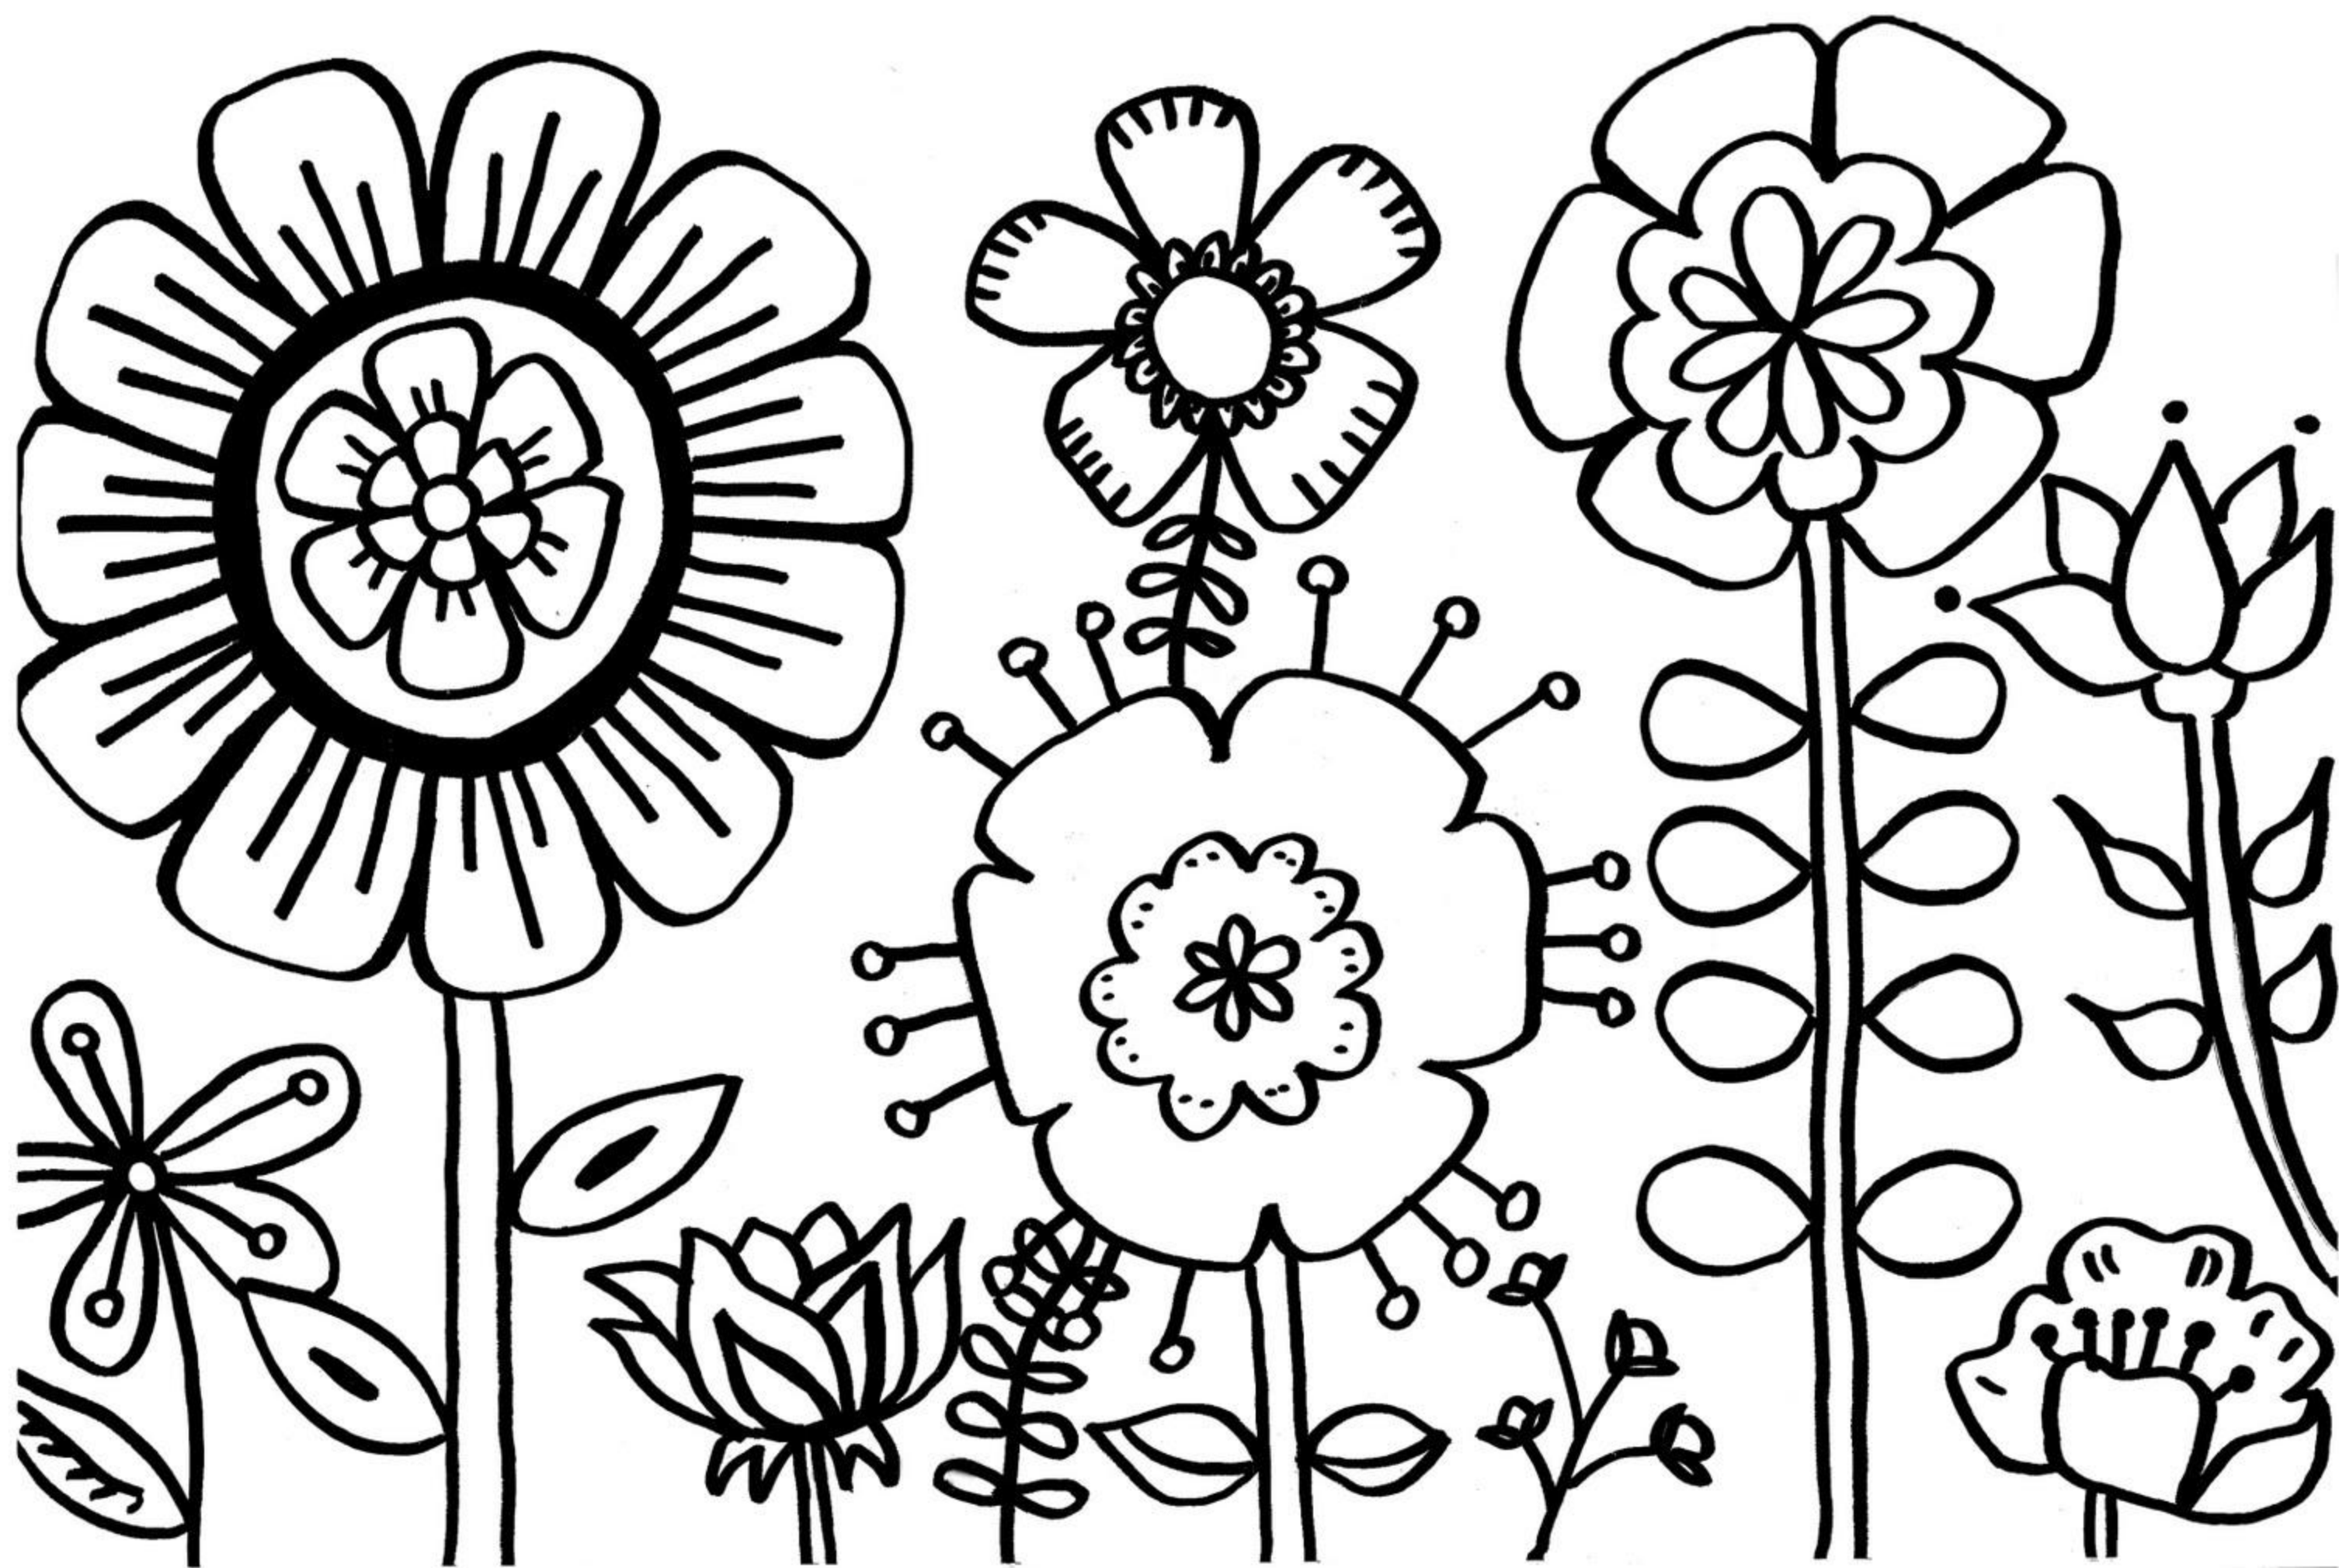

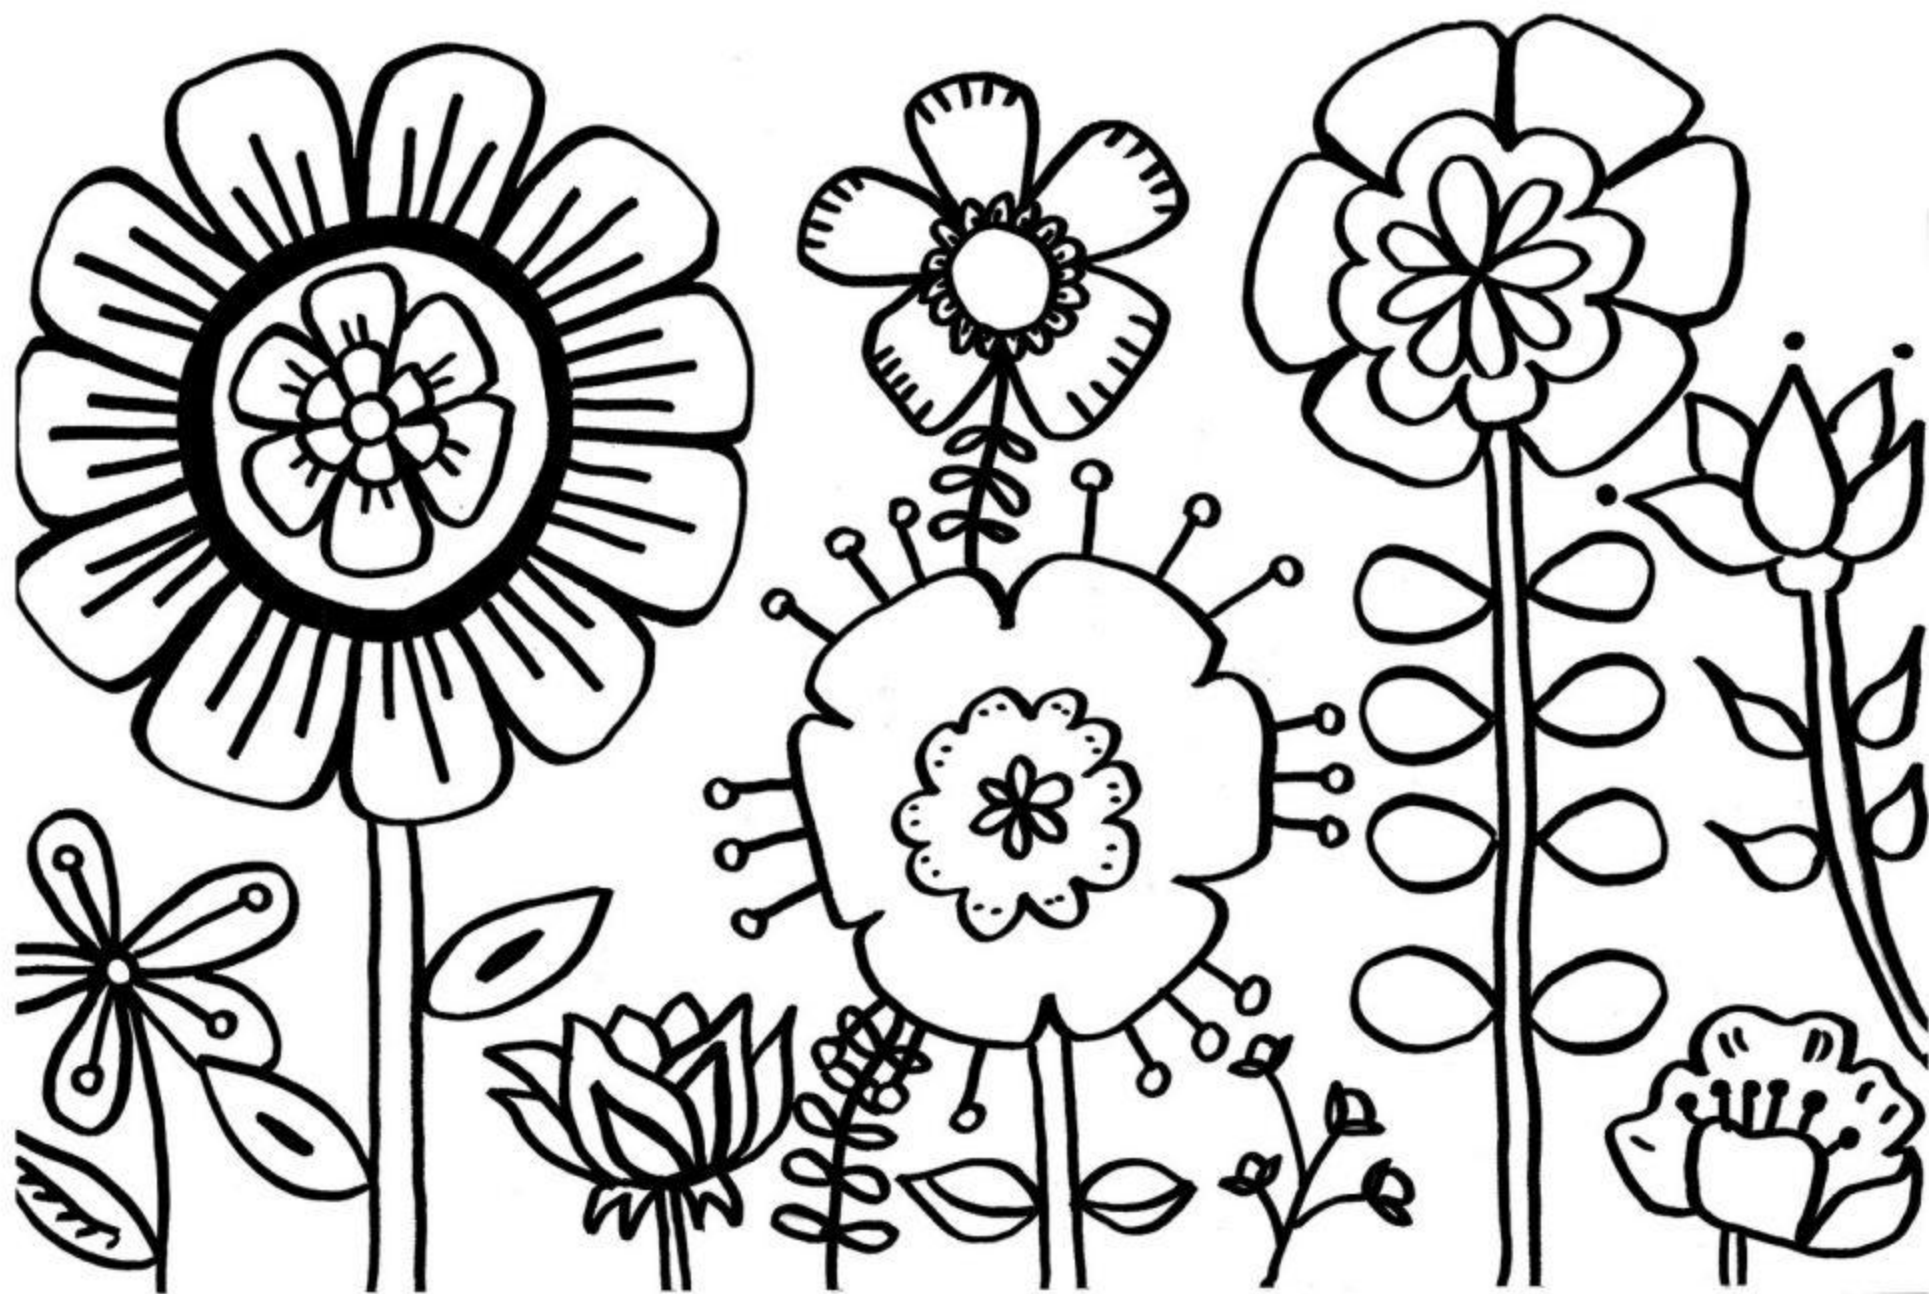

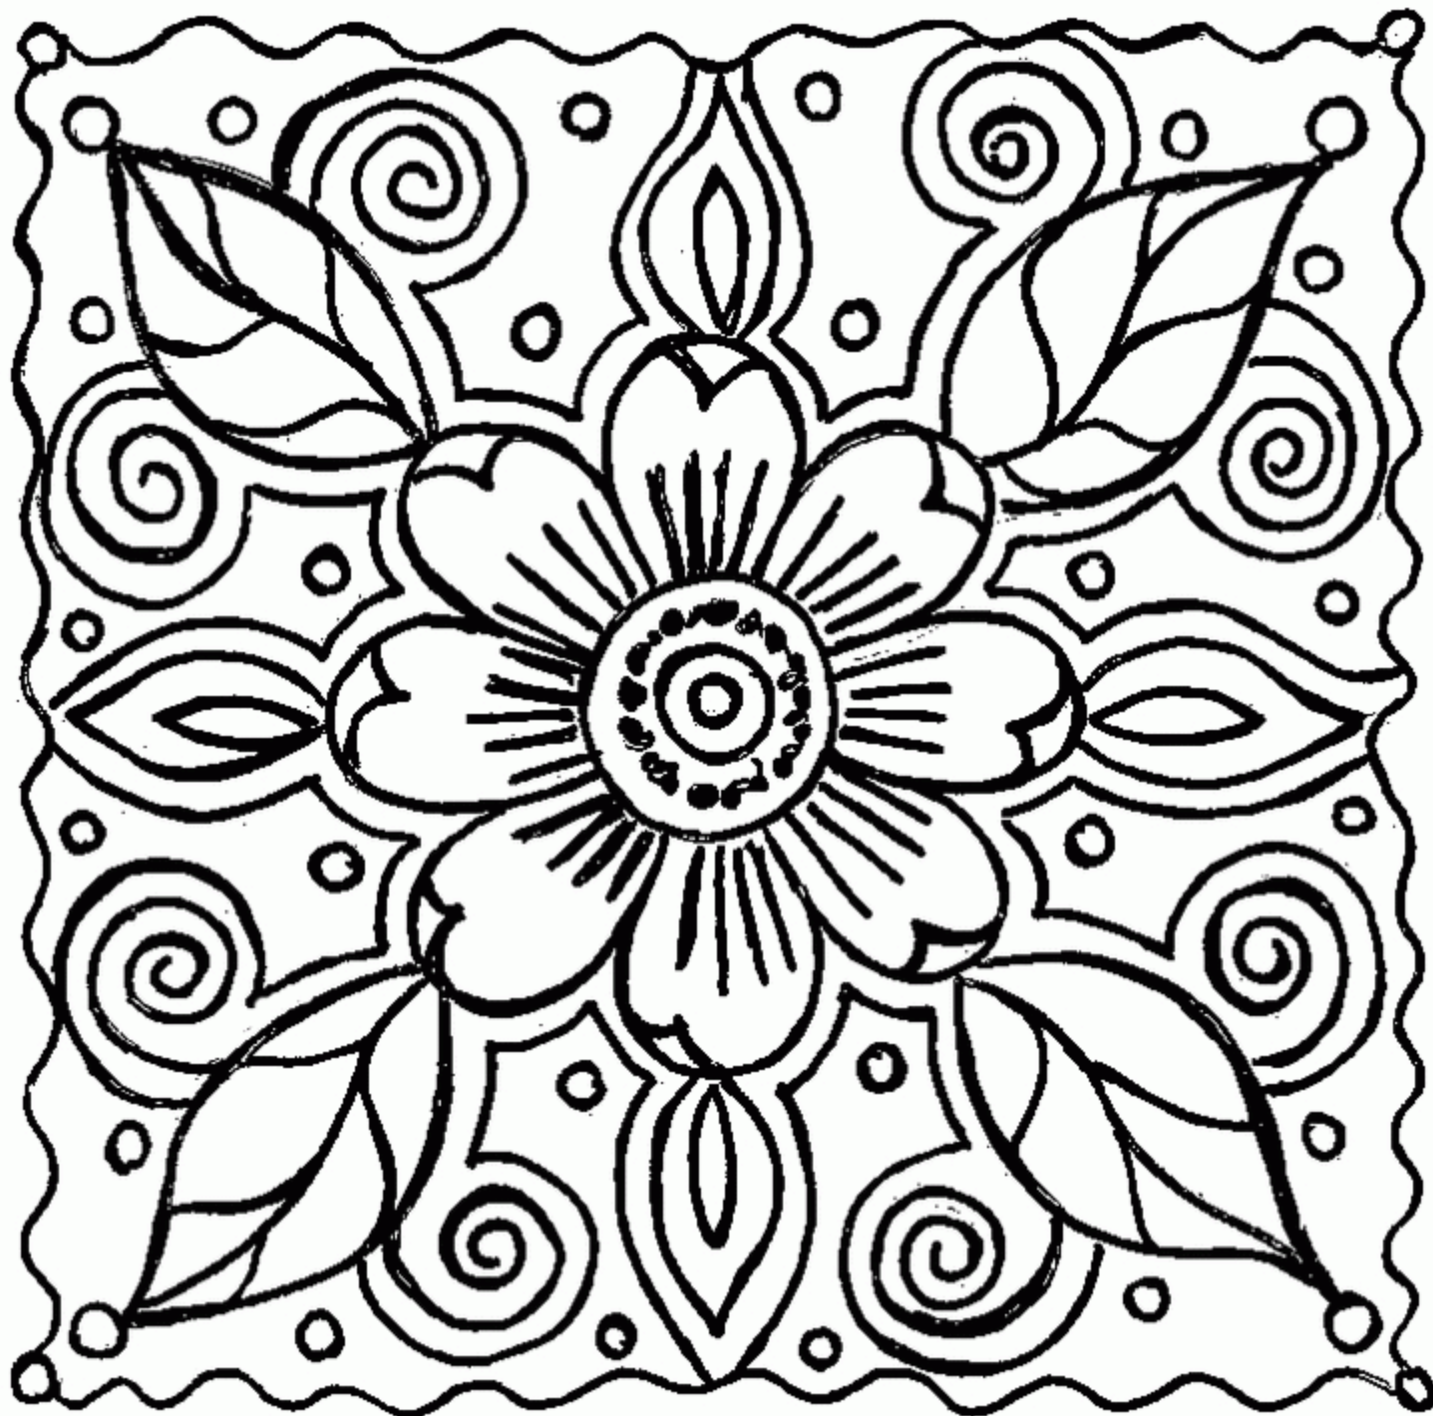

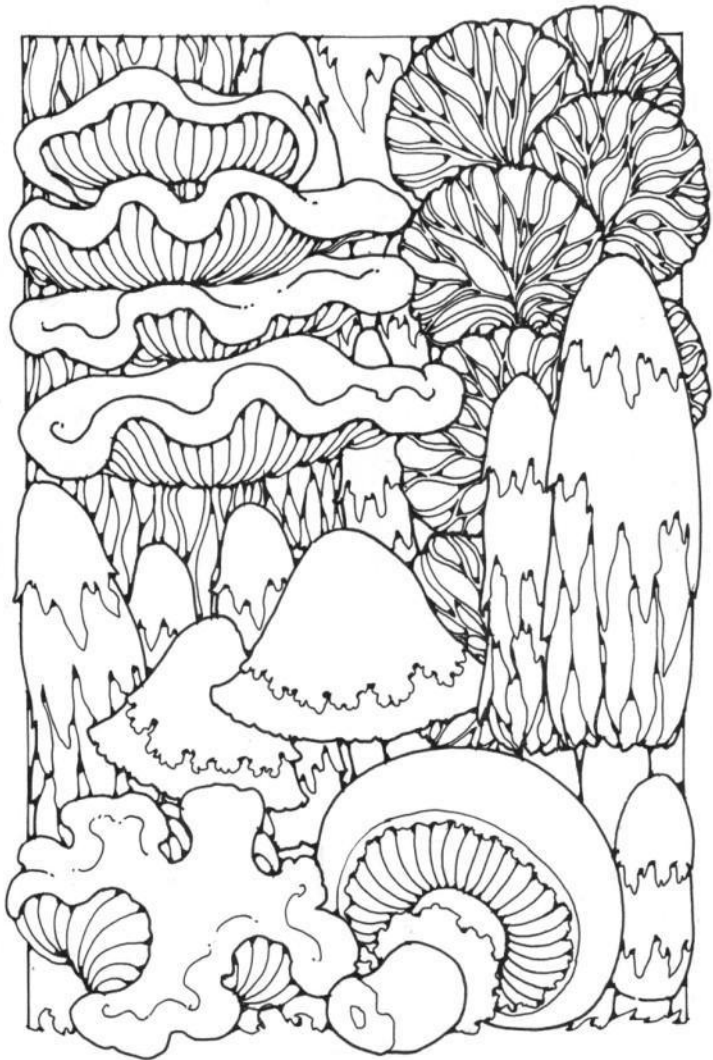

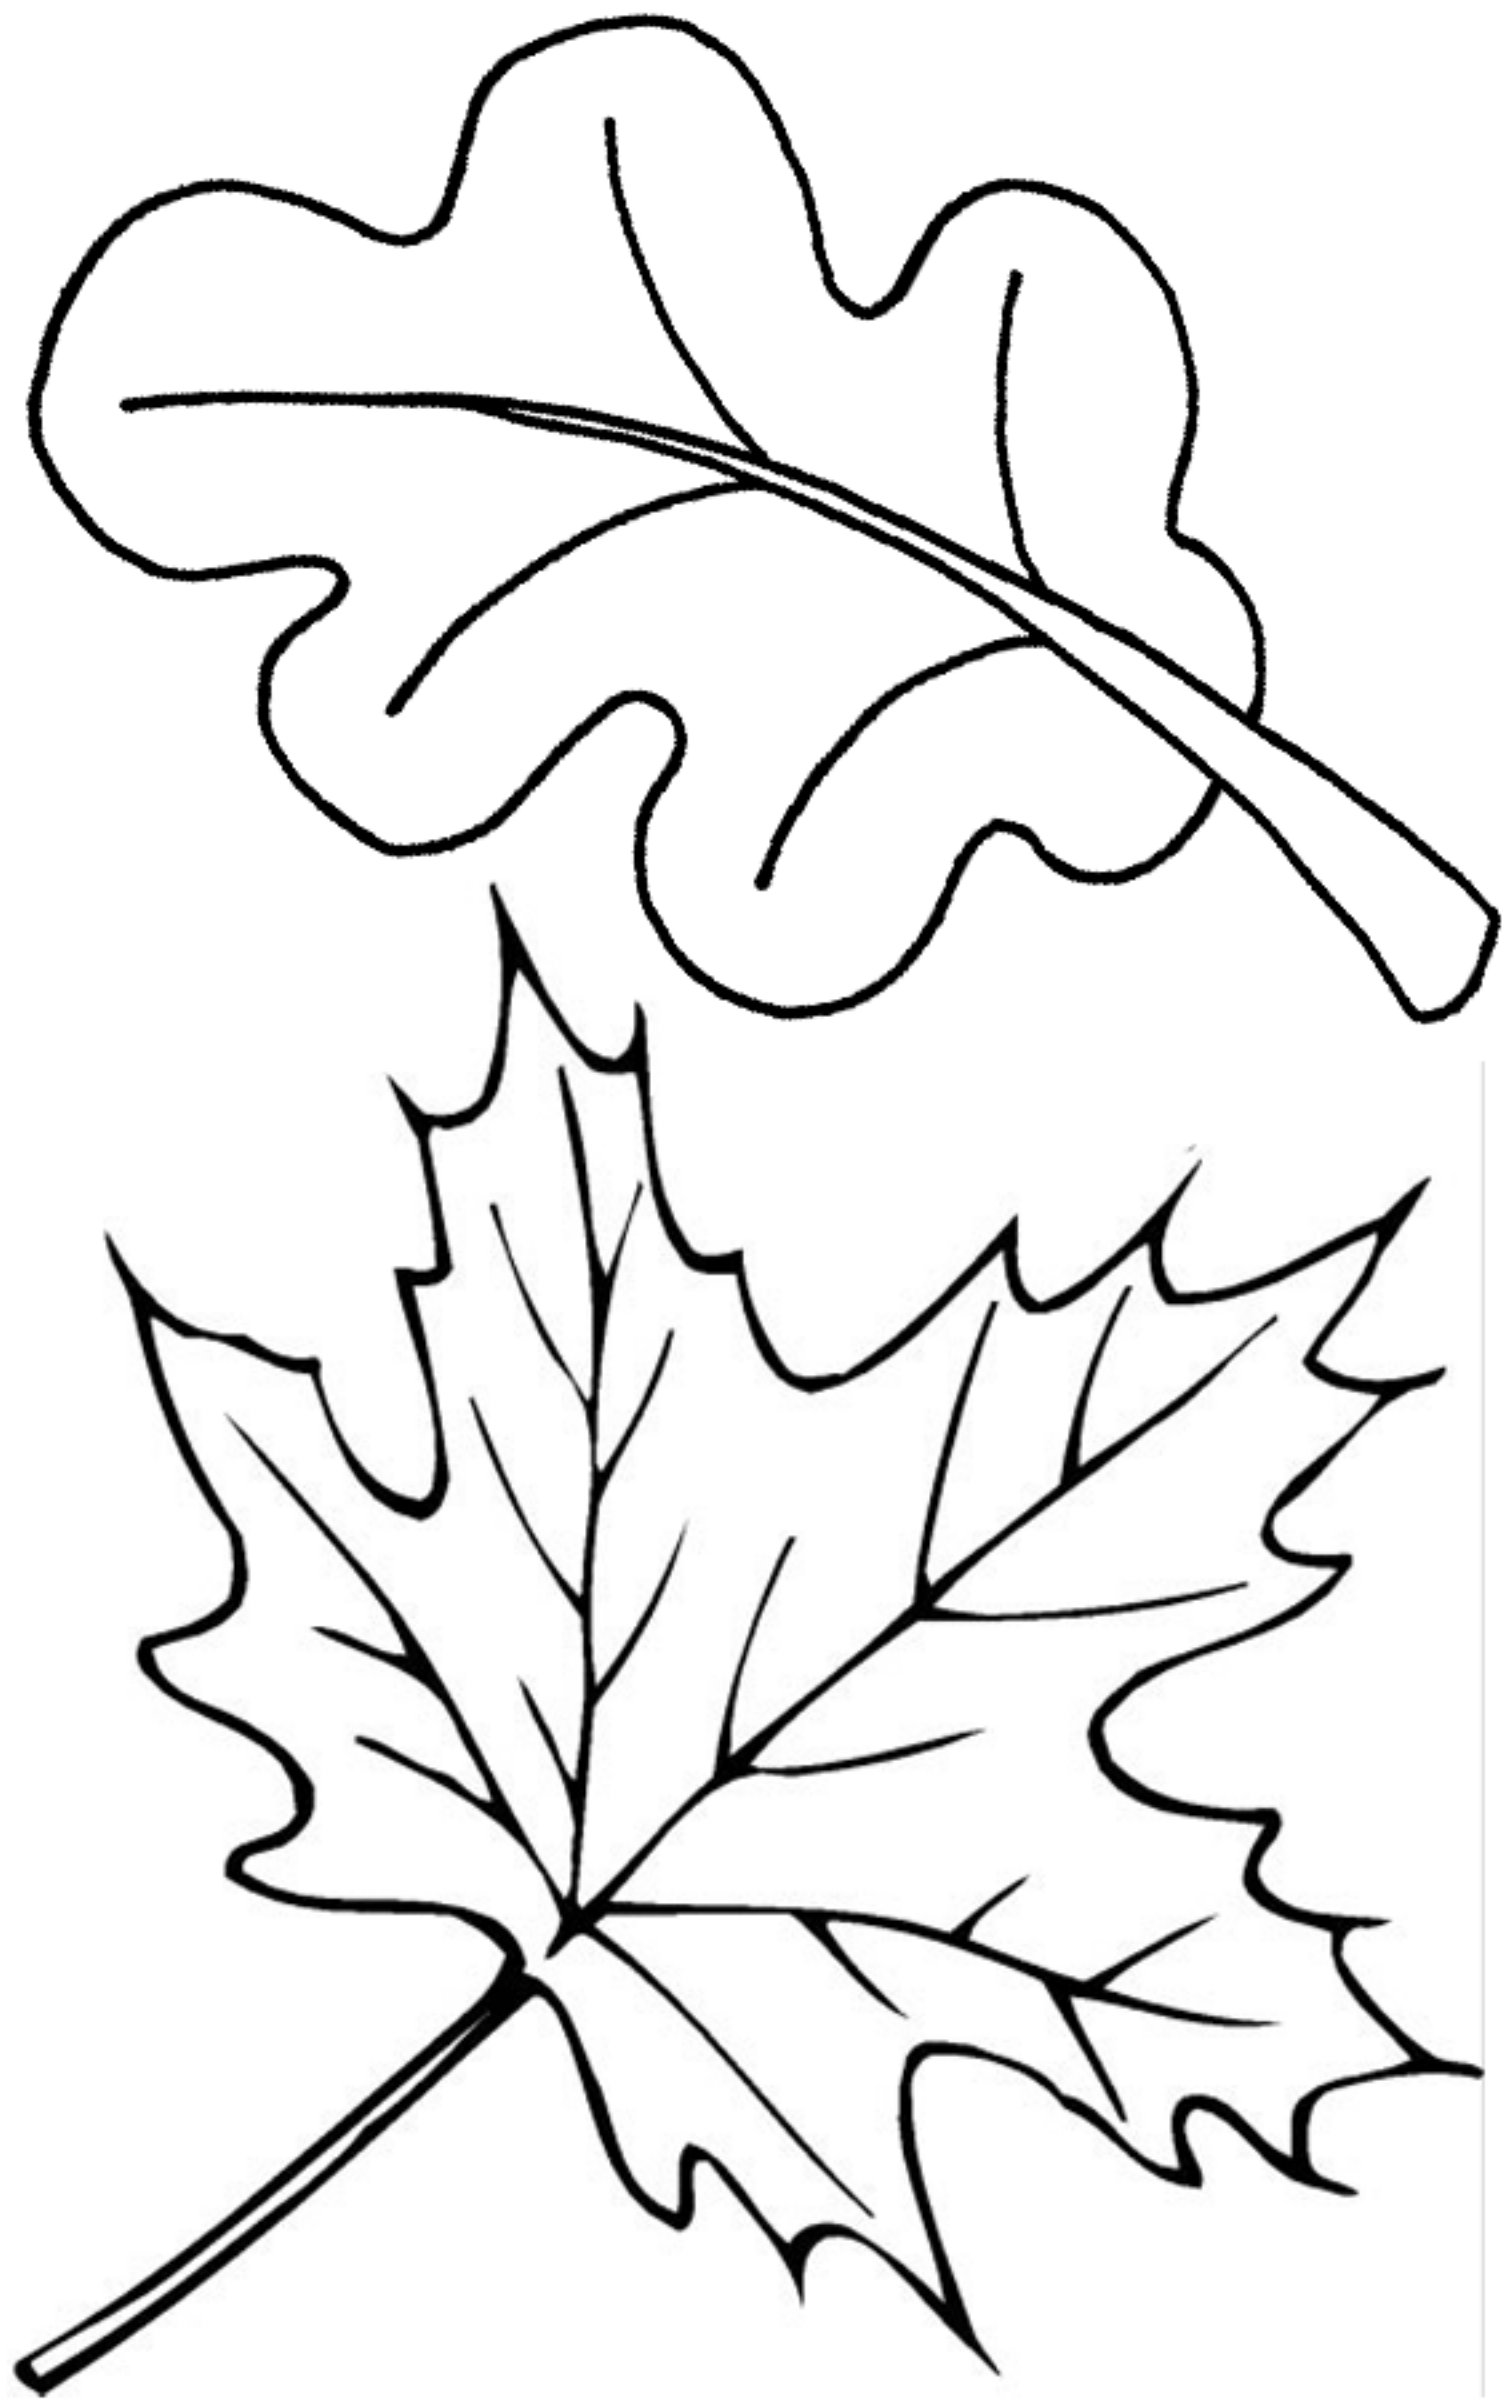

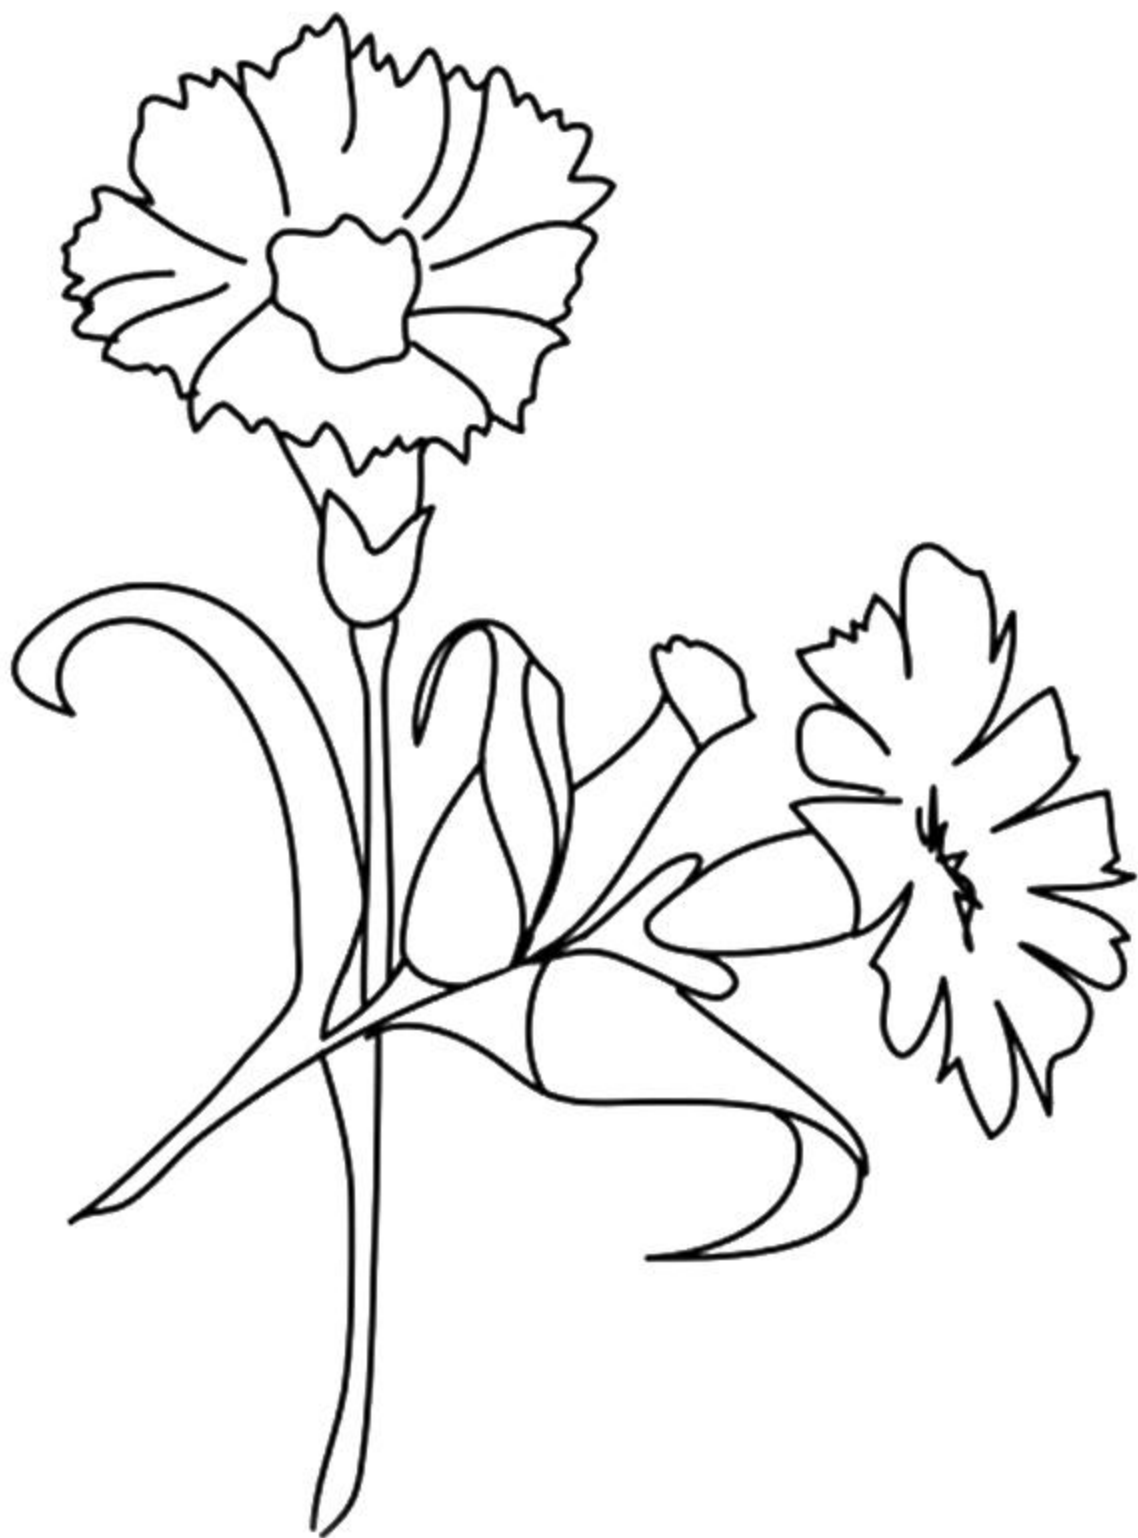

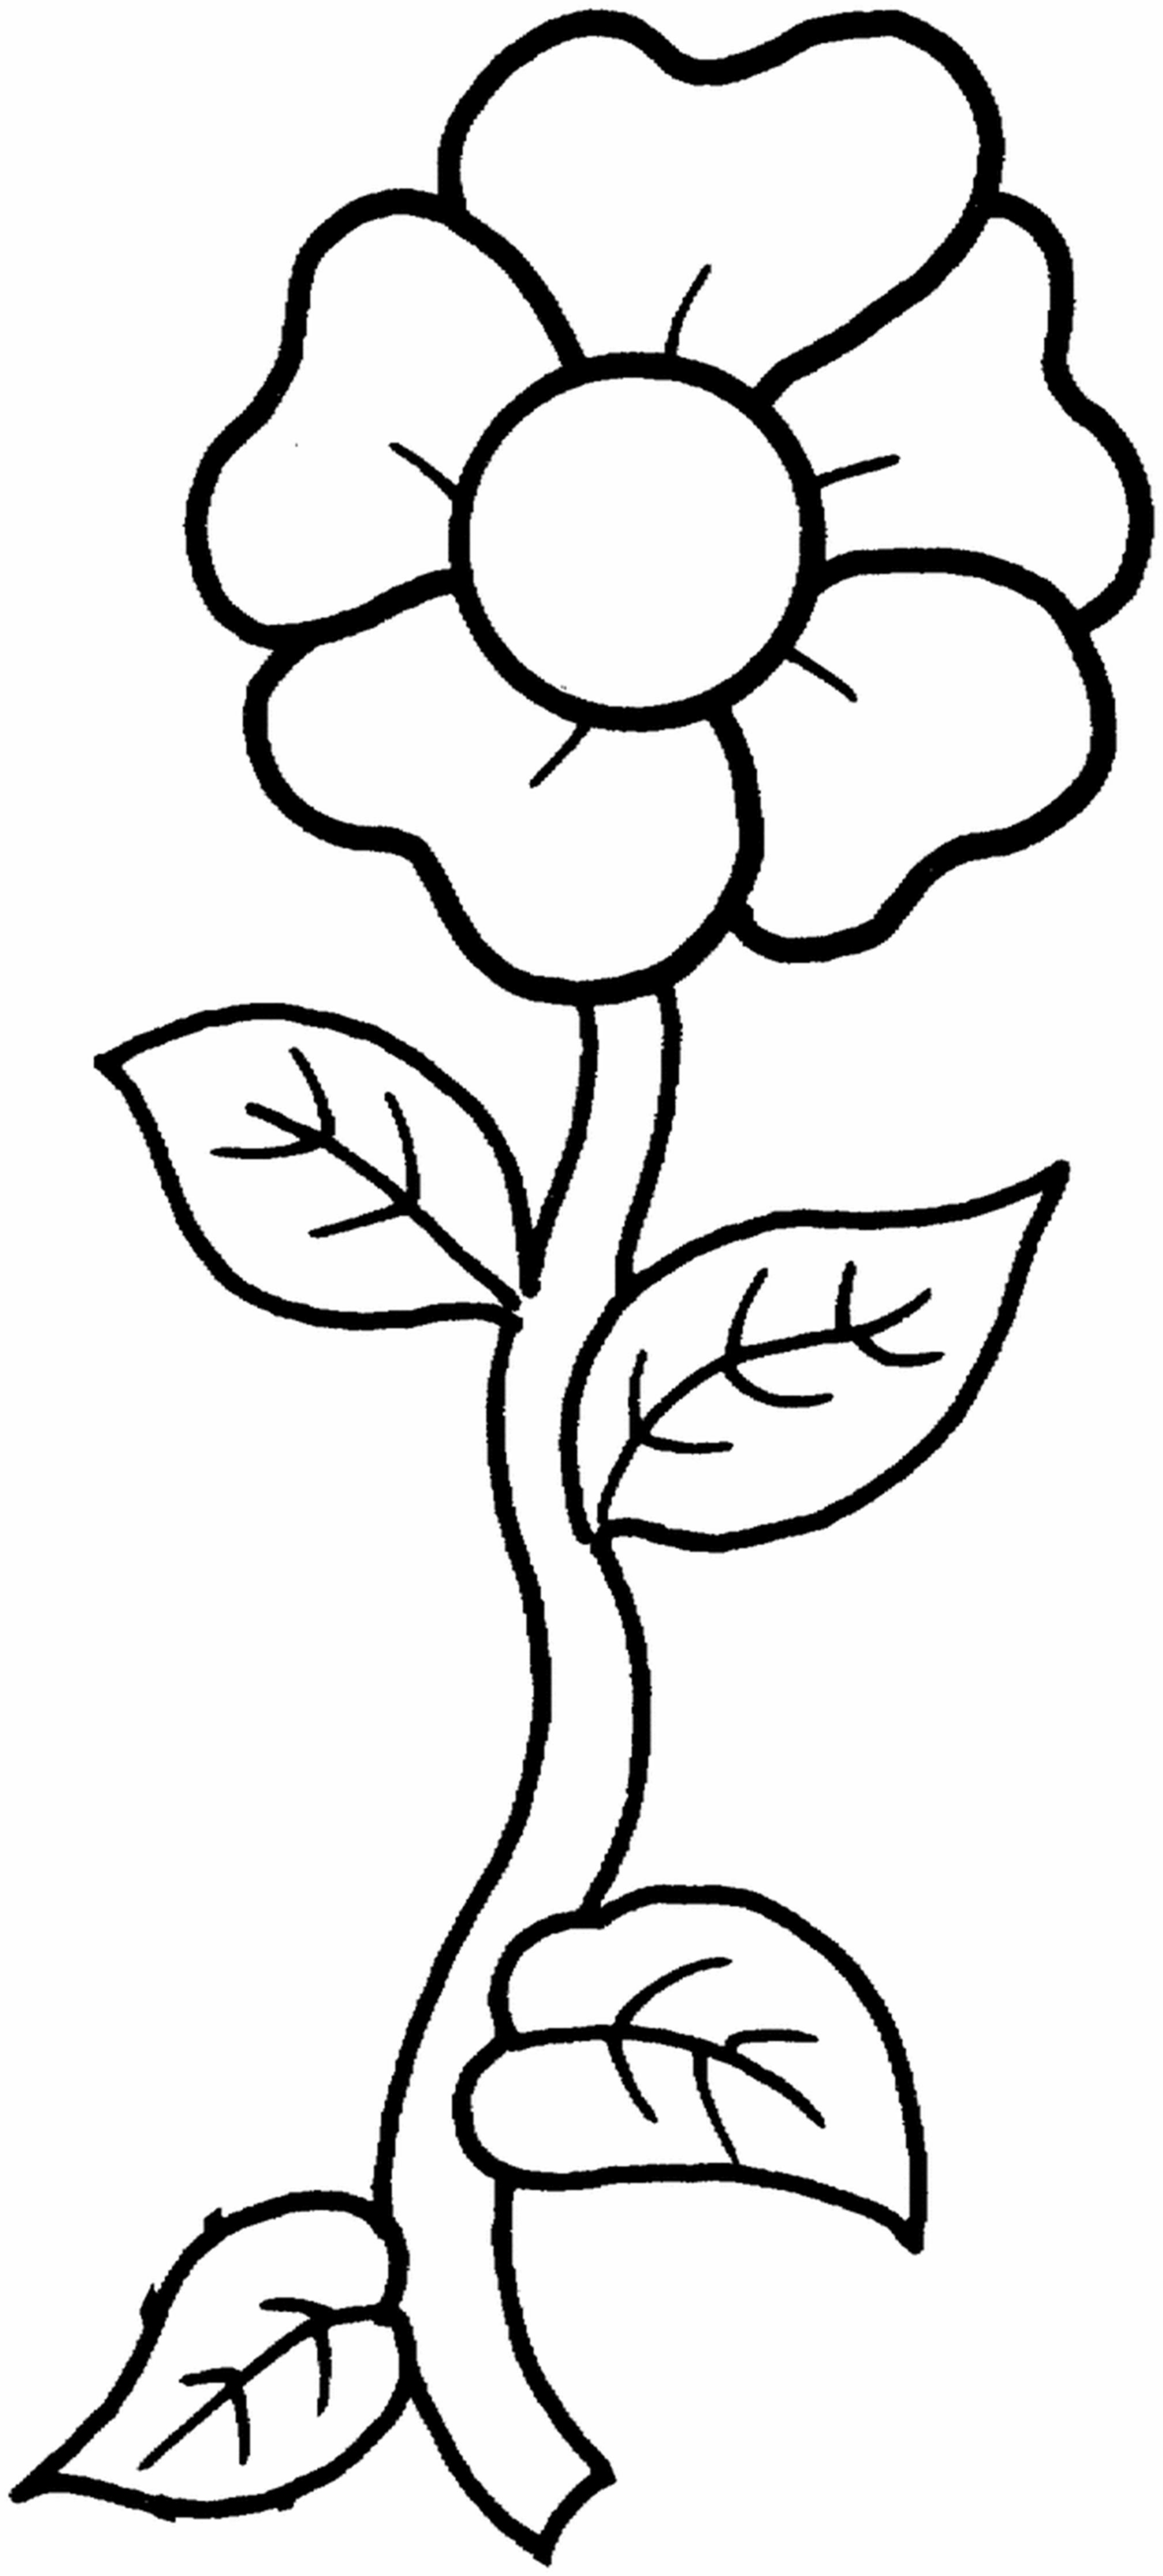

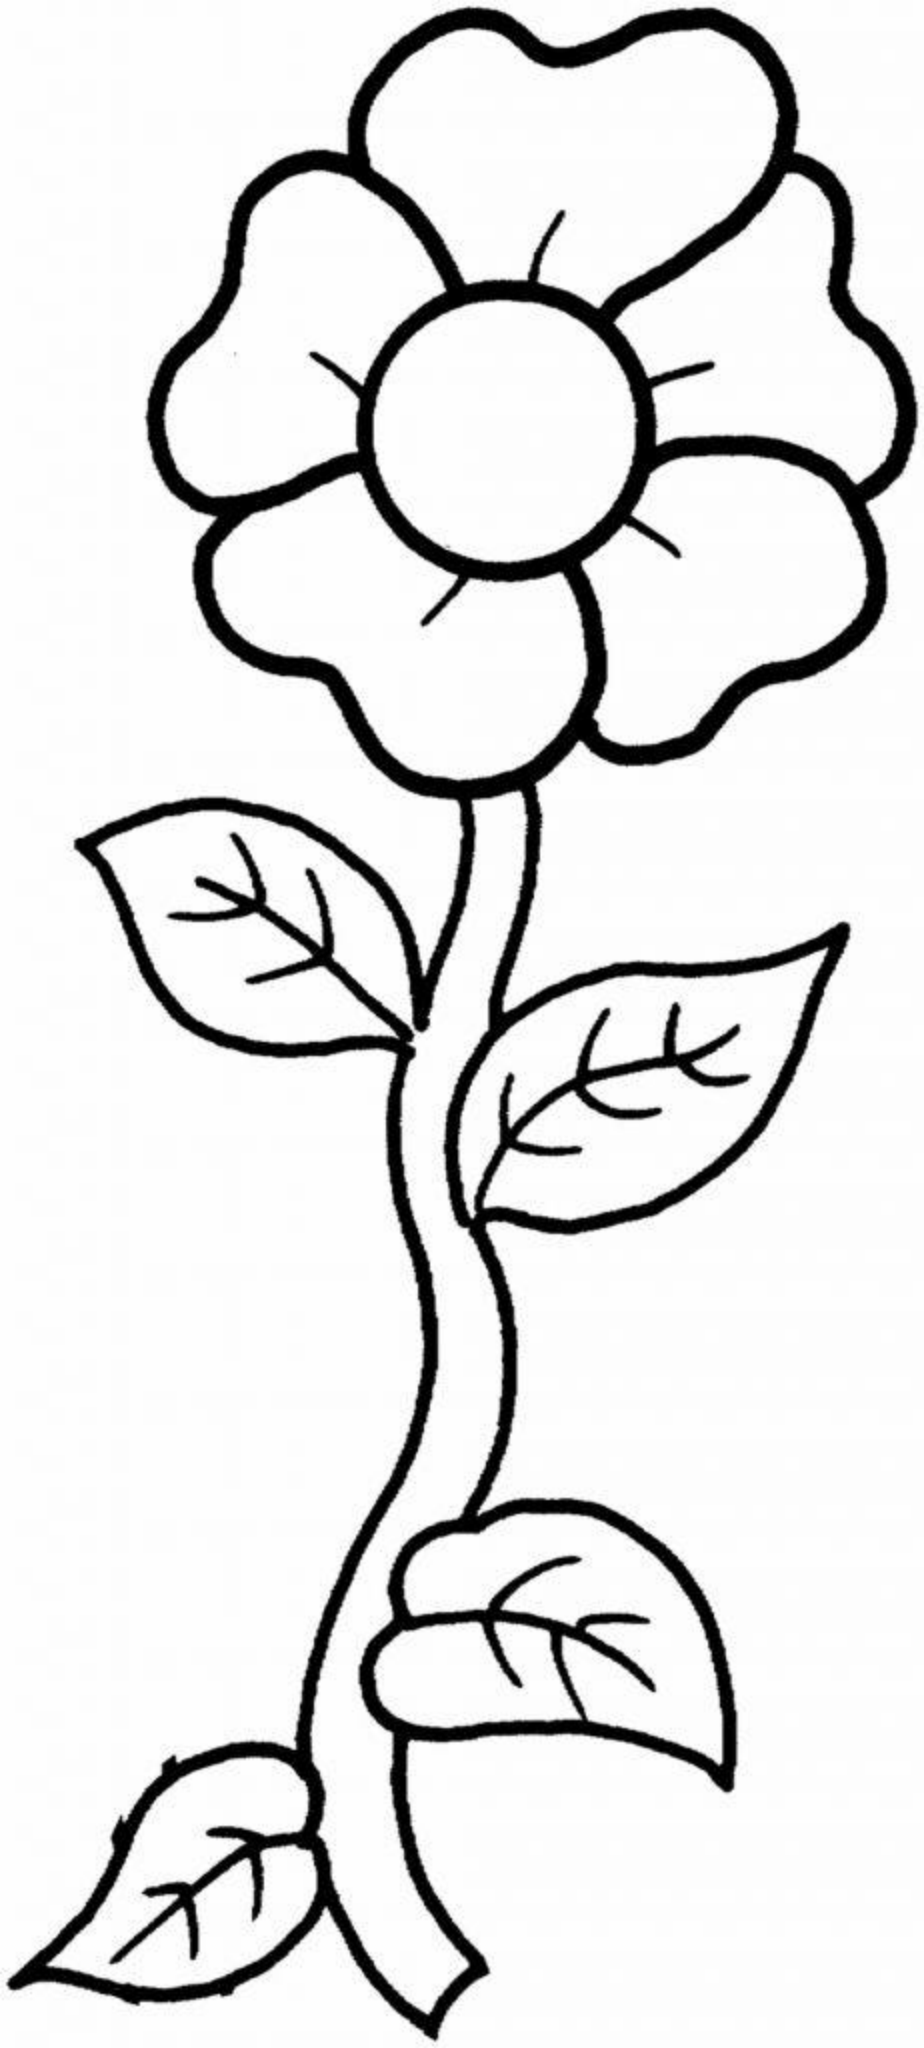

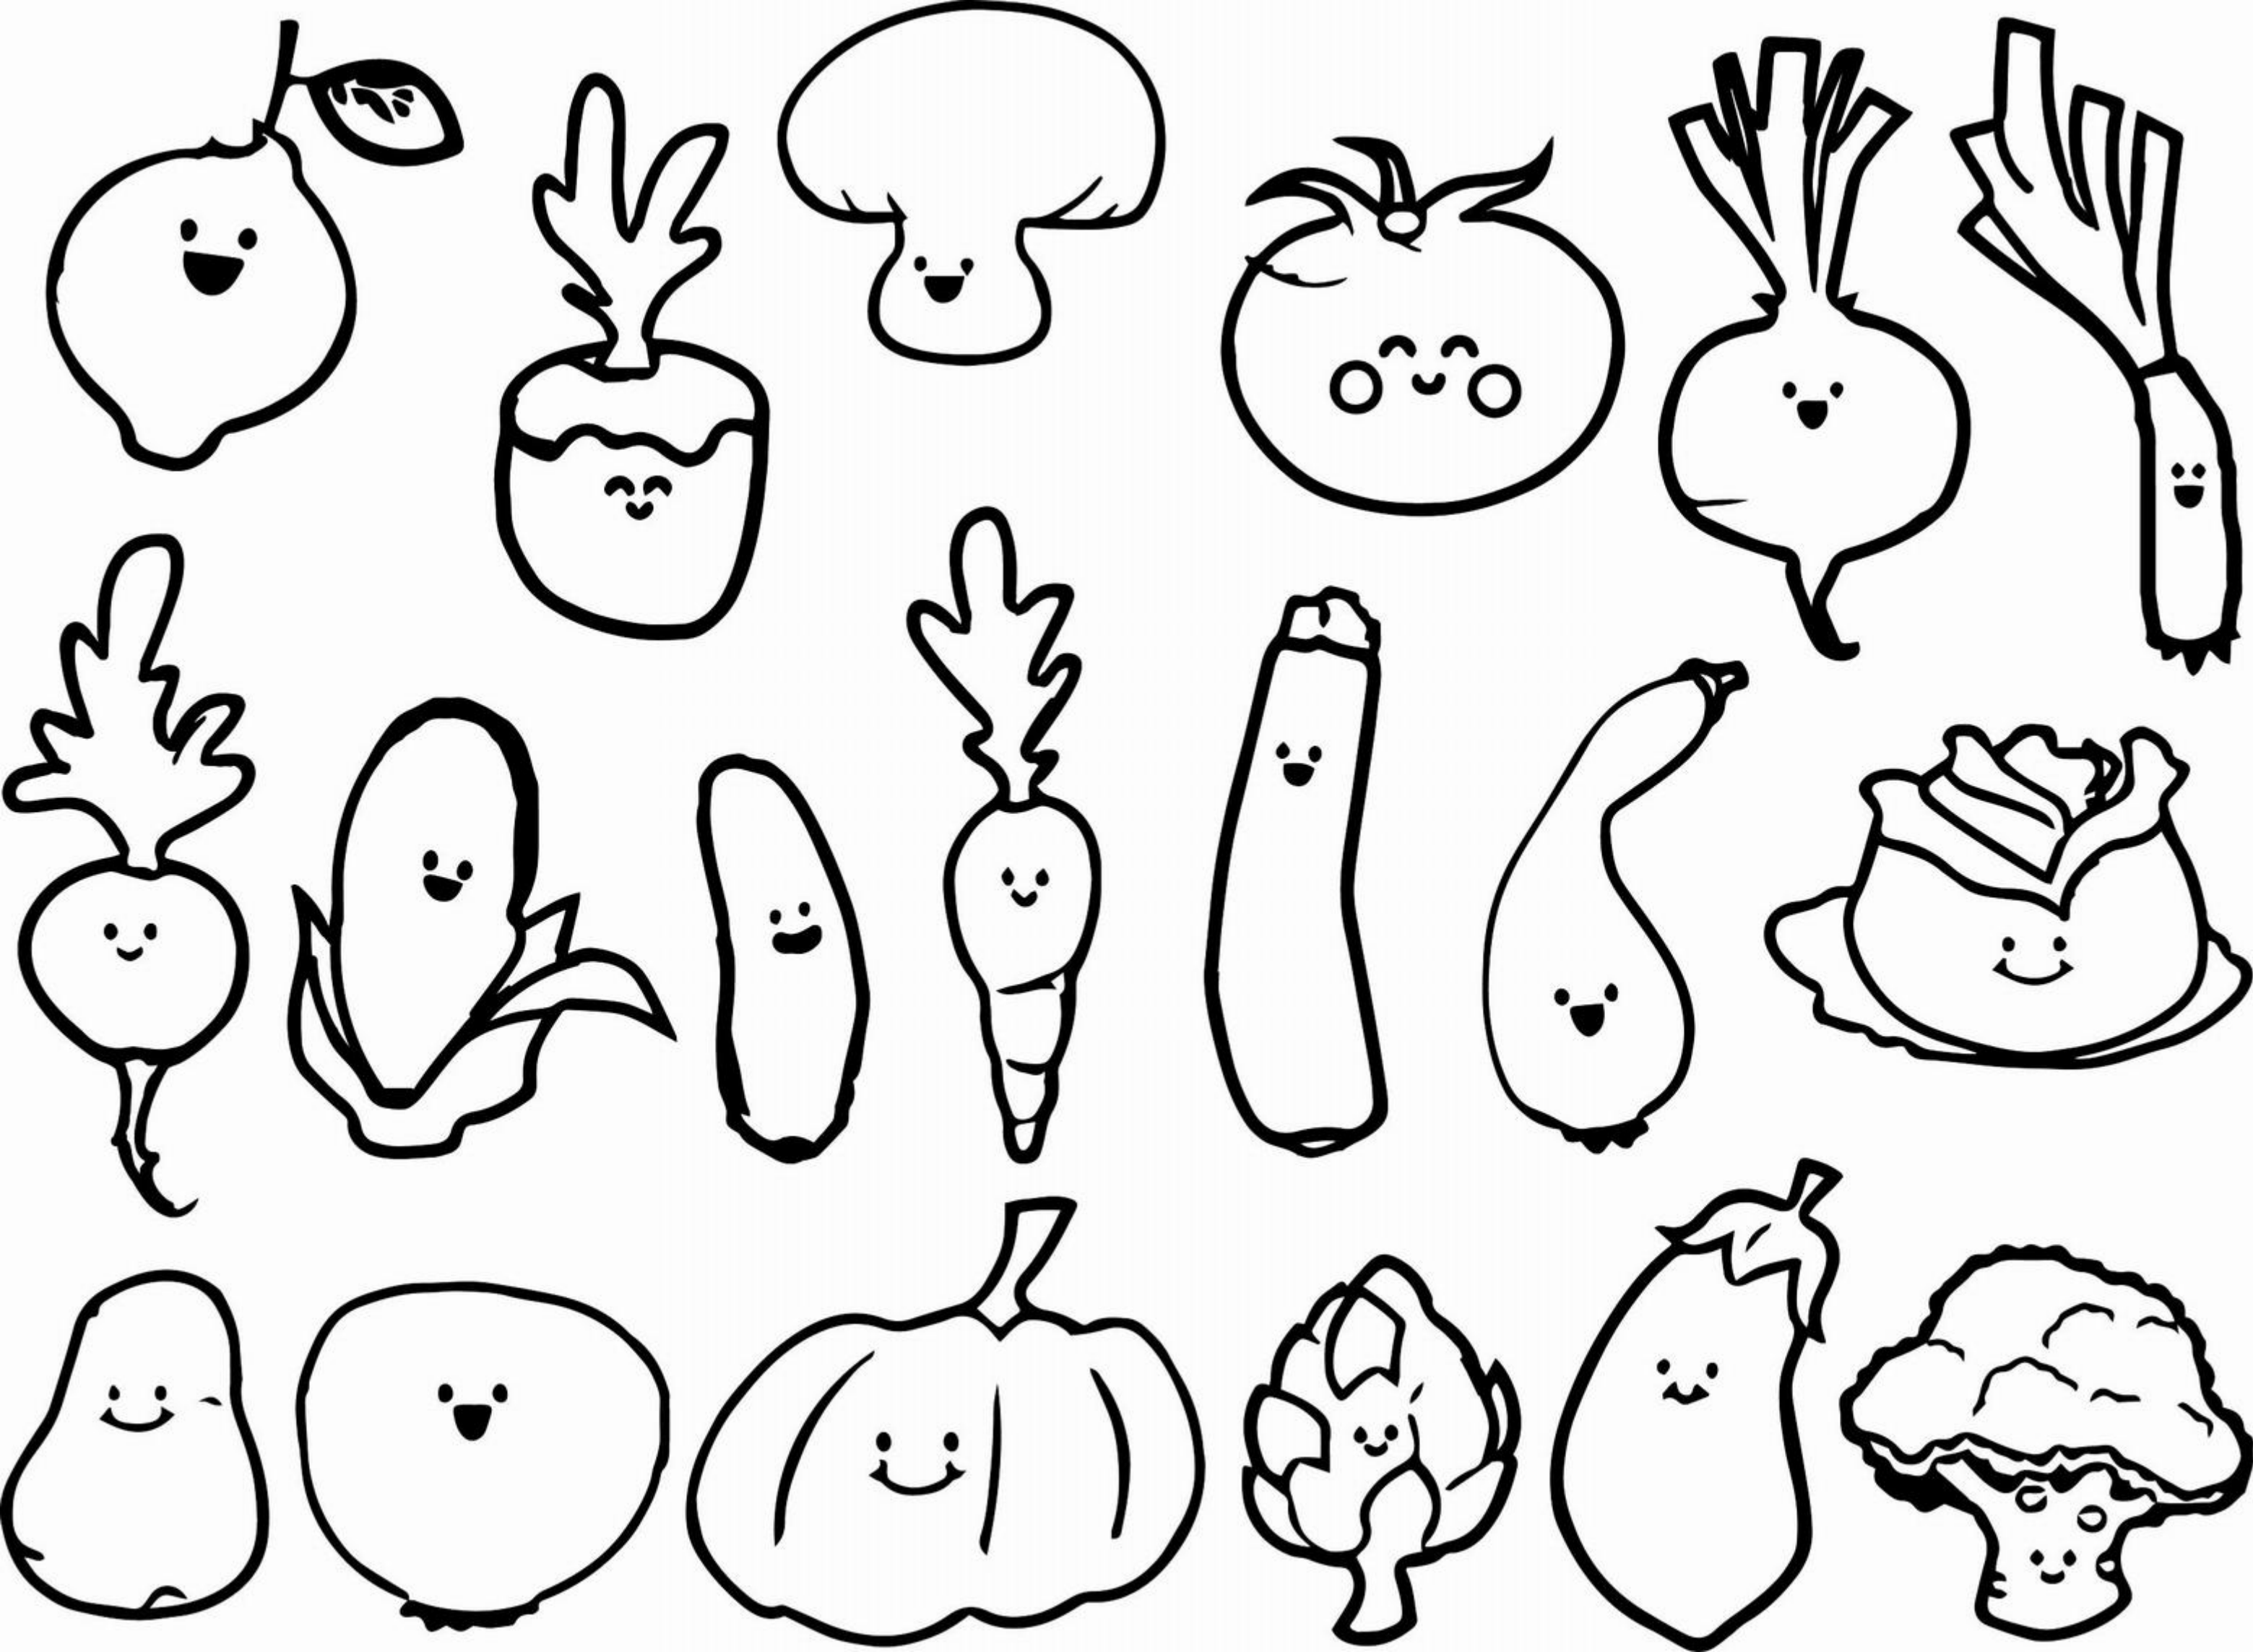

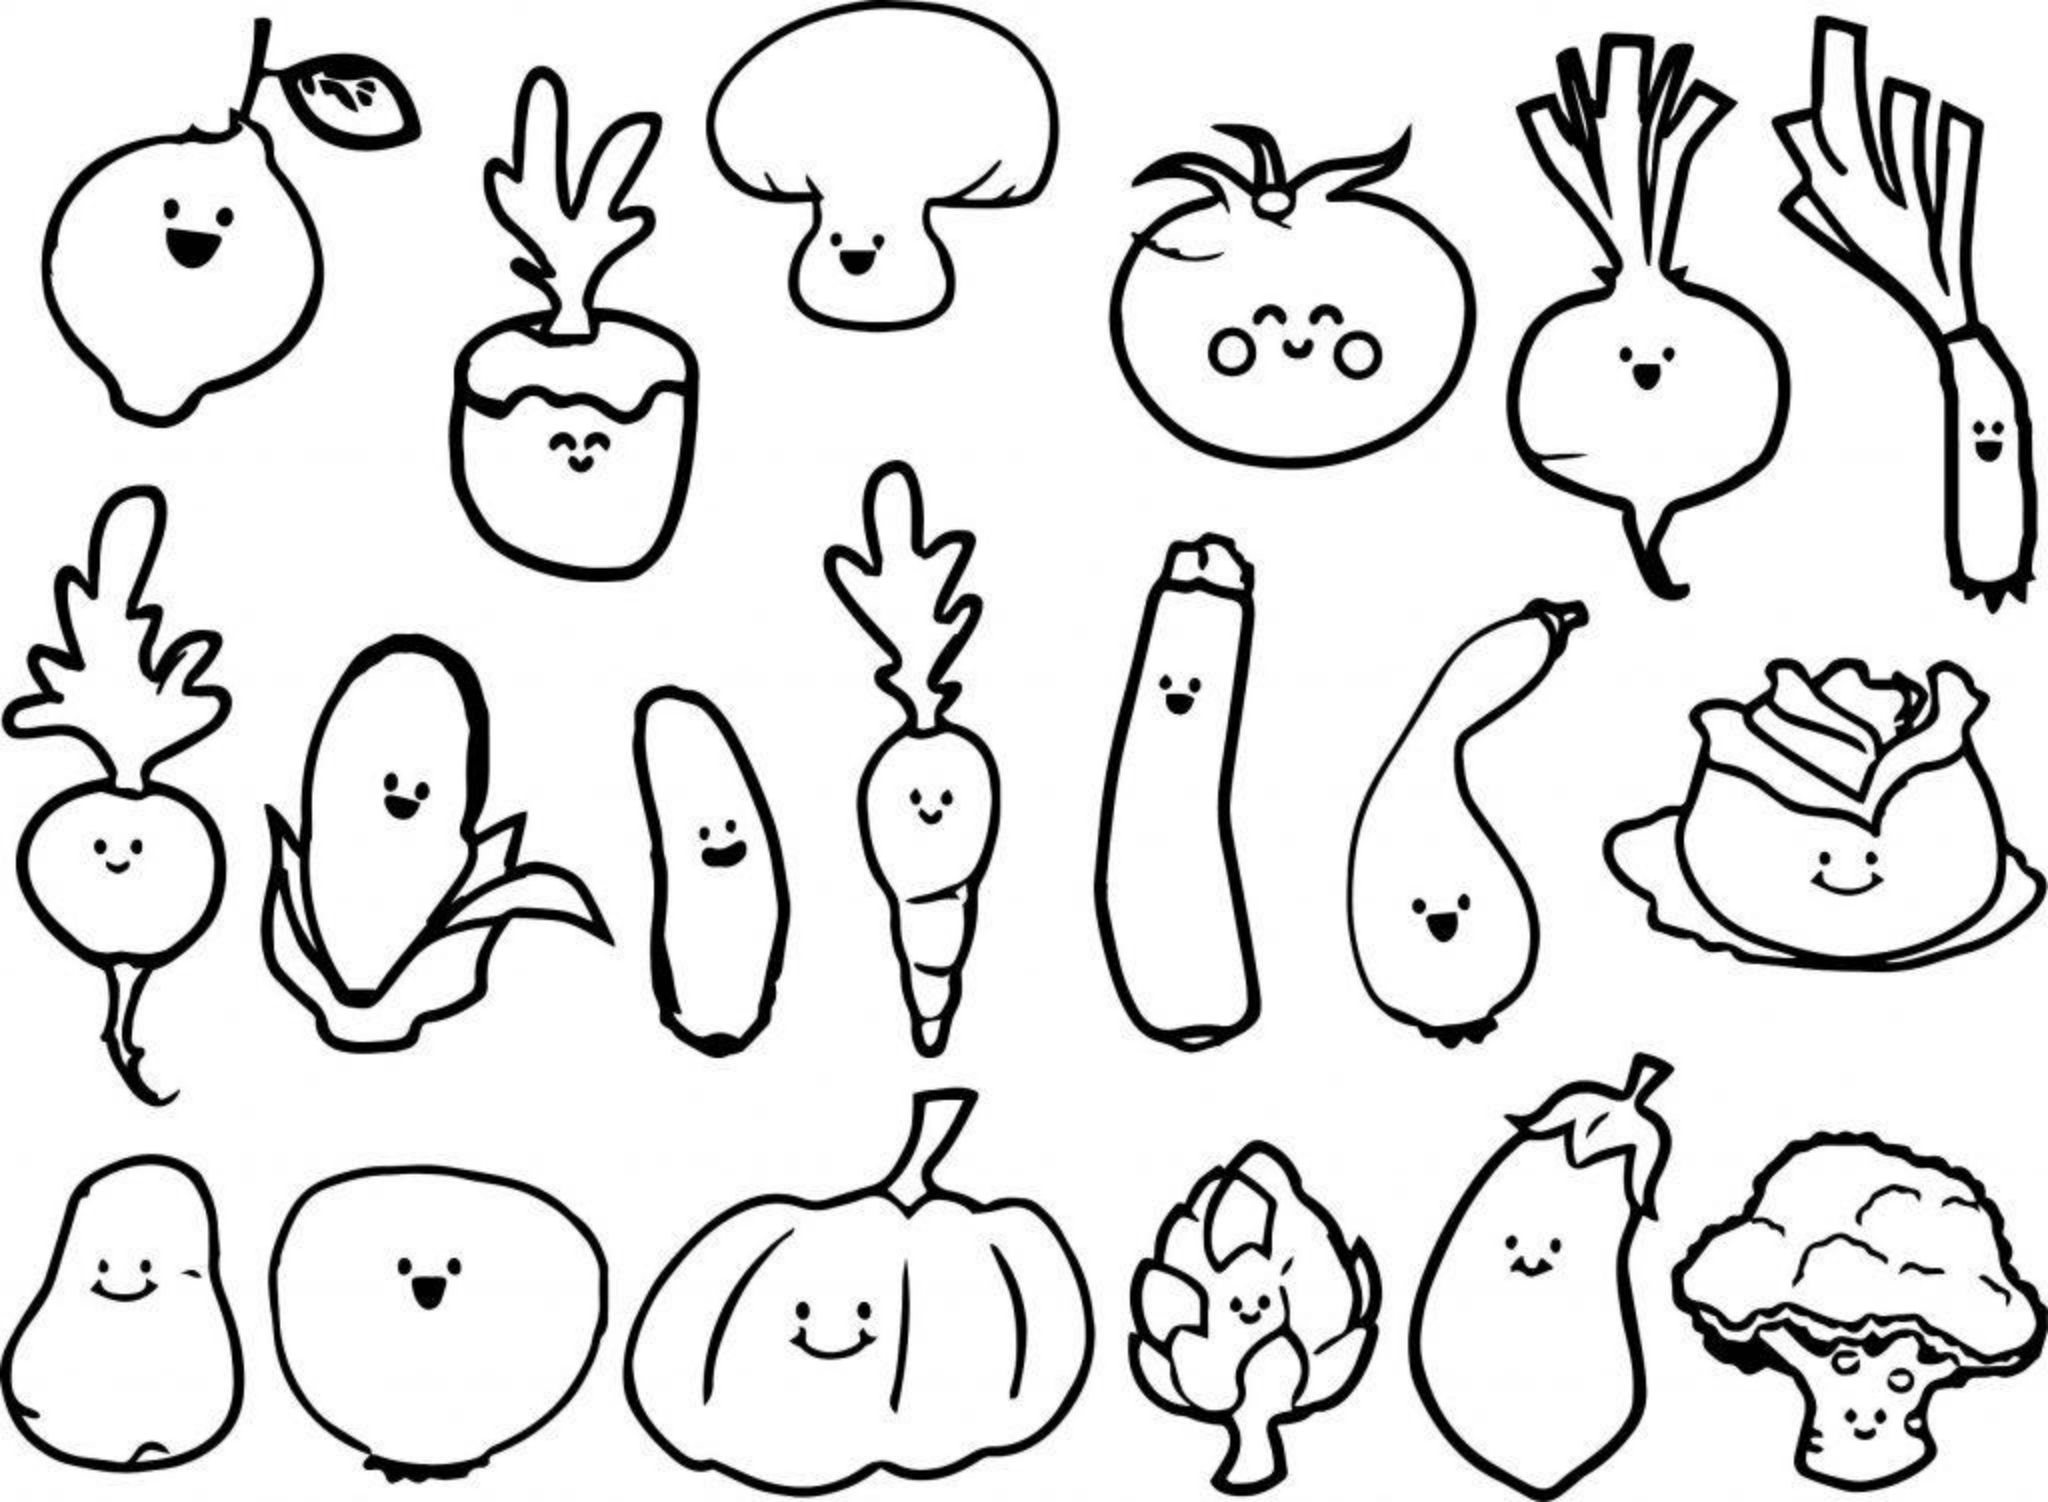

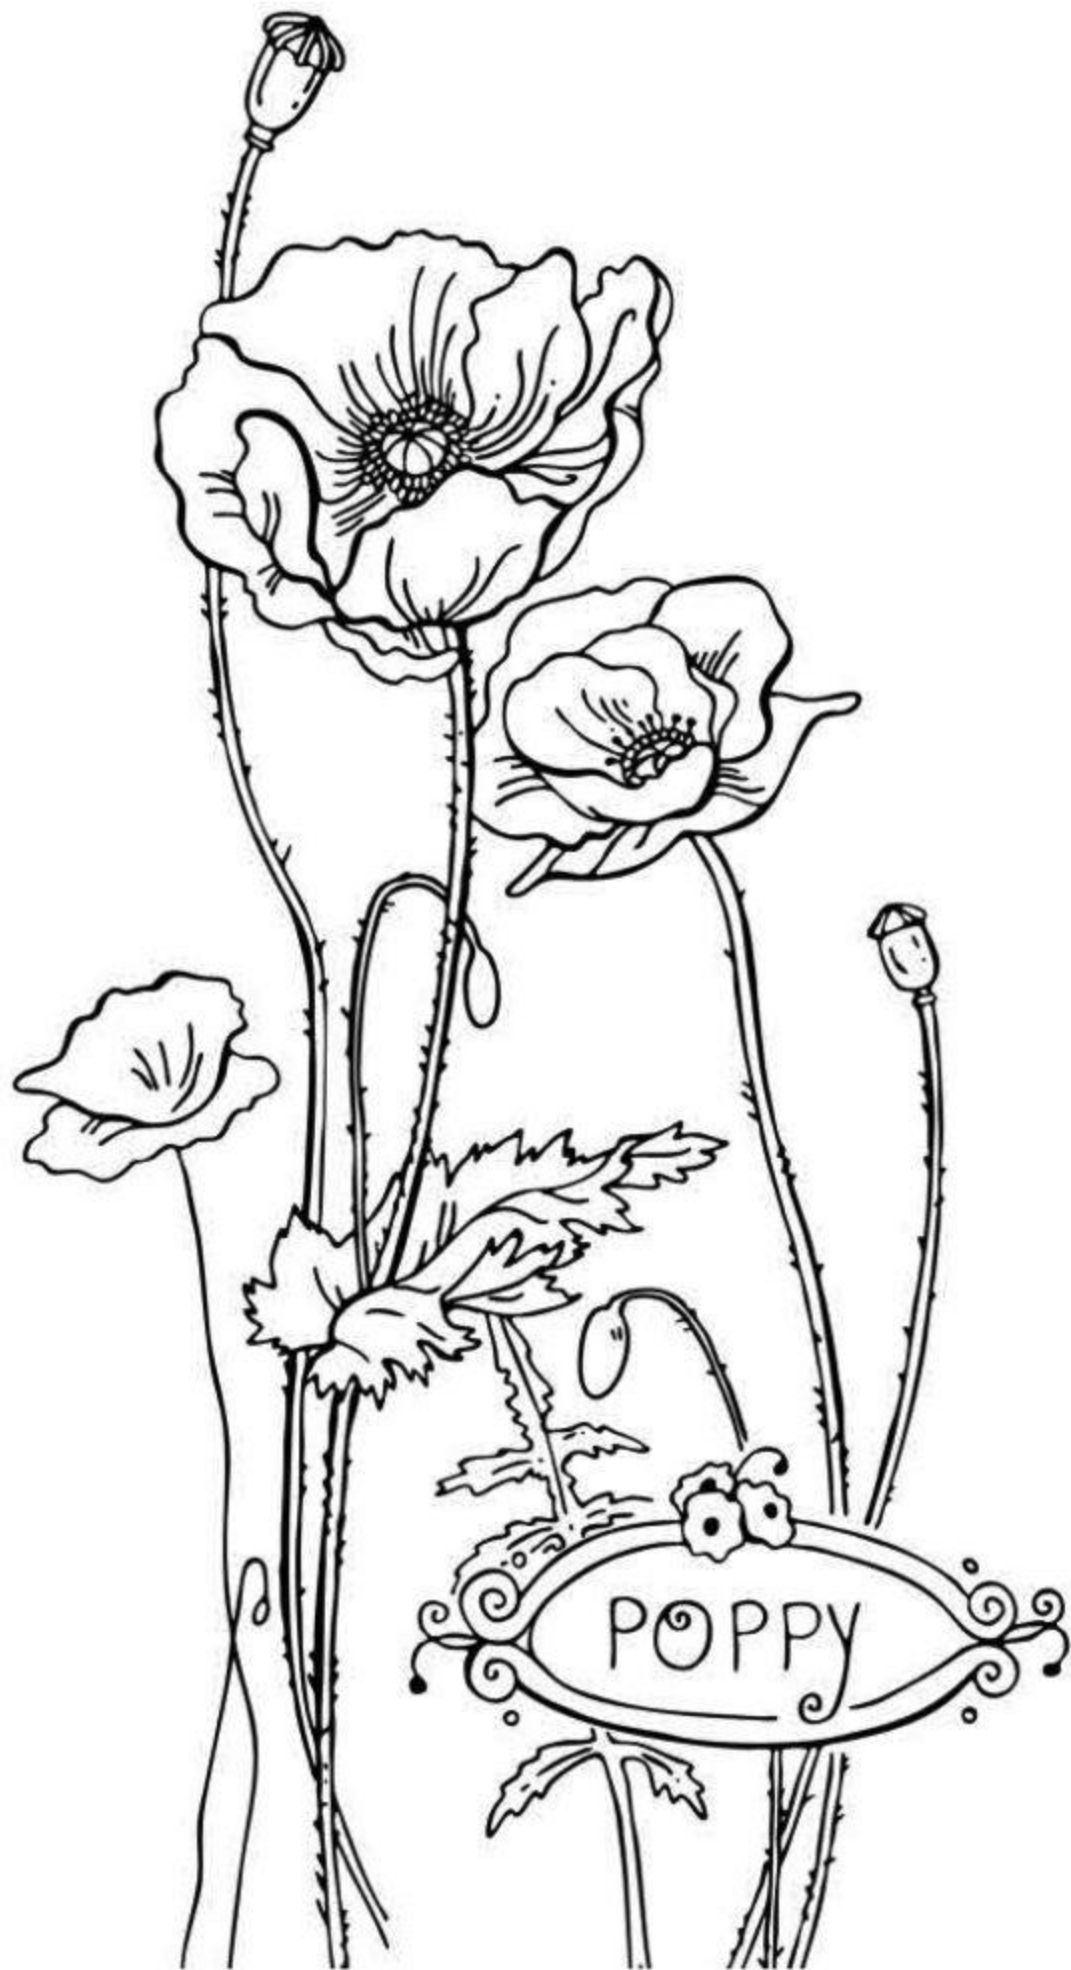

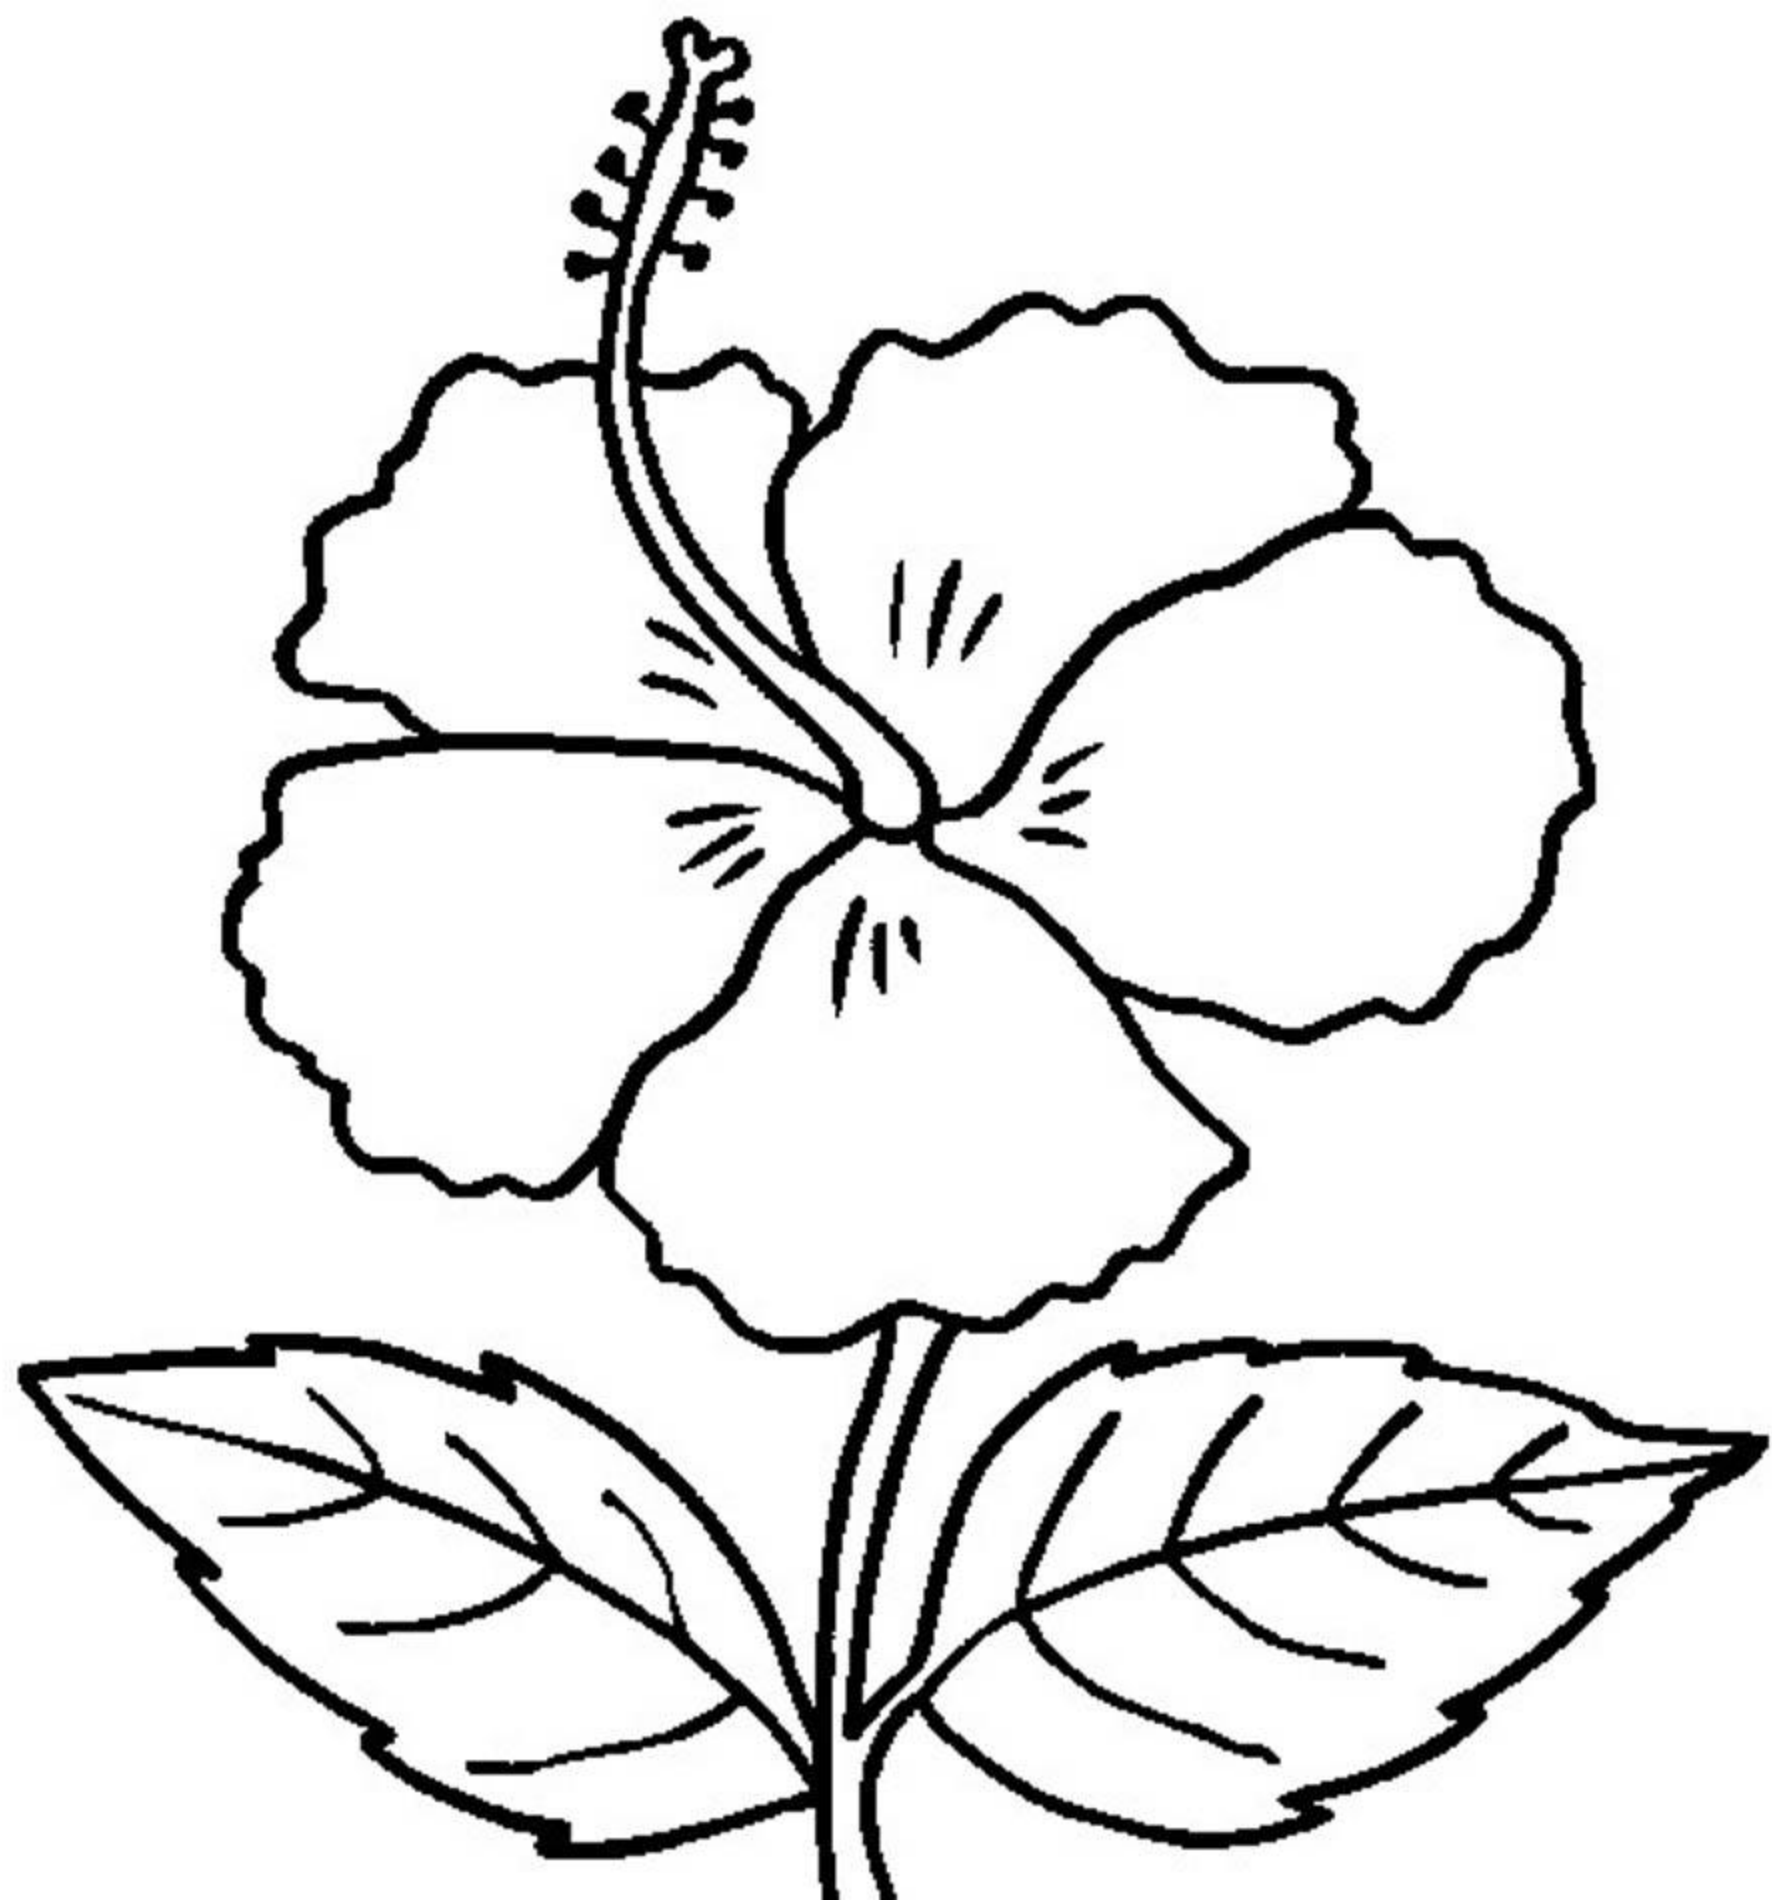

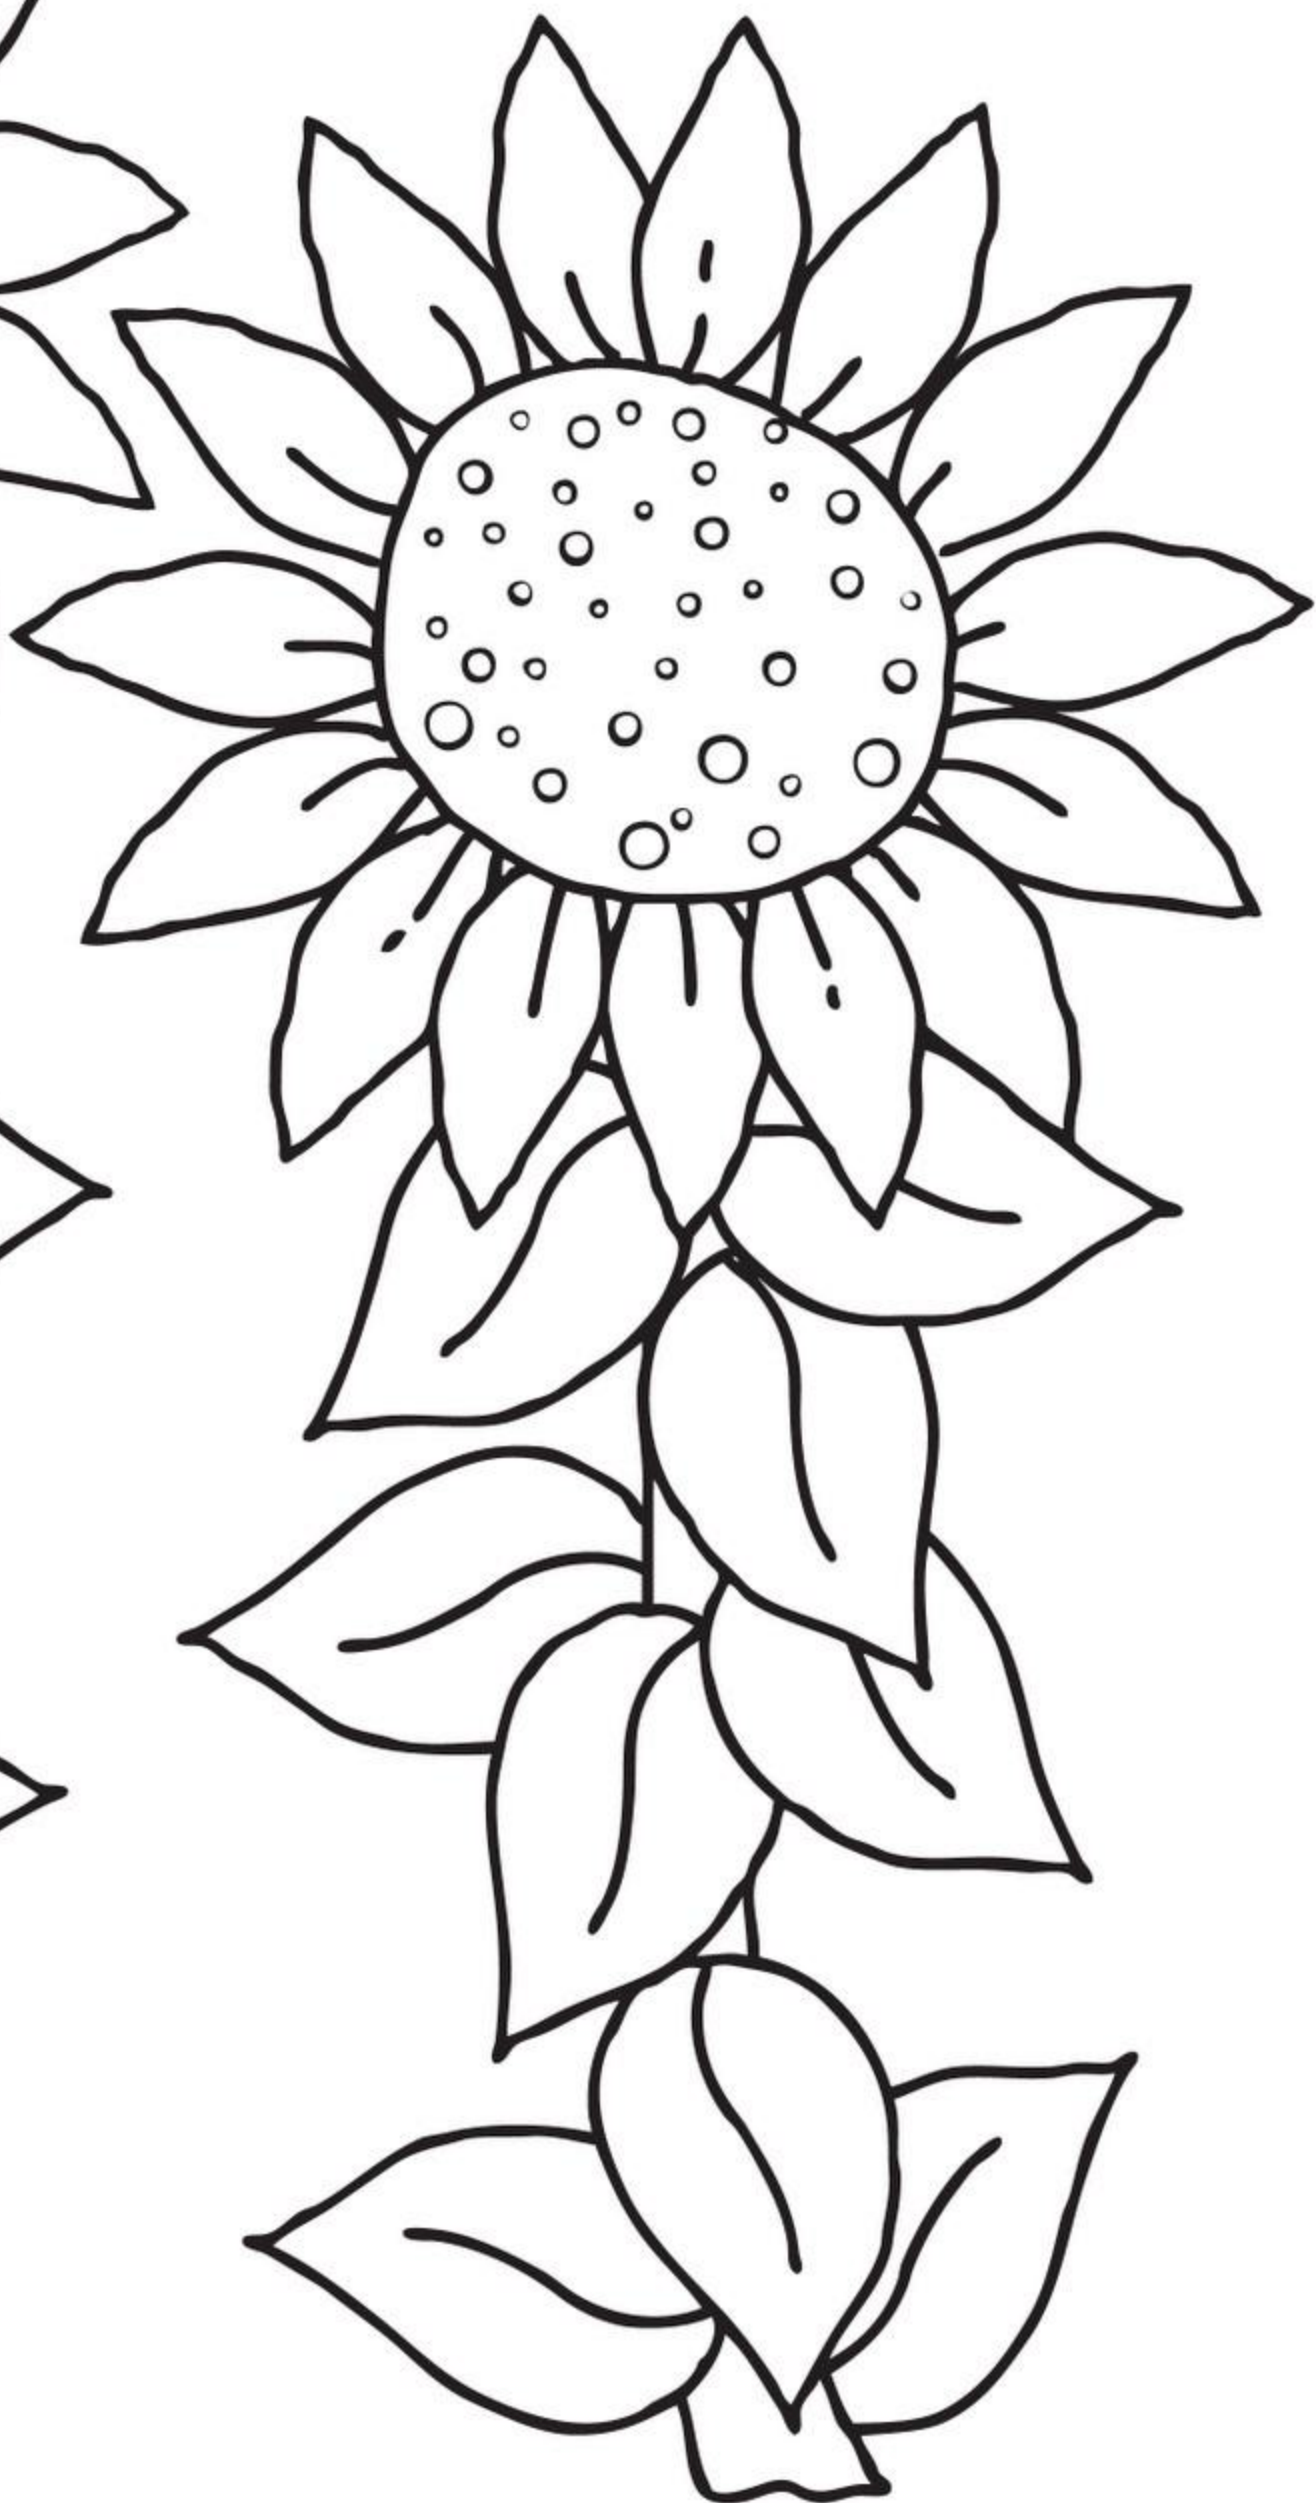

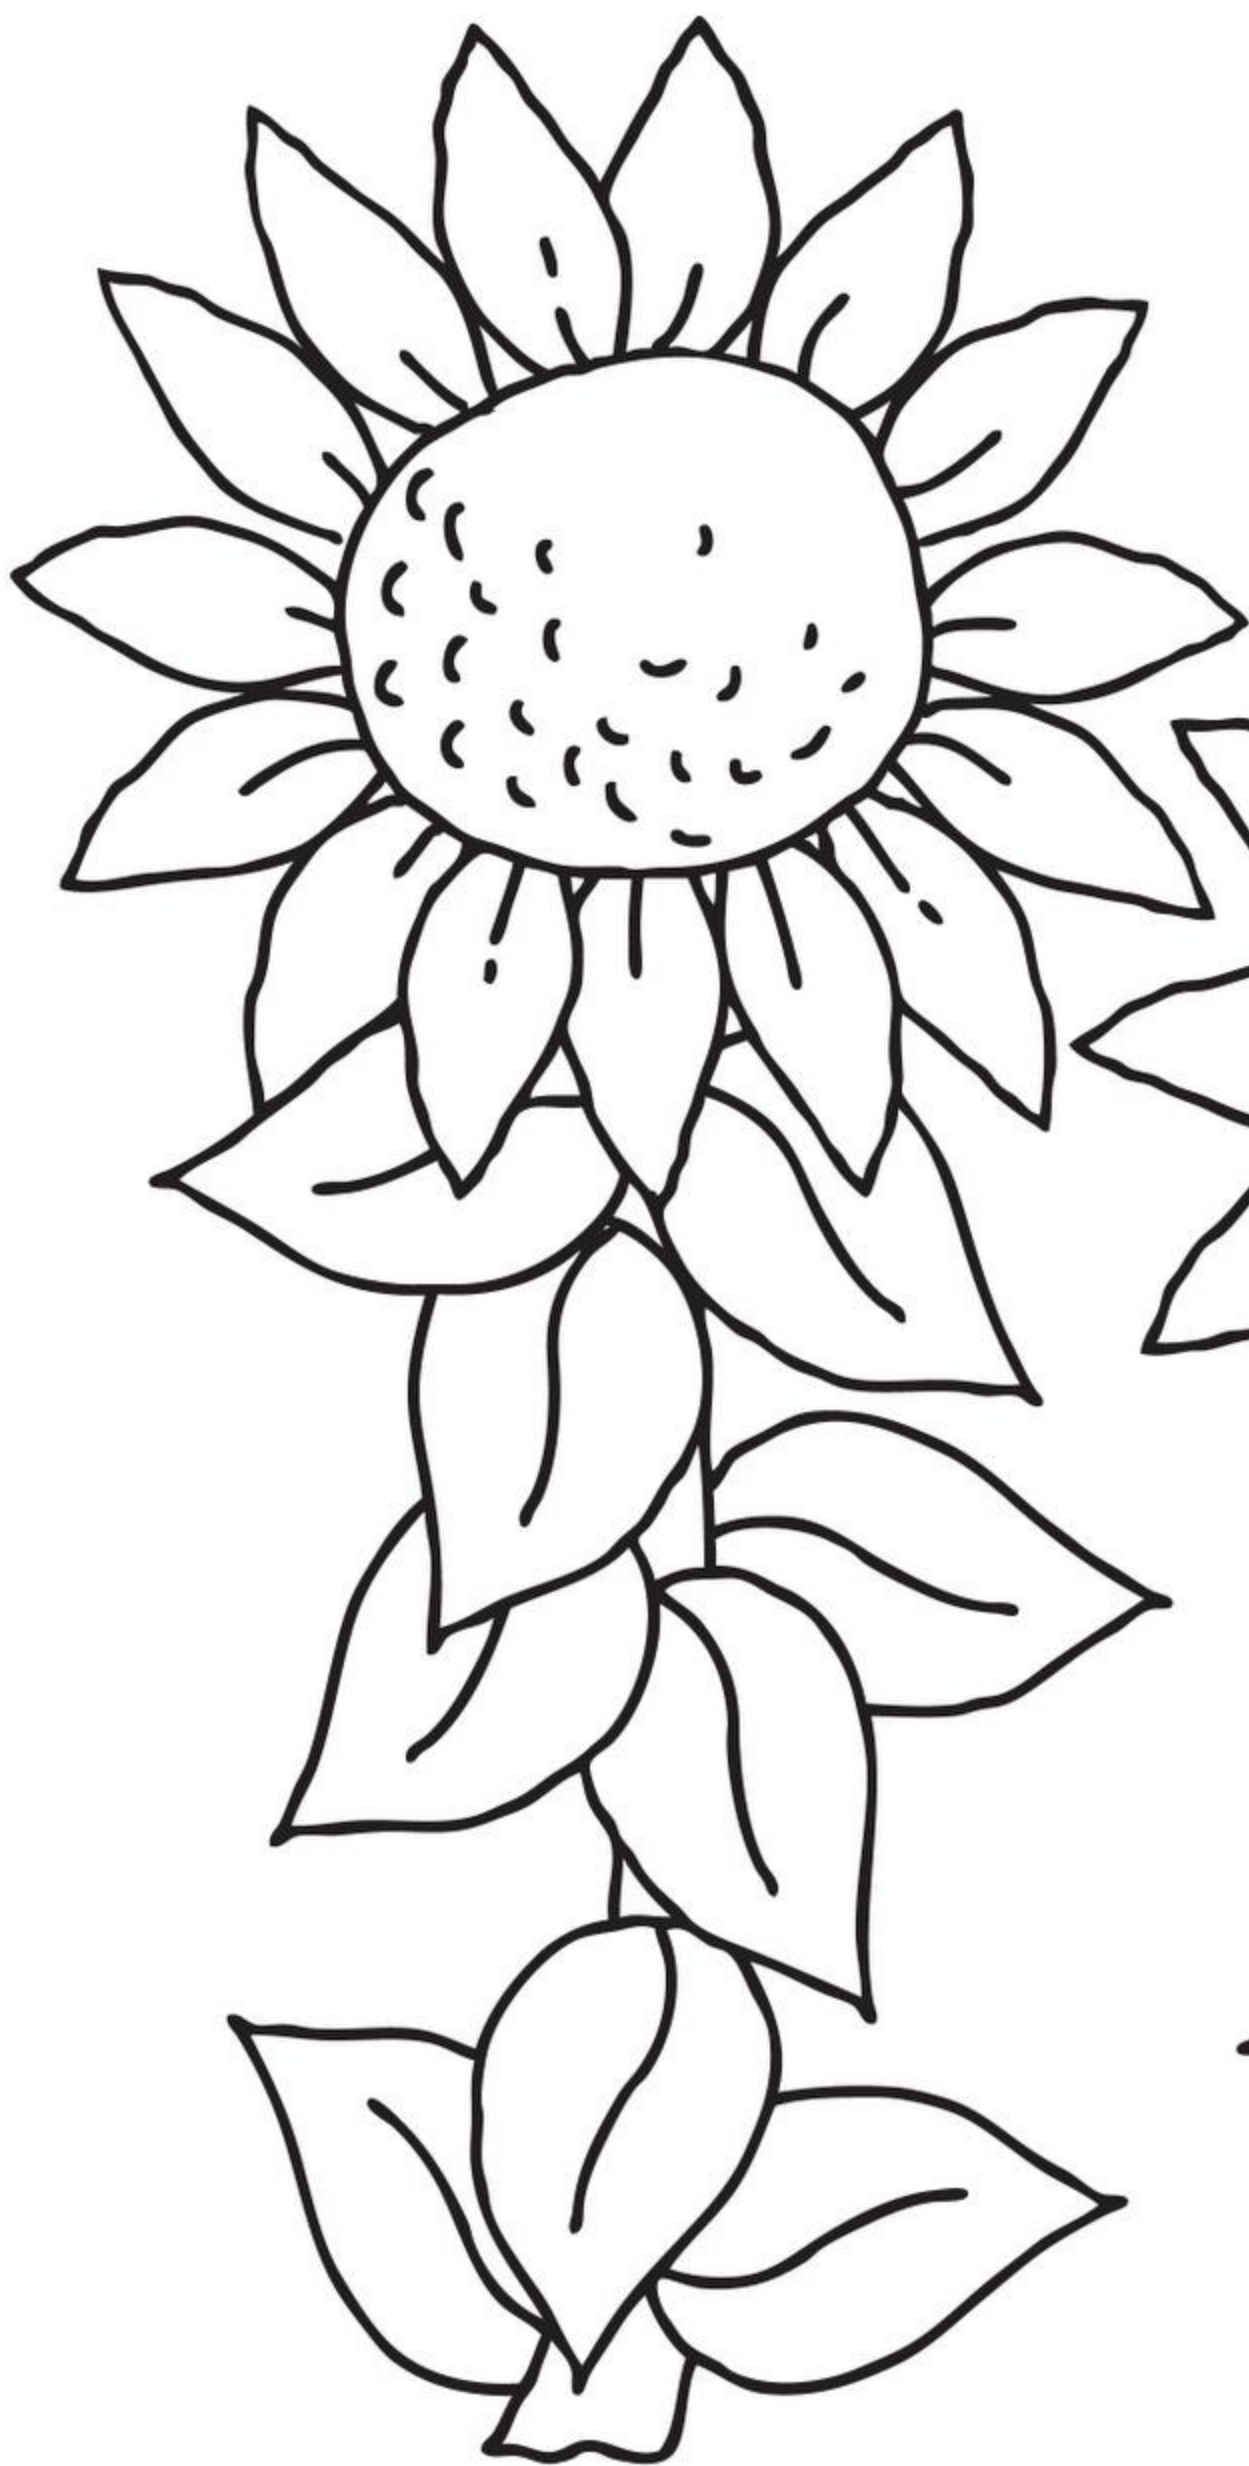

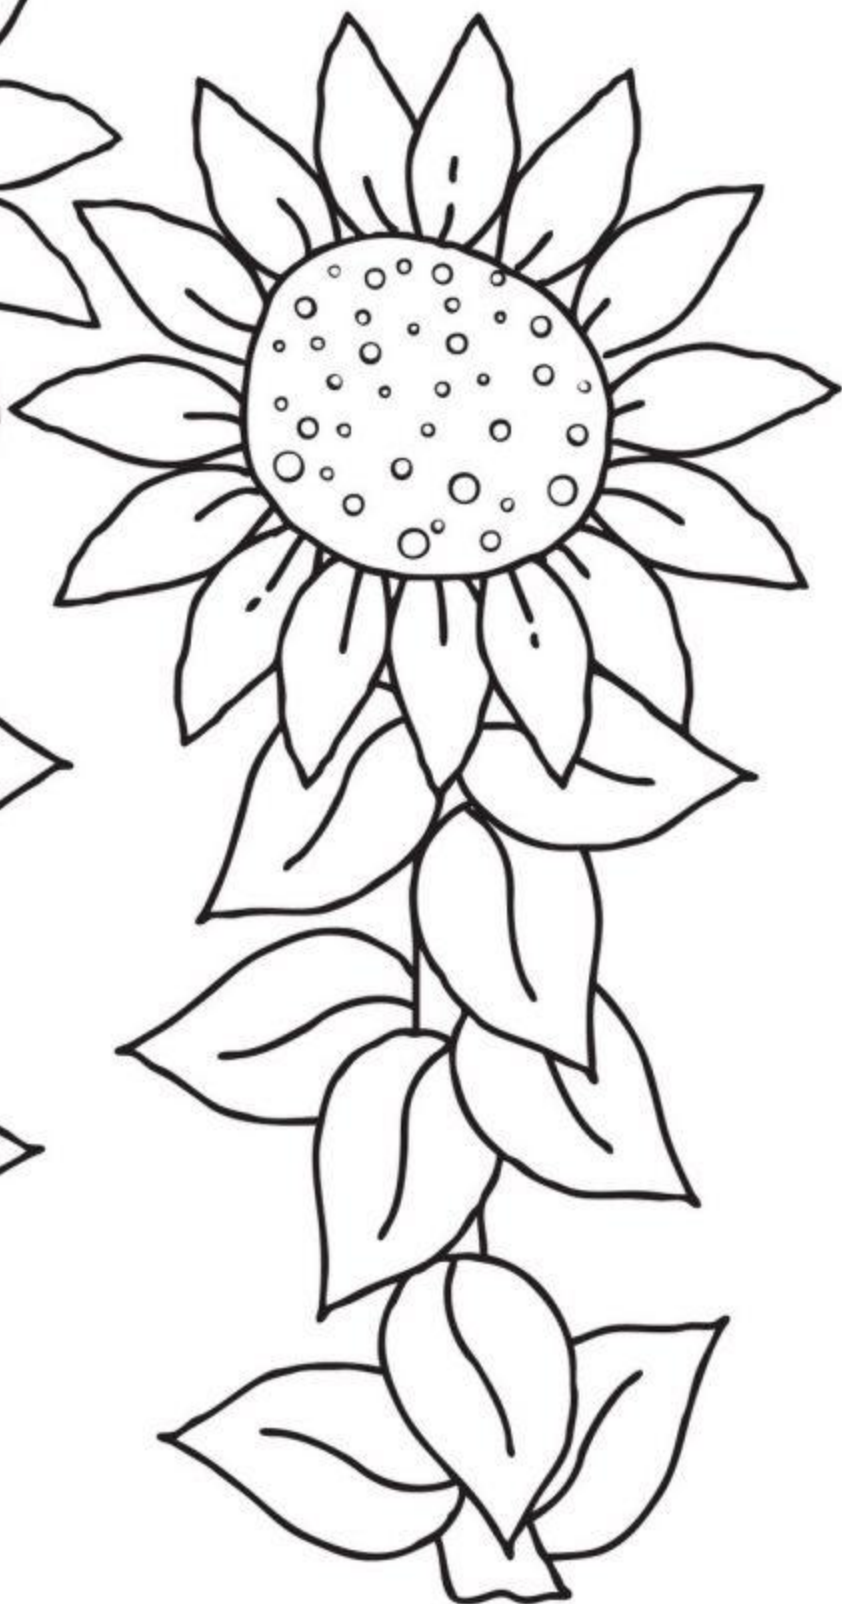

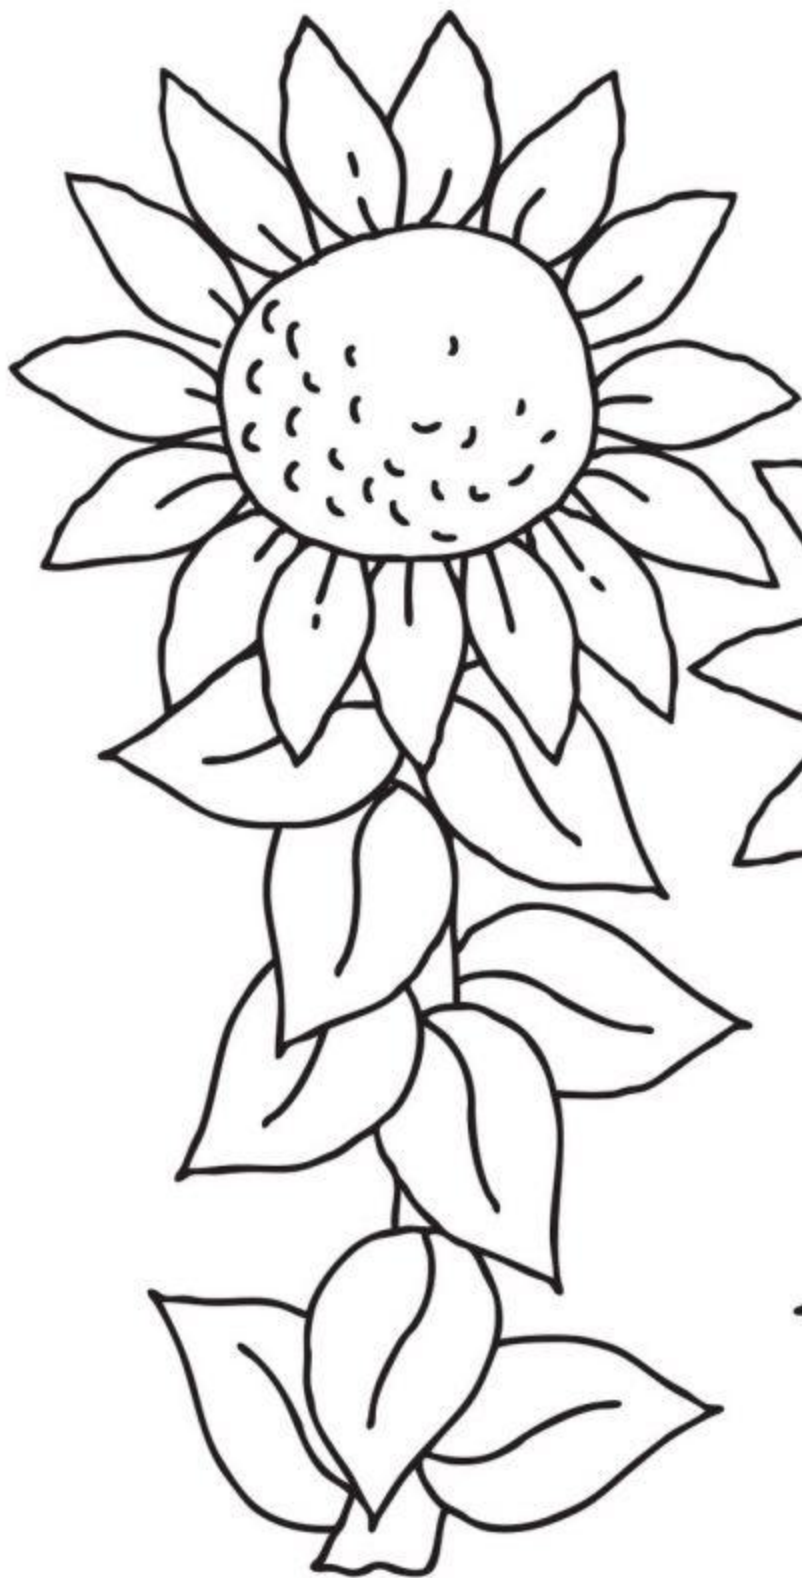

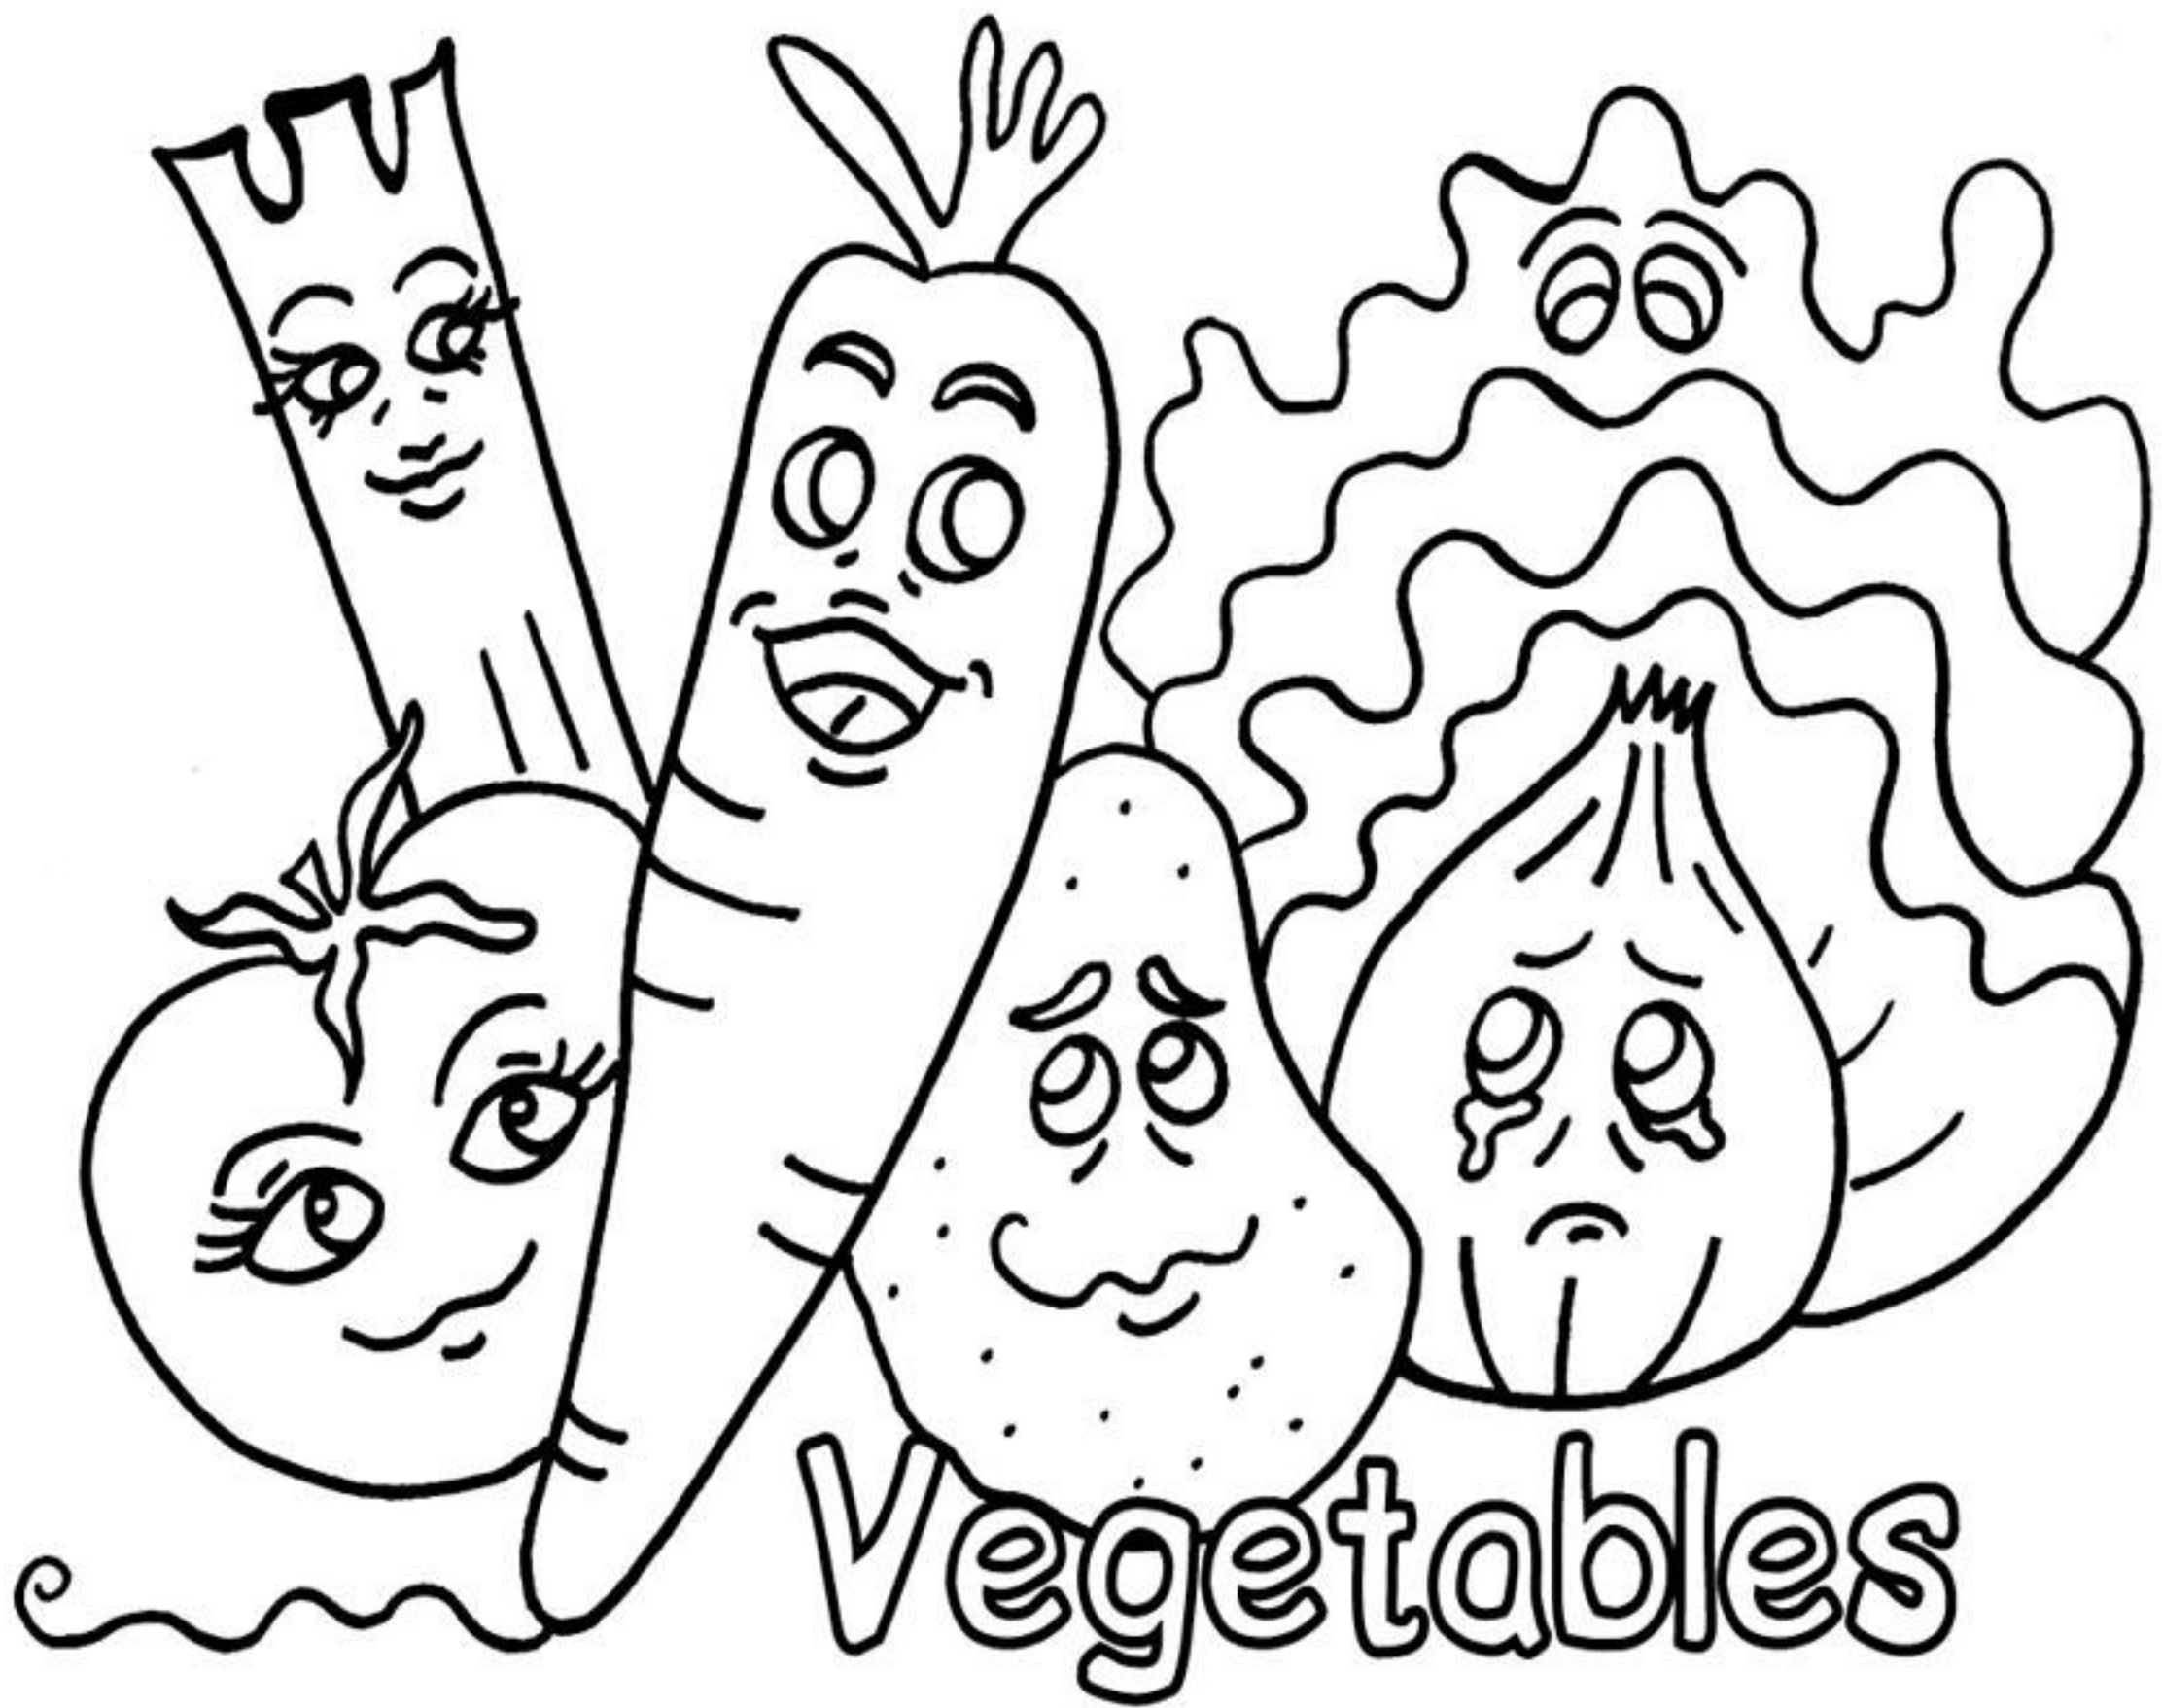

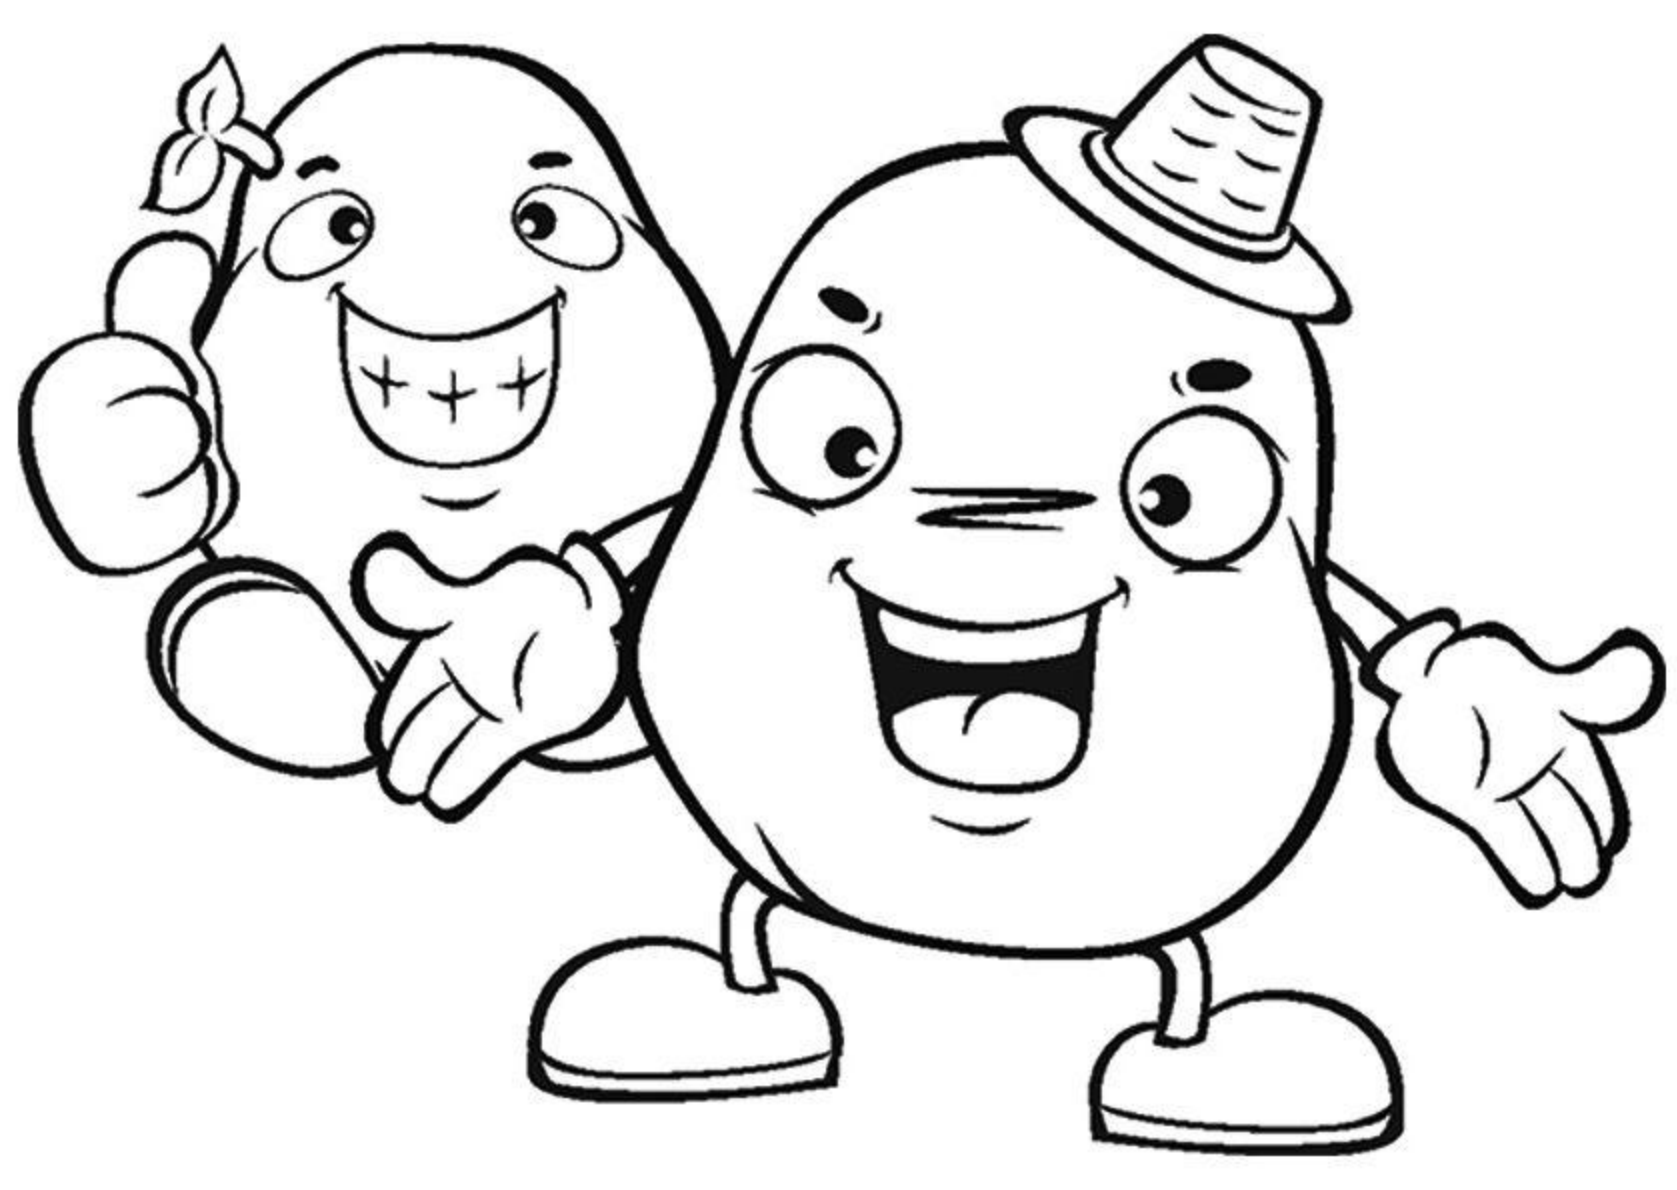

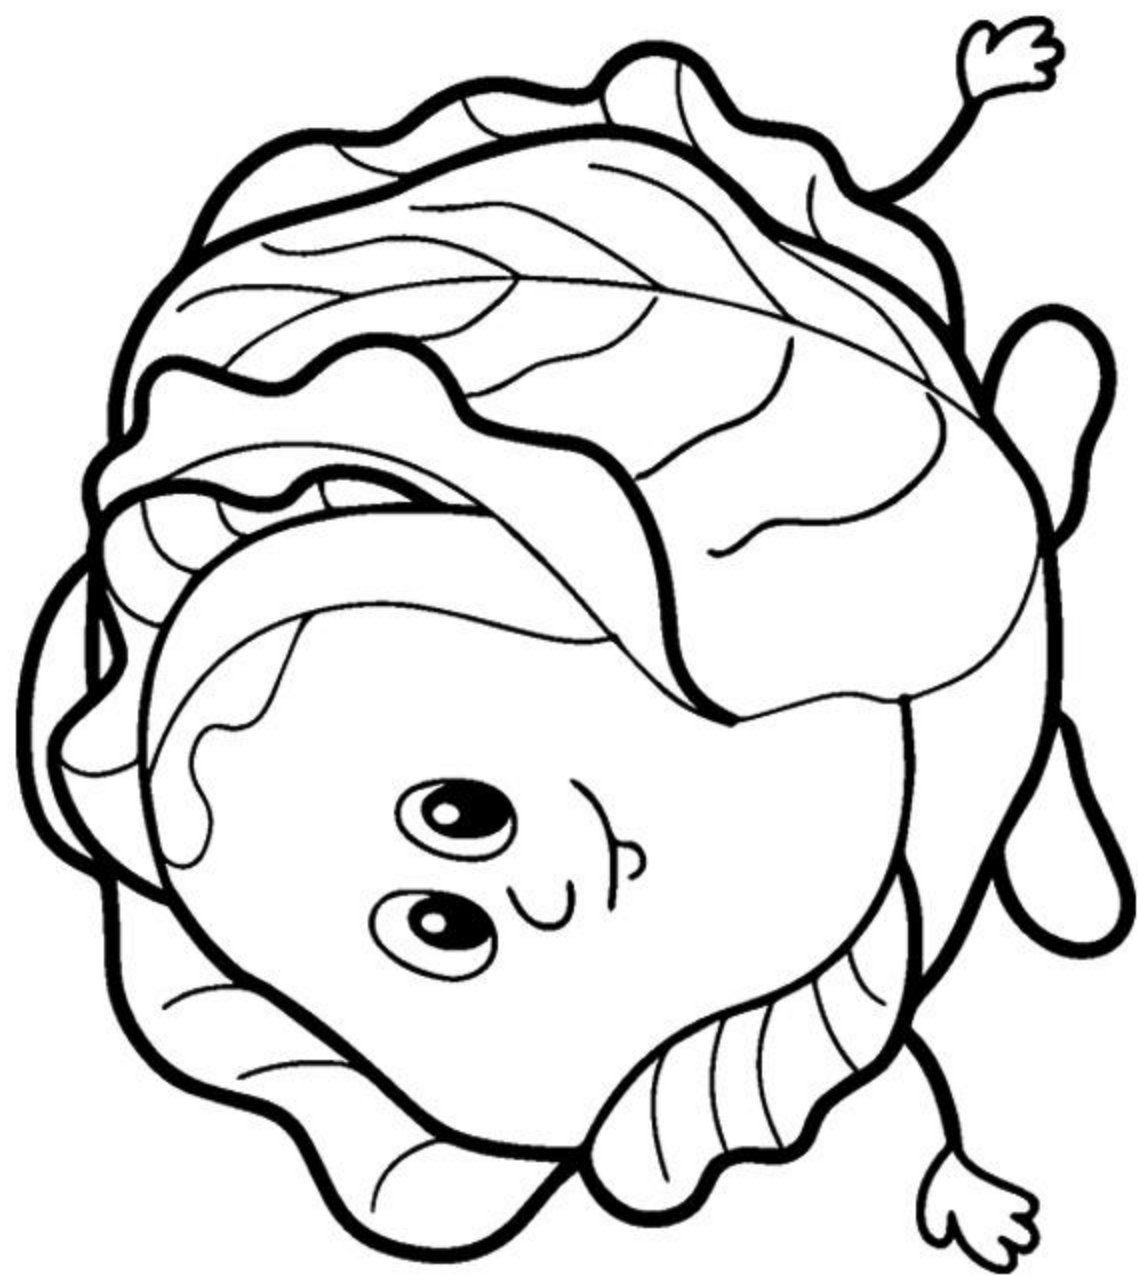

Some vegetables grow down. Some vegetables grow up.

Purple Lilac

- The tiny, but strongly scented purple blossoms of this bush burst into life each spring.
- The purple lilac is not native to North America. It was imported by settlers from England.
- it was made the state flower of New Hampshire in 1919.
